The Trans-Niagara Bridge Co. was incorporated at Albany early last year with $1,000,000 authorized capital stock, to construct the aforesaid bridge across the river at Niagara Falls, 300 feet below the present upper steel arch bridge. The bridge, it is said, will cost about $800,000.

George's Creek & Cumberland RR.—Sold.—See Western Maryland RR. below.

Great Northern Ry.—Again Postponed.—In the absence of a decision in the Minnesota injunction case, the company has again postponed the closing of the transfer books for the purposes of the new issue of stock and the time limit for the filing of subscriptions, this time until 3 p. m., Jan. 26. The time for filing assignments has been postponed until 3 p. m., Jan. 29, and the time for making the first payment has been postponed until Feb. 1. Compare V. 83, p. 1469, 1590; V. 84, p. 51, 102.

Hamburg Ry., Erie County, N. Y.—Merged.—See Buffalo & Lake Erie Traction Co. above.—V. 83, p. 1524.

International Traction Co., Buffalo, &c.—New Subsidiary.—See Frontier Electric Ry. above.—V. 83, p. 1470.

Kansas City-Olathe Electric RR.—Sold.—This property was sold at Kansas City, Kan., on Dec. 17 by order of the Federal Court and was bid in by J. A. Stewart, of Kansas City, for $21,250. The "Kansas City Star" says (compare Missouri & Kansas Interurban Ry. below):

The road was projected to run along the Turkey Creek Valley to Olathe Kan. The Bracie-Howard Construction Co. had built 5 miles of the road. This road is not the line projected by W. B. Strang and his associates.—V. 79, p. 681.

Lake Shore Electric Ry., Cleveland.—Report.—For calendar year 1906:

Year—	Gross.	Net.	Bond Int.	Bal., Sur.
1906	$860,720	$384,462	$244,853	$139,609

Lake Tahoe Railway & Transportation Co.—Listed in San Francisco.—The Stock and Bond Exchange of San Francisco on Dec. 13 listed this company's outstanding $300,000 5% gold bonds due Oct. 1 1931; total authorized issue $500,000. The earnings for "the past year" are reported as follows: Gross, $184,996; net, $61,611; interest on bonds, $15,000; balance surplus, $46,611.—V. 74, p. 478.

Lehigh Valley RR.—Status as to Dividend.—At the annual meeting on Jan. 15, President E. B. Thomas said:

At a time when there is so much uncertainty as to the future cost of operation and the effect on the company of recent laws, your board believes a conservative policy in the matter of dividends is to the best interests of the stockholders. The labor situation is unsettled. Heavy demands have been made on the company for shorter hours and increased wages because of the increased cost of living and higher rates of wages paid by others, many of which have been granted where a fair and impartial review of the situation indicated the necessity for so doing. This will have its effect in tending to increase the future expense of operation. The shortage of freight equipment cars, which is everywhere engrossing the attention of both railroad officials and the general public, is one that must be dealt with broadly in order to carry on the continued prosperity of the country.

It must be borne in mind that the business of producing anthracite coal is not alone a mining proposition. But a manufacturing and commercial undertaking as well. The combined gross business of the railroad and coal companies is over $65,000,000 per annum, and to provide ample working capital, as well as to meet expenditures for current improvements as they become due, it is necessary to have ample cash balances constantly at the company's disposal, even though the cost of such work is not included in operating expenses, but is ultimately charged to capital account and provided for by the issue of securities.

Not to Be Listed in New York.—The proposition to list the stock on the New York Stock Exchange was on Jan. 16 voted down by the stockholders, the vote being: For, 78,458; against 526,934.—V. 84, p. 102.

Missouri Pacific Ry.—Suit.—Attorney-General Hadley of Missouri on Jan. 9 began an action in the Supreme Court of Missouri to dissolve the alleged illegal merger of the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain and Wabash railroads and the Pacific Express Co. and revoke the charters of the Pacific Express Co., American Refrigerator Transit Co., Western Coal & Mining Co., Richhill Coal Mining Co. and Kansas-Missouri Elevator Co. Chief Justice Gantt issued quo warranto writs returnable Jan. 23.

The petition alleges that all of the properties named are controlled by the same interests and that such common ownership and the interest of the railroads in the other properties named is contrary to the laws of Missouri; also that the Wabash and Missouri Pacific are parallel and competing lines between St. Louis and Kansas City, and much of the intermediate territory, and, as such, control of one by the other or in its interest is forbidden by the Missouri statutes.—V. 83, p. 1348.

New London & East Lyme Street Ry.—Increase of Stock, Etc.—This company announces its intention to apply to the Connecticut Legislature for authority to extend its line from Niantic to the Connecticut River, and to increase its capital stock to an amount not exceeding $500,000; also to extend feed wires under the Connecticut River westerly to connect with the Shore Line Electric Ry.—V. 81, p. 1376.

Newton & Northwestern RR.—Portion of Road Used by Trolley Company.—This company, while still operating with steam its 102 miles of road between Newton and Rockwell City, Iowa, has given trackage rights to the Fort Dodge Des Moines & Southern RR. over 40 miles of the line, and that company has equipped the same for electric operation, the two properties, however, being operated independently. See Fort Dodge Des Moines & Southern Ry. above.—V. 82, p. 335.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Favorable Decision in Harlem Suit.—The Court of Appeals on Tuesday affirmed the decision of the lower courts, which upheld the action of ex-Chief Judge Charles Andrews of the Court of Appeals, acting as referee, in dismissing the action brought by the Continental Insurance Co. and others to set aside the compromise agreement allowing the New York Central $220,000 of the annual saving through the refunding of $12,000,000 of Harlem 7% bonds. See editorial, V. 78, p. 2305; V. 78, p. 2335; V. 76, p. 1144.—V. 84, p. 52.

New York Chicago & St. Louis RR.—Report.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

Increase in Second Preferred Dividend.—The directors on Wednesday declared an annual dividend of 4% on the $11,000,000 second preferred stock, payable, with the usual annual dividend of 5% on the first preferred, on March 1 to stockholders of record Feb. 1.

Annual Dividends (paid in March), Per Cent.

New York & Harlem RR.—Decisions.—See New York Central & Hudson River RR. above.—V. 80, p. 1424.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—New Stock.—It is currently reported, on apparent authority, though not officially confirmed, that the directors on Jan. 12 voted to offer to the stockholders "later in the spring" the right to subscribe at $150 a share (par $100) for additional stock to the extent of one share for every four shares of their respective holdings.

As stated last week the holders of 3½% convertible debentures of 1906 of full paid will be permitted to subscribe for future stock issues on the basis that $150 in debentures is equivalent to one share of stock. At last accounts (June 30 1906) only $9,811,500 of the $30,000,000 convertible debenture 3½s were full paid, and the final payment of 25% each on subscriptions thereto were not due until July 1 1907 and April 1 1908 respectively. The amount of capital stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange is $84,112,100, but further amounts up to a total of $95,811,500 are authorized to be listed when issued in exchange for debenture bonds of the Consolidated Ry. and for other purposes. The liquidation of "rights" would naturally serve to hasten the payments in full of subscriptions to the convertible 3½s (see V. 81, p. 1493) and also the exchange of Consolidated Ry. debentures for stock (V. 83, p. 1171). Were both these operations completed, the amount of the new stock issue now spoken of would be approximately $30,000,000, yielding the company about $45,000,000.

Notes.—The proceeds of the last issue of notes (V. 84, p. 103), it is said, will be used for new equipment. The report that the note issues of the last two months aggregate $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 is not confirmed. We have full details of issues aggregating $23,000,000 and additional amounts are apparently outstanding, but the exact sum is withheld (V. 84, p. 103).

New Director.—James McCrea, the new President of the Pennsylvania RR., has been elected a director to succeed the late A. J. Cassatt.—V. 84, p. 103.

Norfolk & Southern RR.—Report.—For fiscal year ending June 30 1906 (old company):

Year—	Gross.	Net.	Other Inc.	Charges.	Dividends.	Balance.

—V. 83, p. 1171, 1348.

Northern Indiana Ry., South Bend, Ind., &c.—Control of this road, it is reported, has been acquired by the Dietrich syndicate of New York, the Murdocks of Lafayette, Ind., and Hugh McGowan of Indianapolis, in the interest, it is supposed, of the consolidation of Indiana roads by the United Gas Improvement Co. Compare V. 82, p. 568.

Northern Pacific Terminal Co.—Called Bonds.—Thirty-one ($31,000) first mortgage bonds of 1883 have been drawn and will be redeemed by the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. on Feb. 4 1907 at 110 and accrued interest.—V. 83, p. 156.

Pennsylvania RR.—Application to List.—The New York Stock Exchange has been requested to list $4,485,200 additional capital stock as issued from time to time in exchange for Philadelphia & Erie common stock. Compare V. 84, p. 103.

Peoria & Pekin Terminal Ry.—Sale Feb. 9.—This company's property is advertised to be sold at Peoria, Ill., on Feb. 9 under foreclosure of the mortgages of 1900 and 1905, Dime Savings Bank & Trust Co., trustee. Upset price, $600,000.

Reorganization.—The "Boston News Bureau" understands that in the reorganization the old bondholders will receive new securities guaranteed by the Chicago & Alton and Rock Island jointly. Compare V. 83, p. 752, 1171, 1291; V. 84, p. 103.

Philadelphia & Erie RR.—Exchange of Minority Stock.—See Pennsylvania RR. below and compare V. 84, p. 103.

Southern Railway.—Official Statement as to Status and Needs of Property.—Under date of Jan. 16 President W. W. Finley has addressed a long letter to the public referring to the great increase of recent years in the amount of the company's traffic and the difficulties which the management has had, and is still having, in providing adequate facilities to handle it in spite of the large sums expended and now being expended for improvements, additions and new equipment. The conditions described are quite fully dealt with in an editorial on a preceding page.

Mr. Finley says in part:

It must be remembered that this company has not been in existence more than about 12 years. It found those railroads of the South, now constituting a part of its system, of light and faulty construction, and poorly equipped. The company at once adopted a policy of betterment and improvement, as will appear from the following statement:

It has spent—
In new, approved and heavier rail	$10,880,000
In double-tracking, reducing grades and changing alignment	6,942,631
In new steel bridges for heavier power	2,578,540
In branches and spurs to industries	2,363,288
In side, passing and commercial tracks	3,148,806
In shops, tools and machinery	2,041,148
In additions and improvements to yards, real estate, roadway and structures, and other improvements and additions	8,229,605
Or a total of	$36,184,018
It has spent, or contracted to spend—
For new equipment	$49,322,569
For joint terminals completed (its proportion)	3,408,188
For terminals	823,401
For double-tracking	6,744,769
Making a total of work done and contracted for to prepare to handle the traffic	$96,482,945

The company has increased its rolling stock received and contracted for as follows:

Locomotives.	Freight-train Cars.	Passenger-train Cars.
From 623 to 1,544	From 18,924 to 58,491	From 487 to 1,008

The average capacity of the freight cars has also been increased 28.38%.

A fair consideration of these figures will demonstrate the fact that the management has not been unmindful of its obligation to increase its facilities in anticipation of the increase in traffic.

Need of Fresh Capital.

The company has been, and still is, hampered, however, by two conditions: One is the large amount of fresh capital required, and the other the difficulty of securing adequate and efficient labor, of promptly getting its construction work done, and of obtaining the rolling stock, rail and other material essential to improved facilities.

The management last spring authorized the creation of the "development and general mortgage" bonds to the amount of $200,000,000. Of these bonds $20,000,000 were at once sold and the proceeds are being spent as rapidly as the work can be done in adding to our facilities to meet the growing demands of business.

Compare President Spencer's statement in V. 82, p. 397.

Rumor of Proposed Notes.—The "New York Summary" on Wednesday said:

The violent break in the stocks of the Southern Railway Co. to-day was accompanied by a report, which was generally credited in well-informed banking quarters, that the company was preparing to bring out an issue of short time notes of from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. Representatives of the company declared that no action had yet been taken with that object in view, but admitted that it was possible that some such issue will be made in the not distant future.—V. 81, p. 52.

South Side Elevated RR., Chicago.—Bonds.—The "Chicago Inter-Ocean" of Jan. 12 says:

The company has delivered another $5,000,000 of its 1[illegible] bonds to the underwriting syndicate, making a total of $7,500,000 delivered to date to this syndicate. These bonds were underwritten at 97½, and a total issue of $8,000,000 was authorized. It is now understood, however, that the $7,500,000 which have been delivered will complete the issue, as the extension work has progressed to such a point that the last $500,000 will not be required.—V. 82, p. 1011, 278.

Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis.—New Bond Issue May Be Guaranteed.—A press report says:

Executive officers of railroads operating in St. Louis, at a recent meeting in that city, resolved to extend the credit of their lines to the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis to enable it to enlarge and improve its terminal system. From $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 of bonds will have to be issued, in addition to the $1,000,000 per annum which is available for the association for 15 years. It is said that the freight traffic in St. Louis has increased 100% in seven years, and figures just completed display an increase of 13% in 1906 as compared with 1905.—V. 83, p. 1168.

Toledo Railways & Light Co.—Report.—The results for the year ending Dec. 31 were:

Year—	Gross.	Oper. exp.	Net.	Interest.	Bal.,sur.
1906	$2,047,610	$1,071,773	$975,837	$509,607	$466,230

—V. 83, p. 1525.

Toledo Railway & Terminal Railway.—Time Extended.—The time for the deposit of bonds with the Columbia Trust Co., 26 Nassau St., New York, and, as sub-depositary, the Portland Trust Co., Portland, Me., has been extended to and including Feb. 15.—V. 83, p. 1591.

Trans-Niagara Bridge Co.—See Frontier Electric Ry. above.

Vandalia Railroad.—New Officers.—First Vice-President Joseph Wood has been elected President, to succeed James McCrea, and J. J. Turner has been made First Vice-President, E. B. Taylor Second Vice-President and D. T. McCabe Third Vice-President and a member of the board of directors.—V. 83, p. 1591.

Wabash RR. Co.—Application to List.—Application has been made to the New York Stock Exchange for permission as from time to time issued under the financial plan, to list $16,500,000 additional preferred stock and $16,500,000 additional common stock, making the common stock listed and to be listed $54,500,000 and the preferred stock $40,500,000.

Suit.—See Missouri Pacific Ry.—V. 84, p. 52.

Wellington Grey & Bruce Ry.—Interest Payment.—This company, whose line is operated by the Grand Trunk Ry., announces the payment of £3 0s. 6d. per £100 bond, to be applied as to 16s. 9d. in final discharge of coupon No. 48, due July 1 1894, and £2 3s. 9d. on account of coupon No. 49, due Jan. 1 1895, payable on and after Jan. 1 1907, at 203 Dashwood House, New Broad Street, London, E. C. Last year £3 3s. per bond was paid.—V. 83, p. 39.

West Jersey & Seashore RR.—Bonds Sold.—Brown Bros. & Co. have recently purchased and since sold $1,061,000 of the consolidated mortgage 4% gold bonds, the proceeds of which were used in part payment for the extensive improvement made in the system, including the electrifying of the road to Atlantic City. This makes $5,161,000 of the issue outstanding. The balance of the authorized $1,839,000 is reserved for underlying liens.—V. 83, p. 689.

Western Maryland RR.—Acquisition.—The company on Thursday took over the entire $1,000,000 stock of the George's Creek & Cumberland, extending from Cumberland to Lonaconing, Md., 21 miles, with 4 branches aggregating 12 miles; total 33 miles. Possession of the road will be taken at once. There are outstanding $536,000 first mortgage 30-year 6% bonds, due Oct. 1 1909, and a second mortgage loan of $65,000, due Feb. 1 1908, the sinking funds on which are, we are informed, practically sufficient to provide for payment at maturity.—V. 83, p. 1465, 1476.

Western Massachusetts Ry.—Proposed Merger.—Application has been made to the Massachusetts Railroad Commission by the New York New Haven & Hartford interests for permission to merge the Western Massachusetts Ry. Co. and the Woronoco Street Ry. Co. through the purchase by the former of all franchises and property of the Woronoco Co. by an exchange of stock, share for share.—V. 82, p. 1324.

Wiscasset Waterville & Farmington Ry.—Reorganized.—This company has been incorporated with authorized stock consisting of $100,000 common and $200,000 5% non-cumulative preferred, as successor of the railroad company of the same name, sold in foreclosure on Dec. 4 last. Of the stock, all the common and $100,000 of the preferred have been issued to pay for the property and $10,000 of the preferred has been sold for working capital, leaving $90,000 preferred stock available for future purposes. No bonds will be issued. The officers are: President, Carson C. Peck, 280 Broadway, New York; Treasurer, William D. Patterson; General Manager, Samuel J. Sewall.—V. 83, p. 1413.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Acme Steamship Co.—Bonds Offered.—See Chicago Navigation Co. below.—V. 83, p. 215.

Alpha Portland Cement Co. of New Jersey.—Status.—This company, mentioned below under heading "North American Portland Cement Co.," was incorporated in New Jersey in 1895 with $500,000 authorized capital stock (in $100 shares), since increased to $2,000,000, all of one class; no bonds.

The company owns in fee 200 acres of cement rock land at Alpha, N. J., and 160 acres at McAfee, N. J., also mills at Alpha, N. J., having an annual capacity of over 4,000,000 barrels of "Alpha" brand Portland cement. It also controls by ownership of entire capital stock the Martin's Creek Portland Cement Co. and the Alpha Portland Cement Co. of Pennsylvania, and, through a majority interest, the Annville Stone Co. The Alpha Portland Cement Co. of Pennsylvania took over in 1905 the plant of the old National Portland Cement Co. at Easton, Pa., all of the National Company's $1,200,000 bonds having been first retired (V. 81, p. 560).

Officers—President, W. M. McKelvy; Vice-President, A. F. Gerstell; Secretary and Treasurer, G. S. Brown, Easton, Pa.—V. 83, p. 1413.

Aluminum Company of America.—New Name.—See Pittsburgh Reduction Co. below.

American Agricultural Chemical Co.—Application to List.—The New York Stock Exchange has been requested to list $229,000 additional preferred stock, making the total amount listed $18,382,000.—V. 83, p. 1230.

American Cement Co.—Report.—The results for four years past compare as follows:

Year—	Net of oper. cos.	Int.,&c., Am.Cem.Co.	Int.,&c., Sub.Co's.	Dividends paid.	Balance, surplus.

Change in Par Value.—The shareholders at the annual meeting adopted a resolution increasing the par value of the stock from $10 to $50 a share by the issue of one share of new stock (par $50) for every five shares of old stock (par $10).—V. 83, p. 1525.

American Chicle Co.—New Director.—H. M. Adams has been elected a director to succeed E. Beeman; George H. Worthington has been made President in place of W. J. White; and George A. Stanton has become Vice-President, Thomas Adams, Chairman of the Board, and Henry Rowley, Secretary.

Profits.—For half-year ending Dec. 31, contrasting with years ending June 30 1906 and 1905:

Period Covered—	Profits for Period.	Preferred Dividend.	Common Dividend.	Balance, Surplus.	Total Surplus.
6 mos. end. Dec. 31 '06	$721,000	(3%) $90,000	(9%) $540,000	$91,000	$1,850,000

New Plants.—It is announced that a new factory has been established by the American Chicle Co. in Kansas City, Mo., and that another plant will soon be erected in Kansas.—"Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin."—V. 83, p. 1349.

American Light & Traction Co.—Report.—The results for the year ending Dec. 31 were:

Cal. Yr. Earnings.	Net Profit.	Pf.div.,6%.	Com. div.	Bal., sur.

Note.—From the surplus for the year 1906 was deducted $680,500 "for reconstruction reserve fund," leaving a surplus of $361,266, against $585,765 for the corresponding period of the previous year, being a decrease of $224,499.—V. 83, p. 968.

American Pipe Manufacturing Co., Phila.—Earnings.—The company reports for the year 1906 net earnings of $618,042, contrasting with $588,699 for 1905; dividends paid, $480,000, against $352,481. The capital stock was increased during the year from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. Dividends of 9.6% per annum are paid quarterly, Jan. 1, etc.—V. 83, p. 273, 215.

American Smelting & Refining Co.—Status of Enterprise.—Other Income.—J. S. Bache & Co., 42 Broadway, New York, have begun the publication of a series of booklets entitled "Studies in Industrials" No. 1 is devoted to the preferred stock of the American Smelting & Refining Co. The firm says in substance:

The company has not included in its financial statements earnings from the following sources: (1) Use of Huntington and Heberlein patents. (2) Mining properties in Mexico, a very valuable asset held primarily as a base of supplies but profitable directly from their operations. The profits heretofore have been used to cover the cost of purchase and development, but the directors expect to carry the profits to credit of profit and loss beginning with fiscal year ending Apr. 30 1907. (3) Its holdings of $17,751,000 common stock of the American Smelters' Securities Co. (4) Stock of the United States Zinc Co. of Pueblo, in which the company owns a controlling interest. (5) Stock of the United Lead Co. These earnings will eventually be transferred from these various investments to the credit of the profit and loss account of the company.

[Since April 30 1906, the end of the last fiscal year, the company is understood to have parted with a large amount of the stock of the United Lead Co., presumably to the National Lead Co. in exchange for that company's stock under the amalgamation plan.—Ed.].—V. 84, p. 105.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Reduction in Price of Bonds to Syndicate.—The "Boston News Bureau" says:

In the negotiations in relation to the recent purchase of $25,000,000 three-year 5% notes, there was included an agreement to reduce the price of the $100,000,000 4% convertible bonds to the underwriting syndicate 3½%, making the price of the bonds to them 91 instead of 94½, as it has been hitherto. By reason of the reduction in price, the public issuance of a block of the bonds is shortly expected.

Output.—The output of instruments (each telephone being two "instruments," viz., one receiver and one transmitter) for the month and twelve months ending Dec. 31:

	Month		12 Months
To Dec. 31—	1906.	1905.	1906.	1905.
Gross output (number)	163,260	163,828	2,168,871	1,841,628
Net output (number)	91,777	106,447	1,409,578	1,217,694

American Union Telephone Co., Philadelphia.—Holding Company.—This company, incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania May 31 1906 recently elected its executive officers. In October last it increased its capital stock from $10,000 to $25,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is 6% non-cumulative preferred (with preference as to assets as well as dividends), and authorized a mortgage to secure an issue of $25,000,000 5% convertible bonds. Of these bonds some $6,000,000 will be reserved to retire underlying bonds at or before maturity, $2,500,000 is issuable for extensions and improvements and $16,500,000 is reserved to be issued only for future additions, extensions and acquisitions, at not exceeding 85% of the actual cost thereof, when the net income of the company exceeds by 50% the interest charged on the bonds outstanding and then to be issued.

Control has been acquired of the following companies, having in operation in June last 40,040 telephones and possessing traffic agreements with numerous adjacent independent telephone enterprises:

United Telephone & Telegraph Co., operating from the Philadelphia County line to Williamsport and west to Altoona, inclusive (V. 81, p. 64, 618).

Cumberland Valley Telephone Co., extending from Harrisburg southwest through the Cumberland Valley to the State line and northwest to the Borough of Lewistown (V. 81, p. 561).
Lykens Telephone & Telegraph Co., operating exchange centres at Elizabethville, Lykens, Millersburg and Tower City.
Cumberland Valley Telephone Co. of Baltimore City, operating in the States of Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.
Boyds & Damascus Telephone Co., embracing the County of Montgomery, Md., with principal exchanges at Boyds and Damascus.
Huntingdon & Clearfield Telephone Co., extending from Snow Shoe in Center County to Patton in Cambria County.
Cambria Telephone Co., embracing the County of Cambria.
Indiana Telephone Company, embracing the County of Indiana.
Bradford County Telephone Co., embracing the County of Bradford, Pa.
Port Allegany Telephone Co., embracing the counties of McKean and Potter.
Petroleum Telephone Co., embracing the counties of Crawford and Venango.
Commercial Union Telephone Co., embracing the counties of Elk and Jefferson.
Union Telephone Co. of Erie, embracing the counties of Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Venango, Beaver, Warren, McKean and Potter, in Pennsylvania extending to Olean, N. Y., inclusive, and to Youngstown, Ohio.
York State Telephone Co., embracing principal exchange centres at Elmira, Binghamton and Owego, N. Y.
Philadelphia Pittsburgh & Erie Telephone Co., organized as a subsidiary of the American Union Co. to handle present and proposed long distance lines in 43 counties in the State of Pennsylvania.

The control of these companies has been acquired by use of $2,000,000 each of common and preferred stock and without the use of cash; $250,000 of each class of the new shares has been issued for organization expenses, and $750,000 of preferred and $1,500,000 common have been sold with the first $1,500,000 bonds for $1,500,000 cash to provide for new construction and other corporate purposes. There is therefore outstanding $3,000,000 pref. stock, $3,750,000 common stock and $1,500,000 bonds, with an additional $1,500,000 bonds immediately available for further extensions, &c.

The earnings of the aforesaid companies for an entire year based on results for June 1906 are reported as follows:

Gross earnings	$1,018,013	Fixed charges	$369,281
Net earnings	495,739	Balance, surplus	126,458

It is estimated that after the expenditure of the $1,500,000 new money, the new company should show annual results as follows:

Gross earnings, $1,500,000; net, $700,000; fixed charges of constituent companies on $6,000,000 bonds, rentals, &c., $370,000; interest on $1,500,000 new bonds, $75,000; balance, surplus for dividends, &c., $255,000.

The officers and directors are:

Officers.—Ellis Orvis of Bellefonte, President; B. F. Meyers of Harrisburg, Vice-President; S. R. Caldwell, Secretary and Treasurer; F. D. Houck of Harrisburg, General Manager.
Directors.—John W. Garland, Pittsburgh; W. B. Trask, Erie; A. W. Lee and James Kerr, Clearfield, Pa.; J. L. Spangler, Bellefonte, Pa.; William Kaul, St. Mary's, Pa.; Edward Bailey, Lyman D. Gilbert, George W. Reily and B. F. Myers, Harrisburg, Pa.; Rembrandt Peale, New York City; J. Sloat Fassett, Elmira, N. Y.; Ellis L. Orvis, Bellefonte, Pa.; S. P. Light; Vice-President Lebanon County Trust Co.; H. Prentiss Taylor, Pittsburgh.

The main office of the company is at 227 Walnut St., Harrisburg, Pa. H. P. Taylor & Co., Pittsburgh, who are interested in the enterprise, write that the foregoing particulars, taken from the prospectus, are "nearly correct and will need no revision at this time."

American Writing Paper Co.—Reduction of Authorized Capital Stock.—The shareholders at the annual meeting on Feb. 12 will vote on reducing the authorized capital stock from $25,000,000 to $22,000,000, by reducing the limit of common stock issue from $12,500,000 to $9,500,000 by the cancellation of the $2,000,000 of treasury shares and the $1,000,000 which has never been issued. The preferred stock remains as now, $12,500,000, all outstanding.—V. 83, p. 820, 689.

Baldwin Locomotive Works, Phila.—Annual Output.—The company's output for the year 1906 comprised 201 electric and 2,451 steam locomotives, total 2,652 against:

Total Annual Output of Locomotives—Steam and Electric.

Boott (Cotton) Mills.—Option to Subscribe.—An increase in the capital stock from $600,000 to $1,000,000 has been authorized, and holders of trust receipts for existing shares of record Dec. 22 may subscribe until the close of business Jan. 24 to the extent of two shares, par $100, for every three shares of their respective holdings. Subscriptions are payable at the Treasurer's office, Boston, Jan. 24 $25, April 2 $50 and July 2 $25; interest at 5% per annum will be paid on installments. The proceeds will be used for improvements, new machinery and additional working capital.—V. 82, p. 220.

Broadway-Cortlandt Co., New York.—Description of Proposed Building.—The "Engineering Record" of New York on Nov. 24 1906 contained an illustrated article regarding the 32-story building which is being built by this subsidiary of the City Investing Co. Compare V. 83, p. 820.

Cambria Steel Co.—Consolidation Rumors.—See Pennsylvania Steel Co. below.—V. 82, p. 1499.

Central Foundry Co., New York.—New Officers.—A. F. Gartz, for many years Treasurer of the Crane Company of Chicago, has been elected President, succeeding Alfred Fowle, J. B. Murphy, Vice-President of the Central Foundry Co., has also resigned. These changes are supposed to be the outcome of the dissatisfaction expressed by the shareholders at the annual meeting last August.—V. 83, p. 489, 438.

Central Glass Co. of Wheeling, W. Va.—Stock Dividend.—A press dispatch from Pittsburgh states that the directors have declared a stock dividend of 50% on the capital stock in addition to the regular quarterly cash dividend of 2%, thus increasing the share capital from $300,000 to $450,000.

Central Leather Co.—Plan Approved.—The shareholders at a special meeting on Jan. 16, by a favorable vote of 498,819 out of a total of 690,403 shares outstanding, ratified the proposition to consolidate the company with the United States Leather Co. The meeting adjourned until Feb. 16.

The United States Leather Co. has been restrained by the Courts, in the suit of the minority shareholders who are opposing the consolidation, from holding the meeting to complete the merger until Feb. 1, to which date the time of the defendants to answer has been extended. See also V. 84, p. 105.

Chaparra Sugar Co.—Stock Reduced.—This New Jersey corporation has reduced its capital stock, of which $5,000,000 was authorized and $3,750,000 was issued, to $1,260,000 authorized and $10,000 issued, by the cancellation of the $3,740,000 owned by the company. Par of shares (unchanged), $100. Compare V. 83, p. 753.

Chicago Navigation Co.—Bonds Offered.—The Security Trust Co. of Detroit is offering for sale at par and interest the following 5% gold bonds secured by a first lien on steel steamers and payable in ten annual series of 10% each. Denomination, $1,000; interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1 at office of Security Trust Co., Detroit.

Compare V. 83, p. 1100.

Cincinnati & Suburban Bell Telephone Co.—New Stock.—The shareholders will vote Feb. 20 on a proposition to increase the authorized issue of capital stock from $5,000,000 (of which $22,000 is said to be in the treasury) to $8,000,000, to provide from time to time for extensions and additions. The "Cincinnati Enquirer" of Jan. 11 says: "It is proposed to issue on March 1 $500,000 of the new stock to the stockholders at par, at the ratio of one new share for every ten shares held at present." The par value of the shares is $50. "The annual dividend rate was recently increased from 6% to 8%." Compare V. 83, p. 1526.

Colorado Fuel & Iron Co.—Resources and Strategic Conditions.—See article in "Engineering and Mining Journal" of New York for Jan. 12 1907 and Dec. 29 1906.—V. 83, p. 1592.

Consolidation Coal Co. of Maryland.—Extra Dividend.—The directors on Jan. 14 declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½% and an extra dividend of 2%, payable Feb. 13, making 8% paid from the earnings of 1906 against 6% for 1905. See also Fairmont Coal Co. below.

Report.—For year ending Dec. 31 (Dec. 1906 estimated):

Year.	Gross Earnings.	Total Net.	Charges, &c.	Applic. to Dividends.	Year's Dividends.	Balance, Surplus.

Consolidated Steamship Lines.—Increase in Capital Stock by Company to Be Controlled.—See Hudson Navigation Co. below.—V. 84, p. 53.

Copper Range Consolidated Co.—Negotiations—Possible Consolidation.—John D. Ryan of the Amalgamated Copper Co. and Thomas F. Cole, it is understood, have acquired a substantial, though not, it is said, a controlling, interest in a number of Lake Superior copper properties, with a view to a large consolidation, and are conducting negotiations which may result in the merging of the Copper Range Consolidated Co., Osceola Consolidated Mining Co., Tamarack Mining Co. and other important companies.—V. 83, p. 1349.

Corona Coal & Iron Co.—Sale.—See Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co. under 'Annual Reports" on a previous page.—V. 78, p. 1277.

Crystal Water Co., Staten Island.—Called Bonds.—The entire outstanding issue of 4% 20-year first mortgage gold bonds of 1904 ($700,000 authorized) has been called for redemption at par and interest at the Equitable Trust Co., 15 Nassau St., New York, on Feb. 14.

Purchase by City.—The Board of Estimate of the City of New York some time since approved the purchase of the property for $720,563 free and clear of all liens, and physical possession will be taken on Feb. 1. The market value also will be paid for any pipes on hand.—V. 73, p. 1063.

(The) Cuban-American Sugar Co.—See Chaparra Sugar Co. above.—V. 83, p. 753.

Cudahy Packing Co. (of Illinois), Chicago.—New Stock—Earnings.—The "Chicago Inter-Ocean" of Dec. 29 said:

For the purpose of enabling it to take care of increasing business, the Cudahy Packing Co. has increased its capital stock from $7,000,000 to $12,000,000.
During the year ended Sept. 1 the company earned $826,000, which is equal to a little more than 11% on the old capitalization of $7,000,000.

Cumberland (Bell) Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Option to Subscribe.—Shareholders of record are entitled to subscribe at par, $100 per share, to the $3,362,400 new stock issued "to meet the growth of the business," on the following terms:

Each stockholder of record at 3 p. m. on Jan. 15 is entitled to subscribe in the proportion of one share for every five shares that he then held. The right to subscribe will expire at 3 p. m. Feb. 1. Subscriptions must be paid at the office of the Treasurer in Nashville, Tenn., on or before Feb. 1 or, at the option of each stockholder: One-fourth Feb. 1, one-fourth April 1, one-fourth July 1 and one-fourth Oct. 1, or the remainder of any deferred payments may be made on any of the above-named dates. Stock certificates will be issued for the amount of payments as made, and those dated Feb. 1 will participate in dividend on April 1.—V. 84, p. 105.

Danbury & Bethel Gas & Electric Light Co.—New Securities.—This company, it is announced, will apply to the Connecticut General Assembly for authority to increase its capital stock from $200,000 to $300,000 and its bonded debt from $120,000 to $225,000.—V. 78, p. 1112.

Dayton (O.) Gas Light & Coke Co.—Irregularities.—The examination of the company's books by an expert accountant, in connection with offers to purchase a majority of the $1,250,000 capital stock, has revealed, it is alleged, irregularities on the part of the company's Secretary, who, the President being a nonagenarian and inactive, had applied sums aggregating $200,000 or more to "legislative" and other purposes, with the result, it is said, that there is a considerable floating debt, although the dividends of 8% per annum have been more than earned. The following board was elected on Jan. 14:

H. C. Graves, J. K. McIntyre, John A. McMahon, C. B. Oglesby, D. B. Corwin, R. R. Dickey Jr., W. K. Callahan, O. I. Gunckel, W. B. Gebhart.—V. 80, p. 1114.

Dominion Coal Co.—New Directors.—G. H. Duggan and C. H. Forgie, respectively Assistant General Manager and Superintendent of Mines, have been elected directors, to succeed Sir William Van Horne and F. S. Pearson, resigned.—V. 83, p. 1473.

Fairmont Coal Co—Dividend Increase.—This company, $6,001,200 of whose $ 2 000,000 capital stock is owned by the Consolidation Coa Co. of Maryland (which see above), has declared a dividend of 3%, payable Feb. 12, making with the 1½% which was paid June 5, 1906, a total for the year 1906 of 4½%, contrasting with 2% paid in Feb. 1906 for the entire year 1905, with 3% paid for 1904 and 2% for 1903.

Report.—For calendar years (Dec. 1906 estimated):

Cal. Year.	Gross Earnings.	Total Net.	Charges, &c.	Available for Div.	Dividend Declared.	Balance, Surplus.
1906	——Not yet reported——			$1,071,581	(4½) 540,000	$531,581

New Director.—George A. von Lingen has been elected a director to succeed Mr. Walter G. Oakman, of New York, resigned.—V. 83, p. 1593.

(B. F.) Goodrich Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio.—New Officers.—George T. Perkins having declined re-election on account of failing health, the following officers were elected at the annual meeting on Feb. 9:

President, Bertram G. Work; Vice-President, F. H. Mason; Second Vice-President, H. E. Raymond; Secretary, E. C. Shaw; General Manager, C. B. Raymond; Superintendent, C. C. Goodrich.—V. 82, p. 573.

Gottlieb-Bauernschmidt-Straus Brewing Co., Baltimore.—Plan for converting $3,500,000 5% Income Bonds into $4,000,000 4% Second Mortgage Bonds.—With the approval of the management, a plan has been formulated inviting holders of income bonds to exchange same for an equal amount of second mortgage 4% bonds, upon subscribing at 70 for an amount of 4% second mortgage bonds equal to about 25% of their holdings. The plan is withheld pending its approval by the income bondholders, but Edgar G. Young, 35 Wall Street, New York, who makes a specialty of the company's securities, says:

There are $3,232,000 income bonds held by the public—the remainder being owned by the company. This plan will increase the working capital by about $500,000. The money is required to secure new properties which will materially increase the earning power of the company. Since the new management took charge of the affairs of the company, its business has been profitable, the net earnings of the year ending Feb. 28 1906 being almost double those of three years ago. The company's profits on its present output are equal to twice the interest charges on the new second mortgage bond issue of $4,000,000. On the basis of the present market price of the Incomes, the cost of the new second 4% bonds is about 40.

There are $5,625,000 first mortgage 4% bonds, due 1951, with annual sinking fund of $25,000. For the past two years the semi-annual dividend on the Income bonds has been at the rate of 3% per annum. In 1904-05 the surplus earnings amounted to 6¾% and in 1905-06 to 10¾% on the Incomes. During that period $210,000 has been paid in dividends to the Income bondholders, and almost double this sum has been spent in betterments and improvements. Capital stock, $5,000,000. Compare V. 82, p. 1215; V. 83, p. 754.

Home Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Los Angeles, Cal.—Increase in Rates.—This company announces an increase of nearly 25% in its charge for business telephones, namely from $4 25 to $5 25 a month. It is stated that when the $4 25 rate was fixed, the company had only 3,000 telephones; now there are 25,000, and it is well known that the cost of operating increases largely with the increase in telephones.

An increase in rates has also been reported recently for the following independent properties:

Lincoln (Neb.) Telephone Co.—Residence telephones from $1 75 to $2 and business telephones from $3 to $4.

The Union Electric Telephone & Telegraph Co. announces that unless it is given permission by the City of Rock Island, Ill., to raise its rates, it must go out of business.

Memphis (Mich.) Independent Telephone Exchange, an increase of from 33 1-3% to 66 2-3% for house and from 66 2-3% to 100% for business service.

Kewanee (Ill.) Home Telephone Co., Increase 10%.

Fayette Home Telephone Co., Lexington, Ky., business rates advanced from $3 50 to $4 per month.—V. 83, p. 1039, 216.

Hudson Navigation Co.—Increase of Capital Stock.—This New Jersey corporation has filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000. See Consolidated Steamship Lines in V. 84, p. 53.—V. 83, p. 1039.

Illinois Tunnel Co.—Sale of Telephone Equipment—Rental for Telephones.—See Independent Telephone Co. of Chicago below.

Earnings.—For the calendar year 1906 the company reports gross revenues of $221,176 against $108,300 in 1905, an increase of $112,876 over 1905. The company, it is stated, did not begin to carry freight to any large extent until about Nov. 1 last.—V. 83, p. 323.

Independent Telephone Co. of Chicago.—Purchase—Rental.—This company is being organized under the laws of Illinois to take over the telephone business of the Illinois Tunnel Co., under the contract recently entered into with that company by a syndicate represented by Martin W. Littleton of this city. The syndicate has paid the $1,500,000 due the Illinois Tunnel Co. on the purchase of its telephone equipment and this week, it is stated, paid in the first installment of $1,500,000 on account of the funds needed for new construction, it being proposed to establish a system of 100,000 telephones as rapidly as possible.

The contract provided for the payment to the Tunnel Co. of $1,500,000 for its telephone equipment and an annual rental of $5 for each telephone in service, and requires the establishment of a system of 20,000 telephones by the end of the first year (there being, it is said, less than 6,000 telephones now in operation) and the installation of 10,000 additional telephones yearly after Jan. 1 1908 until 100,000 are in use. Roland R. Conklin will probably be President, E. L. Barber, Vice-President, and Louis Duncan, Consulting Engineer. E. L. Barber of Indiana and J. C. Powers of Louisville, Ky., who are prominently identified with the independent telephone movement, are largely interested in the enterprise. Compare Automatic Electric Co. in V. 84, p. 53.

International Harvester Co.—Announcement.—President Cyrus H. McCormick has made a statement to the stockholders in connection with the classification of the capital stock:

Although the properties acquired at organization, including a cash working capital of $60,000,000 and excluding all allowances for good-will, were appraised by independent appraisers at a value in excess of $120,000,000, it was decided to limit the securities issued to $120,000,000 of common stock (there being no bonded debt), in order that the company might be upon a firm financial foundation from the outset.

After careful consideration, and after consultation with important interests in the company, the board of directors have determined that it would be to the interest of all the stockholders to divide the stock issue of $120,000,000 into two classes of stock of $60,000,000 each, one class being common stock and the other class being 7% cumulative preferred stock, preferred both as to dividends and assets.

Under the changed capitalization, each stockholder will receive one share of preferred stock and one share of common stock for every two shares of existing stock.

The net earnings for the last four years (after setting aside reserves for depreciation, &c., aggregating $4,500,000) have been as follows:

Total for four years			$27,474,924

Of these earnings only $18,000,000 have been applied to the payment of dividends, the dividend rate having been 3% for the first year and 4% for the succeeding years. The balance of the earnings, amounting to $9,474,923, has been carried to surplus and expended in enlarging the facilities of the company. These expenditures should result in increased earnings. It is therefore expected that the company will be able to maintain the payment of regular quarterly dividends on its $60,000,000 of preferred stock at the rate of 7% per annum, and also to pay dividends on the common stock, which should increase as the earnings increase.

The new preferred stock will carry dividends from Feb. 15 1907. The directors believe that in the preferred stock the stockholders will have a safe 7% investment, and that the common stock, which from the outset will represent actual assets having a value materially in excess of the par value of the stock, will grow more valuable as the business of the company increases."

The voting trustees, George W. Perkins, Charles Deering and Cyrus H. McCormick, announce that they have surrendered the stock deposited with them under the voting trust agreement of Aug. 13 1902, and that interim voting trust certificates will soon be issued for the new securities. These will be exchanged later for the engraved certificates.—V. 84, p. 106.

International Silver Co.—New Officers.—First Vice-President George H. Wilcox has been elected President to succeed the late Samuel Dodd and Second Vice-President George C. Edwards of Bridgeport has been made First Vice-President to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Wilcox's promotion. Charles A. Hamilton of New York has been elected Second Vice-President and C. H. Tibbitts of Wallingford Third Vice-President.—V. 82, p. 1044.

Lamb-Fish Lumber Co., Memphis, Tenn.—Consolidation—Mortgage.—This company, which was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey on Aug. 14 1906, with $1,500,000 capital stock, in shares of $100 each, and absorbed the Bacon-Nolan Hardware Co. and the Guirl-Stover Lumber Co., has filed at Memphis, Tenn., a mortgage to the First Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, as trustee, to secure an issue of $1,500,000 "first purchase money mortgage bonds." The bonds will cover all property of the company, which consists of large holdings of timber lands in Panola County, Quitman County and Tallahatchie County, Mississippi, cut timber, saw mills, &c. Scott Brown, South Bend, Ind., is attorney for the company.

Lawyers' Mortgage Co., New York.—Report.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

New Directors.—Theodore C. Camp, Franklin B. Lord and A. Henry Mosle have been elected directors, to succeed Emory McClintock, W. W. Richards and Henry Rogers Winthrop.—V. 83, p. 216.

Lehigh Portland Cement Co., Allentown, Pa.—New Stock.—This Pennsylvania corporation has filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $3,765,350 to $3,793,850. Compare North American Portland Cement Co. below.

Mackay Companies.—Preferred Stock Offered.—Harvey Fisk & Sons, New York, are offering at 71½ and interest $500,000 4% preferred stock; interest payable quarterly January, &c., being part of the authorized issue of $50,000,000 preferred, of which $9,354,400 was in the treasury on Feb. 1 1906, but has since all been issued to pay for stock of cable, telephone and telegraph companies. The company now owns the whole or part of the capital stock of more than 75 of such corporations. Of the $50,000,000 common stock, $41,380,000 is outstanding, no common stock having been issued during the past two years.—V. 83, p. 821.

Niagara Falls Power Co.—New Debentures.—Shareholders of record Jan. 12 are offered the privilege of subscribing at 90 on or before Jan. 31 for a new issue, Series C, of Canadian collateral 6% debentures to the amount of $1,500,000 (total issue limited to $5,000,000), dated Nov. 1 1906 and due Nov. 1 1914, but subject to call Oct. 1 1911. Subscriptions are payable 50% March 4 1907 and 50% June 4 1907, or optionally in full March 4.—V. 83, p. 159.

Nipissing Mines Co.—New Interests in Operating Company.—The directors of the Nipissing Mining Co., Limited, the operating company of the Nipissing Mines Co., on Wednesday elected Samuel Newhouse President and a director to succeed Captain De Lamar, who resigned. The board was enlarged by the addition of Lyman B. Kendall of Eugene Meyer Jr. & Co., New York, and W. B. Thompson of Hayden, Stone & Co., Boston and New York. Mr. Meyer is quoted:

We regard the property as having great possibilities but it will take time to develop them. We do not look for very great production or large earnings in the immediate future.—V. 83, p. 1595.

North American Portland Cement Co.—Status of Controlling Companies.—The "Philadelphia Financial Bulletin" of Dec. 5 has the following (compare V. 83, p. 1416):

The six cement companies which have united in forming the $10,000,000 North American Portland Cement Co. produce over 25,000,000 barrels of cement per annum, or nearly 70% of the total annual production of Portland cement in this country. The companies involved are the Atlas and Lawrence companies of Northampton County; the American and Lehigh companies of Lehigh County, and the Vulcanite and Alpha companies of New Jersey.

The capitalization (including bonds as well as stocks) and the average annual production of these companies, based on figures furnished recently, follow:

Atlas (V. 82, p. 1324)	$15,000,000	12,000,000
Lehigh	4,000,000	5,000,000
Alpha (see separate statement below)	2,000,000	4,000,000
American (V. 83, p. 1100)	2,925,000	1,500,000
Vulcanite (see separate statement below)	1,500,000	1,500,000
Lawrence (V. 79, p. 2799)	1,000,000	1,000,000

The total production of Portland cement in the United States in 1905 was 35,246,000 barrels, of which the aforesaid six companies produced about 25,000,000 barrels. This year the total production of the country will probably aggregate between 40,000,000 and 45,000,000 barrels, and the individual output of the six companies named will have increased proportionately over the figures given.

There are only three other companies in the country which now produce over 1,000,000 barrels of cement yearly, these being the Iola (Kansas) Company (V. 83, p. 1350), 2,250,000 barrels; the Whitehall Company (V. 80, p. 717), 1,100,000 barrels, and the Edison Company (see that company above and in V. 81, p. 616), 1,200,000 barrels. The Coplay and Dexter (V. 80, p. 2461) companies produce about 900,000 barrels each.

One company, the Universal Portland Cement Co., which is owned by the United States Steel Corporation (see Universal Company below), now produces about 800,000 barrels per annum, but when its new plants, now building at Pittsburgh and Buffington, Ill., are in operation, it will loom up as the second or third largest producer, with an estimated output of over Pacific (Bell) Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Bonds Offered.—N. W. Halsey & Co., New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco, are offering at 102½ and interest $3,000,000 "first mortgage and collateral trust" 5% sinking fund 30-year gold bonds of $1,000 each (c.* & r.), dated Jan. 2 1907 and due Jan. 2 1937, but subject to call at 110 Jan. 2 1922 or on any interest date thereafter. Interest payable Jan. 2 and July 2 at the Mercantile Trust Co. of San Francisco, trustee, or United States Mortgage & Trust Co., New York.

Abstract of Letter from President Henry T. Scott, San Francisco, Jan. 4 1907.

Organization.—This company was organized Dec. 31 1906.—Ed.) under the laws of California with an authorized capital of $50,000,000, divided into $32,000,000 preferred and $18,000,000 common stock (par of shares, $100 each.—Ed.). Of this amount, it is proposed to issue at present $18,000,000 common and $18,000,000 preferred stock, of which $17,000,000 common and $17,000,000 preferred is to be issued in exchange for the outstanding stock of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co. (V. 83, p. 1416), and $1,000,000 common and $1,000,000 preferred stock issued for additional working capital. This will leave a balance of $14,000,000 preferred stock unissued in the treasury. The company owns the entire plant and real estate formerly belonging to the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co. in the city and county of San Francisco. It also owns a majority of the capital stock of that company, and expects to acquire the balance outstanding through the issuance of its preferred and common shares reserved for that purpose. The company is operating under lease the properties of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Washington and Oregon, and the properties of the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Co. in California and Washington.

Bonds.—The company has a total authorized issue of $35,000,000 "first mortgage and collateral trust" 5% gold bonds, of which there are to be issued to provide for present requirements $10,000,000. The proceeds of this issue of $10,000,000 will be used for the reconstruction and extension of toll lines and the general reconstruction of exchange plants, and to reimburse the company for expenditures already made for these purposes. The improvements and extensions referred to include the enlargement and betterment of exchange plants, including underground conduits, underground cables, and improved switchboards, at the following exchanges:

San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Spokane, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Riverside, Bakersfield, Pasadena, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, Eureka, Walla Walla, Everett, Bellingham, Baker City, Reno, San Jose and sixty-two smaller exchanges.

The trust deed provides that of the remaining $25,000,000 bonds, $22,000,000 shall be issuable only to cover actual expenditures on plant and improvements, but at no time shall the amount of bonds issued exceed an amount equal to 85% of such expenditures, nor shall they be issued to provide for repairs. The residue of $3,000,000 bonds are reserved to provide for the redemption of the entire present bond issues of the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Co., consisting of $750,000 first mortgage 6% bonds, due July 1 1913, and $2,250,000 consolidated mortgage 5% bonds, due Oct. 1 1929, redeemable at 105 on Oct. 1 1913 or any interest date thereafter.

The new bonds are an absolute first mortgage on the entire plant and real estate of the company in the city and county of San Francisco. It is also a first lien (through the deposit of all of the acquired capital stock and by lease) upon the remaining property which has been operated by the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co., including practically the entire Bell telephone system in the State of Oregon and the eastern half of the State of Washington. It is also a collateral and refunding lien on all of the issued capital stock of the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Co., subject only to the outstanding bonds of that company. The above companies own a large amount of valuable real estate and rights of way over private property also franchises in practically all the large exchanges in which they operate, and in over 100 smaller exchanges. Including the proceeds of the sale of the $10,000,000 bonds, and deducting $1,500,000 for "fire loss" in San Francisco, but not including franchises and good-will, the total cash invested in the properties of the new company will be $38,796,000.

The trust deed provides for a sinking fund, to begin at the expiration of the fifth year after the issuance of the bonds, of an amount equal to ½% of the amount of bonds outstanding, which must be invested in these bonds if they can be bought in the open market at 110 or lower; bonds purchased to remain alive in the sinking fund and the accrued interest thereon to be added to the amount of the sinking fund. This sinking fund is calculated to be sufficient to retire 30% of the issue at maturity.

Statement of Earnings of the Combined Companies (December 1906 Partly Estimated.)

Gross revenue	$6,824,506	$7,884,071	$7,725,624	$8,500,000
Operating expenses, including maint. & taxes	4,977,984	5,966,101	6,077,594	6,400,000
	$1,846,522	$1,917,969	$1,648,030	$2,100,000
Inter. on bonded debt	157,500	157,500	157,500	*657,500
Net revenue available for dividends	$1,689,022	$1,760,469	$1,490,530	$1,442,500

* In this amount is included the entire year's interest on the $10,000,000 bonds now proposed to be issued, although it is not expected that the entire amount will be issued during this year.

The loss of "net revenue" in 1906, compared with 1905, is due to conditions incident to the fire of last April. Before the fire, the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co. had in San Francisco over 52,000 subscribers. After the fire, it began business with 2,500 subscribers. The total number of subscribers in San Francisco Dec. 20 was over 22,000 and steadily growing.

An annual appropriation is made from earnings and charged to operating expenses equal to 10% of the value of the property, which amount is placed to the credit of maintenance and reconstruction account. Actual expenditures for maintenance and reconstruction during the three years ending Dec. 31 1906, included in operating expenses, amounted to $7,734,823, which is equal to 34½% of the gross earnings for this period.

Pennsylvania Steel Co.—Consolidation Rumors.—Reports which are generally believed to have a foundation in fact are current that plans for consolidation with the Cambria Steel Co. have been under consideration; but how far the negotiations, if any, have progressed, has not been made public.—V. 82, p. 1100.

Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Retirement of Bonds.—Touching the recent reduction in the bonded debt, the following is of interest:

The actual number of bonds outstanding is $1,303,000, and $200,000 are still in the hands of the Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, trustee, to be issued for the purchase of additional coal lands or for additional equipment for lands already owned; $100,000 of the bonds had been redeemed and cancelled previous to the sale of the 3,000 acres of coal lands to the Vesta Coal Co., which is a subsidiary of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., and at the time of the sale $1,397,000 additional of the bonds was paid and cancelled. These last were bought by the Union Trust Co. for cash from the Jones interests, who purchased a large number from outside holders at 101. Compare V. 83, p. 1595.

Phoenix Consolidated Copper Co.—Assessment.—An assessment of $1 50 per share has been called, payable Jan. 25.

This makes the stock $13 50 per $25 share paid. Outstanding stock, $2,500,000.—V. 72, p. 441.

Pittsburgh Reduction Co.—New Name.—The company's name has been changed, under the laws of Pennsylvania, to the Aluminum Company of America, taking effect Jan. 1 1907.

The change is solely one of name, and is made in order to indicate the nature of the business. The capital stock is still $3,800,000, in shares of $100 each and the stockholders, directors, policy, management, officials, &c., remain as heretofore. The capital stock at incorporation, Sept. 18 1888, was $20,000; it was increased on Oct. 2 1889 to $1,000,000, on Aug. 2 1900 to $1,600,000, on Feb. 16 1905 to $3,730,000, the total authorized being $3,800,000. The funded debt was on Jan. 4 1896 authorized to be increased to $230,000. The certificate of change of name was filed Nov. 12 1906. The company, it is understood, supplies nearly all of the country's output of aluminum. Compare V. 83, p. 1410, 895.

Sierra Madre Land & Lumber Co.—Bonds Offered.—Mason, Lewis & Co., Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia, and Geo. D. Cook & Co., New York, are offering at par and interest by advertisement on another page $1,500,000 of the authorized issue of $3,000,000 first mortgage gold 6s of $1,000 each, dated Dec. 1 1905 and maturing $75,000 annually on Dec. 1 from 1911 to 1930, both inclusive, but after Dec. 1 1915 subject to call at 110 and interest on any interest day. Interest payable June 1 and Dec. 1 at office of Knickerbocker Trust Co., New York, trustee. Sinking fund, $1 50 per $1,000 feet stumpage on all timber cut.

As stated in the following letter, the Cananea Consolidated Copper Co. has contracted to purchase for a term of 25 years, at current prices, a minimum of $1,000,000 worth of lumber yearly, yielding, it is estimated, a profit of $400,000 per annum to the lumber company, "which alone would more than provide for the entire annual interest charge of $180,000, and the retirement of $150,000 bonds per annum." The Greene Consolidated Copper Co., controlling the Cananea Consolidated Co., is being merged in the Cananea Central, and both will be controlled by the Greene-Cole-Ryan interests, among the largest copper-mine owners in the United States. (V. 83, p. 1526, 1593.) A lumber expert, who has examined about 500 square miles of the timber, states that this will average 11,000 feet per acre of good yellow pine, free from defects, worth at least $3 per 1,000 feet, and that he is satisfied that the tract contains "at least 1,200 square miles of timber, all told, equally as valuable."

Abstract of Letter from President W. C. Greene, Dec. 28 1906.

The corporation is organized under the laws of Connecticut. Capital stock, $15,000,000, of which 51% is owned by the Greene Consolidated Copper Co. Bond issue, $3,000,000. The property consists of 2,315,000 acres of rich pine timber lands in the States of Chihuahua and Sonora, Mexico, a tract almost as great as the State of Connecticut. The amount of standing pine, which, in character, is midway between a white pine and a yellow pine, is almost beyond computation. At 8,000 feet per acre as a low average, there are 18,000,000,000 feet of lumber in the tract. A railroad has been built to the mills from Temosachic, making a connection with the Chihuahua & Pacific and Mexican Central railways, thereby bringing the property in close touch with the markets. Saw-mills, having a capacity of 500,000 feet of lumber per day, are now under construction. The cutting and marketing of the timber will be in active operation about Jan. 1 1907. I estimate the annual output following Jan. 11907 as at least 100,000,000 feet per annum.

There is a ready market for all this lumber at from $25 to $30 gold per 1,000 ft. with the Mexican cities and the enormous copper and other mining enterprises in this vicinity, a large part of the lumber to supply which is transported from Oregon and Washington at a cost of from $25 to $35 per 1,000. As Chihuahua and Sonor a border on the United States,and as there is only 80 cents per 1,000 duty on mining timber, there will be a large demand from the United States for any surplus product.

The company has made an advantageous contract with the properties owned by the Greene Consolidated Copper Co., under which the Cananea properties take for a term of 25 years, at current prices, a minimum of $1,000,000 gold worth of lumber per annum for use in the development of their mines. Allowing for the expenses of cutting and marketing, I estimate that this single contract will net $400,000 gold profit per annum to the lumber company. This alone will more than provide for the annual interest charge of $180,000 and the retirement of $150,000 bonds per annum, which bond payments begin Jan. 1 1911. I think it conservative to state that we will do a lumber business of $3,000,000 gold per annum, and should have net earnings of at least $1,200,000 gold per annum

United Box Board & Paper Co.—Suit by Protective Committee.—John W. Griggs, formerly United States District Attorney, representing the committee of the objecting stockholders, on Jan. 14 filed a bill in the Chancery Court of New Jersey, asking for an injunction to restrain the directors from carrying out the plan recently announced under which the equity in the American Strawboard stock is to be sold to the new American Box Board Co. Vice-Chancellor Emery at Newark has granted a preliminary stay, returnable Jan. 22. Sidney Mitchell, Chairman of the committee, is quoted as saying that he would vote between 80 and 90% of the stock at the annual meeting on Feb. 21 in opposition to the management.—V. 84, p. 107, 54.

Universal Portland Cement Co.—Status.—This company, incorporated in Indiana last July with $1,000,000 of authorized capital stock as a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, has taken over the property and business of the cement department of the Illinois Steel Co. and the other cement plants of the Steel Corporation. The new company will continue the manufacture of Universal Portland Cement and an extension is being built to its present plant at Buffington, Ind. A new plant is also being built in the Pittsburgh district, which will be operated by this company. The new plants will be in operation by the summer of 1907, and will increase the output from 6,500 barrels per day to about 17,000 barrels. E. M. Hagar, who for the last six years has been manager of the cement department of the Illinois Steel Co., is President of the new company, with offices at The Rookery, Chicago, Ill.

Vulcanite Portland Cement Co., Philadelphia.—Status.—This company, mentioned above under heading North American Portland Cement Co., has an authorized capital stock of $1,500,000, issued and paid for in cash. No bonded or other indebtedness beyond current bills payable. Capacity of mills, 1,500,000 barrels per annum. The stock is very closely held by a few stockholders. President, John B. —Under the name of Hincks Bros. & Co., a new banking firm has been formed in Connecticut to engage in a general bond business with securities designed wholly for the Connecticut market. While a general banking business will be conducted, the firm will particularly devote its attention to bonds, stocks and commercial paper. Commodious offices have been leased by it on the ground floor of the Court Exchange Building, at 207 State Street, Bridgeport. Robert S. Hincks, one of the partners in the new concern, has for the past ten years been with Estabrook & Co. of Boston and New York, and for the past eight years has represented that firm in Connecticut. He is a director of the Bridgeport National Bank. William T. Hincks has been with A. W. Paige, of Paige & Hincks, as counsel and in the active management of the Connecticut Railway & Lighting Co. He is a trustee of the City Savings Bank of Bridgeport. The New York correspondents of Hincks Bros. & Co. will be Kissel, Kinnicutt & Co.

—The Western Electric Co. of Chicago is issuing an attractive pamphlet descriptive of its new plant at Hawthorne, Ill., which is known as the "Hawthorne Works." The company in the past has confined itself mainly to the manufacture of telephone apparatus, &c., but with the completion of these new works it is now in a position to build electric power apparatus and switchboards for street railway service. The pamphlet contains several interesting little articles on "Perfect Fire Protection" and the idea of "Storing Coal Under Water." The pamphlet is handsomely gotten up and printed in large clear type, and is plentifully illustrated —A comprehensive booklet, in which the desirability of New York City bonds as an investment figures as the subject, has been issued by the National City Bank of New York. It undertakes to show the superiority of the city's municipal securities, which, it states, in coming nearest meeting the double requirement of security and market ability, are thus filling the place that is being so rapidly left vacant by the withdrawal of United States Government bonds from the individual investment field. Numerous tables are introduced. The booklet is being distributed gratuitously to all sufficiently interested to apply for it.

—Russell, Brewster & Co., bankers and brokers of Chicago and New York, are sending out to their trade a Dividend Record for 1906, with range of prices and table showing yield per cent, of about 100 principal railway and industrial stocks. Not only the rate of dividends is given, but the time for opening and closing of books each quarter and date of payment are recorded, and the range of prices for the two years 1905 and 1906. Altogether it is a very useful and convenient record for those interested.

—Among the calendars issued for use the new year, which for attractiveness are deserving of mention, are those issued by E. H. Gay & Co. of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Montreal, and Harry B. Powell & Co., dealers in investment securities, of Woodstock, Vt. Messrs. Gay & Co. have utilized for their calendar a Gainsborough subject, while Sidney Watson's painting "Among the Heather" is the subject of the calendar issued by Messrs. Powell & Co.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, Jan. 18, 1907.

Although car shortage is still an obstacle, especially in the Northwest, and labor none too plentiful, trade continues active. Prices of the great staples have been generally about steady. Speculation is still dormant.

LARD on the spot has been stronger, owing to a further rise in the market for futures at the West, light offerings and a somewhat better demand, partly for export. City is quoted at 9.15@9.25c. and Western 9.60c. Refined lard has also shown an upward tendency, owing to the strength of other provisions, though trade has continued dull. Small sales have latterly been made at 9.95c. for refined Continent, 10.75c. for South America and 11.75c. for Brazil in kegs. The market for futures at the West has been strong in the main, though some irregularity has been noticeable at times. This, however, has been due mainly to realizing of profits. The receipts of live hogs have continued small, packers have given support and there has been considerable commission house buying.

PORK on the spot has been steady with trade less active. Export buying for shipment to the West Indies has been restricted as a result of the Jamaica earthquake. Mess is quoted at $17 50@$18, clear $18@$19 and family $18 50@$19. Cut meats have been irregular but the changes have been slight as a rule. Pickled shoulders 8@8¼c., pickled hams 11½@12c. and pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs., 10¼@11c. Tallow has been quiet and steady; City 6⅜@6½c. Stearines have been fairly active and firm; oleo 11¾c. and lard 10¼c. Butter has been easier with larger supplies; creamery, extras, 29c. Cheese has been fairly active and steady; State factory 14½c. Eggs have been more active and firmer; Western firsts, 29c.

OIL.—Cottonseed has advanced, owing to active covering of shorts and manipulation. Prime summer yellow 45@46c. Linseed has ruled quiet and steady; City, raw, American seed, 42@43c.; boiled 43@44c.; Calcutta, raw, 70c. Lard has been in light demand but firm in the main, owing to the strength of the lard market. Prime is quoted at 77@79c. Olive has advanced with offerings light and the demand more active. Yellow 70@75c. and green 60@62c. Cocoanut has been less active but steady; Cochin 9¾@10c. and Ceylon 9¼@9½c. Peanut has been quiet and steady; yellow 50@60c. Cod has been firm and rather more active; domestic 36@37c. and Newfoundland 38@40c.

COFFEE on the spot has been dull and steady. Rio No. 7, 6⅞c. and Santos No. 4, 7¾c. West India growths have been quiet; fair to good, Cucuta 8½@9⅛c. The market for future contracts declined early in the week, owing to unexpectedly weak cables from Europe, especially from Havre; heavy foreign selling, liquidation by tired local longs, Wall Street selling and pressure from room traders who were encouraged to sell for a decline by the continued large receipts and the dulness of the spot trade. Of late there has been some recovery, owing to covering of shorts and more or less new buying by roasters and leading local operators, but in the main sentiment in the trade is still bearish.

The closing prices were as follows:

January	5.25c.	May	5.50c.	September	5.75c.
February	5.30c.	June	5.55c.	October	5.85c.
March	5.35c.	July	5.60c.	November	5.90c.
April	5.40c.	August	5.70c.	December	5.95c.

SUGAR.—Raw has been dull and without noteworthy change in quotations. Centrifugal, 96-degrees test, 3½c; muscovado, 89-degrees test, 3@3 1-32c., and molasses, 89-degrees test, 2¾@2 25-32c. Refined has been steady. New business has continued dull but there have been larger withdrawals on old contracts. Granulated 4.60@4.70c. Spices have been in fair demand and firm. Teas have been firm with a fair jobbing trade. Hops have been in fair demand and steady.

TOBACCO.—The market for domestic leaf has been stronger with some improvement in business. Supplies of leaf held by cigar manufacturers are reported light as a rule, and there have been rather large withdrawals from storehouses of late. Havana has been fairly active and firm.

PETROLEUM has been active and firm. Refined, barrels, 7.50c.; bulk 4.40c. and cases 10c. Gasoline has been active and firm; 89 degrees 21c. in 100-gallon drums. Spirits of turpentine have been fairly active and strong, owing to an advance in the Southern market; local quotation 73c. Rosin has been quiet but firm; common to good strained $4 25@$4 30.

COPPER has been irregular with trade quiet; lake 25@25¼c.; electrolytic 24½@25c. Lead has been quiet but firmer at 6.30@6.35c. Spelter has been quiet and steady at 6¼c. Tin has been active and stronger; Straits 41.60c. Iron has been more active and easier; No. 1 Northern $23 50@$25 50, No. 2 Southern $22 25@$25.

COTTON.

Friday Night, January 18 1907.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night is given below. For the week ending this evening the total receipts have reached 339,479 bales, against 312,936 bales last week and 311,945 bales the previous week, making the total receipts since the 1st of September 1906, 6,722,403 bales, against 5,499,755 bales for the same period of 1905-6, showing an increase since Sept. 1 1906 of 1,222,648 bales.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has continued quiet rather than otherwise, and the drift of prices has been downward, owing mainly to large receipts and the tendency, if anything, to increase crop estimates. Current opinion here in regard to the size of the yield has latterly concentrated on something like 13,000,000 bales, but if the crop movement continues at its present rate much longer, popular opinion, judging from present appearances, will be inclined to raise these figures. In any case the large receipts have militated against speculation more plainly than ever, and this fact and selling by discouraged "longs" and not a little bear pressure both at home and abroad have paved the way for lower prices. The wide disparity between the prices of futures here and those at New Orleans has not helped matters whatever may be the actual merits of the controversy now in progress in regard to the provisions of the New York contract and the schedule of differences between grades in force here. The decline at the Stock Exchange has accounted in a measure for the selling by Wall Street houses, which at times has been something of a feature. The course of the market, however, has been irregular. At times advances have taken place, owing partly to a sudden upturn in Liverpool or to covering here in a somewhat oversold market, or because of some momentary decrease in the movement and rumors that the receipts in the Atlantic States are likely soon to diminish. A decrease in the Bank of England's rate of discount making matters more favorable for Lancashire, and rumors that a considerable quantity of cotton taken from the New York stock is to be exported shortly to Liverpool, have also been sustaining factors at times. A fear of floods in the Mississippi River has likewise had some effect, as the Government reports have shown that the river below Cairo has been above the flood stage for practically its entire length. Remarkable activity in the spot trade at Liverpool, too, has been a feature, sales on one day aggregating 18,000 bales, while the general tone of the spot markets at the South has been firm with reports of a good demand, even for the lower grades, which have hitherto been more or less neglected in the active quest for the better descriptions. Yet, offsetting all these factors, has been the remarkably large movement of the crop, greatly exceeding that of two years ago in the season of the high-record yield, though it is to be borne in mind that at that time a big holding back movement was in progress at the South. To-day a small advance took place after an early decline, due to large receipts and disappointing Liverpool advices, prices there showing unexpected weakness. But when it was found that even the large quantity brought into sight during the week failed to depress quotations, many of the local shorts covered, and this of itself was sufficient to turn prices upward. Spot cotton has been rather more active during the week. Middling closed at 10.80c., showing no change for the week.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 21 1906 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

—Comtelburo, Limited, of London and New York, have issued a unique business calendar for 1907. The publishers truly say that "the publication is the only one of its kind and the 'business holiday' feature is the most valuable to firms having foreign connections, as their trading is interrupted when holidays intervene, and this calendar spares possible waste actions and allows economy in cable advices being obviated by the calendar giving beforehand the fixture. Trading steamers, as well as liners, may greatly benefit by carrying a copy, so that holiday derangement of business facilities may be known to them before reaching ports affected. The 'business maxims' are a new feature (and self-explanatory), and the tabular section also. The 'glossary of business terms' and the tables for conversion of weights and moneys are such as commercial firms are in daily need of. The cable and trunk telephone tariffs may also be counted handy helps for any business." The calendar can be purchased at the New York office, 16 Beaver Street. Price $1.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—With nothing done, the market for jute bagging during the week under review has been nominal at the following prices: 8¾c. for 1¾ lbs. and 9⅛c. for 2 lbs., standard grades. Jute butts continue dull at 3@4c. for bagging quality.

MEMPHIS COTTON EXCHANGE—ANNUAL ELECTION.—At the annual election for officers of the Memphis Cotton Exchange, held on Jan. 9, the following were elected to serve the ensuing year: President, F. M. Crump; Vice-Presidents, W. H. Kennedy, Dennis Smith, W. F. Taylor; Treasurer, J. A. Omberg. Board of directors: A. J. Warwick, Wm. Bowles, F. D. Farabee, Hugh M. Neely Jr., J. H. Turner, R. S. Bryan, H. H. Reese. Mr. Henry Hotter was unanimously re-elected Secretary by the board of directors, a position he has held continuously since March 15 1881.

COTTON IN BARBADOS.—The Manchester (Eng.) "Guardian" of recent date contained the following:

In the annual report on Barbados for the year 1905-06 reference is made to the satisfactory progress of the cotton-growing industry. It is estimated that in 1905 there were 2,009 acres under this crop, and the quantity of cotton exported was 344,232 pounds. The prices obtained varied from 12½d. to 17d. per lb. and were remunerative. So satisfactory has the industry proved since it was started four years ago that 5,000 acres will probably be planted in cotton during the coming season. Where care has been taken with the cultivation the net return has amounted to £10 or more per acre. At the beginning of last November the cotton-ginning factory, which belonged to the Government, and which was worked by a committee of the Agricultural Society appointed to assist the Imperial Department of Agriculture in the establishment of subsidiary industries, was transferred to the Barbados Co-operative Cotton Factory, Limited. The company charges ¾d. per lb. for ginning and baling the lint, and, owing to the increase in the cotton industry, has recently increased its capital in order to erect a new factory of 24 gins, so as to be in a position to gin all the cotton sent to the factory within a reasonable time.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, Jan. 18 1907.

Prices for wheat flour have remained about stationary, despite the advance in wheat. Trading has continued on a very restricted scale, buyers taking only enough flour to fill immediate requirements. Millers, however, have refused to make concessions, which was not surprising in view of the strength of wheat. Export business has been stagnant and the exports from the seaboard during the week have been small. Corn meal has ruled quiet and steady. Small export sales have been reported of late. Rye flour has been quiet and steady.

Wheat has advanced, partly because of higher foreign markets, continued small receipts at the Northwest and a somewhat better export demand. Moreover, it has been affected more or less by the strength in other grain, notably oats. This has offset favorable reports in regard to the condition of the winter wheat in most sections of the belt and an estimated increase in the Argentine crop over that of last year of some 15%. Needed snows have fallen in parts of the West, but car-shortage continues at the Northwest, so much so that the President has suggested, it is understood, that the Inter-State Commerce Commission should be empowered to deal with the matter. The crop movement in that section is so small as to be quite an important factor in the general situation. Moreover, the available supply in the world decreased last week 2,217,000 bushels, as against a decrease for the corresponding week last year of only 71,000 bushels. Reported damage by chinch bugs in Texas has also had some influence at times, though not to any marked extent. But what with a light movement—the primary receipts have at times been little more than half what they were for the corresponding day last year—stronger European markets, the firmness of coarse grains, a somewhat greater readiness on the part of exporters to purchase, and rather stronger statistics, the trend of prices has been upward, though the world's supplies continue to be well above those of a year ago and the speculation has not been at all active, the new year opening, indeed, with much the sluggishness in this respect which characterized most of last year. To-day there was a decline, owing to profit taking, a reaction in corn and oats, generally favorable crop reports and small exports.

Indian corn futures have advanced with the trading on a larger scale than for some time past. The stimulating factors have been the continued small receipts at Chicago, especially of contract grade, and the advance and activity in oats. At times during the week there has been no contract grade in the Chicago arrivals, and this fact, in view of the smallness of contract stocks there, has caused considerable covering among nervous shorts. The weather, too, has, in the main, been unsettled and mild, and therefore unfavorable for drying and moving the crop. Commission house business has been more active and the cash market has shown an upward tendency, with an increased export trade at times. To-day prices were firm early on wet weather at the West, small receipts and covering of shorts, but many were disposed to take profits and later on the market weakened.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have advanced quite sharply under the stimulus of active buying by prominent Chicago operators who have been working in the interest of higher prices, covering by frightened shorts, brisk commission house buying and an absence of selling pressure. The trading has been on a larger scale than that witnessed in wheat or corn. Bulls have been favored by small receipts, the relatively small stocks of contract grade at Chicago and unfavorable weather for marketing the crop. Then, too, the cash demand at the West has been active at steadily advancing quotations. To-day the market was firmer early, owing to continued small receipts, light offerings and covering of shorts, but later on a reaction occurred due to realizing.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, Jan. 18 1907.

The holding of various meetings of associations connected with the textile trades in this city during the past week brought a large number of buyers to town, and their presence was reflected in an increased volume of business. While buying of cotton goods was mostly for near-by deliveries, for which premiums were gladly paid when they were in any way available, there was also some good purchasing of fall supplies by some of the larger houses, who thus indicated their confidence in the future of the market. The demand for spot goods was due in great part to the slowness of deliveries on existing contracts and the larger volume of retail trade than had been calculated when original purchases were made. The inquiries that developed in this way brought out very forcibly the scarcity existing in all directions. It would be easily possible to advance near-by prices still farther in view of this spot demand, but sellers are pursuing a conservative policy and hesitate to check the retail demand by unduly raising values. The jobbing trade during the week has been very heavy, especially in prints, and jobbers who have not been able to satisfy their demand in the primary market have themselves been buying from others. The movement to China has been larger than generally thought, and further inquiries have been received during the week; but prices offered are generally too low. The more seasonable weather has had a favorable effect upon the heavy-weight woolen and worsted goods market.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Jan. 12 were 3,321 packages, valued at $316,906, their destintaion being to the points specified in the tables below:

New York to Jan. 12.	1907 Week.	1907 Since Jan. 1.	1906 Week.	1906 Since Jan. 1.

Other Countries	1,503	2,087	388	837

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $479,202 in 1907, against $1,216,912 in 1906.

Sales to China on the current movement have included such goods as standard and 3-yard drills and 3 and 4 yard sheetings, and inquiries for similar lines have been received in considerable volume during the week. They have been generally below the market, however, and at prices which manufacturers do not feel inclined to accept, owing to the condition of the home trade. Export buyers are looking more at the decline in the cotton market at the moment than at the strong statistical condition of the goods market. It is stated on good authority that the accumulations of export goods in this country are much smaller than had been figured. Heavy brown drills and sheetings for the home trade are firm in spite of efforts brought to bear upon sellers to accept reductions. Light-weight sheetings are in good demand. Buyers are willing to pay ¼c. over the current quotation for spot bleached goods, where these are obtainable. Coarse, colored cotton goods are well sold up for the next four months. Linings are seriously affected by the difficulty of securing gray goods. Napped goods have been opened at from 5 to 7½% over last season's prices and have sold freely. An enormous business is being transacted in prints prior to the advances going into effect. Ginghams are very scarce and firm. Narrow print cloths are slightly higher and a large business has been done in wide goods.

WOOLEN GOODS.—A good many more lines of medium quality men's wear woolen and worsted heavy-weight goods have been opened during the week, and these have met with a fair degree of success. The weather, however, has been very much against the market, although it is hoped that the more wintry spell at the end of the week will effect an improvement in the near future. The finer lines of goods have not yet been shown to any extent, but a good demand is expected for these. The general feeling, however, is that low-grade and medium goods will not be so successful this season as they have been in the recent past. Only a few lines of mercerized worsteds have so far been opened. Business to date has been unevenly distributed and some manufacturers have had the satisfaction of being able to withdraw well-sold-up lines, while others have been very discouraged at results. The demand for cassimeres has been one of the features of the market. Overcoatings have been adversely affected by the weather, but here also some lines have enjoyed a fair degree of popularity. Business in dress goods has been good and heavy orders have been placed for fall broadcloths, which promise again to be the leaders in the market. Duplicating is slow but a steady demand continues for voiles, panamas and taffetas among light-weight goods.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted dress goods have been in good demand and business is satisfactory. Silks and ribbons are firm. Linens continue strong. Burlaps are at top figures but the demand has been seasonably small.

McAlester, Ind. Ter.—Bonds Not Legal.—Under date Jan. 8, J. M. Gannaway, City Clerk, writes us as follows regarding the $200,000 school, water and sewer bonds awarded last October to Spitzer & Co. of Toledo (V. 83, p. 848):

"The opinion of Dillon & Hubbard on the issue by the city of McAlester of $200,000 school and water and sewer bonds was received on Jan. 7, and fails to approve the same, quoting the Act of Congress of July 30 1886, which, if applicable, forbids territory towns the right to issue bonds in excess of 4% of assessed valuation, and as our city has $150,000 water bonds outstanding, and the assessment of 1905 (somewhat more than $4,000,000) was the one considered when proceedings were begun, our limit under the Act quoted would be exceeded materially. Acting upon the advice of the above attorneys, however, a strong effort is to be made immediately to have Congress pass a special Act, validating the issue. In case this Act is secured the city will, of course, ask for new bids."

McMechen, W. Va.—Bonds Not Sold.—No award has yet been made of the $20,000 4½% coupon sewerage bonds offered on Dec. 27 1906. See V. 83, p. 1549, for description of these securities.

You Wouldn't Start a Horse-Car Line

in this age of electric cars? Not if you wanted to make money out of the business of transportation.

Then why should you start a manual telephone exchange in this age of automatics, if you want to make money out of the telephone business?

The automatic system of telephony bears the same relation to the manual system that the electric car does to the horse car. It is the apotheosis of telephone development, as the electric car is of transportation development.

The automatic telephone system produces the best service more economcially than indifferent service can be produced with manual equipment.

There is no more question as to the relative popularity of the automatic and manual telephone service where the two kinds are in competition than there is as to the relative popularity of the trolley car and the horse car.

And, as for the securities—the same comparison may be applied with the same results.

Our Automatic system has been adopted in the following cities:

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Consider how much like previous weeks, if taken as a whole, the current week has been. Two distinct halves have stood as the rule for some time, one up and the other down; only in the first half of this last one, Wall Street affairs, took a deeper plunge than has previously been the custom, and the second half had reached apparently a much more stable resting-place because of decidedly larger banking facilities gained by our Clearing House institutions. This gain has been a prolonged feature—three weeks now. The present six-day cycle for work began not only after the $10,578,900 gain in cash as shown by the bank returns of January 12 but on top of an $18,198,000 increase in cash on January 19th. Thus those two weeks had completely changed the character of the loan market by additions of $28,776,900 to the cash and of $18,467,250 to surplus reserve. With these large gains already secured coming freely from the interior, and in considerable amount from the Sub-Treasury, and with evidence of further additions in progress the current week from the same sources, operators had reason to think they had good promise of relief from the strain so long felt because of the shortened conditions of the money market. Still, notwithstanding the more assured grounds the borrower had reached a week ago both in Europe and America, last week's Saturday markets for securities both at home and abroad closed in a gloomy sort of way. So it happened also, in spite of this better and stronger situation in money, both for call and time, having relaxed materially, the Monday and Tuesday opening of the Wall Street market the current week was far from cheerful.

A conspicuous feature of the two days, Monday and Tuesday, of the current week already mentioned was the large crop of rumors of various kinds put afloat and readily gaining belief. They related to coming disasters to leading firms, difficulties with railroads in getting cash, of declines in dividend payments, &c. Undefined fears are always provocative of more harm than the facts when they are fully developed. "Rumor doth double, like the voice and echo, the numbers of the feared." By Wednesday, however, these impending evils had substantially vanished and there was a good deal better feeling. The day previous it had been announced that the house of J. P. Morgan & Co. had provided the means President Finley indicated in his letter of last week was needed by the Southern Railway. The company issued its notes in the amount of $15,000,000 and the bankers mentioned took them. These notes mature in three years, bear 5% interest, and are sold at 97 and interest. Another among the rumors of Monday and Tuesday was the announcement of the issue of a new large loan to be put out by the Pennsylvania Railroad; the following day the company denied that there was any such intention. About the same time rumor stated it to be the conclusion of the New York Central directors to curtail much of the construction and improvement work that had been planned for this year, the curtailment not, however, to include any part of the terminal work in this city. A letter to us from the company states that the rumor was "neither authorized nor correct." Still it suggests a good maxim for the new year. "Go slow" is certainly the principle which should govern the railroad world the current year. Not only wages, but everything that enters into construction, are abnormally high. If all the loans and projects which have been proclaimed in recent weeks be gotten under way as announced, it would involve so much money, the employment of so many men, and such a degree of activity in so many industries as not unlikely to precipitate a crisis.

But we are inclined to think that railroads will be slow in carrying out their plans, doing only what is absolutely needful. This is no occasion for getting more involved than that course will cause. It does not need to be said that all the roads that have been suggesting and making provision for new work are financially sound—no roads anywhere in Europe or America are in that respect in better condition. As a rule, if they have the power, their purpose has been to raise the money required on their stock, which all of them could at any time easily do because by giving stock at par, they virtually give an immense per cent for the money, though they do not add to the fixed charges. We plead, however, for conservatism in building operations, because in the present low moral state of opinion with regard to property, and especially railroad property, it is far safer to get into a fighting condition than a strained one. A decision at St. Paul restricting the Great Northern from bringing out its proposed stock issue of $60,000,000, until the Minnesota Railroad Commission had given its consent—at first affected the stock unfavorably. Later it was looked at as being at the worst only a delay. If the management of the Great Northern thinks it must do certain things to save certain rights it will get the money in some way and do them, letting Minnesota and her sister States wait until the deprivation of getting along without the improvements projected shall open their eyes to the real situation. The order enjoining the proposed issue limits its action as follows —"without first making an application in writing to the Minnesota Railroad & Warehouse Commission and securing its approval." The Great Northern Railway claimed that under its original charter it could issue stock at will. The court holds that this is not the case.

As the current week closes, a matter of some consequence comes in to disturb the outlook. We have referred above to the strong condition of our Clearing House institutions and to the easy rates that situation has produced for call and time money. The incident which clouds this prospect somewhat is the reported announcement by Secretary Shaw that he will on and after February 1 call for the surrender of the 30 million funds which on September 27 he had agreed to distribute among banks in different localities for the purpose of relieving the monetary tension which then prevailed. It is stated in the same Washington telegram that "the Secretary will exercise leniency in calling for re-payments. For instance, a bank having $200,000 may be asked to turn in $100,000 early in February and may have until March 1 to restore the remainder." The Secretary's purpose is, it is said, to have all the money returned by March 4, when he retires from office, "and a considerable part of the money will accordingly remain in the banks throughout the month of February." It should also be remembered that there is likewise a $12,000,000 item of public deposits which will have to be paid back to the Sub-Treasury February 1 and February 15. Consequently, as we understand the situation, the whole requirement is 42 million dollars which the banks must restore to the Treasury in February. It will be remembered that this last item became due one-half on January 21 and the other half February 15. On January 10 Secretary Shaw extended these payments one-half to February 1 and the other half to February 15. Of course this $42,000,000 is not all held by our New York banks. Only a small part of it is so held. The interior depositaries, at least the most of them, we may presume, will adjust their indebtedness through their correspondents in New York instead of sending the money directly to the Sub-Treasury. This would require our banks to furnish the cash. However the liquidation is carried through, we cannot but feel that it is a very unwise and unnecessary requirement, and may possibly have some adverse effect on general business. We see no reason why the return of the money should not be prolonged into the summer. It is not needed for disbursement until the first of July.

An address on "The Growth of Corporate Wealth," delivered on Wednesday of this week before the Boston Chamber of Commerce by a Mr. Charles Stedman Hanks, has been accorded considerable space in the newspapers. The address is so full of crudities and half-baked facts that it would not merit notice except for the prominence thus given to it. Mr. Hanks tells us that since last June he has been at work in Washington, at the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and has "spent several thousand dollars of the good money of the United States in clerical services to show that the freight and passenger rates of this country can be reduced 10% without affecting the dividends on the stock of any railroad or the wages of any employee." This is an interesting statement, and if by practical and convincing demonstration he could make good his promise, he would be conferring a service which would be well worth any amount of money spent in reimbursing him for his preliminary work. Railroad rates in this country are admittedly low, but if Mr. Hanks could show us, as he claims, how they can be reduced 10% further without harming any interest, we would all fall in with the idea and hail him as a public benefactor.

But one looks in vain for enlightenment on this point in the address. Instead, Mr. Hanks spends his energies in arraigning the railroads—that is, the popular course now-a-days—and in so doing falls into a number of blunders which would be amusing if they did not deal with such a serious matter. For instance, he notes among the things he discovered in the process of his examination the case of a certain railroad corporation (he does not give the name) which obtained control of a small railroad line capitalized at $5,000,000, and within two years this road, after being absorbed by the larger system, was capitalized at $30,000,000. That the road was able to float this extra $25,000,000 of bonds and stock may not interest us, he says (the calm disregard of the position of the investor implied in this statement is refreshing), but we are all interested, he continues, in the fact that whatever freight we ship over this system has to pay freight rates sufficient to allow the road to pay interest on this over-capitalization. There are two curious errors in the assumption contained herein which cannot be overlooked in a person who is spending "the good money of the United States." Mr. Hanks's statement can have no force except it be assumed (1) that the railroads are allowed to make any rates they please, and (2) that as a result they are netting a return on their entire share capital, no matter how excessive or what its magnitude. The facts confute him on both points. We all know that it is competition, not capitalization, that controls rates, and furthermore we also know that even if this were not so, Government bodies, both State and National, are exercising extreme vigilance in seeing that rates are not too high—in fact, the criticism is that they often force them unjustifiably low. On the other point, as to whether the railroads are paying or earning dividends on their entire share capitalization—including the water in them which our critic so strenuously alleges exists—we would refer him to the last annual report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, showing that of the total capital stock outstanding on United States railroads, no less than $2,435,470,337, or over 37% of the whole, was paying no dividends at latest dates. This, too, is in face of unexampled prosperity through the whole range of industries in the land, including the transportation interests.

There is much other crude matter of the same kind in the address. Take, for example, the following illustration as to how capital watering is being indulged in: "The profits from such over-capitalization, by which vast sums are made, without giving anything in return, are obtained either by wiping out minority stockholders, by scaling bonds and stocks under reorganization schemes, by assessing majority stockholders, or by paying off floating indebtedness at dividend-paying periods, so that the market value of the stock still depreciates. Each is a successful graft proposition, and when all four are played at the same time, as many banking houses now play the game, it is time to call a halt, such methods having the same effect upon our country as when crops are harvested without fertilizing for new crops." This is a curious conglomeration. The main trouble with the diagnosis is that for a dozen years or more times have been so prosperous that there has been no chance to practice any of the "graft propositions" referred to. On account of the good times experienced, reorganizations have passed almost out of vogue. If we would find cases of the "wiping out" of minority stockholders, the scaling of bonds or stock, or the imposing of assessments, we would have to refer to an era long since past. And if "banking houses now playing the game" still rely for their profits on practices of the kind mentioned, we think it will be admitted that they must have been having a lean time of it, and it is a wonder they have been able to keep body and soul together.

But the most diabolical villainy of all is yet to be mentioned. Mr. Hanks makes the statement that "a certain railroad not far from Boston has each mile post 123 feet short, so that the road is a mile short in every 43 miles," and he says this makes one "inclined to sit up and think." We should imagine it would. But what will puzzle most of us is why it remained for Mr. Hanks to discover the fact, and why he did not at once rush to the State House at Boston and get the authorities to cite the managers of the railroad to appear and account for the offence. This would have afforded a fine opportunity for public officials to show their zeal on behalf of the people. Mr. Hanks should persist till these mile posts are set right, and we think no one will object to his using some more of the "good money of the United States" in the effort.

Preliminary figures have been given out at Albany this week showing the condition of the trust companies of this State on January 1. These figures are interesting as bearing out the statement made by us when reviewing the figures for November 14, namely, that the process of accumulation of cash made necessary under the law passed last year by the Legislature requiring the trust companies to keep stated reserves, had about reached its end. It will be remembered that under the law the maximum of the reserve requirement had to be attained by January 1. From the statement of November 14 it appeared that the trust companies held $42,345,615 specie and $8,920,029 legal tender notes and notes of national banks, or $51,265,644 together. The statement for January 1 shows holdings of specie of $43,861,609 and holdings of legal tenders and bank notes of $11,675,393, or $55,537,002. So the further increase has been a little over four million dollars. The aggregate of all kinds of deposits for all the trust institutions in the State on January 1 was $1,084,376,517, and 5% on this would call for cash holdings of $54,218,825 against the $55,537,002 of cash now reported held. The excess above the requirement is really larger than this comparison would indicate, for outside of New York the cash requirement is less than 5%—is only 3%, though it is proper to state that the vast preponderance of the deposits is in the institutions in this city. To show the full effect of the new law on the cash holdings of the trust companies, it is necessary, of course, to compare with the figures on January 1 of last year. At that time the specie holdings were only $20,733,816 and the holdings of legal tenders, &c., $4,083,239, making $24,817,055. Thus, as a result of the operation of the new law, $30,000,000, roughly, has been added during the twelve months to the money holdings of the trust companies within their own vaults.

With the exception of a reduction by the Imperial Bank of Germany in its official rateof discount from 7%, at which it had stood since Dec. 18 1906, to 6%, there was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week; compared with last week, unofficial or open market rates were ⅛ of 1% lower at London, steady at Paris and ⅝ of 1% lower at Berlin and at Frankfort.

The striking feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was the remarkable gain of $18,198,000 in cash and of $9,820,000 in surplus reserves, which carried the latter to $18,460,700. Loans were expanded by $15,148,600 and deposits were increased by $33,512,000. There was a transfer hither from San Francisco this week, through the Treasury, of $1,000,000, and though Sub-Treasury operations have shown smaller gains to the banks than was the case last week, the return flow of money from the interior has been in important volume.

Influenced by the above-noted favorable bank return and by a comparatively light demand, due to continued liquidations of speculative accounts on the Stock Exchange and to the apathy manifested by investors and non-professional traders, the market for money has been easy this week, not only on call but on time. Though offerings of the latter, especially for the shorter dates of maturity, have been liberal, the business has been small; it is noteworthy, however, that the corporation notes which have been offered have been taken promptly, probably because of the high interest that they yield to investors. The statement on Wednesday, as elsewhere noted, that Secretary Shaw would postpone the call for the surrender of $30,000,000 public funds—which, when the deposits were placed with the banks, were understood to be subject to calls beginning with Feb. 1—contributed to a reduction in the call money rate to about the lowest of the week. On the following day the absence of confirmation of this statement caused a recovery in the rate to the maximum for the week. On Friday Mr. Shaw denied the report of his intention to postpone the call and stated that on Feb. 1 he will begin to require the surrender of these special deposits, calls therefor being made gradually so that the banks may have until March 1 to return the funds to the Treasury.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned on the Stock Exchange during the week at 4% and at 2%, averaging about 2¾%; banks and trust companies loaned at 2¼% as the minimum. On Monday loans were at 3¼% and at 2% with the bulk of the business at 3%. On Tuesday transactions were at 3% and at 2½% with the majority at 2¾%. On Wednesday loans were at 3% and at 2¼% with the bulk of the business at 2¾%. On Thursday transactions were at 4% and at 2¼% with the majority at 3%. On Friday loans were at 4% and at 3½% with the bulk of the business at 3¾%. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral are 4½@4¾% for sixty and 4¾@5% for ninety days, 5@5¼% for four and 5½% for five to six months. Corporation notes running for one year have been placed this week on about a 5¾% basis. Commercial paper is in good demand at 5¾@6¼% for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 5¾@6¼% for prime and 6½% for good four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 5%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 4⅝@4¾%. The open market rate at Paris is 3⅛@3¼% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4⅝%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £1,438,701 bullion during the week and held £33,601,525 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to continued heavy receipts from the interior of Great Britain and large purchases in the open market, the export movement being moderate, and exclusively to South America. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £625,000 (of which £7,000 from Austria and £618,000 bought in open market); exports, £275,000 (wholly to South America), and receipts of £1,089,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was strong early in the week, influenced largely by speculative buying induced by the easy rates for money and the prospect for a further decline in such rates in the near future. It was expected that there would be a good demand for remittances by Tuesday's mail, but the offerings were greatly in excess of requirements, because of the over-bought market, and after the demand had been satisfied, rates more or less sharply declined. Inasmuch as the steamer sailing on Thursday was slow, remitters gave preference to Saturday's vessel, and consequently the inquiry for bills for the remainder of the week until Friday was moderate, rates gradually fell off and the tone was heavy. There was some buying of long for remittance, owing to easier London discounts, and also purchases for investment to hold until maturity. Commercial bills, especially those against cotton, were in good supply, but at the same time the inquiry therefor was somewhat urgent, so that they were promptly absorbed. There seemed to be no evidence of remittances to pay for maturing finance bills, indicating either that these had been settled for or that provision had already been made for them in advance of their maturity. Reports of selling of American securities in London and on the Continent, as the result of the depression in the New York market, led to expectations of a demand for exchange to pay for these properties. As there was no indication of an inquiry for this special purpose, it was thought likely that payment for the returned securities would be deferred until their arrival. The lowering of the German Bank rate seemed to have only a slight effect upon marks, the reduction having been foreshadowed by easier open market discounts.

Nominal rates for sterling exchange are 4 82@4 82½ for sixty day and 4 86½ for sight. On Saturday of last week the market was quite strong, and, compared with the previous day, long rose 50 points to 4 8175@4 82, short 45 points, to 4 8595@4 8610 and cables 40 points to 4 8665@4 8675. On Monday the tone was strong until the afternoon, when it grew easier, and the market closed at a decline of 25 points for long to 4 8150@4 8155, of 15 points for short to 4 8580@4 8585 and of 20 points for cables to 4 8650@4 8655. On Tuesday long fell 5 points to 4 8145@4 8155, short 10 points to 4 8570@4 8575 and cables 15 points to 4 8635@4 8640. On Wednesday the tone was again heavy at a decline of 20 points for long to 4 8130@4 8135, of 10 points for short to 4 8560@4 8570 and of 5 points for cables to 4 8630@4 8635. On Thursday the market was steady, closing 40 points higher for long at 4 8160@4 8175, 10 points for short at 4 8570@4 8575 and 5 points for cables at 4 8635@4 8640. The tone was barely steady on Friday, with long and short 10 points and cables 5 points lower.

The following gives the week's movement of money to and from the interior by the New York banks:

Week ending January 25 1907.	Received by N. Y. Banks.	Shipped by N. Y. Banks.	Net Interior Movement.
Currency	$6,852,000	$5,045,000	Gain $1,807,000
Gold	2,090,000	1,166,000	Gain 924,000
Total gold and legal tenders	$8,942,000	$6,211,000	Gain $2,731,000

With Sub-Treasury operations, the result is as follows:

Week ending January 4 1907.	Into Banks.	Out of Banks.	Net Change in Bank Holdings.
Banks' interior movement as above	$8,942,000	$6,211,000	Gain $2,731,000
Sub-Treasury operations	31,250,000	28,250,000	Gain 3,000,000

THE GOVERNOR OF JAMAICA AND THE BRITISH NAVY.

There was no great reason to believe, at any time during the incident of Governor Swettenham and our warships at Jamaica, that serious consequences, even of a sentimental sort, would follow. Americans are, fortunately, possessed as a nation of a high sense of humor, and the absurdities of which Governor Swettenham had allowed himself to be guilty in his official correspondence with our Admiral appealed so strongly to that sense of humor as to overcome even the feeling of wounded pride which might under other circumstances have asserted itself. The truth is, this is one of the episodes in which the manner of doing a thing so far supersedes in popular interest the thing which was done, that it is judged at the time, and probbaly always hereafter will be judged, in the light of the language used by the Colonial Governor. This is in some respects fortunate, but in others unfortunate, because it is quite possible that a principle of some importance to the English, if not to us, lay behind the extraordinary document sent out on Sunday by the Governor to our Admiral.

Taken by itself, a communication by such an officer to the representative of the American Government—in which he remarks that "I find your working party was this morning helping Mr. Crosswell clean his store; Crosswell was delighted that the work was done without cost; if your excellency should remain long enough, I am sure almost all the private owners would be glad of the services of the Navy to save expense;" and that, "I may remind your excellency that not long ago it was discovered that thieves had lodged in and pillaged the residence of some New York millionaire during his absence in the summer; but this would not have justified a British Admiral landing an armed party and assisting the New York police"—is difficult to take seriously. Probably there would have been no occasion for serious treatment of it, and it might be simply put aside as the outbreak of an ill-natured and nervously exhausted provincial officer, but for the fact that even the responsible part of the London press, while denouncing the ill-breeding of the Governor of Jamaica, and regretting the occurrence of the episode, nevertheless takes the ground that there was something to say for Governor Swettenham's action in declining further assistance from our warships. The English point of view appears to be that the American bluejackets were landed for the ostensible purpose of guarding the American Consulate, which they were entitled by international law and practice to do. Once landed, it seems that the need for help by the people of devastated Kingston appealed to the plain human instincts of our sailors and officers, who thereupon devoted themselves to assisting where they could in the work of salvage and protection. It is a matter of record that the Governor of Jamaica had agreed to the use of our sailors as a guard to the Consulate; some dispute appears to exist as to whether the further actions in relief of the Jamaican people had been undertaken with the consent of the Governor or not.

Apparently, at all events, their scope of activity, greater than the Governor had contemplated, raised n his mind a feeling, first of irritation that no British warship had been near enough to be the first to give relief, and, second, of doubt as to the propriety of permitting a precedent of this sort to a foreign navy, unless under circumstances of absolute and hopeless emergency. So far as concerns this international view of the case, it is only fair to concede what force there may be in the objection, undoubtedly widely entertained in London, against the employment of armed foreign naval forces on the shore of a British colony. Under all ordinary circumstances, such a practice is contrary to the accepted rule of international diplomacy. This fact undoubtedly was recognized by Admiral Davis, whose attitude, however, was expressed in his letter to Governor Swettenham, stating that "as the only object of my being here is to render such assistance as I can, I trust you will justify me in this matter for the cause of common humanity." The difference between the positions thus taken by the Admiral and that undoubtedly held by many Englishmen arises from the divergent view of a precedent which, under slightly altered circumstances, would certainly not be tolerated. As we have said, there seems to us to be some force in this contention. If we may imagine that Governor Swettenham, instead of the clumsy and boorish letter which he actually wrote, had notified Admiral Davis in a friendly and dignified manner that his duties and instructions did not permit him to allow the presence of armed American sailors on shore, except as an inactive guard to the Consulate, and if he had followed this up by a simple statement of his own ability to cope with the situation, we do not see how any serious exception could have been taken to his attitude.

What undoubtedly intensified the Governor's bad temper, however, and what bears very curiously on the whole discussion, is the fact to which attention has instantly been called in England, that it was the business of the British Navy to have had at least some warships sufficiently near at hand to go to Jamaica on the first news of the Kingston disaster, and reach it in time to be of use. The London press has pointed out with no little force that, whereas the British Navy was at this time caught napping, so far as the West Indian colonies were concerned, by an accident of nature, it might be caught the next time by an insular insurrection or by invasion from some other State. While this supposed "other State" could hardly be any but our own, and while such a contingency is admittedly improbable, nevertheless the point of the London critics is not, on general principles, ill taken. What interests us chiefly in it is its clear recognition of the function of the modern navy as a police power for the ocean. This is by no means a novel conception of a navy's duties, but it has gone very considerably out of fashion during the last few years, under the growing idea that a navy must be primarily an enormous consolidated fighting armament. During the many years in which Great Britain's Navy was being built up to its recent supremacy over any other modern fleet, the argument was offered, and generally conceded, that in its isolated position, with its widely extended colonial possessions, and with its reliance on outside producing States for the food of its inhabitants, it was imperatively necessary for the country to provide a navy which should patrol the seas, keep open lines of communication, and be at hand in the case of need in the colonies.

Obviously, these purposes called first for numerous warships of a normal model, suited to swift sailing, and with good carrying capacity. Since the Japanese naval victories these ideas of a navy's functions have largely given place to the wish for ships of enormous size. As a consequence England, at the very moment when complaint is growing of "cheese-paring economy" in the navy, is planning the largest battleships ever built, while our own Government, not content with old-fashioned types and models, is following the same path. Thus the tendency grows among all the nations to put their surplus revenues, or more often the proceeds of their public loans, into a few of these extravagantly expensive vessels, when the same expenditure might greatly increase the numbers and efficiency of the navy as a maritime police.

The Kingston episode brings out the truth of the situation so strongly that we trust it will not in this direction be without its influence. The "fighting armament" idea has become a good deal of an obsession in the minds of present-day statesmen. The assumption that war is the normal state of nations, and that no nation can regard itself as safe without a full equipment of the very latest and most costly fad in naval architecture, is leading more than one Government well along the pathway of fiscal embarrassment. Yet in the face of this assertion of the hopeless outlook for a State not thus equipped, we have before our eyes the spectacle of Russia, with the bulk of her modern ships either in Japanese hands or at the bottom of the ocean, and with no hope of making good the loss within the next few years, nevertheless facing its fellow-States with perfect equanimity, and actually, as at Algeciras last spring, uttering the controlling voice in an international conference.

LIABILITY OF TRUST COMPANY FOR CERTIFICATE ON CORPORATE BONDS.

Our Court of Appeals at Albany last month handed down a decision of considerable interest to trust companies and others who make it a practice to act as trustees for mortgage bond issues and place their certificates on the bonds for the purposes of identifying the same and to guard against spurious issues. In the case at bar the bonds had proved worthless because of the foreclosure of a prior lien, and the holder attempted to recover from the trustee on the strength of its certificate on the bonds, reading: "This bond is one of a series of bonds mentioned and described in the mortgage within referred to." The bonds so certified were each endorsed by the company issuing them as a "first mortgage" bond. The plaintiff contended that the trust company's certificate was broad enough to be a guaranty that they were first mortgage bonds. The Appellate Division decided against him, declaring that the complaint did not state a cause of action against the trust company, and the Court of Appeals now also rules against him and affirms the judgment.

It is to be noted that the certificate on the bond in this instance was in the phraseology and language which it is now customary to employ and which is advocated as freeing the trustee from responsibility or liability for any statement beyond the fact that the bond is one of the series to which it belongs. In a paper read before the Trust Company Section of the American Bankers' Association at its meeting in 1900, Andrew Squire, counsel for the Guardian Trust Co. of Cleveland, pointed out that another form of phraseology had involved some trust companies in litigation. The old form of certification read somewhat like this: "It is hereby certified that this bond is one of the series of bonds secured by the mortgage or deed of trust within mentioned." It was the use of the word "secured" that caused trouble, it being claimed that it implied that there was actually some security for the bondholders. On the present occasion, as already stated, the word "secured" did not appear and the certification was in the language quoted above, which in effect simply describes and identifies the bonds.

Moreover, the mortgage itself was apparently drawn in such a way as to absolve the trustee from all liability except its own gross negligence, and seems to have contained practically all the safeguards and precautionary clauses and phrases which Mr. Squire in the paper referred to suggested it would be well to include in mortgages, for the protection of the trustee. According to the description of it contained in the opinion of Justice Hirschberg, delivered when the case was before the Appellate Division (Second Department), it provided for the issue of a series of first mortgage bonds, to be certified by the trustee and returned to the mortgagor's officers, whose receipt for the bonds was to be "full acquittance and authority to the trustee for such certification and delivery." The mortgage further provided that the trustee should not incur any liability for permitting the mortgagor to retain possession of the property mortgaged, nor should it be responsible for any breach of covenant by the mortgagor, "nor for any cause, matter or thing except the trustee's own gross negligence or wilful default in the trust expressed," &c. The bonds contained a statement that they were secured by the mortgage conveying the property and franchises of the corporation, to which reference was made for a description of the property and franchises mortgaged. The Appellate Division, speaking by Justice Hirschberg, held that the trustee did not guarantee the truthfulness of the description of the obligation by the corporation, and was therefore not liable to a bondholder for loss occurring by reason of the fact that the mortgage securing the bonds was not a first mortgage on all the corporation's property and franchises.

The case was that of James Tschetinian against the City Trust Co. of New York, now merged in another company, and the bonds which were the cause of the litigation were those of the United States Carbonate Co., which on May 1 1900 executed a mortgage on its property for $100,000. The plaintiff purchased twenty of these bonds, which were in denomination of $500 each. It appears that at the time of the execution of the mortgage there existed a prior mortgage for $15,000 on the property covered by it. The plaintiff asked judgment against the trust company for the amount of the purchase price of his bonds upon the theory that the certificate signed by it was a representation and guaranty that the bonds were in fact secured by a mortgage which was a first lien upon the mortgaged property. Justice Hirschberg, in sustaining the demurrer to the complaint, pointed out that the certificate certainly did not purport upon its face to create such a guaranty or to make such a representation. It was confined in apt language to the assertion that the bonds which the plaintiff purchased constituted a part of the issue mentioned and described in the mortgage, and there was no claim or pretense that such statement was not strictly true, both in substance and in spirit. Nor was there anything in the trust company's connection with the transaction at all calculated to deceive. Prospective purchasers of the bonds were fairly referred to the mortgage by the documents themselves for a disclosure of the nature and extent of the security, and the mortgage contained an explicit statement of the measure and the limit of the liability assumed by the trust company. The description of the bonds as first mortgage bonds by the words endorsed on them did not purport to be, and was not alleged to be, the act of the trust company, and no case had been cited, at least in this State, Justice Hirschberg urged, which holds that the guarded and limited terms of the certificate may be lawfully held to embrace a representation or guaranty of the truthfulness of the description of the obligation as made by the obligor. Continuing, Justice Hirschberg went on to say:

"Had the defendant been charged with knowledge of any material misstatement or misdescription calculated to deceive purchasers, a different question might have been presented, and the fact that the act complained of was that of another might not avail as a defense. But in view of the length of time during which it has been the custom of trustees of bond issues to act in that capacity for a comparatively trifling consideration, limiting their liability to their own acts of negligence and misconduct, without, so far as appears, a single adjudication extending the liability to even the implied guaranty of the securities whose mere identity they have authenticated, it would be unfair in the circumstances detailed in the complaint, to impose so serious a burden upon the office assumed by the defendant in the financial transaction in question. As in practice it would be almost impossible to prevent the bonds from containing some descriptive reference to the nature of the security purported to be created, the rule suggested would in effect make the liability of a trustee, who assumed only the discharge of duties of fiduciary administration, co-extensive with that of the principal debtor, who creates the obligation and receives the entire pecuniary consideration."

The Court of Appeals now takes substantially the same view of the liability of the trust company. The opinion in that court is by Judge Hiscock. He points out that there is no allegation in the complaint that the defendant was in any manner a party to or responsible for having the endorsement upon the bonds that they were first mortgage bonds or that it in any manner was guilty of fraud or misrepresentation in connection with said statement, or that it suppressed any knowledge, or in fact knew, that said bonds were not first morgtage bonds. On the other hand, it is to be noted, as bearing upon this point, that the resolutions passed by the mortgagor authorizing the execution of the mortgage and bonds expressly provided that the proceeds thereof should be applied to the payment and satisfaction of any existing indebtedness of the company. Judge Hiscock says if this resolution had been complied with the prior mortgage would have been retired when the bonds were issued and the latter would have been in reality first mortgage liens.

Under the circumstances, the question presented for the consideration of the Court narrowed down to the point whether the trust company, solely on account of the certificate which it had placed upon the bonds, should be held to have guaranteed the nature and extent of the security therefor, because the Carbonate Co. had placed upon them a statement purporting to be descriptive of the latter. Judge Hiscock thinks it would be unreasonable to impose any such liability upon the trust company. The language employed, when interpreted in its natural and ordinary meaning, simply amounts to a statement identifying the bonds whereon it is written as one of those mentioned in the mortgage, and the effect of this is an assurance to the purchaser that his bonds are among those entitled to the benefits and protection afforded by such mortgage. But the statement does not, upon any reasonable construction, in the absence of any allegation of fraud or deceit, active or passive, make the trustee a guarantor of the quality and extent of the security given by the mortgage, or responsible for the accuracy of statements endorsed upon the bond by the mortgagor purporting to describe the nature of such security.

The Court of Appeals did not think it necessary to consider the various clauses found in the mortgage and referred to by the trust company as exempting it from liability as a trustee. Judge Hiscock said that some of those clauses manifestly refer to duties entirely different from those which would arise in connection with the certificate on the bonds and the Court did not intend to determine how far such clauses might serve to relieve a trustee like the trust company from liability otherwise incurred. It remains to add that all the judges sitting in the case concur in this opinion, namely, Edward T. Bartlett, Werner, Chase and Chief-Judge Cullen. Judge Willard Bartlett was not sitting and Judge Gray was absent.

THE GROWING MAGNITUDE OF THE COUNTRY'S FOREIGN TRADE.

The foreign trade statistics for the calendar year just published by the Government are interesting because the figures serve to give emphasis to the fact that our external trade was, in one particular at least, an exact duplicate of our domestic trade—that is, was of unexampled proportions. In another particular also there was close correspondence between the two, namely in that the growth was general and extended all along the line. By this we do not mean that there were not some articles in which there were decreases rather than increases, but that the general trend was upward and the expansion was participated in by all the leading branches and departments of trade and business, though in isolated instances there might be a falling off, for special reasons, of larger or smaller consequence. Both the merchandise imports and the merchandise exports considerably exceed the largest previous figures. As the same statement was true of the totals for 1905, we have another point of resemblance to the internal trade in the fact that growth has been cumulative and continuous.

As the best way to indicate the expansion which has occurred in our trade with the outside world, we will take the figures of imports and exports combined before dealing with either one separately. For 1906 this total trade for the first time reached 3,000 million dollars, the aggregate being $3,119,172,649. In 1905 the aggregate trade was $2,806,135,345 and in 1904 $2,487,227,930. In two years, therefore, the values of imports and exports combined have risen over 25%. If we extend the comparison further back, the progress becomes still more striking. It was not until 1899 that the total trade for the first time reached 2,000 million dollars, being for that year $2,074,435,381. The 1,000-million mark was reached as early as 1871, when the combined trade had a value of $1,033,463,-187. In other words, it took from 1871 to 1899 (28 years) to add the first 1,000 million dollars and only the seven years from 1899 to 1906, to add the second 1,000 millions. This shows at what tremendous strides the country has been progressing in recent years.

Of course there has been a double influence at work in swelling values in such a tremendous way: not only have quantities of imports and exports risen decidedly, but in addition prices have advanced—speaking of articles of merchandise generally and not of any particular kind or class. Doubtless prosperity in the United States alone would not have sufficed to bring such a general enhancement of prices. As a matter of fact, however, prosperity has been world-wide—in its sweep taking in those two other leading nations, Germany and England.

That our own imports and exports should have further increased in 1906 cannot be deemed at all strange in view of the favorable conditions ruling here. The merchandise exports continued to expand because of successive large crop yields and the imports were swelled by the activity and prosperity of all industrial interests. With labor more fully employed at better wages than ever before and with everybody making money, consumption of necessaries and of luxuries alike was necessarily promoted. And the fact that the country's productive capacity in all lines was expanding, obviously increased the call for the materials needed in such production and which had to be drawn in larger or smaller extent from abroad. The further fact that home production in many cases fell far short of home consumption, notwithstanding the increase in said production, made necessary an additional draft upon the foreign markets on that account too.

The value of the merchandise imports for the twelve months of 1906 was $1,321,064,694. This compares with $1,179,144,550 the previous year and with $1,035,909,190 in 1904, when for the first time the merchandise imports had a value of 1,000 million dollars. It is necessary to go back only to 1898 to find a total less than half that for 1906. In the year referred to the amount of the imports was $634,964,448. In the eight years since then, therefore, we have more than doubled the imports. The further addition of 142 million dollars in 1906 is the more noteworthy as it was made in face of a considerable falling off, for special reasons, in certain large items of imports. The details regarding the separate items of imports are not yet available for the full twelve months, but from the figures for the eleven months to Nov. 30 it is evident that there must have been a large falling off in such items as sugar and coffee.

The coffee imports show a decrease both by reason of a diminution in quantity and a decrease in price. Brazil hopes to advance the price of coffee through its valorization scheme but thus far the effort has not borne the fruit expected—the price is lower rather than higher than it was six months ago—and consumers and dealers in this country apparently evince no disposition to lay in extra supplies in fear of a prospective advance. At all events, for the eleven months to Nov. 30 the imports of coffee into the United States from all countries were only 727,251,829 lbs., against 805,369,171 lbs. in the corresponding period of 1905 and 987,277,012 lbs. in the same period of 1904. Values were $62,183,007 for 1906 against $67,902,129 for 1905 and $77,341,993 for 1904. In sugar the decline in import values is large and has followed in great part as the result of the decrease in price. The importations in quantity (eleven months) were 3,623,221,944 lbs. in 1906, against 3,566,058,529 lbs. in 1905 and 3,963,836,168 lbs. in 1904; the values were only $73,834,027 against $99,306,338 in 1905 and $81,053,330 in 1904, the average price per pound having been 2.04 cents for 1906, 2.78 cents for 1905 and 2.05 cents for 1904. The falling off from the previous year, it will be seen, was over 25 million dollars. There was also a falling off in the imports of raw wool, apparently because the total had been rather larger than usual in 1905. But aside from the items here mentioned, the importations pretty generally increased and in many instances increased heavily, the growth being most marked in the articles most needed in manufacturing and in industrial pursuits as a whole—chemicals and hides, for example. The imports of cotton manufactures, too, were on an extensive scale in face of a considerable decrease in our exports of cotton manufactures. At the end of this article we give a series of tables, one of which shows the items of imports and exports where marked changes appear, and from this the import movement can be studied with greater detail.

As to the export movement, the agricultural exports still form a preponderating proportion of the whole. This is tantamount to saying that our merchandise outflow is still dependent to a large extent upon the out-turn of the crops—modified, of course, by the varying demand for the same by the outside world and the crop yields in other leading producing countries. The crop situation in the United States during 1906 was, on the whole, favorable to a fair export movement. The grain yield was large in 1905 and was again abundant in 1906 and there was no such wild speculation in prices as had prevailed in some previous years. It is to be said, however, that, notwithstanding the large grain crops, the grain deliveries were small, and this feature was emphasized as the year progressed. Whether the reason why grain came forward relatively in such a slow way was that given in some quarters, namely that the railroads, because of freight congestion, did not supply cars fast enough to carry the grain to market, or whether farmers as a matter of policy held back supplies, the fact of a small grain movement remains. In the grain export trade the year was one of moderate proportions—better than the two years immediately preceding, which were poor periods in that respect, but falling far behind the years when the grain export movement was of exceptional extent. Thus the wheat and flour shipments for the twelve months aggregated 127,300,190 bushels as against only 71,788,579 bushels in 1905 and but 64,957,158 bushels in 1904, but as against 161,367,104 bushels in 1903 and 212,445,731 bushels in 1902. The values of the wheat and flour exports for the different years bear about the same relation to one another, having been $107,549,749 for 1906, against $67,101,166 for 1905 and $61,231,117 for 1904, but as against $134,517,491 for 1903 and $165,346,005 for 1902. The corn exports were 102,000,000 bushels, which is somewhat less than in 1905, but there have been occasions when the corn exports for the twelve months reached 200 million bushels. Low prices have tended further to increase the disparity in values. The breadstuffs exports, as a whole, were valued at $189,180,400 for 1906, against $154,300,630 for 1905 and only $98,307,218 for 1904, but as against $200,012,362 for 1903 and $276,404,299 for 1901. Thus, in the case of these breadstuffs exports, the year 1906 was only of fair extent.

In the matter of cotton, on the other hand, the state of things was reversed. Here there was another large increase on top of noteworthy increases in the years preceding. The better price received for the staple was the cause of the further expansion; in quantity the shipments fell below the exceptional total of the year preceding, reaching only 7,448,712 bales, against 8,009,374 bales in 1905. The average price, though, was 10¾ cents per pound in 1906, against only 9½ cents in 1905. The 1906 yield of cotton was very good but this did not cut any great figure in the export movement until the last three months. The previous season's yield had been small and that circumstance controlled the export movement for the first nine months. On account of the higher price the reduced amount of cotton exported had a value of $413,105,720 in 1906 as against $392,600,644 in 1905.

As to the other leading staples, the exports of provisions also were higher in value for 1906 than for 1905, but whether a continuance of this condition in the case of that branch of the export trade can be depended upon would seem to be a matter of doubt. The allegations against the beef-packing concerns and the bitter attacks made upon them in Congress during the period of the discussion preceding the passage of the Meat Inspection Bill have left a deep impression in foreign countries, and in the closing months of the year many items of the meat exports were showing large decreases as compared with the corresponding dates of the year preceding. The cattle and live-stock shipments actually record a decline for the twelve months as a whole. With reference to the petroleum exports, these also have risen to still higher figures. The further expansion followed both as the result of another gain in the volume of the shipments and of better prices. In value the petroleum exports for the twelve months were $85,300,400 in 1906, against $79,640,929 in 1905, and in volume the shipments were 1,181 million gallons, against 1,165 million gallons.

From what has been said it will be seen that the situation was that there was an increase in the export values in the case of each one of the four leading staples. But that is not all. There was at the same time an increase in the exports in general. One exception to this statement must be made. The shipments of cotton manufactures fell off, owing in the main to the decreased demand for American goods in China and the East. Even the iron and steel exports increased heavily, notwithstanding the extraordinary consumption of iron and steel at home and the fact that domestic manufacturers were unable to keep up with the demand. The iron and steel exports in 1906 were about $29,000,000 higher than in 1905 and $39,000,000 higher than in 1904. To indicate the changes from year to year in the export aggregates of the leading staples and the relation of these changes to the merchandise exports as a whole, we introduce here the following table, covering the figures for the last six years.

EXPORTS OF LEADING PRODUCTS FOR SIX CALENDAR YEARS.

It will be seen from the foregoing that the greatest gain has been in the general exports. Comparing 1906 with 1901, the value of the shipments of the five staples given has increased from $896,395,970 to $935,-756,990, but the "all other exports" in the same interval have risen from $568,979,890 to $862,350,965.

Notwithstanding the increase in the imports, the trade balance in favor of the United States for 1906 was in excess of that for either 1905 or 1904, the comparison being $477,043,261, against $447,846,245 and $415,409,550. A much larger proportion, however, than usual was liquidated by shipments of gold to the United States. The net import of gold for the twelve months reached no less than $108,990,369, against net imports of the metal in 1905 of only $3,498,938 and a net gold outflow in 1904 of $36,408,593. Combining the merchandise exports with the gold movement and also adding on the silver movement, we get the following comparative results with reference to the trade balance as a whole.

a Excess of exports.

On the face of the returns there still remained an excess of exports for 1906 of $382,000,000 after the large gold imports. How much of this would be left unliquidated after allowing for freights, for interest on American securities held abroad, for undervaluation of imports, for overstatement of the values of exports and the various other items that have to be taken into account in any such general reckoning we will not undertake to say.

As a matter of record and for the convenience of the reader, we append several additional tables which have been drawn upon very largely in the statistical references and illustrations contained in the remarks above.

COTTON SUPPLY AND CONSUMPTION IN EUROPE.

Mr. Ellison's "Annual Review of the Cotton Trade for the Year 1906" was issued in Liverpool on Wednesday of the current week, and the cable brings us all the results of interest given therein. We have received, as usual, not only the statistics of supply and consumption for the calendar year 1906 and the first three months of the new-crop season, but also such estimates as Mr. Ellison furnishes for the full season ending October 1 1907. The actual figures of spinners' takings, consumption and stock in GreatBritain and on the Continent for 1906, in bales of 500 lbs., have been as follows:

SPINNERS' TAKINGS, CONSUMPTION AND STOCKS IN 1906.

In 500-lb. Bales.	Gt. Brit'n.	Continent	Total.
Stocks January 1 1906	330,000	585,000	915,000
Takings	3,890,000	5,384,000	9,274,000
Supply	4,220,000	5,969,000	10189000
Consumption	3,779,000	5,304,000	9,083,000
Weekly consumption	72,673	102,000	174,673

It will be observed that the average weekly consumption of the mills in Great Britain is greater than in any preceding year, having been 72,673 bales of 500 lbs. each in 1906, or a gain of 1,558 bales per week over 1905 and an increase of 12,044 bales per week over 1904. Continental consumption, however, shows an augmentation over the 1905 rate of 2,500 bales, being at the rate of 102,000 bales per week. For the whole of Europe the 1906 average weekly rate, and consequently the total consumption, exhibits a satisfactory excess over 1905 and a decided gain over earlier years. Surplus stocks at all European mills at the end of the year are placed at 1,106,000 bales, or 191,000 bales more than they stood at the opening.

In the above compilation the results for 1906 only are presented; to bring out clearly the relation the 1906 figures bear to those for previous years, we have prepared the following, which covers the period from 1897 to 1906, both years included:

Official returns from the mills of Great Britain made public since the close of 1906 confirm the periodical reports of the profitable nature of the year's operations. At the same time, the aggregate profit of all the establishments making returns has not been as great as in the preceding year. It is satisfactory to state, however, that all mills shared in the profits recorded. Our cable states that 104 companies in the Oldham district exhibit an aggregate profit of £692,343 in 1906, or an average of £6,657 per mill, against a profit of £7,780 per mill in 1905, only £275 in 1904 and a loss of £658 per mill in 1903. The showing made by the Oldham mills since 1891 has been as follws:

A feature of the year in Great Britain has been the decided increase in spinning capacity. For a number of years up to and including 1904 the yearly additions to the number of spindles were strictly moderate or unimportant, but in 1905 a gain of 1,000,000 spindles was reported by Mr. Ellison. In the year just closed, however, the augmentation of spindles has been on a comparatively radical scale. New establishments using Egyptian cotton exclusively, with approximately 2,000,000 spindles, have started in full or in part, and in new mills using American cotton about 1,500,000 spindles have got fully or partly to work. But even these important additions are not a full measure of the increase, as mills are now being erected with a further capacity of over 3,000,000 spindles, of which two-thirds are to be used on American cotton.

We have also received separately by cable the figures of takings, consumption, &c., for the last three months of the calendar year 1906. Those three months are the first quarter of the current season, beginning with October 1 1906. For those three months the spinners' takings in actual bales and pounds have been as follows:

Oct. 1 to Jan. 1.	Great Britain.	Continent.	Total.
For 1906.

Takings in pounds----------	517,962,000	638,304,000	1,156,266,000

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Great Britain is 505 pounds per bale this season, against 499 pounds during the same time last season. The Continental deliveries average 490 pounds, against 488 pounds last year, and for the whole of Europe the deliveries average 496.5 pounds per bale, against 492.9 pounds last season. Our dispatch also gives the full movement for the three months this year and last year in bales of 500 pounds.

The comparison with last year is made more striking by bringing together the above totals and adding the average weekly consumption up to to this time for the two years.

The foregoing shows that the weekly consumption is now 180,000 bales of 500 pounds each, against 175,000 bales of like weights at the corresponding time last year. The total spinners' stocks in Great Britain and on the Continent have increased 284,000 bales during the month and are now 191,000 bales more than at the same date last season.

According to our cable, Mr. Ellison revises the figures given last October of estimated requirements for the season of 1906-07, increasing his previous total to the extent of 306,000 bales of 500 lbs. each. The revised estimate is as follows:

RAILROAD GROSS AND NET EARNINGS FOR NOVEMBER.

The course and character of the returns of railroad earnings at the present time are well indicated in the compilations we present to-day for the month of November. With $9,573,502 increase in gross earnings, the gain in net earnings amounts to only $1,559,127. Two features in this exhibit attract attention: (1) the gradual shrinkage in the amount and ratio of the improvement in gross and (2) the growing magnitude of the augmentation in expenses, which is serving almost to extinguish the improvement in the net. In the case of many separate roads gains in gross have actually been attended by losses in net, and the same is true with respect to certain groups of roads.

The situation appears to be that comparison is now with very large totals of earnings, and the railroads are no longer able to maintain the exceptionally heavy ratios of gain previously shown, while at the same time cost of labor and materials and supplies and all things that enter into the operating accounts of the railroads are steadily increasing. Worst of all, the railroads are so handicapped with a volume of business in excess of their ability to handle that they no longer find it possible to transport freight with due economy. In the case of the Great Northern and some other roads in the same section of the country (which, however, are not included in our presentation of net earnings, since the roads referred to do not furnish monthly reports of their net), the whole freight schedules were entirely deranged and congestion of freight increased by the hurrying through of coal trains on passenger-train schedule to relieve the fuel scarcity which developed in the Northwest. There was a large falling off during November in the Western grain movement, but this has itself been attributed to the failure of the roads to furnish cars for the purpose in sufficient number—with what truth cannot be said with great certainty. On the other hand, Southern roads were favored with a large increase in the cotton movement. The same roads had a still further advantage in the fact that a number of them were comparing with diminished earnings the previous year, the yellow fever quarantines at that time having served to curtail the traffic and revenues of such lines. Yet it is precisely these Southern roads that make the poorest showing as to net. The Southern group collectively has $1,367,765 gain in gross, with $696,704 loss in net.

We need hardly say that United States railroads as a whole in November of the previous year showed very important gains in both gross and net, notwithstanding the embargo on traffic occasioned by the yellow fever quarantines. Our statement for November 1905 indicated $12,412,497 gain in gross, or 10.28%, and $5,187,518, or 12.28%, gain in the net. Moreover, these gains themselves followed large gains in the same month of preceding years, though the course of the net was not always the same as that of the gross, as will be seen from the following comparative exhibit.

Note.—In 1896 the number of roads included for the month of November was 127; in 1897, 134; in 1898, 130; in 1899, 122; in 1900, 122; in 1901, 109; in 1902, 107; in 1903, 106; in 1904, 102; in 1905, 96; in 1906, 97. From Jan. 1 to Nov. 30 1896 the number included was 117; in 1897, 123; in 1898, 100; in 1899, 113; in 1900, 122; in 1901, 99; in 1902, 104; in 1903, 98; in 1904, 98; in 1905, 91; in 1906, 92. We no longer include the Mexican roads or the coal-mining operations of the anthracite coal roads in our totals.

In the case of the separate roads, the characteristics already noted stand strongly revealed. The reader will understand that by this we mean that where there is large improvement in the gross it is often attended with a very small improvement in the net, and not infrequently with actual decreases in the net. As types, the Pennsylvania Railroad on its Eastern and Western lines combined shows $1,137,200 increase in gross with $2,700 decrease in net, the Illinois Central with $42,275 increase in gross has $271,555 decrease in net, the Canadian Pacific with $493,040 gain in gross has $98,188 loss in net, the Southern Ry. with $126,605 increase in gross falls $251,780 behind in net, and similarly the Atlantic Coast Line, though having added $143,605 to its gross, has sustained a reduction of $169,665 in the net. Exception must always be made of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, which have strikingly good exhibits as to gross and net alike. In the following we have brought together all changes for the separate roads in excess of $30,000, whether increases or decreases.

x These figures are for the Railroad Co.; the Coal & Iron Company reports a decrease of $125,495.

When arranged in groups, three of the groups show losses in the net, though no group has fallen behind in the gross. The Southern group, as already pointed out, has suffered most seriously. Out of the 26 roads embraced in that group only three have decreases in the gross, while no less than 18 report decreases in net. The Southwestern and South Pacific group is the one group that shows large improvement in gross and net alike. This group includes the Southern Pacific, which leads all other roads in amount of gain in gross and net, but aside from that fact Southwestern roads have very satisfactory returns as a rule.

Besides the roads which furnish monthly returns of both gross and net earnings, there is a considerable number of companies that make public only the gross earnings, the list including several prominent systems. Starting with the total of the gross in the foregoing, we add on these other roads in the table which we now present.

BUSINESS IN ENGLAND IN 1906.

(Communicated by our London Correspondent.)

January 12 1907.

The improvement in trade which began a couple of years ago made marked progress during 1906. But the improvement was almost confined to the foreign and colonial trade. The home trade is still rather depressed. The crisis of 1890, accompanied as it was by a revolution in Argentina and by a general breakdown in all the South American countries, as well as by severe depression in Spain, Portugal and Greece, followed soon after by the silver crisis in the United States and by the banking collapse in Australia, caused investors in this country to withdraw from investment in foreign countries. For a very considerable time they confined themselves to home and colonial investment, and it used to be remarked with surprise that while the Baring crisis bore heavily upon the wealthy, the working classes seemed to be better off than ever and wages were exceedingly well maintained. As a matter of fact, there was very marked activity in all kinds of home enterprises. Building was, perhaps, exceptionally active and the towns grew at an extraordinary rate. Gradually, however, home enterprise was carried too far. There was a setback in the building and other trades, and a couple of years ago, in consequence, the investing public once more turned its attention to foreign countries. The result has been a very large investment, not only in our colonies, but in North and South America, Egypt, India and the Far East.

Our exports, in consequence, have grown at an extraordinary rate. For example, the exports of November 1906 show a gain of over 43% compared with the exports of November 1903. It is true, of course, that this very large gain is due to some extent to a marked rise in prices. Practically about half the increase may be ascribed to the rise in prices and half to the expansion in quantity. The largest expansion was in iron and steel and in machinery. The imports have increased during the year satisfactorily, but to nothing like the extent in which the exports have increased. In November, for example, the gain in the imports compared with November of three years before was only about 10%. Apart from the large investments abroad there has been a very marked increase in the purchases of British goods by other countries. Germany, in particular, has imported unprecedentedly large quantities of British iron, steel and coal. The United States, also, in the last three or four months of the year imported very large quantities of iron and steel. Mainly this was due of course to the extraordinary prosperity of German and American trade; but to some extent it was due, in the case of Germany, to great floods, which made it difficult to navigate the canals, and to the inability of the railways to find sufficient rolling stock to carry the goods. In short, it was found cheaper and more expeditious to get iron and coal from England for the northern parts of Germany than to get either from the German mines. There was a marked increase, likewise, in the re-exports. A considerable part of our imports was, in fact, brought here for the purpose of being sold to other countries.

The Board of Trade returns for December show that the value of the imports for the twelve months was £607,987,893, being an increase of £42,967,976 over the preceding year, or 7.9%. The value of the exports of British and Irish produce and manufactures for the year was £375,672,913, the highest on record, being an increase over the preceding year of £45,856,299, or 13.9%. The total value of the re-exports was £85,163,386, being an increase of £7.383.473, or 9.5%. Thus the net imports amounted to £523,000,000, and the excess of imports over exports to £147,000,000.

The traffic returns of the seventeen principal railways of the United Kingdom for the year show that the passenger receipts amounted to £43,163,000, being an increase of £706,000 over the preceding year, or 1.6%. The goods receipts amounted to £52,409,000, being an increase of £1,464,000 over the preceding year, or 2.8%.

The revenue returns for the year 1906 bear eloquent testimony to the prosperity of the country. The Chancellor of the Exchequer had estimated a decrease in the receipts for the year of £1,223,000 because of the remission of taxes. As a matter of fact, for the nine months of the financial year which have thus far elapsed, the receipts amount to £90,834,838, being an increase over the corresponding period of last year of £1,497,763. This shows an increase over the estimates of nearly two and three-quarter millions sterling, even assuming that there is no further growth in the last quarter of the year. In this last quarter (which is only just beginning) the receipts always exceed those of any other quarter of the year, because the great bulk of the income tax is paid in those three months. Consequently it is reasonable to anticipate that the increase will be decidedly larger. Probably the total growth of revenue will exceed the estimates by more than three millions sterling. It is known that large economies have been effected. The returns issued on the last day of December and covering the preceding nine months show a very considerable decrease. But it is possible that much of the decrease represents a mere postponement of payments. Until the 31st of March it will not be possible to determine what the total savings are, but it looks as if the savings would be at least two millions sterling. It seems to follow, therefore, that the Chancellor of the Exchequer will have a large surplus to dispose of. In any case, the figures as they stand are an evidence of the activity of trade.

The London Clearing House returns show that the grand total of clearings during the year amounted to £12,711,334,000, being an augmentation over 1905 of £423,399,000. The Honorary Secretary to the Clearing House states that for six successive years the annual totals of the paid clearings have exceeded all previous totals, a sequence only equaled in length by the years 1868 to 1873, in the last year of which the total was less than half of the total for 1905. The increase for the past twelve months is considerably less than the increase of 1905 over 1904. But there is a rise under every heading except on the Stock Exchange account days. In other words, owing to the political apprehensions and dear money, the Stock Exchange has been far less active than in 1905. The Hon. Secretary points out that during the first half of 1906 the gain in the clearings was greater than in the latter half, and that the slight falling off in the latter half has been contemporaneous with the rise in the value of money. Evidently, therefore, there has been some check to trade as well as to Stock Exchange business by the scarcity and dearness of money.

Agriculturally the year was checkered. In the south, southwest and east of England the latter half of March, the whole of April and May and the first half of June were exceedingly dry and cold. The weather was propitious enough for the sowing of spring crops, but it was exceedingly unfavorable to vegetation. Everything, therefore, in the middle of June was decidedly backward. The hay crop was particularly so. The latter half of June, July, August and the first half of September were exceptionally hot and dry. The drought that ensued made the hay crop a very short one, and seriously injured the root crops, feeding grass and green crops in general. The root crops were so bad, indeed, that cattle farmers grew alarmed lest they should not have feed enough for the winter. They consequently sold their cattle at what prices they would fetch, which caused a serious fall in prices. Towards the end of September, however, rain began to fall. October was bright and warm by day and at night wet. Vegetation made great progress, and as November likewise was wet, there was a complete change in the aspect of the later crops. In contrast with the weather over the greater part of England, in the north and northwest of England and all over Scotland and Ireland, the summer was both cold and wet. Grass, green crops, root crops, and so on, were all abundant, especially the potato crop was excellent except in the western parts of Ireland, where it was affected by disease. Thus towards the end of the year cattle farming changed completely, there being then every evidence that there would be abundance of feed. Nevertheless, prices have not recovered. Regarding the cereal crops, the decrease in the acreage, generally speaking, continues. Wheat shows a decrease of 41,279 acres, the total acreage now but slightly exceeding a million and three-quarter acres. The acreage under barley, on the other hand, increased to just a little over a million and three-quarters acres, so that the acreage under the latter crop is now practically equal to that under wheat. There is little change in the acreage under oats, which again considerably exceeds three million acres.

In the minor crops—rye, peas and beans—there is a very great increase in the cultivation of beans, and an almost corresponding decrease in the cultivation of peas. The total yield of wheat during the year was 59,091,772 bushels, being an average of 33.66 per acre. The yield of barley was 60,553,977 bushels, or 34.58 per acre. The yield of oats was 123,383,857 bushels, or 10.55 per acre. Since the new wheat crop began to be marketed there has been an average fall of 4s. per quarter. The price in consequence is now 2s. per quarter lower than this time last year. Home-grown wheat is, of course, so small a proportion of the total consumption of the country that the price of the home article is entirely regulated by the price of foreign.

In the coal trade the year just closing has been one of the most active and prosperous for a very long time past. In recent periods the only year comparable to it is that of 1900. But the activity and rise in prices in 1900 was due in large measure to a war demand for shipping, whereas the demand of the year just closed was entirely due to the extreme prosperity of trade all over the world, and more particularly to the extreme prosperity of the United States and Germany. The manufacturing industries of this country, as already observed, had become very active in 1905, and continued to increase in activity during the whole of the past year. Yet it was not until the second half that the coal trade seemed to feel the influence. In the second half there was a decided rise in prices, and to a very large extent this was due to the demands of the United States and of Germany. The demand for house coal has been small, for the winter of 1905-06 was exceptionally mild; and, until Christmas, this winter was also warm and genial. The demand for all other kinds of coal, however, in the second half of the year became very marked, and prices in consequence rose considerably. The best anthracite was quoted 19s. 4½d. on the last day of 1905; on the 1st day of 1907 the quotation was £1 1s. Steam coal at Cardiff was quoted on the last day of 1905 12s. 6d.; on the first day of 1907 it was quoted 17s. Steam coal at Newcastle in the interval has risen from 9s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.; steam coal at Glasgow from 8s. 9. to 10s. 3d.; best gas coal at Durham from 9s. 6d. to 11s. 6d.; and best foundry coke at Newcastle from 16s. 9d. to £1 4s. Colliery shares have improved in consequence of the improved outlook of the coal trade. There was no very great activity in these shares, however, until the second half of the year; and even in the second half the rise was only moderate. The total exports of coal, coke and manufactured fuel amounted to 57,792,204 tons against 49,359,272 tons in the previous year, an increase of 8,432,932 tons, or 17.1%. The value was £31,504,291 against £26,061,120, being an increase of £5,443,171, or 20.9%.

The iron and steel trades fared better even than the coal trade. The main feature of the trade was the enormous foreign demand, more particularly the demand for the United States and Germany. But the year was also remarkable for the largest importation of foreign iron ore, for the largest production of pig iron, for the largest shipments of pig iron, for the largest output from the steel works of this country, for the largest exports of manufactured iron and steel, and for the largest tonnage of shipping ever launched in one year. It will thus be seen that in every branch of the trade there has been extraordinary prosperity; so much so that companies which had paid no dividends to their shareholders for years have been able to distribute very handsome amounts. Prices of all kinds have risen, and there is great hope respecting the future. For a considerable time past the production of iron ore in this country had been declining. In the past year it increased. As the official figures are not yet accessible, it is impossible to state how much, but there appears to be no doubt that there has been an increase. Furthermore, the imports of foreign iron ore have gained. It is noteworthy that the imports from Spain have increased, whereas until the past year it was feared that Spanish iron mines were becoming exhausted. The manufacture of pig iron was, therefore, on a very large scale. It is estimated at about ten million tons, and the exports were also exceptionally large. The exports of iron and steel, raw and manufactured, amounted to 4,688,846 tons against 3,721,382 tons in the previous year, an increase of 967,464 tons, or 26.1%. The total value of the exports was £39,880,563 against £31,826,438 in the previous year, being an increase of £8,054,125, or 25.3%.

The cotton trade in all its branches was prosperous throughout the year. It was, perhaps, more prosperous in the second half than in the first, but it was very good all through the year. The demand, both home and foreign, for the manufactured article was exceptionally large, and production, consequently, was on an augmented scale. In the spinning branch the demand was greater than the supply, partly because of the great outturn of the weaving branch, and partly because new spindles were not brought into operation as quickly as had been expected. Twelve months ago it was known that a very considerable number of new spinning mills were under construction and projected. It was expected that a sufficient number of them would be at work during the past year to fully meet the demand for the weaving branch; but that has not proved to be the case. According to one authority on the subject, there are just completed, under construction or projected 195 new mills, with about eight and a half millions of spindles. On the other hand, the number of new looms is very moderate. The same authority estimates them at about 80,000. There is, however, much diversity of view on the subject. In consequence there is a feeling in some quarters that the limit of expansion of the Lancashire weaving branch is nearly reached, while the expansion of the spinning branch seems to have received a new stimulus. The best opinion, however, does not accord with this. It is pointed out that many of the new mills will not be fully equipped for a considerable time and that possibly during the new year the spinning supply will not quite equal the demand, while it is stated by persons in a position to know that we shall see in the early future a considerable expansion of the weaving branch. However that may be, the prospect at present is for full activity for both branches during the new year.

According to a calculation lately made, 70 or 80 spinning companies, with a total capital of about five millions sterling, had declared profits averaging about 18% of the share capital and about 13% on the share and loan capital combined. Very many of the spinners do not make their accounts public; but it is believed that these 70 or 80 companies are fairly representative. The accounts of few of the weavers are published. There is not, therefore, the same certainty with regard to their profits; but it is believed that the profits were at least as large and probably somewhat larger than in the spinning branch. During the year the price of the raw material has been rather high and, compared with other years, fairly steady. Middling American was 6.10d. on January 2; on August 24 it touched the lowest point at 5.59d., and on October 15 the highest at 6.59d. The extreme difference between the highest and the lowest is 1.3d., whereas in 1905 the price ranged from about 3¾d. to 6½d. The relations between employers and employed were satisfactory during the year, practically no trouble having occurred, for advances were made in 1905 which for the time being, at all events, satisfied the employees and were fully justified by the results of the past year so far as the employers were concerned.

The woolen industry has been as prosperous as the cotton. The receipts of raw wool from Australia exceeded those of 1905 by about 270,000 bales. Yet the price of the raw material rose steadily during the spring colonial auctions in London. In the summer the lamentable disaster at San Francisco, a great strike in the woolen district in France, and fears regarding dear money caused a setback which sent prices at the July and September auctions lower than they were at the beginning of the year. The settlement of the Continental strikes and the re-entrance of American buyers caused a marked recovery at the November sales, so that at the end of the year prices were about 5% higher than they had been at the beginning. Moreover, although, as already said, the receipts of wool from Australia exceeded those of the preceding year by as much as 270,000 bales, it is estimated that the supply in the hands of the growers' agents and of merchants is smaller now than it was at the end of 1905, when unquestionably it was very small. In the opinion of the trade, the supply at present is the smallest in recent times. Therefore, the prospect for the new year is very favorable and high hopes are entertained that a further rise in prices will take place. Against this, however, it is pointed out that the new Australian clip is larger even than the clip of 1905. It is estimated that it exceeds it by 170,000 bales. Consequently, in many directions it is thought that very little further rise can be counted on; but that everything points to a very active and a very good business admits of no doubt. The total receipts of colonial wool in London for the six colonial wool auctions amounted to 1,313,814 bales and the total catalogued for the sales was 777,443 bales.

The official figures respecting shipbuilding are not yet published, but there appears to be no doubt that the new tonnage turned out was larger than in any previous year. The total tonnage is estimated by an exceedingly good authority at 2,002,571 tons, having 1,845,983 horse-power. Of this total, 1,193,881 tons was constructed in England 658,830 tons in Scotland and 149,860 tons in Ireland. It is noteworthy that the northeastern district of England is now competing on almost equal terms with the Clyde for the very best kind of shipping. A little while ago the Clyde stood altogether the first shipbuilding district in the world. Now the northeast of England is running it neck and neck. Messrs. Doxford of Sunderland turned out last year 20 vessels of an aggregate tonnage of 86,632 tons; Harland & Wolff of Belfast turned out 9 vessels of 85,287 tons; Swan, Hunter & Wigham, Richardson, 21 vessels of 74,424 tons; Russell & Co., 18 vessels of 71,540 tons, and William Gray & Co. 19 vessels of 63,226 tons. The Clyde turned out a much larger quantity of work than in any previous year, yet has not constructed any large vessel to compare with those built by the preceding builders. The Cunard Company's two turbine steamers were both completed in the year just closed. The Lusitania was launched in June and the Mauritania in September. They are each of about 33,000 tons, with 45,000 tons displacement and 72,000 horse-power. The White Star steamer Adriatic, of about 25,000 tons, was also launched last year, and the warship Dreadnought, of 18,000 tons displacement; the Lord Nelson, of 16,500 tons displacement, and the Agamemnon, of about the same size, were all launched in 1906. The prospects for the new year are far less bright than were those at the beginning of the year just closed. Then the orders were abundant; now they are few and far between, and the outlook is not encouraging unless freights rise considerably or the cost of new ships falls very materially.

The stock markets were kept down all through the year by disturbing politics and dear money. In December 1905 the Unionist Government resigned and a Liberal Government came into office. The following month the General Elections were held and gave an unprecedentedly large majority to the new Government. The city is intensely Conservative, and it therefore looked with much disfavor upon the new Government. Besides, the Ministers had strongly resisted the introduction of Chinese labor into South Africa, and had practically pledged themselves to put an end to it. Therefore it was feared that the new Government would proceed to action which would seriously injure the gold-mining industry and plunge South Africa once more into distress. There is an immense amount of British capital invested in South Africa and the policy of the new Government offended very many who in other matters fully sympathized with it. There was, in consequence, a heavy fall in South African mining shares. The market for these securities continued very depressed until the issue the other day of the new Constitution for the Transvaal, when it was found that the Ministers were not quite so black as they had been painted. Since then there has been come slight recovery. The recovery, however, does not fully represent the change in popular sentiment. There is now an inclination to hope the best from the new Constitution and to expect that South Africa will very soon enter upon a period of great prosperity.

The unfavorable effect of the change of Government was heightened by apprehensions respecting the relations between Germany and France. In the preceding year the two countries had agreed to the Algeciras Conference, and the British Government, though it had at first refused to attend, withdrew its objection at the request of France. The Conference met in January, and for a long time serious anxiety was entertained. It very soon became plain that the great majority of the governments represented at the conference were in favor of France; and, accordingly, it was feared that a decision would be arrived at to which Germany would refuse to agree, and that, in consequence, the conference would break up without doing anything. Happily, an arrangement was arrived at satisfactory to both parties; and since then a more hopeful feeling has prevailed. Still, the feeling was not allowed to translate itself into acts because of the condition of Russia. Early in the year that condition was grave indeed, and most people were prepared for a violent revolution. Gradually, however, the disturbances came to an end, and although the Duma was dissolved, there was no repetition either of the strikes or of the mutinies. Since then, the Army has continued to obey orders and quiet has been maintained. Still, the public looks on with a certain distrust because it is generally recognized that the revolution is only in its early stages and that at any moment something quite unexpected may happen.

Anxiety was also occasioned during the year by the antagonism of the nationalities in Austria-Hungary and the fear that Austria and Hungary themselves might come into collision. At one time, indeed, it looked as if the Magyar Party was prepared to face a quarrel both with the Emperor and with the Austrian Government. Happily, an arrangement between the Magyar Party and the Emperor has been arrived at and there seem now to be good grounds for hoping that a satisfactory arrangement will also be arrived at by Austria and Hungary, while in Austria itself the passing of the Universal Suffrage Bill gives hope that the quarrels of the nationalities are about to come to an end and that a Federal system will be introduced.

Other unfavorable influences were the separation of the Church and State in France, the condition of the Balkan States, the dispute between Great Britain and Turkey respecting the Egyptian boundary and the unrest of the Moe hammedans both in Africa and Asia. At the close of th year, however, the apprehensions excited had greatly calmed, down. Unfortunately, exceedingly dear money caused apprehensions of another kind and generally speaking brought about a heavy fall in securities. American securities were an exception and there has been a considerable rise in copper and diamond shares. On the other hand, nearly everything else is decidedly lower at the end than at the beginning of the year. British Government securities stand at a quotation which would give a full 3% to the investor. British municipal and colonial government securities give about 3½% and foreign municipal securities from 4 to 5%. Foreign government securities, however, have been fairly well maintained. The most striking exception is that of Russia. In April a great international Russian loan of nearly 90 millions sterling was brought out at 89. The price fell at one time to 77. Nearly half the fall by the end of the year had been recovered, but the loan was still at a discount of about 8.

The dearness and scarcity of money referred to were due to the wonderful prosperity over all the world, the consequent strong demand of a great many countries upon London for gold, and the earthquakes at San Francisco and in Chili. The Bank rate at the opening of the year stood at 4% and because of the gold inquiry for South America, France and the United States, it remained at that figure until the beginning of April. It was then put down to 3½%. But in May, owing to the American demand, it was raised again to 4%; reduced in June to 3½%; raised once more in Sept. to 4%; early in October to 5%, and on the 19th of October to 6%, at which it continued to stand till the end of the year. The chief cause of the advance to 6% was undoubtedly the very large demands of New York upon London. Contributory causes were the strong demands for Egypt, and the fear of a large drain for Russia, Germany, Argentina and India. But for the rise to 6%, it is reasonably certain that a good deal of gold would have been withdrawn both for Argentina and for India. Moreover, the withdrawals for Egypt would probably have been larger than they were if the rate had not been raised. During the last two months of the year the fear continued that it would be necessary to put up the rate to 7%, for it was known that a considerable amount of gold was required by Brazil to carry out the conversion law in addition to what might be required by Argentina, Egypt and India. If there is not a revival of the American demand, it is hoped that the rate will soon be reduced, for it is believed that the Egyptian demand is now satisfied and that the Indian demand will be satisfied in a few weeks.

The new issues during the year have not been heavy. There has been a very large investment abroad, but it has only to an inconsiderable extent taken the form of public issues. The most noteworthy public offering was the bringing out of the international Russian loan here in April. For very many years before it would have been impossible to place a Russian loan here, for the political antagonism of the two countries was too pronounced to allow of success. Since the war with Japan, however, and more particularly since the establishment of the entente cordiale with France, there has been a drawing together of England and Russia. In this country, it is now believed that Russia will have to avoid war-like enterprises for a long time, and it is desired to give her financial help in developing her resources. Of the total loan, somewhat exceeding 89 millions sterling, a little over 13 millions sterling were offered in London and were all subscribed for. The other loans were unimportant, being chiefly to the British Government, the colonial governments and the Indian Government, and to home and foreign municipal governments.

The imports of gold amounted to £46,042,590, against £38,567,895 in the preceding year, showing an increase of £7,474,695, or 19.4%. Of the total, £25,713,703 came from British South Africa, £6,901,086 from Australia, £3,227,792 from India, £151,956 from the Straits Settlements, £243,053 from Ceylon and £136,062 from New Zealand; so that of the total gold, exceeding 46 millions sterling, £36,373,652 came from British territory. The exports of gold amounted to £42,617,267, from which it would appear that there was retained £3,425,323 out of the total imported. It seems plain, however, that the demands for the arts was greater than the proportion of the imports retained at home. Of the total exports of the metal, £14,188,394 went to the United States; £6,285,046 to Egypt; £4,621,451 to France; £4,285,875 to Argentina and Uruguay; £2,802,490 to Brazil; £1,694,905 to Russia; £1,411,455 to countries unspecified; and £4,681,186 to India. The other exports were in small amounts, none of them reaching a million sterling.

The demand for silver, which was strong in 1905, became still stronger in the year just closed, and the price rose considerably. The highest point touched in 1906 was 33⅛d. per ounce, which was 2 13-16d. over the highest price of the year before. The lowest price touched in 1906 was 29d., which was 3 9-16d. above the lowest touched in the preceding year. The principal demand was for India. The crops in India were all exceedingly good and trade was very active. The Government, moreover, had not coined very much recently, and therefore an exceptional demand for silver sprang up. So great was the demand that the exports of silver from England to India during 1906 exceeded those of 1905 by as much as £7,467,000, the value being £15,064,000 against £7,597,000. Moreover, the United States Government, having coined all the silver purchased under the Sherman Act, began to buy in the open market. This added very materially to the influence of the strong Indian demand. The French Government, likewise, was a purchaser of silver, and though, owing to the return of peace, neither Russia nor Japan bought on the scale that they did during the war, yet there was purchasing by both governments. The price of silver at the beginning of the year was 30 1-16d. per ounce. It continued to rise to 30 13-16d. at the end of February, when there occurred a sharp setback to 29d. in March. The price fluctuated until August. Then another upward movement set in, and with slight variations the price gradually reached 33⅛d. in the middle of November. After that there was another setback, owing mainly to very dear money in India. The Indian Government, however, again began to purchase silver, and the price once more recovered, closing at 32 5-16d. From the Board of Trade returns it appears that the total imports of silver during the year amounted to £17,288,063, against £12,992,014 in the preceding year, being an increase of £4,296,049, or 33.3%. The total exports amounted to £18,865,285, from which it is evident that we exported during the year £1,577,222 more than we imported. Of the total exports British India took £15,063,927, against only £7,596,829 in the previous year. The imports of silver into India in the past year, in fact, are the largest ever recorded—are about twice the average during the 33 years immediately preceding the closing of the Indian mints.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 200 shares, of which 110 shares were sold at the Stock Exchange and the remainder at auction. The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 95 shares. Eighty shares of stock of the National Park Bank were sold in two lots at 465 and 465⅛, an advance of 14 points over the price paid in December of last year, when the last previous sale was made.

—San Antonio, Texas, was designated a reserve city on the 2d inst. under the act of March 3 1887 as amended by the act of March 3 1903

—At the annual meeting of the Louisville Clearing House Association on the 15th inst, Logan C. Murray (President of the American National Bank) was elected President, to succeed Samuel Casseday. James S. Barret was elected Vice-President and Isham Bridges was re-elected Manager. A resolution was lately adopted by the Clearing House which requires the filing of monthly statements by all trust companies, the same as banks. In order to arrive at a better understanding of the new regulation, a conference was held, prior to the Association's annual meeting, between the Committee on Supervision and representatives of the trust companies. A report of this committee was submitted to the Association, but its consideration was postponed until the next meeting. It is stated that very few objections were made by the trust companies to the requirement, and these have been withdrawn.

—Miles M. O'Brien, Vice-President of the Mercantile National Bank of this city, yesterday resigned the presidency of the New Amsterdam National Bank, Broadway and 39th St., and was succeeded by F. W. Kinsman, late President of the Hamilton Bank, on West 125th St. Mr. O'Brien takes this step in order that he may devote all his time to the affairs of the Mercantile National. Since assuming direction of the New Amsterdam National about a year ago, he has had to divide his efforts in the Mercantile with the up-town institution. Mr. O'Brien remains a director in the New Amsterdam National, which he believes has a bright future, situated as it is in an increasingly important business district. Mr. Kinsman, President-elect, has sold out his interests in the Hamilton Bank to E. R. Thomas and O. F. Thomas. Under Mr. Kinsman's direction the Hamilton Bank has prospered and grown until it now has several branches. The Mercantile National's net deposits have increased from $15,624,247 to $18,536,039 during the past week.

—The annual banquet of the Associated Banks of New York City, Group VIII., will be held next Wednesday evening in the grand ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. By seating the guests at tables arranged for parties of eight and a few of sixteen, the effort will be to make the occasion as enjoyable as possible. The subjects of the speeches will be left entirely to the suggestion of the speakers.

—The quarterly dividend to be paid Feb. 1 by the Astor National Bank of this city has been increased to 8%, 6¼% having been paid at each quarterly period heretofore. This is an increase in the yearly rate from 25% to 32%.

—The directors of the Hanover National Bank of this city, at a meeting on the 22d inst, elected E. Hayward Ferry a director and Vice-President. In the vice-presidency he succeeds Williams Halls Jr., who, however, remains a member of the board. To accept the office Mr. Ferry resigns as Vice-President of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston.

—The newly organized New Netherlands Trust Company of this city will soon make application to the courts for permission to change its corporate name to the Astor Trust Company. The new banking institution was formed last year by interests identified with the Bankers' Trust Company, 7 Wall Street, and will locate on the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and 36th Street, when its quarters are ready for occupancy late in February.. As announced in these columns last September, Edmund C. Converse, who resigned the presidency of the Liberty National Bank two weeks ago, will take active executive charge of it, while Thomas Cochrane Jr. and Seward Prosser are to be Vice-Presidents.

—Howard E. Rank and Lamar Ross were appointed Assistant Cashiers of the Oriental Bank of this city at a meeting of the directors on Wednesday the 23rd inst.

—The Aetna National Bank of this city, which is shortly to increase its capital from $200,000 to $300,000, reports earnings a little in excess of 23% on its capital during the past year. The bank has not as yet paid any dividends, having pursued the policy of passing its earnings to the surplus account. It is the purpose, however, to commence the payment of dividends on an 8 or 10% basis on January 1 1908. The bank has been in business since October 1904.

—The business of the New York National Exchange Bank and the Irving National Bank of this city was merged on the 16th inst., with the adoption of resolutions by the boards of the respective institutions. The legal formalities of this consolidation, to which we adverted in our issue of January 12, will be completed on February 19, when the stockholders of the institutions will hold special meetings to ratify the action of their boards. The stockholders of the New York National Exchange Bank will also vote upon the propositions to increase the capital from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, to change the bank's name to the Irving National Exchange Bank, and to amend the articles of association so as to provide for a board of twenty-four members, and the election of three vice-presidents. The new stock is to be issued at $150 per $100 share. The stockholders of the Irving National will take action February 19 with regard to placing their bank in voluntary liquidation.

—The New York Agency of the London and River Plate Bank, Ltd., has been advised by cable of the opening of a branch at Valparaiso, Chili. This agency, at 51 Wall Street, is hence now in a position to accept business for that port in addition to the already long-established relations with Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay.

—Arrangements have been perfected for the opening of a Manhattan office by the Brooklyn Trust Company of Brooklyn Borough on or about May 1st. The establishment of the new office, which will be located at 90 Broadway, corner of Wall Street, was decided upon by the board of directors last week. President Miller states that the opening of this branch is simply for the convenience of its many New York City patrons, the demand for such a step being imperative.

—The Home Trust Company of New York (Brooklyn Borough) will also open a Manhattan office about April 1 next, its quarters being in the new Evening Post Building at 20 Vesey Street. The interior fixtures and decorations of its banking room are to be of a unique character.

—The organization of the Mount Vernon National Bank of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has been completed, with the election of the following officers: President, Horace Loomis; Vice-Presidents, Herbert T. Jennings and D. M. Hopping, and Cashier, S. K. Raymond. As noted in an earlier issue, the capital is $200,000.

—The First National Bank of Bayonne, N. J., which is a conversion to the National system of the Bayonne Bank, has commenced business under its new title. George Carragan continues as President and Frederick G. Perkins remains as Cashier. William H. Vreeland and De Witt Van Buskirk have been elected Vice-Presidents.

—At the late annual meeting of the board of trustees of the National Savings Bank of Albany, Egbert B. King resigned as Treasurer and was succeeded by Frederic B. Stevens. A vacancy in the board, occasioned by the resignation of J. Townsend Lansing, was filled by the election of Dr. Andrew S. Draper, Commissioner of Education, State of New York.

—The National Exchange Bank of Albany, N. Y., is to lose its identity through consolidation with the First National Bank of that city. Both banks have a capital of $300,000, the First National having been increased to that amount from $200,000 about six months ago. Negotiations toward consolidation have been in progress, it is stated, for some time past, and the desired end was made possible through the acquisition last week by President F. A. Mead of the First National of about 600 shares of National Exchange stock held by Mrs. John D. Parsons Jr., the widow of its former President. At meetings of the directors of the two banks on Wednesday, the proposed consolidation was recommended for acceptance by the stockholders. According to the plan, the First National is to take over the assets of the National Exchange, increasing its capital from $300,000 to $600,000 to pay for the stock of the Exchange bank. It is said that to place the banks on an equal basis it will probably be necessary for the National Exchange Bank to declare an extra dividend of 20% to its stockholders. While the consolidating banks each have a capital of $300,000 and surplus of $100,000, the Exchange Bank has also undivided profits of about $60,000. The enlarged First National Bank will have, besides a capital of $600,000, a surplus of $200,000. Frederick A. Mead, who became President of the First National in May 1905, is to continue as chief executive. John J. Gallogly, Vice-President of the National Exchange, will have a similar office in the new bank. The uniting institutions have been in close relationship with the Albany Trust Company, President Horace G. Young of that company being a Vice-President of the First National and a director of the National Exchange.

—The directors of the Fidelity Trust Company of Buffalo, N. Y., at their recent annual meeting elected George D. Sears to the position of Trust Officer.

—Loran L. Lewis was recently chosen to replace the late Nathaniel Rochester as President of the Third National Bank of Buffalo, N. Y. R. B. Adam has become a Vice-President of the institution.

—The stockholders of the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston adopted an amendment to the by-laws on Wednesday, increasing the number of directors from twenty-four to thirty. With the exception of the late George F. Fabyan, the old board was re-elected, and the following chosen as new members: Charles S. Mellen, Robert T. Paine 2d, Philip L. Saltonstall and Charles W. Whittier.

—The name of the American Loan & Trust Company of Boston is to be changed to the American Trust Company as soon as legislative permission is obtained to that end.

—George F. Fabyan, a member of the dry-goods firm of Bliss, Fabyan & Co. of Boston, and one of the incorporators of the Old Colony Trust Company, of which he was a director, died on the 18th inst. He was also identified with numerous other corporations.

—Charles H. Dutton Jr. has been elected Second Vice-President of the Merrimack National Bank of Haverhill, Mass.

—Elisha J. Neall, previously Vice-President, has been elected to the presidency of the Appleton National Bank of Lowell as successor to Charles H. Allen.

—Wendell E. Turner has been elected Vice-President of the Fall River (Mass.) National Bank, succeeding Herbert Field.

—It is reported that interests in the Chelsea Trust Company of Chelsea, Mass., now in process of organization, have secured control of 7,000 shares of the stock of the Winnisimmet National Bank of Chelsea. It is stated further that an offer of $165 per share (par $100) has been made for the outstanding stock by F. S. Moseley & Co., who represent the purchasing interests. The acquisition is taken as an indication that the business of the bank will be taken over by the new trust company. The bank has a capital of $100,000.

—The stockholders of the failed Pynchon National Bank of Springfield, Mass., have been notified of an assessment of 49% on their holdings, to be paid on or before January 26. To shareholders paying 25% of the assessment by that date, an extension to pay the remaining 24% by February 24 is granted. The bank (capital $200,000) went into receiver's hands in June 1901. While it is stated that through the settlement of a patent suit now pending the amount of the assessment may be refunded, some dissatisfaction is expressed by the stockholders at the levying of the assessment. In March 1902, when arrangements were being perfected for the settlement of the bank's affairs, the stockholders took up at 95 bonds of the American Writing Paper Company (par $100) to the amount of $577,000, held by the bank at the time of its suspension. Those who bought the bonds at this price and sold them at 71 feel that with the present assessment they are being asked to pay more than the legal limit of 100%. The depositors have thus far received 98% of their claims, but besides the remaining 2% they are also entitled to interest on their claims.

—The Fidelity Trust Company of Portland, Me., which began business less than a year ago—that is, on April 9 1906—reports deposits January 19 1907 of $842,366. On October 17 the amount of the deposits was $648,918. In the interval undivided profits have increased from $8,866 to $16,542 and aggregate resources have risen from $960,209 to $1,181,334. The institution has capital and surplus of $150,000 each. Its officers are Edward P. Ricker, President; Charles Sumner Cook and Frederick O. Conant, Vice-Presidents, and Ernest J. Eddy, Secretary and Treasurer.

—The one hundredth anniversary of the Farmers' & Mechanics' National Bank of Philadelphia was celebrated on the 17th inst. with a banquet at the Bellevue-Stratford. The event was marked by the delivery of several apt addresses, the principal speaker being Charles H. Treat, Treasurer of the United States. Other speakers at the gathering were Joseph Wharton, President of the American Iron & Steel Association; Edward T. Stotesbury; State Treasurer William H. Berry, W. N. Ashman of the Orphans' Court, and John Weaver, Mayor of Philadelphia. President Howard W. Lewis, who presided at the affair, reviewed the history and development of the bank since its beginning on January 17 1807. During the hundred years it has handled $563,000,000 for the nation, $268,000,000 for the State of Pennsylvania and $646,000,000 for the City of Philadelphia, and this without the loss of a single penny. The bank was nationalized in 1864, and in 1868 it was appointed loan and transfer agent for the State of Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia Clearing House Association; since 1872 it has acted in a similar capacity for the City of Philadelphia. The institution now has a capital of $2,000,000 and surplus and profits of $1,170,000. Altogether it has distributed $12,497,000 in dividends during its existence.

—Henry Shetline has been elected Vice-President of the Sixth National Bank of Philadelphia to fill the vacancy due to the death of George May.

—Andrew Long, Cashier of the Exchange National Bank of Pittsburgh, was elected President of the Pittsburgh Clearing House Association at the annual meeting last week, succeeding R. S. Smith. The Vice-President elected was Charles McKnight, President of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania. W. W. McCandless was re-elected Secretary and Manager.

—E. M. Bigelow, who has been Vice-President of the Liberty National Bank of Pittsburgh, has been elected President in place of Ira F. Brainard.

—Frederick A. Dolfield has resigned as Assistant Cashier of the National Howard Bank of Baltimore to take the presidency of the Canton National Bank of Baltimore. In his new office he succeeds H. J. McGrath, whose re-election at the annual meeting on the 10th inst. was announced as only temporary, he having consented to accept the post until the selection of a suitable successor.

—The new American National Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, opened for business in its quarters in the Harrison Building on the 21st inst. The capital, as before pointed out, is $500,000 and the surplus $50,000. Dr. J. M. Crawford, former Consul-General of the United States to Russia, is President of the institution; William Christie and J. M. Blair are Vice-Presidents; Herbert N. Winans, Cashier, and O. L. Ballinger and James M. Fisher, Assistant Cashiers.

—C. C. Richardson has resigned as Vice-President and director of the Cincinnati Trust Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio. George H. Worthington replaces him on the board.

—The opening of the American Trust & Savings Company of Springfield, Ohio, lately formed, occurred on the 5th inst. N. H. Fairbanks is President of the new institution, which is domiciled in especially well-appointed banking rooms. The company has as Vice-Presidents Paul A. Staley and W. H. McCord, and H. E. Freeman is the Secretary and Treasurer.

—The new Mercantile National Bank of Evansville, Ind., formed several months since with $200,000 capital, has commenced business. It is managed by James V. Rush, President; Louis A. Daus, Vice-President; Joel Bailey, Cashier, and Ezra H. Bauer, Assistant Cashier.

—The stockholders of the Grand Rapids Savings Bank of Grand Rapids, Mich., are interested in a new bank to be established at Madison Square—a suburb of Grand Rapids—and incorporated under the name of the Madison Square Bank. Frank J. Cook will be manager of the institution.

—On charges alleging misapplication of the funds of the Chicago National Bank of Chicago, Ill., an indictment of 182 counts was returned on the 18th inst. against its President, John R. Walsh, by the special Federal Grand Jury of the Northern District of Illinois. Mr. Walsh gave bonds to the amount of $50,000. Feb. 6 has been set as the date for the filing of pleadings to the indictment. The Chicago National, it will be recalled, and two other Chicago institutions controlled by Mr. Walsh—the Equitable Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank—closed their doors in December 1905. In a statement issued on Friday the 18th inst. by counsel for Mr. Walsh, namely, John S. Miller, Edward C. Ritcher and Samuel R. Hammill, suspension of public judgment is asked until there has been a fair and impartial trial. "An indictment," they state, "does not raise even a presumption of guilt. The presentation of the matter before a grand jury was necessarily ex parte. Mr. Moxey, the Government expert, worked for eight months to acquaint himself with the accounts of the bank. Of course in the short time during which the jury considered the case Mr. Moxey could only testify to his conclusions, and not to the specific facts in detail—much less all the facts which would explain or justify the acts or transactions presented in part—and in the absence of an opportunity for Mr. Walsh to present any explanation or defence, it was natural for the jury to accept Mr. Moxey's statement." They add that Mr. Walsh looks forward to the opportunity of vindicating himself from these charges upon a fair trial. The basis of any offence defined by the National Banking Act, they state, is criminal intent. "The defence will be that in the whole course of his life John R. Walsh never did a criminal act or any act with a criminal intent."

—The American Guaranty Company of Chicago has added a new department to the regular lines of work which it has heretofore performed. In this department it will attend to the preparation of municipal and corporation bonds, secure the services of a trust company as trustee for bondholders, prepare the necessary deed of trust ready for execution by the officers of the corporation and the trustee, attend to all details of an issue of bonds, and certify to the genuineness of the bonds and the legality of the issue. The company claims to be the only one in the West to engage in this particular work. Its capital is $500,000. Frederick M. Steele is President, Charles L. Furey Vice-President, Lewis W. Pitcher Secretary and James L. Bigelow Treasurer.

—Robert M. Wells, long identified with the hardware house of Wells & Nellegar Company, has been chosen Vice-President of the Bankers' National Bank of Chicago, and after Feb. 1 will actively engage in the banking business.

—The Monroe National Bank of Chicago will, it is understood, increase its capital on April 1 from $200,000 to $300,000. The bank now has undivided profits of $22,000, and with the sale of the new stock at $125 will create a surplus of $25,000. This institution, formerly the Manufacturers' Bank, has been operating as a national bank since last March.

—The Citizens' Trust Company of Milwaukee, Wis., announces that it has secured the co-operation of Walter S. Denning in the management of its bond department, for the sale of bonds and investments of every description.

—On the 15th inst. Robert Camp was elected President of the Milwaukee Trust Company of Milwaukee, Wis., to replace the late J. H. Van Dyke Jr. David C. Green, Charles Allis and George P. Mayer have been elected directors of the company, and in addition Mr. Green has been chosen Vice-President and Treasurer, while Mr. Allis has also been elected a Vice-President. Scranton Stockdale is Secretary and P. O. Kannenberg Assistant Secretary.

—A. E. Nelson has been elected Cashier of the Union State Bank of Minneapolis to succeed L. Jaegar.

—The changes in the Minnesota National Bank of Minneapolis at the recent annual meeting were the election of Frank L. Williams as Vice-President, succeeding S. T. Johnson, and the election of J. D. Uttendorfer as Cashier, replacing H. G. Merritt, who remains a director of the bank.

—In our item last week regarding the increased surplus of the Swedish-American National Bank of Minneapolis, we stated that the bank had also increased its rate of interest from 3 to 3½%. These remarks with regard to the increased interest rate concern the Swedish-American Savings Bank, a separate institution under the same management as the national bank.

—John Worthington, who is reported to have acquired an interest in the American National Bank of Kansas City, Mo., has been elected First Vice-President. O. L. Vanlaningham has been elected Second Vice-President and John C. Hughes (formerly Secretary and Treasurer of the Bankers' Trust Co. of Kansas City) has replaced C. B. Gray, resigned, as Cashier. C. S. Jobes has been re-elected President of the bank.

—The proposition to increase the capital of the National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000, acted upon by the shareholders on January 8, was carried by a vote representing nearly 60,000 shares of stock.

Of the 30,000 new shares, 10,000 are to be sold to present stockholders at $300 per $100 share, payable February 1 next, thereby increasing the stock to $8,000,000. The remaining 20,000 shares are to be sold at $100 each to stockholders of record February 4 1907, payable February 14. An extra cash dividend of $25 per share, payable February 14, is to be declared on the $8,000,000 stock, and this can be used to pay for the $2,000,000 issue. The bank, it will be remembered, took over the Fourth National on December 11. When all transactions have been completed and the business of the Fourth National been paid for, the National Bank of Commerce will have a capital of $10,000,000, surplus of $5,000,000 and undivided profits of over $3,000,000. At its annual meeting three new Assistant Cashiers were added to the bank's list of officers. They are J. W. Reinholdt, who formerly held the post, now discontinued, of Auditor; A. L. Weissenborn and George R. Baker. The re-elected officers are J. C. Van Blarcom, President; B. F. Edwards and Jno. Nickerson, Vice-Presidents; John A. Lewis, Cashier; C. L. Merrill, W. B. Cowan, Van L. Runyan, F. W. Wrieden and G. N. Hitchcock, Assistant Cashiers.

—E. S. Lee, formerly Cashier of the First National Bank of Covington, Ky., has been elected President of the institution. J. H. Becker has become Cashier and H. T. Reinke Assistant Cashier.

—The organization of a bank under the name of the Commercial National is under way in Covington, Ky. The capital is to be $100,000. The incorporators are John R. Bullock, J. A. Downard, J. C. Brown, J. T. Scott, Charles S. Furber, L. D. Huffman and M. L. Kirkpatrick.

—Samuel J. Hinsdale has been elected Cashier of the Carolina Trust Company of Raleigh, N. C., succeeding H. F, Smith, resigned.

—The interest in the Union National Bank of Oakland, Cal., held by Thomas Prather, who retires as President, has been purchased by J. Dalzell Brown, Vice-President of the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company of San Francisco, and his associates. The change in control of the Oakland institution has resulted in the election of Charles E. Palmer, previously Cashier, as President; J. Dalzell Brown as Vice-President and W. W. Crane as Cashier. The bank was established in 1875 and has a capital of $150,000.

—The recent death is announced of Andrew Thomson, President of the Union Bank of Canada, head office Quebec.

—The banking business of John Curry & Co. of Windsor, Ontario, has been transferred to the Dominion Bank of Canada. The building in which the concern was located has also been disposed of to the bank, the purchase price of the site being, according to reports, $60,000. The profit of the Dominion Bank for the year ending December 31 1906 were $539,360, against $490,495 the previous year, and the sum of $400,000 has been transferred to the reserve fund, increasing it to $3,900,000. The deposits are now $36,876,156, comparing with $34,083,183 a year ago.

—The Royal Bank of Canada (head office Halifax) reports net profits for the year ending December 31 1906 of $604,495. Adding the balance of $37,162 remaining to the credit of profit and loss December 30 1905, and also the $990,000 premium realized on new stock issued early in the year, the bank had available $1,631,658. Of this sum $323,783 was paid in dividends; $20,000 was contributed to Officers' Pension Fund; $150,000 written off bank premises account; $73,000 appropriated in writing British consols down to 80, and $990,000 transferred to the reserve fund (increasing it from $3,400,000 to $4,390,000), leaving a balance of $74,875 to be carried forward. The bank has increased its dividend rate from 9% to 10% per annum, the January distribution (quarterly) having been 2½%, against 2¼% previously. From December 31 1905 to the same date in 1906 the deposits increased from $26,435,659 to $32,464,686, while the total assets advanced from $36,373,576 to $45,437,517. The capital was increased during the year from $3,000,000 to $3,900,000.

—The Union Discount Co. of London, Ltd., has issued its semi-annual statement for the six months ending Dec. 31 1906. The gross profits were $1,010,704. The deposits on Dec. 31 were $78,207,549 and bills re-discounted $30,566,989. The reserve fund was increased $50,000 and now stands at $2,250,000. The full statement appears in another column.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, January 12 1907.

At the beginning of the week there was much cheerfulness in the stock markets, with the exception of the American, which, owing to the fluctuations in New York, puzzled operators. Soon, however, it got to be known that preparations were being made for withdrawing large amounts of gold for South America. As a matter of fact, two millions sterling were withdrawn on Wednesday and Thursday. For the moment this checked business and there was some setback in prices. But a quick rally followed and prices again advanced. There was special activity in the mining market. Several new mines have become gold producers, and a few mines that never hitherto have paid dividends have become dividend payers. Moreover, the monthly returns of the output show continuous increases. There is, therefore, a very much more hopeful feeling than there was. Moreover, it is believed that the Boers see that it would be unwise to get rid of the Chinese laborers until they are sure of replacing them by natives. Consequently the fear that labor would again become scarce is rapidly disappearing. Lastly, those who are best acquainted with the Transvaal are now hopeful that the elections will turn out favorably. Continental buying has helped British buying, and in spite of the gold withdrawals the feeling in the mining market is decidedly better than it has been for years.

For the moment activity in the market for British Government stocks and for British railway stocks is held somewhat in check. But the belief is almost universal that as soon as money becomes at all easy there will be an advance in both. Respecting the American market, there is great diversity of opinion, some fearing that the investigations into railway management and finance and the large issues of new capital will bring about a very bad state of things. Others argue, on the contrary, that if there was any real unsoundness it would have disclosed itself long before now, and that the railway traffic returns are so good and the general trade of the country so prosperous that there can be no serious setback. But the market here is waiting upon New York and follows the movements of New York slavishly.

In Paris there is a very hopeful feeling. Politically everything is regarded as most satisfactory, both internally and externally. Money is abundant, confidence is great. During recent months there has grown up a considerable speculation on the Bourse, and during the past few weeks there has been a decided increase in French investments in London, while the French banks have also added to their balances here. In Germany, in spite of the 7% rate, there is also a hopeful feeling. It is known that the Imperial Bank is desirous of reducing its rate to 6% as soon as possible. It is hoped that it will be able to do so next week. In the week ended Monday night over eight millions sterling of notes returned from circulation. It is believed that the reflux will be still larger in the current week. If so, the best opinion in Berlin is that the rate will be put down to 6%; and on the reduction the general impression is that there will be a decided increase in business on the Bourse. Trade everywhere continues most active, and the prospects for the new year are regarded as admirable. The Prussian Finance Minister, in his Budget statement at the beginning of this week, expressed the view that trade throughout Prussia is perfectly sound and most encouraging.

At the beginning of the week the market expected a reduction of its rate by the Bank of England. On what ground it based the expectation it is impossible to judge, for everything pointed to large withdrawals of gold. In addition, the fall in the New York Exchange upon London made it possible that a New York demand for gold might spring up again. Over and above this, it was known to the well-informed that the Burma rice export season had begun most actively, and that the demand for currency in consequence was so strong that the Indian Government would have to "ear-mark" gold. It was no surprise, therefore, to the well-informed that the Bank of England made no change in its rate of discount this week. Next week a reduction seems more likely.

Rates in the open market have not stiffened as much as might have been expected. Loans for a short time are readily made at 4%, and the discount rate is little better than 5%. If there is a fear of shipments to New York, the Bank of England probably will borrow in the open market. But hitherto it has not thought it necessary to do so, since the collection of the revenue is now upon a very large scale; and, moreover, the Bank holds a large number of bills which are falling due day by day. It seems certain, therefore, that in a very short time the Bank will obtain full control of the market.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 100 lacs of drafts, and the applications exceeded 381 lacs, at prices ranging from 1s. 4 1-16d. to 1s. 4 5-32d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 4 3-32d. and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 4 5-32d. per rupee were allotted about 38% of the amounts applied for.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of January 10:

GOLD.—The arrivals this week were small and the Bank of England has again taken all, amounting to nearly £300,000 after satisfying Indian requirements. Altogether the Bank has bought £567,000, almost entirely in bars, but, on the other hand, the withdrawals have been very large, namely, £2,182,000, of which £2,172,000 goes to Brazil and Argentina and the balance to Egypt. Next week we expect £612,000 from South Africa. For the week: Arrivals—South Africa, £276,000; Bombay, £113,000; West Indies, £32,000; Brazil, £18,000; West Africa, £7,000; Australia, £6,000; Straits, £3,000; total, £455,000. Shipments—Bombay, £110,650; Colombo, £13,750; total, £124,400. For the month of December: Arrivals—France, £1,530,000; West Africa, £87,000; South Africa, £2,007,000; India, £177,000; South America, £55,000; U. S. A., £13,000. Shipments—France, £10,000; West Africa, £4,000; South Africa, £5,000; India, £251,000; Egypt, £1,140,000; South America, £1,616,000; U. S. A., £40,000.

SILVER.—The course of silver has been downward, special requirements for India have not been large, and though the Indian Bazaars have bought fairly large amounts this demand has been met by forward sales, and we close 9-16d. lower on the week, at 31⅞d., with forward ¼d. over cash. News of a French tender for 20,000 kilos had little or no effect. The price in India is Rs. 81 11-16. For the week: Arrivals—New York, £263,000; Straits (coin), £362,000; West Indies, £17,000; Chile, £11,000 New Zealand, £5,000; total, £658,000. Shipments—Bombay, £26,780. For the month of December: Arrivals—Germany, £14,000; France, £16,000; U. S. A., £858,000. Shipments—Germany, £55,000; France, £151,000; West Africa, £141,000; India, £585,000.

MEXICAN DOLLARS.—There have been some dollars on offer at their melting value. For the week: Arrivals—New York, £15,700. Shipments—Bombay, £6,700.

DIVIDENDS.

We have changed the method of making up our weekly list of dividends. Heretofore our record has included only the dividends announced each week, but for the convenience of our readers we now enlarge the scope of the compilation so as to show also dividends previously declared, but the date of payment of which has not yet arrived. In the new form the statement indicates all the dividends announced for the future by all large or important corporations.

Dividends announced this week are printed in italics.

Statement of New York City Clearing-House Banks.—The following statement shows the condition of the New York City Clearing-House banks for the week ending Jan. 19. It should be distinctly understood that as to all items except capital and surplus the figures are the averages of the daily results, not the totals at the end of the week. In other words, in reporting loans and deposits and holdings of specie and legal tenders, the practice is to take the aggregate of the amounts for the several days of the week and divide this aggregate by the number of days.

We omit two ciphers (00) in all cases.

Wall Street, Friday Night, Jan. 25 1907.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—We referred last week to the easier money market conditions at all financial centres. This important feature of the general situation has continued in force, and thus one of the disturbing influences of recent months in Wall Street was removed. As a result the security markets have assumed a more normal condition, although the volume of business continues limited. Reports from Washington to the effect that Secretary Shaw will carry out his original plan and have the special deposits in banks returned to the Sub-Treasury on February 1 gave a decidedly firmer tone to the money market to-day and led to a general decline in the stock market.

Some houses are reporting more inquiry from investors but actual sales show little, if any, increase. The latter is not to be wondered at, perhaps, when it is remembered that the average investor finds it hard to comprehend the attitude or course of reasoning which leads State or county officials to bring legal action to prevent, or hinder, a proposed issue of securities by a railway company sadly in need of additional rolling stock to handle the traffic pressing upon it. The matter is still harder to understand in view of the fact that the road in question traverses a section of the country where wheat is, or recently was, stored in open bins around the stations, and inhabitants of the towns along its line are suffering for want of fuel, all because the development of the country has been such as to render wholly inadequate the facilities of the road, which until recently were ample.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 2 to 4%. To-day's rates on call were 3½@4%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 5¾@6¼% for endorsements and 5¾@6¼% for best single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £1,438,701; the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 48.91, against 45.30last week.

The discount rate remains as fixed January 17 at 5%. The Bank of France shows an increase of 2,650,000 francs in gold and a decrease of 3,100,000 francs in silver.

N.B.—Returns of separate banks appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The market was strong early in the week but it subsequently declined, influenced by an overbought condition, and by a comparatively light demand, owing to slow mails; the tone was barely steady at the close. To-day's (Friday's) nominal rates for sterling exchange were 4 82@4 82½ for sixty day and 4 86½ for sight. To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 8150@4 8165 for long, 4 8560@4 8565 for short and 4 8625@4 8635 for cables. State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board $15,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 20.

The transactions in railway bonds have been on a limited scale throughout the week. A few issues showed a little activity but the list as a whole has been neglected. Price changes, are in most cases fractional and unimportant.

Among the exceptional features are some of the industrial issues, including American Tobacco and United States Steel, which have advanced a point or more.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include only $10,000 3s coup., 1908-18, at 103. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market was active and irregular during the early part of the week but later became dull and relatively steady. About 1,400,000 shares were traded in on Monday and fluctuations were wide in many cases. The volume of business steadily declined to but little more than 1-3 that amount on Thursday and the movement of prices was reduced to a much narrower range. To-day's market was weak, as noted above, on a firmer money market, a new legal action against Great Northern and liberal offerings for both long and short accounts.

At last night's close St. Paul had recovered a considerable part of the violent decline noted last week. North Western had also been a notably strong feature. Great Northern and Northern Pacific were the prominent railway issues that fluctuated widely; Canadian Pacific showed a notable loss, closing 7 points lower than last week.

Some of the industrial issues, notably the coppers, have been in favor. Anaconda Mining advanced over 10 points and closes with a net gain of 4. Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke has covered a range of 7 points, closing without net change. United States Steel preferred is up over a point.

As a result of the week's operations, 12 active and prominent issues are higher and 12 are lower than last week.

For daily volume of business see page 211.

Outside Market.—The market for unlisted securities recovered from the weakness exhibited at the close last week and, except for a tendency toward dulness, has maintained a strong tone, with the movement of values to a higher level. British Columbia Copper dropped from 11¼ to 9¾ and on the announcement of an increase in the capital broke to 7¾. It moved up again and to-day reached 12, closing at 11¼. Trinity Copper after a decline from 37 to 34⅞ on Saturday, ran up to 42½ and ends the week at 41. Greene Consolidated Copper lost a point to 29½ but advanced to 31⅝ and closed to-day at 31½. United Copper common was strong and after losing a point to 70¼ moved up to 74, closing to-day at 73¾. Boston Consolidated sank from 30½ to 29¾, advanced to 31¾, easing off finally to 31. Davis-Daly Estates went up from 17¼ to 18¾, reacting to 18. Ely Consolidated dropped from 3 to 1½ but later recovered to 2¼. Tennessee Copper from 49¾ reached 51⅛, then dropped to 47¾, recovering finally to 49. Utah Copper advanced from 38½ to 40¾ but declined subsequently to 39½. Nipissing was active and ran up from 13⅜ to 14¼, sank to 12¾ and closes to-day at 13. American Can preferred sold up from 51½ to 53 and American Writing Paper preferred from 25 to 26. Havanna Tobacco common, after selling between 12½ and 12⅝, jumped to 14. International Salt advanced 2 points to 20. Mackay Companies shares were this week tarnsferred to the Stock Exchange. Manhattan Transit sank from 6⅛ to 4⅞, recovering to 5. Western Ice advanced 4 points to 31½, closing to-day at 30. Standard Oil from 534 rose to 539, dropped to 530, recovering finally to 535. Waterbury Company was strong and sold up from 42⅛ to 44¼.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The following shows the gross and net earnings to latest dates of all STEAM railroads furnishing monthly statements. The compilation includes every road from which we can get a return of this character, and in that form is given once a month. Early returns are published from week to week, as soon as issued, but for the convenience of our readers all the roads making returns are brought together here in the week in which we publish our monthly article on net earnings—say about the 20th of the month.

Bonds.—The company is entitled up to Dec. 31 1906 and will apply to have certified $126,000 of its 4% bonds, which will make $543,000 of these bonds in the treasury. These bonds are issued for 75% of actual cost of betterments and extensions and are not included in the $4,866,000 4% bonds below mentioned.

Track.—A quarter of a mile of additional track was constructed on Starr Ave. to connect with the tracks of the Toledo Port Clinton & Lakeside Ry. Co. to allow them to enter the city by way of Starr Ave. There has been reconstructed with 9-in. 90-lb. rail, 2.26 miles; with tee rail 1.33 miles; total, 3.59 miles. A large portion of the remaining light weight special work has been renewed during the year with 9-in. guarantee construction. The company in the past five years has rebuilt with new rail three-fourths of all its tracks and special work.

Cars.—There were built at our shops: One 49-ft. excursion car; one 43-ft. express and freight car and 6 flat cars. There were purchased 20 semi-convertible cars with double trucks. All cars and equipment have been kept in the very best condition.

Power Station.—The two 3,000 K.W. each turbines and alternating-current generators ordered last year have not been delivered, but the General Electric Co. installed at their expense, for temporary use, one 2,000 K.W. turbine until those ordered could be delivered. All other machinery ordered has been received and placed in operation, including two 1,000 K.W. each rotary converters for street railway system, one 1,000 K. W. motor generator set for D. C. lighting system, one 125 K.W. exciter set, all with necessary switchboard and appurtenances.

Underground System, &c.—The capacity of the conduit system has been increased 31,319 duct feet. The company now has a total of 426,154 duct feet of conduit in about 9 miles of streets and alleys. There was installed 22 miles of trolley wire.

Light and Power.—We are now supplying the city with 1,376 arc lamps for street lighting, an increase for the year of 45; are supplying current for an equivalent of 167,080 16-C.P. incandescent lamps, an increase of 8,837; and are supplying current for 8,342 H.P. in motors, an increase of 1,759 H. P.; increase in meters installed during the year, 15½%.

On Jan. 1 1906 the price of electric lighting to private consumers was fixed at 9c. per K.W. hour, as against 12c. per. K.W. hour.

In Oct. 1906 the company entered into a contract with the city of Toledo for lighting all the public streets, alleys, lands and other public places for a period of ten years from Jan. 1 1907, and will discontinue furnishing any free light or power after Jan. 1 1907, which under the previous contract amounted to about $7,000 per year. The company contracted with the city to place what is known as the "magnetite arc lamps," which can be operated much more economically than the old style arc lamp.

Other Roads.—Seven interurban roads now enter over the company's tracks on contract.

A contract to allow its cars to enter the city over the company's tracks was entered into with the Toledo & Point Place Ry. Co., which has since consolidated with the Ottawa Beach & Southern Ry. Co. under the name of the Toledo Ottawa Beach & Northern Ry. Co. (V. 84, p. 52; V. 83, p. 1172, 1525). This company's cars will enter the city not later than May 1 1907. They are at present transferring passengers to the city cars at the Casino.

During the year the Ottawa Park Street Ry. Co., whose entire capital stock is owned by the Toledo Railways & Light Co., secured a franchise for 25 years on Upton Ave. to connect with the Toledo Railways & Light Co. tracks at Dorr St. This Ottawa Park Street Ry. is operated by the Toledo Railways & Light Co. from its Dorr Street Line.

Stockholders.—The company now has 1,309 stockholders of record.

Keystone Telephone Company of Philadelphia.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending June 30 1906.)

President N. T. Folwell, Oct. 20 1906, writes in substance:

Properties, &c.—The present management assumed control July 1 1905. The company holds a perpetual charter from the State of Pennsylvania and a perpetual franchise from the city of Philadelphia, neither containing any restrictions as to rates for service. It owns six exchange buildings, either fireproof or semi-fireproof, and underground conduit system with a capacity of 11,648,439 duct feet, located in 278 miles of street, containing 1,926,419 feet of cable. Over a large part of its system the company has more ducts than are required for its own use, which, being available for electrical enterprises, form not only an important asset but will ultimately become a valuable contributor to the income of the company. The switchboard capacity is 16,800 lines, of which 11,989 lines have been installed and 20,888 telephones are in use.

In addition the company owns the entire capital stock of the Keystone State Telephone & Telegraph Co., having 7 suburban exchanges, 1,625 miles of toll line circuit, and 793 subscribers. In April 1906 we acquired also the stock of the Eastern Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Camden, N. J., consisting of 7 exchanges with 2,300 telephones, located in Camden, Gloucester, Cape May City and several smaller suburban places. By this purchase an additional interest in the Camden & Atlantic Telephone Co. was acquired, giving us control of that property.

Through ownership of these properties connection is made with a network of long-distance lines, which insures us a valuable toll business.

Capital Stock.—The capital stock of the Keystone Telephone Co. of Philadelphia, amounting to $2,500,000, is all owned by the Keystone Telephone Co. (of New Jersey). The latter company has outstanding $5,000,000 common stock and $1,936,850 of an authorized issue of $5,000,000 non-voting preferred stock. A majority of the common stock is held in a voting trust, the voting trustees being closely identified with the administration of the Keystone Tel. Co. of Philadelphia. All of the outstanding capital stock of the Keystone of New Jersey, or its equivalent in voting trust certificates, is in the hands of the public.

Improvements.—On assuming charge, the present management found that the Keystone not only had reached the limit of its facilities but was in need of financing to take care of the expenditures already made and to provide funds for the extension of the plant and for working capital. This was accomplished through the issue of $4,000,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds, out of a total authorized issue of $10,000,000. The mortgage provides for future development and improvements by a possible issue of not to exceed $600,000 bonds in any one year. Under this provision there have been issued $275,000, making a total of $4,275,000 outstanding.

With the funds provided the plant was increased by 1,125,000 feet of underground conduit; 385,000 feet of additional cable were installed; liberal extensions were made to the distribution lines; three sections were added to the West Philadelphia switchboard, and a number of other general improvements made. These improvements involved an expenditure of $831,580, and have practically doubled our facilities. All the improvements were not completed until the latter part of the fiscal year and it will be some months still before all will be earning full revenue.

Acquisition of New Business.—As quickly as the improvements to the plant would permit, the soliciting of new business was actively taken up, with the result that, although the canvass could not begin until the latter half of the fiscal year, the telephones in service have been increased from 17,000 to 21,000, as of June 30 1906. On Sept. 30 1906 the telephones of the Keystone of Philadelphia, the Keystone, State and the Eastern in use aggregated 24,846.

Maintenance.—While no reasonable expense has been spared to keep the property in first-class condition, the charges therefor have been low, owing to the thorough construction of the plant. To provide for ultimate replacements a reserve fund has been created by a charge of $4 per telephone per annum. At the close of the present fiscal year this reserve aggregated $171,476.

Consolidated Gas Co., New York City.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1906.)

At the annual meeting on Monday no statistics of operation were given out, but a long statement was made regarding the investigation of the affairs of the company by the Gas Commission, the Act of the Legislature ordering a reduction in the price of gas on May 1 1906 to 80c. per 1,000 c. ft. and the subsequent litigation fully covered from time to time in this column. The total amount deposited since May 1 to secure customers who pay $1, pending litigation, in case the court should decide that the gas companies were entitled to charge only 80c., amounted on Dec. 31 1906 to $1,994,417. The daily papers give also the following extracts which we have had officially revised:

Amount Due by City.—In addition to the $1,994,417 deposited in court, as above mentioned, the city has not paid anything to the company for gas supplied to it since Dec. 1902, a period of more than four years. The amount due on Dec. 31 1906 from the city was $2,884,790. On the same day the city owed for electricity supplied to it about $2,613,821. Actions have been commenced against the city to recover the amount claimed to be due. The three items above mentioned aggregate $7,493,029. Current bills, however, for electric current and for lamp maintenance are now being paid.

New Gas Plant.—The most noteworthy incident of the year was the completion of the first unit of the great plant at Astoria in Long Island City. This plant was started successfully on Dec. 3 1906, and is now making over 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, or one-fifth of its full rated capacity. It will be several months yet before it can safely manufacture one-half of its full capacity.

The rapid-unloading coal machinery at the wharves is not yet installed, because of the delay of the contractors. The 15,000,000 cubic foot gasholder is also not completed but the contractors are pushing the work satisfactorily. The whole plant will undoubtedly be running to its full capacity during the present year.

New Electric Plant.—The great undertaking of building the waterside electric plant No. 2, rated capacity 80,000 kilowatts, equal to 100,000 horse-power, with maximum of 150,000 horse-power, of the Edison Co., has progressed so far that boilers are now supplying additional power to waterside electric plant No. 1, rated capacity 60,000 kilowatts, equal to 80,000 horse-power, with maximum of 100,000 horse-power, and some current is also being generated. The new plant will be operated during the current year to the full amount required and additional equipment can be added from time to time according to the growth of the business.

Condemnation Proceedings.—The city has instituted condemnation proceedings against the electric plant at 28th Street and East River, belonging to the United Electric Light & Power Co. Another plant will be required to meet the requirements of this company when the city finally takes possession of this station.

Physical Condition.—Physically, the property, both gas and electric, was never in better condition than at present. V. 83, p. 1526.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Alabama Central Ry.—Receivership.—Chancellor W. L. Parks at Montgomery on Jan. 21, on application of General Manager M. C. Stokes, appointed Major Bradford Dunham receiver for the road extending from Booth's Station, Ala., to Autaugaville, 9 miles.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Purpose of Proposed New Issue of Stock or Bonds.—General Manager J. Hurley, in a statement made on Jan. 21 before the Kansas State Railroad Commission regarding the proposed authorization of $98,000,000 new stock or bonds, is quoted by the press dispatches as follows:

"The stockholder is entitled to the money he has invested and it is not proper for the company to take funds from its earnings to pay for additional improvements which were not contemplated when the stock was purchased.

"The company is planning to finish the double track from Kansas City to Chicago and ballast about 400 miles of track in Kansas. The company also intends to install a block-signal system on its double-track lines in Kansas from Kansas City to Newton, counting the Ottawa cut-off as a part of the double-track system in Kansas. Mr. Hurley said that one of the plans now under way is the construction of the cut-off from Texico, N. M., to Brownwood, Tex. This line is to be about 300 miles long, connecting with the Panhandle branch of the system, and when trains are started over the Belen cut-off all freight from California for southern points or for export for Galveston will be diverted over this route instead of being sent around Newton, Kan. The survey for the new line has been made and the company expects to begin construction in a short time.—V. 84, p. 101, 50.

Atlantic Coast Line RR.—Equipment Trust Notes Offered, —Brown Brothers & Co. and the Guaranty Trust Co., both of New York, are offering at prices to net the investor 5¼% per annum, $4,500,000 equipment trust 4% gold notes of $1,000 each (c*), dated March 1 1907 and maturing in 20 semi-annual installments of $225,000 each on Sept. 1 from Sept. 1 1907 to March 1 1917 inclusive; interest payable March 1 and Sept. 1. Safe Deposit & Trust Co. of Baltimore, trustee. A circular says:

These equipment notes are a direct obligation of the railroad company, and are secured by standard equipment consisting of 100 Baldwin locomotives, 2,500 steel under-frame box cars, 750 steel under-frame flat cars, and 50 passenger coaches, costing in the aggregate $5,000,000. The total issue of these notes amounts to $4,500,000, the balance, $500,000, to be paid in cash. Title to this equipment is retained by the trustee until the last installment of both principal and interest is paid.—V. 84, p. 101, 50.

Boston & New York Air Line RR.—Merger Approved.—The stockholders on Jan. 23 voted to merge the road with the New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—V. 82, p. 1210.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR.—Called Bonds.—The New England Trust Co. of Boston will pay at par on Feb. 1 Denver extension 4% bonds due Feb. 1 1922 to the following amounts, viz.: $108,000 in $1,000 bonds and $1,700 in $100 bonds.—V. 83, p. 1590, 1523.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.—Pacific Extension.—A map showing the Pacific extension of the St. Paul will be found in our "Railway and Industrial' Section, issued today.

Chairman Roswell Miller says: "The line will be 150 miles shorter from Chicago to Seattle than the Northern Pacific, and about 80 miles shorter than the Great Northern. Over the mountains the grades will be from 1.66% to 1.8% compensated. The Northern Pacific grades are in all cases 2.2%, and many of them are not compensated, and therefore average as high as 2.4%. Aside from mountain grades, the St. Paul road has a much lower grade than the Northern Pacific and the mountain grades are so bunched that they will not impede traffic.

"The extension is compelled to run along the Northern Pacific for a considerable distance, and to cross the Northern Pacific several times by reason of the physical conditions. This, however, does not apply to much territory which produces a large business, and therefore the competition will not be severe.

"The estimated cost of the extension will be $40,000 a mile for the main line, which includes equipment, and $30,000 a mile for branches. This contemplates a strictly first class road in all respects. It is expected to have the road in operation to Butte, Mont., by the end of 1907 and the entire line in about three years."—V. 84, p. 101, 50.

Chicago Cincinnati & Louisville RR.—Through Trains to Chicago.—Through connection to Chicago, it is expected, will be completed within two or three weeks. A technical paper recently said:

The line is complete from Cincinnati to within 1,400 feet of Chicago Junction, two miles west of Hammond, Ind. Trains will run over the Chicago Junction Ry. into Chicago. Three regular trains, with sleeping car service, will then be run each day between Chicago and Cincinnati each way. Compare V. 81, p. 1722.—V. 82, p. 750.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $1,500,000 additional refunding and extension mortgage 4% bonds of 1934, making the total listed $45,842,000, and has authorized the listing of a further $8,500,000 from time to time before March 1 1907, on official notice that they have been sold, making the total authorized to be listed $54,342,000.

The bonds just listed and authorized to be listed include all except $1,250,000 of the bonds which the company in January 1906 reported to the New York Stock Exchange had been issued up to that time, but were unsold, and in addition $2,500,000 since issued for improvements and additions. There have also been issued since January 1906, but have not been sold or listed, $5,900,000 additional bonds to reimburse the company for acquisitions of new property in the shape of $5,605,000 4½% equipment gold bonds series "B" bonds of the Rock Island Improvement Co. (compare V. 83, p. 1227-28) and $70,000 to retire Choctaw Oklahoma & Gulf equipment bonds. These amounts, together with the $1,250,000 above referred to as unissued (being the balance of the $6,500,000 issuable against Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern firsts due June 1 1906), make, with the bonds listed and authorized to be listed, the total of $61,562,000 which the company, under date of Jan. 14 1907 speaks of as "issued." Included in this last total, however, are the $11,250,000 pledged to secure the $7,500,000 4½% notes due July 1 1907.

Issuance of $54,342,000 Refunding and Extension 4s Listed and Authorized to be Listed.

Chicago Subway Co.—Sale of Telephone Equipment by Subsidiary—Rental for Telephones.—See Illinois Tunnel Co. in last week's "Chronicle" under "Industrials."—V. 84, p. 162.

Chicago & Western Indiana RR.—Guaranteed Notes Offered.—Lee, Higginson & Co., Boston; Clark, Dodge & Co., New York, and the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago (the trustee for the issue), offered this week at 98 and interest, and quickly sold, two blocks, together aggregating $8,000,000, of 3-year 5% collateral trust gold notes dated Feb. 1 1907 and due Feb. 1 1910, but subject to call at par and interest on any interest day. Interest payable Feb. 1 and Aug. 1. These notes are in denomination of $1,000, $10,000 and $50,000, and are secured by deposit of $10,000,000 consolidated mortgage 50-year gold 4% bonds due July 1 1952, which, by the terms of a lease for 999 years, are substantially guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Chicago & Eastern Illinois RR. Co., Wabash RR. Co., Grand Trunk Western Ry. Co., Chicago & Erie RR. Co. and Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville Ry. Co.—V. 83, p. 1228.

Colorado & Southern Ry.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $10,000,000 "refunding and extension" bonds of 1935, being the first lot issued under the $100,000,000 mortgage authorized in 1905.

Income Account of Company for Four Months ending Oct. 31 1906.

Denver City Tramway.—Franchise Sustained.—District Judge Allen on Jan. 14 dismissed the quo warranto proceedings brought to test the validity of the franchise granted at the city election on May 15 last. The decision was based on that of Judge Palmer in the case of the Denver Gas & Electric Co. (V. 83, p. 1526), the same papers and evidence having been used in both cases.—V. 82, p. 1437.

Duluth Missabe & Northern Ry.—Called Bonds.—First consolidated mortgage bonds dated Jan. 1 1893, to the amount of $111,000, have been drawn, and will be paid by the Central Trust Co. on Feb. 1 1907 at 105% and interest—say $1,055 per bond.—V. 82, p. 1101.

Grand Rapids (Mich.) Railway.—New Director.—Jacob Kleinhaus of Grand Rapids has been elected a director, succeeding A. Hodenpyl of New York.—V. 83, p. 1228.

Great Northern Ry.—Stock Issue Enjoined.—Judge Oscar Hallam in the Ramsey County District Court on Jan. 23, in the action brought by Attorney-General Young (V. 83, p. 1590,) made an order enjoining the company from issuing the proposed $60,000,000 of additional stock, or any part thereof, during the pending litigation, without first applying in writing therefor to the Minnesota Railroad & Warehouse Commission, and securing its approval, as provided by the revised laws of Minnesota.

The company's attorneys claimed that under its original charter it could issue stock at will, and that the law granting this power to the Commission (revised laws of 1905, originally enacted as Chapter 265 of the general laws of 1887) is unconstitutional. The court says that the State concedes that under the general laws the defendant may lawfully increase its stock subject to the regulation mentioned; that the injunction was asked to compel the company to submit to this regulation, which it does not propose to do, and that therefore there is but one issue raised, the ultimate right of the company to make the proposed issue of stock not being involved in the suit.

The State Supreme Court has set the hearing of the appeal for Feb. 9.

New Suit.—Attorney-General Young yesterday filed suit in the Supreme Court at St. Paul against the St. Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba RR. asking forfeiture of its charter.

Again Postponed.—Owing to the above decision, the company has again postponed the closing of the transfer books for the purposes of the new issue of stock and the time limit for the filing of subscriptions, this time until 3 p. m., Feb. 25. The time for filing assignments has been postponed until 3 p. m., Feb. 28, and the time for making the first and second payments has been postponed until March 4. Compare V. 83, p. 1469, 1590; V. 84, p. 51, 102, 158.

Green Bay & Western RR.—Plan Withdrawn.—The proposed financial reorganization plan issued last October (V. 83, p. 969) has been withdrawn, and the bonds deposited under the agreement made in connection with the issuance of the plan have been returned to the holders. Jefferson M. Levy, one of the committee, in whose absence abroad the plan was made public, has, it is stated, always opposed a readjustment, but has favored keeping the committee intact as a protective committee merely, as originally contemplated, to insure concerted action in the interest of the B debenture holders. The bonds deposited under the earlier agreement, constituting the larger part of the bonds deposited with the committee for protective purposes, are still in its control.

Dividends.—The usual dividends of 5% each on the $2,500,000 stock and $600,000 "A" debentures have been declared, payable Feb. 1 to holders of record Jan. 28. The same amounts were paid in the two preceding years.—V. 83, p. 1037.

Hudson & Manhattan RR.—Operation to Begin Sept. 1907. The company announces that it is expected on or about Sept. 1 next to operate the portion of the system extending from 14th Street and Sixth Avenue, this city, to Hoboken, N. J., using both tunnels under the Hudson River. The road from 14th Street north to the northerly terminus at 33d Street will not be ready for some time after the date named.—V. 84, p. 51.

Illinois Central RR.—New General Manager.—Frank B. Harriman has been appointed General Manager, succeeding I. G. Rawn.—V. 84, p. 102, 51.

Interborough-Metropolitan Co.—Mr. Shonts President—New Officers.—The company on Wednesday issued a statement, saying:

The Interborough-Metropolitan Co. has secured, with the consent of President Roosevelt, the services of Mr. T. P. Shonts, who will come to New York and take the presidency of the Interborough-Metropolitan Co., assuming charge of the whole subject of transportation now covered and to be covered by the constituent companies of the system. Mr. Shonts will for the present give such attention to the work as his time will permit, and after the 4th of March, when the President will definitely release him, he will come to New York and take up his active duties.

The following changes in officers are also announced:

August Belmont and E. P. Bryan have been elected Chairman of the board and President, respectively, of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., Mr. Bryan and Mr. H. H. Vreeland thus continuing to be the chief operating officers in charge of the two principal companies. John B. McDonald has been chosen Vice-President of the Interborough-Metropolitan Co. to have general supervision of the construction of new subways.

Increase in Wages.—The directors of the Interborough-Rapid Transit Co. on Wednesday ordered a voluntary increase of wages to go into effect Feb. 1, affecting, it is said, about 10,000 employees of the elevated and subway lines, and adding $400,000 to the yearly pay-roll. The increase includes all important classes of workmen except the motormen, who receive $3 50 a day for between 8½ and 9½ hours' work. The percentage of increase varies from a small amount up to about 16%, the number of hours of work not being changed.—V. 83, p. 1470.

Inter-State Railways, Philadelphia.—Purchase.—The purchase of the Philadelphia Bristol & Trenton Traction Co., it is announced, has been consummated, and the operation of the road by the Inter-State will begin on Feb. 1. See V. 83, p. 687.

Lexington (Ky.) & Interurban Railways.—Preferred Stock Authorized.—By vote of the shareholders at a meeting held on Jan. 7 the charter has been amended so as to permit the issue at the discretion of the board of $1,000,000 8% preferred stock, cumulative from Jan. 1 1908, with preference as to assets in case of liquidation, subject to redemption at company's option after three years at $60 per share (par $50) and accrued interest, and convertible at option of holder, share for share, for common stock. Of such preferred stock 10,000 shares of the par value of $500,000 shall not be issued or sold at a price less than $55 per share.

The issue of $500,000 of said preferred stock has been authorized by the board of directors.—V. 82, p. 1380.

Manila Electric Railroad & Lighting Corporation.—Guaranteed Bonds Offered.—See Manila Suburban Railways below.—V. 84, p. 102.

Manila Suburban Railways.—Bonds Offered.—Rosen, Stillman & Co., 30 Pine St., New York, are offering, at 92½ and interest by advertisement on another page, a block of this company's present issue of $500,000 first mortgage 5% 40-year sinking fund gold bonds, of $1,000 each (c*), guaranteed unconditionally as to principal and interest by the Manila Electric Railroad & Lighting Corporation (V. 82, p. 218; V. 84, p. 102). These bonds are dated Sept. 1 1906 and due Sept. 1 1946, but are subject to redemption on any interest date after Sept. 1 1928, and to purchase for sinking fund on and after Sept. 1 1911, at not to exceed 105 and interest, at which price bonds can be drawn by lot. Interest payable March 1 and Sept. 1. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin in New York City. New York Trust Co., trustee. Limit of authorized issue, $2,500,000. The advertisement says:

The company has been organized with a capital stock of $500,000 by the Manila Electric Railroad & Lighting Corporation, which controls absolutely the street railway, light and power system of the city of Manila, to construct and operate suburban railway lines connecting with its present system and to furnish electric-lighting and power facilities in the tributary territory. All of the capital stock is owned by the Manila Electric Railroad & Lighting Corporation, which has entered into an agreement to guarantee both the principal and interest of the bond issue. The bonds now issued are secured by a first mortgage on the electric railway connecting Manila with Fort William McKinley, the United States Government reservation, and the city of Pasig. The population of the city of Manila is estimated at about 300,000, and the population of the territory reached by the new line is estimated at over 40,000.

Earnings of Manila Electric Railroad & Lighting Corporation, the Guarantor of these Bonds.

Year—	Gross.	Net.	Fixed Charges.	Balance, Surplus
1905 (actual)	723,526	354,670	195,109	159,561

These surplus earnings are applicable to payment of interest on the bonds now offered, and are in excess of eight times the annual interest charge. In addition it is estimated that the net earnings of the new line upon completion will amount to $50,000 per annum—or twice the interest charge.

Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railway Co., Chicago.—Dividends Resumed.—The directors have declared a quarterly dividend of ¾ of 1% on the $8,708,000 preferred stock, payable March 30 to holders of record March 21. The last dividend was 1½%, paid Feb. 28 1903.—V. 83, p. 818.

Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Co.—Action on New Securities Postponed.—The annual meetings of the company and of its subsidiary, the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Co., were adjourned on Jan. 21 to Feb. 4, at which time the stockholders will consider the propositions to increase the stock and issue a refunding and extension mortgage of the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Co. See V. 84, p. 102.

Missouri Pacific Ry.—New Rolling Stock.—The company, it is reported, has placed orders for 6,500 or 7,500 new freight cars, box cars and gondolas.—V. 84, p. 159.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—Amount of Notes Outstanding.—A press report from New Haven states that the company has finally made known the total amount of short-term notes outstanding, which is $26,000,000.

Norfolk & Western Ry.—New Director.—Joseph Wood has been elected a director in place of James McCrea (now President of the Pennsylvania RR.), whom he recently succeeded as Vice-President of the Pennsylvania Company.—V. 83, p. 1471.

Northern Ohio Traction & Light Co.—Report for year:

Results for Calendar Years, Including in both cases the Properties Purchased in 1906.

Year—	Gross.	Net.	Charges.	Bal., Sur.
1906	$1,703,340	$696,498	$483,174	$213,324

Northwestern Pacific RR., California.—Bond Issue.—The shareholders of this recent consolidation will meet at the company's office at 870 Market St., San Francisco, on March 12 to vote on making an issue of $35,000,000 mortgage gold bonds, of which a portion is to be used in retiring the existing bonded indebtedness. J. I. Willcutt is Secretary. The directors include William Hood, Chief Engineer of the Southern Pacific Company (giving that company a majority of the board), in addition to the men named in V. 84, p. 103.

Northern Pacific Ry.—Payments on Subscriptions to New Stock May Be Anticipated.—J. P. Morgan & Co. have been authorized to accept prepayment of any installment due on subscriptions to new stock up to and including installment due Oct. 1 1907, allowing a discount at rate of 4% per annum computed from date of prepayment to the due date of installment prepaid, provided prepayment of any such installment shall be received only on Feb. 1, April 1 or July 1 1907. Compare V. 83, p. 1471, 1524.—V. 84, p. 103.

Pennsylvania RR.—Exchange of Stock.—See Philadelphia & Erie RR., below.

Car Trusts Authorized but Not to Be Issued at Present.—It appears that the company last year authorized the organization of a new car trust to be known as the "Pennsylvania Freight Equipment Trust," for an amount not exceeding $100,000,000, to be issued from time to time in series of $1,000,000 each as the company's requirements may make desirable on account of new equipment. The trust deed was filed last week, the Fidelity Trust Co. of Philadelphia being the trustee, but no new car trusts, it is stated, are to be issued at present, and none may be issued for the next three or four years. Some car trust leases were also filed last week but these applied to the "Pennsylvania Steel Equipment Improvement Trust," limited to $10,000,000, under which at last accounts no car trusts had been sold, and also apparently to supplementary leases applying to the Pennsylvania Steel Rolling Stock Trust, securing $10,000,000 certificates, and long since sold, and partially paid off.

New Director.—Chas. E. Ingersoll, of the law firm of Gowen, Hood & Ingersoll, of Philadelphia, has been elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of President A J. Cassatt.

Authorized to List.—The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the listing from time to time after Feb. 1 of $4,485,200 additional capital stock as issued from time to time in exchange for Philadelphia & Erie common stock, making the total amount authorized to be listed $312,112,900. See Philadelphia & Erie below.—V. 84, p. 159.

Philadelphia & Erie RR.—Circular as to Exchange of Stock.—A circular letter mailed on Jan. 14 by the Pennsylvania RR., requests the minority stockholders of the Philadelphia & Erie who desire to exchange their stock, dollar for dollar, for stock of the Pennsylvania RR. to deposit their certificates with the Treasurer of that company in Philadelphia on or before Jan. 31 in exchange for negotiable receipts, which, on or about Feb. 1, will be exchanged for Pennsylvania stock certificates carrying the dividend to be declared next May. The circular says in part:

The Pennsylvania RR. is the owner of over three-fourths of the capital stock of the Philadelphia & Erie RR. Co., whose road has been operated as a part of the Pennsylvania RR. system since 1862. Large expenditures are necessary upon that property in completing the double track, constructing sidings, providing extensive additions to shop facilities, improving its grade alignment and furnishing the large terminal yards necessary to take care of its business. This cannot be done by the Philadelphia & Erie RR. Co. without either increasing its capital account, which is already disproportionately large, or applying its surplus income toward the expenditures referred to.

In view of these facts, and believing that greater economy and convenience in operation can be secured thereby, it is deemed advisable that the Philadelphia & Erie RR. should become an integral part of the Pennsylvania RR. The Pennsylvania RR. Co. therefore proposes to acquire the franchises and corporate property of the Philadelphia & Erie RR. Co., but before taking the legal steps necessary for such acquisition it offers to purchase the outstanding stock on the basis of delivering one share of its own stock for each share of the Philadelphia & Erie.

To Authorize Sale.—The shareholders will meet Feb. 11 to vote on an agreement between the company and the Pennsylvania RR. Co. "for the sale to and acquisition by the latter company of all the franchises, corporate property, rights and credits of the Philadelphia & Erie RR."

Earnings.—For 10 months ending Oct. 31:

10 Mos.	Gross.	Net.	Other Income.	Charges.	Bal., Sur.
1906	$6,884,489	$1,862,997	$97,415	$1,138,799	$821,613

Note.—Charges here include: Interest on bonds, $849,292; interest on equipment used, $143,653; taxes, $138,725; maintenance of organization, $7,129. The annual dividend charge on special stock amounts to $168,000; on common stock (6%), $479,100; total, $647,100 per annum, or $539,250 for ten months.—V. 84, p. 159, 103.

Pittsburgh McKeesport & Greensburg (Electric) Ry.—Dividend Probably to be Deferred.—Director E. C. Lockwood of Pittsburgh writes: "No action has been taken regarding a dividend; it will probably be deferred for six months." Compare V. 83, p. 1525.

Reading Co.—Application to List.—The New York Stock Exchange has been requested to list $1,500,000 additional general mortgage 4% bonds of 1997, making the total listed $71,830,000.—V. 83, p. 1412.

Santa Fe Liberal & Englewood RR.—Bonds Offered on New Project.—E. D. Shepard & Co., New York, Boston, Philadelphia and London, are offering at 101½ and interest a block of first mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each, dated July 1 1906 and due July 1 1936, without option of earlier redemption. United States Mortgage & Trust Co. of New York, trustee. The bond issue of $8,000,000 is a "closed first lien" on a proposed line of railroad of 321 miles, from Des Moines, New Mexico, to Englewood, Kansas, and Woodward, Oklahoma. The mortgage will also cover, it is stated, 16 locomotives, 6 combination baggage and passenger coaches, 12 standard coaches and 2,380 freight cars. Construction of the line is now under way.

A circular says in part:

The entire mileage will be equipped with new 85-lb. steel rails, ties and bridges of the best zinc-treated material; maximum grade of only slightly over ½ of 1%.

The company has leased for a period of 99 years the Santa Fe Raton & Des Moines RR. and the Santa Fe & Eastern RR.

[These leased lines are described as follows:

Description of Leased Lines.

Line of Road—	Miles.	Outstanding Bonds.
Santa Fe Raton & Eastern RR. (In operation)—
From Raton, N. M., on the A. T. & S. Fe Ry. to Yankee, N. M., 12 miles, and coal branches, 4 miles	16	300,000
Santa Fe Raton & Des Moines RR. (building)—
From Carlsbrook on the S. Fe Raton & Eastern, easterly to Des Moines on the Colorado & Southern Ry. and the proposed line of Santa Fe Liberal & Englewood RR.	40	1,000,000

The road through its leased lines will connect with the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe System at Raton, while at Des Moines it will connect with the Colorado & Southern RR.; at Hooker, near Liberal, Kansas, with the Rock Island system; at Englewood with the Atchison again, and at Woodward, for the third time, it crosses the same system, and will thence make connections with Oklahoma and Guthrie, through which points several trunk lines pass. The road is exempt from taxation for six years.

The indenture of trust requires that each year the railroad must set aside as a sinking fund one-half of its surplus earnings and with this money repurchase its bonds for cancellation, provided they can be had at a price not higher than would be equivalent to a 4% basis for the bonds.

From Woodward, Okla., to Guthrie and Oklahoma City, 220 miles, a road is projected by the same interests under title of the Canadian River Railway, and it is currently reported that the allied lines may be eventually consolidated as a single road, subject to $14,800,000 of 5% 30-year bonds. As to the Yankee Coal Co., see that company under "Industrials" below.—V. 83, p. 891.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—Extension of Bonds.—The announcement, attributed to S. Davies Warfield, President of the Continental Trust Co. of Baltimore, that a syndicate of bankers, mostly of Baltimore, had been completed to underwrite the extension of the $4,665,000 3-year collateral trust and general lien 5% bonds maturing March 1 1907, until May 1 1911, when the $10,000,000 10-year collateral trust 5s fall due, could not be confirmed yesterday up to the time of going to press.

It is reported that those consenting to the extension will receive $20 or $25 in cash, making the new bonds pay somewhat over 5%, the syndicate taking up all the old bonds which the holders wish to surrender for cash at maturity.—V. 84, p. 104.

Southern Ry.—Notes Sold.—The company has sold to J. P. Morgan & Co. $15,000,000 3-year 5% gold debenture notes to reimburse the treasury for cash heretofore expended or to be expended under existing contracts for the construction and acquisition of additional tracks, equipment and other facilities upon the existing property of the company to enable it to handle economically the large volume of traffic now offered and expected, and to pay for new properties heretofore acquired. All of these expenditures will be ultimately provided for by the issue and sale of developmens and general mortgage bonds which have been provided fot such purposes. The notes have all been re-sold to variour banking houses and are now being offered at 97 and interest.

The notes are dated Feb. 1 1907, interest payable February and August, and are due Feb. 1 1910 without option of prior redemption. Denomination of coupon notes, $1,000, $5,000 and multiples thereof, convertible into registered notes in lots of not less than $5,000. See official statement as to company's needs, V. 84, p. 159.

Southern Electric Securities Co.—Suit.—James D. Thames, District Attorney, last week instituted actions in the Chancery Court of Warren County, Mississippi, against the company, the Inter-State Trust & Banking Co. of New Orleans, and about twenty other defendants, charging them with violation of the anti-trust laws of the State. The controlling interests having been enjoined in the litigation from voting for officers of the Vicksburg Railway & Light Co., which was to have been held on Jan. 14, the minority interests, representing $124,800 of the $500,000 stock on that day voted for a new board of directors and officers, whose election is claimed by them to be legal.

It is charged that the defendants have formed a voting pool or trust to control the stock of the Vicksburg Railway & Light Co. and other corporations. It is requested that the penalties provided by the anti-trust law be imposed. If the maximum penalties should be imposed on the various defendants, the total, it is reported, would aggregate about $11,000,000. —V. 83, p. 39.

Staten Island Midland Ry.—Reorganized Company.—This company was incorporated in Albany on Jan. 16 with $1,000,000 authorized capital stock, all common, as a reorganization of the Staten Island Midland Railroad Co., sold under sequestration proceedings Jan. 3. The bonds of the old company remain outstanding. See page 99 of "Street Railway" section.—V. 69, p. 182

Steuben Traction Co. of Hornell.—Consolidation.—This company was incorporated at Albany on Dec. 31 with $370,000 capital stock as a consolidation of the Hornellsville Electric Ry. Co., Hornellsville & Canisteo Ry. Co., Canisteo Valley Ry. and the Canisteo Jasper & Woodhull Ry. Co. The directors are: Charles Adsit of Hornell; J. W. Powell of Canisteo, and L. D. Whiting of Jasper.

On Jan. 18 the New York State Railroad Commission authorized the company to make a mortgage for $500,000 and to increase the capital stock from $370,000 to $630,000. It is proposed to build to Jasper, Steuben County.

Tehuantepec National Ry.—Formally Opened.—The road, extending from Zoatzacoalcos to Salina Cruz, was formally opened for operation by President Diaz of Mexico on Jan. 23. See V. 83, p. 1591, 1230.

Union Pacific RR.—Mortgage Satisfied.—Press dispatches from Topeka, Kan., announce that the $100,000,000 collateral trust mortgage of 1901 has been satisfied of record.—V. 84, p. 104, 52.

Vicksburg (Miss.) Railway & Light Co.—Litigation, &c.—See Southern Electric Securities Co. above.

Suits were filed against the company on Jan. 16 in the Circuit Court at Vicksburg on claims aggregating $39,000, based on promissory notes and bonds of the company held by one of the plaintiffs.—V. 79, p. 105.

Wabash RR.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $13,718,900 additional preferred and $13,718,900 additional common stock, making the total amounts listed $37,718,900 and $51,718,900 respectively; and has authorized the listing of a further $2,781,100 preferred and $2,781,100 common from time to time, upon notice of issue in exchange for debenture mortgage bonds, Series A and B, making the total amount authorized to be listed $40,500,000 preferred and $54,500,000 common stock. Compare V. 83, p. 626, 1099; V. 84, p. 52.

The company states that on Jan. 7 debenture mortgage bonds in the following amounts, deposited for exchange under the terms of the plan, were delivered to and pledged with the Bowling Green Trust Co., as trustee of the new mortgage.

Wages.—Settlement with Locomotive Engineers.—The "Railway Age" of Jan. 19 says:

After the extended conferences between railway managers and representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers over questions of wages and hours, a settlement was reached at Chicago this week which will add several million dollars to the pay rolls. The territory covered by the settlement includes all the railways west of a line taking in Fort William, Can., St. Paul, Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans, west to the Pacific Coast and south to the Mexican border. and the terms of the agreement are summarized (in part) as follows:

Freight engineers receive a flat increase of 40 cents a day of ten hours or less, 100 miles or less constituting a "run." Over-time pro rata.

In work train and helper service, wages will remain the same, but the hours are reduced from 12 to 10 per day.

In passenger service, engineers on engines having cylinders under 18 inches in diameter receive $3 75 per day of 100 miles or less; on engines having larger cylinders $4 per day of 100 miles or less.

In arriving at the settlement, the engineers finally surrendered their contention for an 8-hour day basis.

"The railways will next be called upon to consider the demands of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, including conductors and brakemen, for increased wages, with the 8-hour day for through freight runs as the principal contention." —V. 76, p. 1194, 974.

Washington Water Power Co., Spokane, Wash.—New Stock.—The shareholders will vote March 4 on increasing the authorized capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to provide for improvements and additions, including, it is said:

At least 50,000 h. p. to the company's present water power development, making in all a total of 70,000 h. p. in Spokane; a 15,000 h. p. plant at Post Falls, Ida., and a steam auxiliary plant near Ross Park to develop 6,000 h. p. with a maximum capacity of 30,000 h. p. Part of the power will be transmitted to the Coeur d'Alene mining district through Fourth of July Canyon, practically duplicating the transmission line now running into the mining district, the rest being used for lighting purposes and operating street and interurban lines.—V. 82, p. 753.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

American Coal Co.—Sale of George's Creek & Cumberland.—See Western Maryland RR. in last week's "Chronicle."—V. 80, p. 653.

American Cotton Co. (Round Bale).—Successor Company.—The reorganization plan recently announced (V. 83, p. 1592), it is stated, has been well received, 90% of the securities of the new company having been disposed of. The successor company was incorporated at Albany on Dec. 26 with nominal ($6,000) capital stock under title of American Round Bale Press Co. The property of the Georgia Cotton Products Co., one of the subsidiary companies (see list, with number number of plants, &c., in V. 79, p. 787) is advertised to be sold at receivers' sale on Feb. 5.—V. 83, p. 1592.

American District Telegraph Co. of New York.—Report.—The results for the year ending Dec. 31 were:

—V. 82, p. 1435.

American Gas & Electric Co., New York.—In Possession.—This new corporation, controlled by the Electric Bond & Share Co. of New York (whose entire common stock (V. 81, p. 510) is owned by the General Electric Co.), has taken over from the Electric Company of America (per plan in V. 83, p. 1473, 1593) all its property, consisting of stocks and bonds of subsidiary companies, giving in payment therefor $6,282,000 99-year 5% collateral trust bonds, secured by the pledge of the property sold, together with the deposit of $1,000,000 in cash, the latter to be used as a fund for betterments and additions to subsidiary companies whose stocks are pledged to secure the collateral trust bonds. The new bonds and stocks are described on page 160 of our "Railway and Industrial" section issued to-day.

Officers.—The officers and directors are:

Officers.—S. Z. Mitchell, Chairman; Henry L. Doherty, President; R. E. Breed and H. T. Hartman, Vice-Presidents; F. B. Ball, Secretary and Treasurer; A. E. Smith, Asst. Sec. and Asst. Treas.

Directors.—Harrison Williams, A. W. Burchard, A. M. Young, A. W. Paige, H. H. Dean, J. D. Mortimer, W. E. Hitchcock, A. Louden Snowden, George Breed, John H. Catherwood, Robert B. Hamilton and Messrs. Mitchell, Doherty and R. E. Breed.—V. 83, p. 1592, 1472.

American Pipe Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia.—Annual Report—Dividends.—This company, whose report for the fiscal year ending Dec. 24 is given under the heading "Annual Reports" on a preceding page, has long paid dividends at the rate of 12% per annum. The capital stock was recently increased from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000, but the January dividend, calling for $120,000, was paid on the former amount at the old rate. See V. 83, p. 273, 215.

American Smelting & Refining Co.—Called Bonds.—Ninety Omaha & Grant Smelting Co. first mortgage 6% bonds drawn for the sinking fund will be paid at the Central Trust Co. of New York on March 1 1907 at 105 and accrued interest.—V. 83, p. 1172, 632.

Atlantic Mutual Insurance Co.—Report.—The report of the trustees for the year ending Dec. 31 1906 will be found in our advertising columns. The company now has assets aggregating $12,797,824, of which $5,697,108 is in United States and State of New York stocks, city, bank and other securities; $833,774 is cash, $700,967 special deposits in banks and trust companies $1,191,975 premium notes and bills receivable and $4,374,000 in real estate. Compare V. 78, p. 285.

Interest Certificates Called.—Six per cent interest on the outstanding certificates of profits will be paid to the holders thereof Feb. 5. The outstanding certificates of the issue of 1901 will be paid on Feb. 5 next, from which date all interest thereon will cease. A dividend of 40% has been declared on the net earned premiums for the year ending Dec. 31 1906, for which certificates will be issued on and after May 7. The total marine premiums for the year were $3,772,434, including $582,192 not marked off Jan. 1 1906. —V. 82, p. 220.

Binghamton (N. Y.) Light, Heat & Power Co.—Dividends Begun on Common Stock.—The company, it is announced, has begun dividends on the $500,000 common stock with a declaration of 1½%, payable, with the regular semi-annual 3% on the preferred stock, on Jan. 15, to stockholders of record Dec. 31. Compare V. 83, p. 1592; V. 81, p. 1612; V. 75, p. 187.

British Columbia Copper Co.—New Stock.—The shareholders will vote Feb. 13 on increasing the authorized capital stock by 200,000 shares, par $5 each, making the total capital $3,000,000. Shareholders of record Feb. 20 may then subscribe for $580,800 of the new stock to the extent of 30% of their holdings, subscriptions to be paid $2 50 per share March 11 and $2 50 May 10 1907. Members of the board have agreed to take all the stock at par not subscribed for by the shareholders. Of the $2,000,000 stock at present authorized, $64,000 is in the treasury.—V. 78, p. 990.

British Columbia Packers' Association, Toronto.—Dividend.—A dividend of 7% has been declared on the $1,270,000 preferred stock, covering the period from Nov. 20 1904 to May 20 1905, payable Jan. 31 1906 to holders of record Jan. 21.—V. 83, p. 753.

British Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., Ltd.—Reduction of Capital Stock.—The shareholders at a special meeting held in London on Jan. 14 authorized a decrease in accordance with circular of Jan. 5 1907, which says in substance:

Owing to the development of the home electrical trade having been much slower than was anticipated, the scale of the works has so far proved to be too large, and since the works were designed there have been considerable changes in conditions of manufacture arising out of changes in types of apparatus. The directors therefore recommend a reduction in the capital to the extent of £1,375,000. Of this amount it is proposed to devote £1,083,816 13s. 6d. to the writing down of patents and good-will, works and equipment, material and stock in hand, &c., and to the provision of an adequate reserve in respect of developments, contracts and work in progress undertaken in previous years. It is proposed to devote the balance of £291,183 6s. 6d. to the extinction of the suspense account and of the balance at the debit of profit and loss account.

To meet the above reductions in the capital assets, the directors recommend that the share capital be reduced by writing off £2 per share from the 500,000 preference shares and £5 per share from the 75,000 ordinary shares. At the same time, the directors recommend that the rate of dividend should be increased as follows: on the preference shares from 6% to 10% and on the ordinary shares from 6% to 12%; the division of any surplus profits between the two classes remaining as at present, viz., ¼ thereof among the preference and ¾ among the ordinary shares. This would result in the preference shares being entitled to the same amount of preferential dividend as heretofore and the ordinary shares to the same amount of dividend as at present payable on them, before any division of surplus profits is made between the two classes of shares. In the event of liquidation the rights of the two classes of shares remain as at present, so that the preference shares shall first receive £5 per share before any distribution is made to the ordinary shares. The voting power will not be affected Compare V. 83, p. 320.

Calumet & Hecla Mining Co.—New Subsidiary.—See La Salle Copper Co. below.—V. 83, p. 438.

Central Home Telephone Co. of Louisville, Ky.—Purchase.—This company has purchased the Kentucky Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Winchester, Ky., for about $100,000.

Bonds Offered—Status.—The Thompson-Brown Co., Cincinnati, and Lemon & Walther, Pittsburgh and Providence, are offering for sale $110,000 25-year 5% gold bonds, denominations $100, $500 and $1,000, dated Jan. 1 1906 and due Jan. 1 1926; interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1. Coupons payable at Columbia Trust Company, trustee, Louisville, Ky., and at Bank of America, New York City. Capital stock authorized, $5,000,000; issued Nov. 1 1906, $2,891,300. Bonds authorized, $5,000,000; outstanding Nov. 1 1906, $1,278,000. The outstanding amounts of a later date are not available pending the closing of the books for the year. The bonds are offered at 95½ and interest, with a bonus of 25% in stock.

A circular issued late in 1906 says in substance:

Long-distance toll lines now owned and controlled by the company amount to 1,460 miles of pole line, comprising 4,380 circuit miles. These lines serve 264 exchange companies and nearly 100,000 telephones in Southern Ohio, Southern Indiana, Kentucky and Alabama, exclusive of its own 29 exchange companies and subscribers in these States, including Tennessee. Contracts have been closed for the construction of the long-distance line from South Bend, Ind., to Chicago, which will be completed by spring, giving the Central Home Telephone Co. direct communication from Birmingham, Ala., via Indianapolis, Ind., to Chicago. Plans have been consummated for the construction of the long-distance line from Birmingham to Mobile, Ala., where a new modern independent plant, costing several hundred thousand dollars, is in operation, and owned by those controlling the Central Home Telephone Co. Kansas City is now reached commercially by the company's lines via its Cairo, Ill., plant and St. Louis, Mo. The recent acquisition of the Cairo plant gives the Central Home Telephone Co. another entrance to Chicago and St. Louis over its own long-distance lines.

The company owns or controls the Independent Long-Distance Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Kentucky & Indiana, the Long-Distance Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Alabama, controlling the long-distance lines in Alabama and Tennessee, and the Central Home Telephone Co.'s lines in Kentucky and Illinois. The Central Home Telephone Co. also owns, controls and operates exchanges in the following States and places: (1) Indiana—Bloomington, Bedford, Seymour, Washington and Vincennes; (2) Kentucky—Maysville, Carlisle, Cynthiana, Paris, Hopkinsville, Owensboro, Paducah, Benton, Mayfield, Frankfort, Carrollton, Lawrenceburg, Guthrie, Marion, Salem, Providence, Clay, Winchester and Vanceburg; (3) Illinois—Cairo; (4) Alabama—Cullman and Decatur; (5) Tennessee—Clarksville and Springfield.

Within the past few weeks a company has been formed with a $15,000,000 capitalization to develop the telephone interest of the Illinois Tunnel Co. of Chicago, Ill., in which the officials of the Central Home Telephone Co. occupy important positions in office as well as directorate. [See Independent Telephone Co. of Chicago in V. 84, p. 162.—Ed.]

x Contracts have been made under which additional exchange companies will be absorbed on Jan. 1 1907. The estimated annual net earnings for 1907 cover all properties, based on present conditions. [The additional exchanges, which were taken over as expected, include the Home Telephone Co. of Cairo, Ill., with 900, and the Old Kentucky Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Winchester, Ky., with 1,600 telephones.—Ed.]

y Plans have been consummated for enlarging the properties and for extending the long-distance lines into fresh territory which will cost $646,400, and these are the estimated resultant annual net earnings on all properties after deducting maintenance, operation, taxes, insurance and all expenses except bond interest.

A circular issued several months ago before control was acquired of the Cairo plant and of the Long Distance Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Alabama and other properties gave further details as follows, but the total number of telephones operated by the several exchanges controlled is now reported as 17,530.

Long distance toll lines now owned and controlled amount to 850 miles of pole line, and serve 250 exchanges and 60,000 telephones in Kentucky and Southern Indiana. The 400 miles of pole line under course of construction will serve direct in Kentucky, Ohio and Southern Indiana 14 exchanges additional and 23,000 telephones additional.

Over 90% of the stock, as issued, is embraced in a 10 year voting trust whereby the voting power is vested in the Columbia Trust Company of Louisville, Ky., as voting trustee, to be voted in accordance with instructions of the committee of five, viz.: E. L. Barber, Wauseon, O.; Helm Bruce, Louisville, Ky.; G. W. Lewman, Louisville, Ky.; Col. J. D. Powers, Louisville, Ky., and J. C. Monteith, Bloomington, Ind.

Sinking fund of ½ of 1%, beginning July 1 1910; ¾ of 1% beginning July 1 1916; 2% beginning July 1 1921, continuing until maturity.

Colonial Telephone Co. of Newburg, N. Y.—Foreclosure Sale.—This company's property, it is stated, was recently bid in at foreclosure sale for $15,000 by Howard Hendrickson, President of Albany Home Telephone Co. The Union Trust Co. of New York was mortgage trustee.

Consolidated Gas Co., New York.—Report.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

New Trustees.—At the annual meeting Walter T. Bliss and Louis M. Greer were elected trustees in place of Thomas F. Ryan and Frank Tilford.—V. 83, p. 1526.

Consolidated Steamship Lines.—Merger Plan for Morse Lines.—It is now said that the proposed merger plan omits the Hudson Navigation Co., as not being engaged in the coastwise business. The share capital of the four other companies (V. 84, p. 53) aggregating $34,000,000, it is proposed, according to current reports, to exchange dollar for dollar for 4% bonds of the new company, with possibly a stock bonus.—V. 84, p. 53.

Consolidated Telegraph & Electrical Subway Co.—Decision.—See Long Acre Electric Light & Power Co. below.

See items under caption of Empire City Subway, V. 76, p. 268, and New York Gas & Electric Light, Heat & Power Co., V. 68, p. 773.

Copper Range Consolidated Co.—Not to Be Included—Merger Plans Doubtful.—President William A. Paine is quoted as saying: "The Copper Range Consolidated Co. will not enter into any consolidation or merger of other Lake Superior copper companies. It will continue in the future as it has been in the past, entirely independent." In Boston it is rumored that $150 per share in cash was asked for the controlling interest and refused. Doubt is expressed as to merger being concluded without the Copper Range Consolidated.—V. 84, p. 161.

Crucible Steel Co. of America.—Payment of Notes.—The last of the issue of $5,000,000 6% debenture bonds of 1903 was recently paid off and the Union Trust Co. of Pittsbrugh, it is stated, has this week been canceling the issue.—V. 83, p. 1526, 971.

Dayton (O.) Gas Light & Coke Co.—New Officers.—On Jan. 17 Robert R. Dickey, son of ex-President Dickey, was elected to succeed his father; W. K. Callahan was chosen Vice-President and W. B. Gebhart, Cashier of the City National Bank, was elected Secretary. A press dispatch says:

No action was taken on the discrepancies reported by expert Munster except to refer the matter to the Executive Committee. It is reported that this phase of the situation will be taken up later, as the deficiencies amounted to more than $189,000 in five years, $131,000 of which, it is claimed by the investigating committee, should be easily traceable, if spent for municipal or State legislation during the past two years. See V. 84, p. 162.

Electrical Development Co.—See Niagara Power Companies below.—V. 84, p. 53.

Great Northern Portland Cement Co.—Receiver's Certificates.—Judge Swan in the United States Court at Detroit has authorized the Michigan Trust Co. of Grand Rapids, as receiver, to issue $75,000 receivers' certificates and to start up the plant at Marlborough.—V. 83, p. 1350.

Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co., Ltd.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $10,308,100 capital stock, and has authorized the listing from time to time, but prior to July 1 1907, of $3,191,900 additional of said stock on official notice that it has been issued in exchange for outstanding $10 par value certificates, making the total amount authorized to be listed $13,500,000. Compare V. 83, p. 1349, 1095.

Home Telephone Co., Mobile, Ala.—New Stock.—This company, it is stated, has increased its authorized capital stock from $350,000 to $500,000. In April last the stockholders authorized an issue of $350,000 bonds. (Compare Central Home Telephone Co. of Louisville, above.)

Hudson Navigation Co.—Not Included in Merger Plan.—See Consolidated Steamship Lines Co. above.—V. 84, p. 162,

International Silver Co.—Injunction.—Vice-Chancellor Bergen has granted an injunction in the suit brought by Edward R. Thomas in May last preventing the banks with whom was pledged $8,010,500 of the common stock of the International Silver Co. from voting on the same.

The stock involved in the suit is part of the $9,068,400 common and $515,800 preferred stock of the International Silver Co. originally acquired by the U. S. Silver Corporation and at the time of the purchase of its entire stock by the International Company in Jan. 1903 in the treasury of the U. S. Silver Corporation. Compare V. 76, p. 106; V. 82, p. 1011. The court holds that the company was disqualified from voting on the stock; that the stock was not pledged as security, but simply to restore to it a voting power that the pledgees might exercise in the interest of the directors in office. The court says: "It was a palpable attempt to evade the law and to secure the benefit of the votes which the stock would represent in the hands of a duly qualified owner."—V. 82, p. 1044.

Iola (Kan.) Portland Cement Co.—Change in Control.—The control of this company has been purchased by a syndicate represented by S. H. G. Hamilton of Youngstown, O., including, it is said, St. Louis, Cleveland and Youngstown capitalists. One account states that the purchase price was par ($25 per share) for the common and 110 ($27 50 per share) for the preferred; another report says that drafts for $0,000,000 were received by the German Savings Bank at Davenport, Ia., for distribution among the shareholders. The new interests have elected either for the old, or a successor, corporation S. H. Bassett, President; J. A. Lewis, Vice-President, and J. W. Perry, Secretary and Treasurer, all of St. Louis. See V. 83, p. 1350.—V. 84, p. 162.

La Salle Copper Co.—New Subsidiary for Calumet & Hecla.—This company has been incorporated under the laws of Michigan with $10,000,000 capital stock, in shares of $25 each, to take over the control of the properties of the Tecumseh Copper Co., the La Salle and Caldwell companies (under option to Calumet & Hecla) and certain lands contributed by the Calumet & Hecla and the Sheldon estate. The Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. will own a majority of the capital stock and manage the enterprise. Of the 54,959 shares of $25 each of the Tecumseh Mining Co., over 48,000 shares, it is said, have been deposited with the Calumet & Hecla in exchange for the shares of the La Salle Copper Co. on the basis of four shares of new stock, total par value $100, for three shares of the Tecumseh, total par value $75. The Boston "Financial News" of Dec. 28 1906 said:

This company will have 400,000 shares of capital stock, par $25, full paid. There are to be 302,977 shares issued for the properties above referred to, leaving 97,023 shares in the treasury. The Calumet & Hecla will contribute $1,000,000 for treasury purposes and agrees to lend the company in addition $750,000 if needed. Stock control will rest with the Calumet & Hecla in return for land and cash contributed. The properties entering the consolidation are: Douglas and Sheldon estates, 400 acres La Salle (Association), 840 acres; Tecumseh, 560 acres; Caldwell, 560 acres; total, 2,360 acres. The new company's present mineral expectations are confined to the Kearsarge lode, which has been demonstrated by diamond drill on the Caldwell property, and by the shafts of the Tecumseh on the northern end of the combined property. [Compare report of Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. in V. 83, p. 209.]

The directors of the La Salle Company are Alexander Agassiz, Rudolphe L. Agassiz, Quincy A. Shaw Jr., Thomas L. Livermore and James MacNaughton.

Lawrence (Mass.) Gas Co.—Dividend Increase.—A press report announces the declaration of a semi-annual dividend of 4%, payable to stockholders of record Jan. 25, thus increasing the annual rate from 6% to 8%. See V. 83, p. 690.

Long Acre Electric Light & Power Co., New York.—Favorable Decision.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, First Department, by a vote of 3 to 2 (Justice Scott writing the prevailing opinion), on Jan. 19 affirmed the decision of Justice Dowling granting a peremptory mandamus to compel the Consolidated Telegraph & Electrical Subway Co., to permit the Long Acre Co. to use its conduits for a cable containing three conductors in its subway from No. 548 West 42d St. east to 7th Ave. and north to the Criterion Theatre, at 44th St. and Broadway. Compare Manhattan Transit Co. item, V. 83, p. 894.

The company claimed the right as successor to the American Electrical Manufacturing Co., the validity of whose franchise, which was granted in 1887, was disputed. The Court says: "If for any public reason there is a doubt as to the validity of the title, that question can be raised by the proper municipal authorities when application is made for a permit. If not then raised the question is of no concern to the respondent." The Long Acre Company, it is stated, is the only one not identified with the Consolidated Gas interests which has a franchise for furnishing electric light in Manhattan. The company's officials are quoted as claiming that the decision opens the way to competition in a broader field with the Consolidated interests, the suit being regarded as a test case.

Directors.—The directors include with others:

Edgar Van Etten, who will shortly become President; William J. Clark, General Manager of the General Electric Co.; William H. Lamprecht, of Lamprecht Bros., of Cleveland; G. Tracy Rogers, President of the Binghamton Railway Co.; William Harris, theatrical manager, and John C. Sheehan.—V. 76, p. 1358.

Mackay Companies.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $50,000,000 4% cumulative preferred stock and $41,380,400 common stock. The company's statement shows that, besides holding stock in a large number of telegraph and cable companies of the Commercial Cable-Postal Telegraph system, "it is the largest stockholder in the American (Bell) Telephone & Telegraph Co." and also owns stock in the following subsidiaries of that company (compare V. 82, p. 699.)

Bell Telephone Companies of Buffalo, Canada, Missouri and Philadelphia; Central District & Printing Telegraph Co., Pittsburgh; City & Suburban Telephone Co., Cincinnati; Colorado Telephone Co., Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co., Hudson River Telephone Co., Missouri & Kansas Telephone Co., Nebraska Telephone Co., New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co., Pennsylvania Telephone Co., Pioneer Telephone & Telegraph Co., Providence Telephone Co., Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Co., Southern New England Telephone Co., Western Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The Mackay Companies also owns stock in the following independent telephone companies: Citizens' Telephone Co. of Grand Rapids, Kansas City Home Telephone Co., Tri-State Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Youngstown (O.) Telephone Co.

Profit and Loss Account of Mackay Companies for 11½ Months Ending Jan. 15 1907.

Income from investments	$3,211,372
Deduct—Operating expenses	20,386
Dividends paid	2,985,874
Balance, surplus	$205,112

[The dividends as above include 4% on the preferred, or $1,744,462, and 3% on the common, $1,241,412; total, $2,985,874. The dividend rate on the common shares, theretofore 1% semi-annually in January and July, was in October last changed to 4% per annum, with the payment of a quarterly 1% on Oct. 1, making 3% in all for the calendar year 1906. —Ed.]—V. 84, p. 163.

Manhattan Transit Co.—Favorable Decision.—See Long Acre Electric Light & Power Co. above.—V. 83, p. 894.

Maine Steamship Co.—Reported Change in Control.—A press report from Portland, Me., states that the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. has bought control of this steamship line, plying between New York and Portland.—V. 83, p. 275.

Marion (O.) Manufacturing Co.—Bankruptcy.—At Toledo on Dec. 31 this company, manufacturer of threshing machines, filed a petition in bankruptcy. A press dispatch says: "The company, capitalized at $340,000, has $210,000 liabilities, with more than $400,000 assets." Compare V. 83, p. 1174.

Massachusetts Lighting Co., Boston.—Acquisition.—This company, it is announced, has purchased control of the Northampton (Mass.) Electric Lighting Co., which, it is said, has a capital stock of $117,400; surplus of $75,000; no bonds, and income for year ending June 30 1906 of, gross, $60,000; net, $29,000; dividend, 10% per annum.—V. 83, p. 99.

Montreal Steel Works.—Dividend.—The company, it is stated, paid early this month a dividend of 4½% on the common stock, making with the interim dividend of 2½% paid on the stock last summer 7% for present fiscal year.—Compare V. 83, p. 216, 972, 1174.

Montreal Water & Power Co.—Listed in London.—The London Stock Exchange has listed the £252,200 first mortgage 4% prior lien gold bonds of £100 each (Nos. 1 to 1,822 and 2,001 to 2,700 registered). See V. 78, p. 106.

National Supply Co., Toledo.—Stock Dividend.—This West Virginia corporation, which manufactures oil well and plumbers' supplies, its stock being listed on the Toledo Stock Exchange, has increased its capital stock from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 by the addition of $2,000,000 8% non-cumulative preferred stock, and will distribute the same as a 100% stock dividend for the purpose of dividing a portion of the accumulated surplus, provided the shareholders at their meeting on Feb. 13 approve.

The stockholders are requested to deposit their stock certificates with the Bankers' Trust Co., Wall Street, New York, on or before Jan. 26, receiving in exchange 100% of common stock and 100% of the new 8% non-cumulative preferred stock. The committee having the matter in charge consists of William Hardee, E. C. Converse, F. L. Potts, Arthur F. Luke and James H. Barr. The par value of the shares is $100 and dividends of 8% to 10% per annum have been paid, quarterly in January, &c. At last accounts $1,670,000 of the $2,000,000 stock was outstanding. Officers: William Hardee, President; W. C. Hillman, First Vice-President; J. H. Barr, Second Vice-President; E. B. King, Treasurer; T. W. Pratt, Secretary.

President William Hardee is quoted as saying: "Our policy has been to accumulate a surplus in order to increase our resources, and now that this surplus has passed the two-million mark, we have decided to give the stockholders the benefit of it. As will be seen, under our $4,000,000 capital we will still have a surplus of more than $300,000."

New England Gas & Oil Co., Boston, Mass.—Liquidation.—For record it should be stated that this company, having failed to make money out of its oil properties, voted last August to go into liquidation.—V. 80, p. 1734.

New York & New Jersey (Bell) Telephone Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the company's $18,930,500 capital stock and has authorized the listing of $6,310,100 new shares recently offered for subscription (V. 83, p. 1595) from time to time on official notification of issue, making the total authorized to be listed $25,240,600.

Earnings for Ten Months ending Oct. 31 1906.

Note.—The dividends, long 7% per annum (1½% quarterly and 1% extra in January), are expected to be 1¾% quarterly beginning April 15 1907. See V. 83, p. 1595.

Niagara Falls Power Co.—See Niagara Power Companies below.—V. 84, p. 163.

Niagara Power Companies.—Authorized to Import Power from Canada.—Secretary Taft on Jan. 19 issued permits for the importation of 160,000 electrical horse power, generated on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, into the United States, viz.:

Company—	Authorized.	Asked for.
International Railway Co	1,500 h. p.	8,000 h. p.
Ontario Power Co. (V. 82, p. 632)	60,000 h. p.	90,000 h. p.
Canadian Niagara Falls Power Co. (Niagara Falls Power Co.)	52,500 h. p.	121,500 h. p.
Electric Development Co. (V. 84, p. 53)	46,000 h. p.	62,500 h. p.

All these permits are revocable at pleasure, and, in the absence of further legislation by Congress, will expire on June 29 1909. The permit to the International Railway Co. will be held in reserve until a decision is made by the Canadian Government in a controversy between the company and the commissioners of Queen Victoria Park concerning the transmission of the power through the park. Compare V. 83, p. 159.

Ontario Power Co.—See Niagara Power Companies above.—V. 82, p. 632.

Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co.—Right to Subscribe to New Stock.—Stockholders of record Feb. 14 are offered the right to subscribe at $100 per share (par $50) for $1,000,000 new stock to the extent of one share for every four shares of their respective holdings, thus increasing the outstanding stock to $5,000,000. A circular says in substance:

On April 24 1901 the stockholders voted in favor of increasing the capital stock from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000. In June 1901 10,000 shares were issued at $100 per share, or $1,000,000. In March 1904 20,000 shares were issued at $7 per share, or $1,500,000, making the total issue to date 80,000 shares, par value $4,000,000. The $2,500,000 received for new stock was entirely absorbed in construction and improvements at the Philadelphia, Natrona and Wyandotte works, the aggregate expenditures amounting to over $3,000,000. The additional sum was appropriated from the surplus earnings after providing for dividends. All our statements as to the probable success of the new works have been fully confirmed.

To keep abreast of the times and to obtain the best possible results under existing industrial conditions, the directors have voted to make further extensions in the alumina, acid, copper and alkali departments, which, according to estimates, will require an expenditure of nearly $2,000,000. With this in view, the directors recommend that 20,000 shares of new stock be offered to the stockholders at $100 per share, payable 50% May 1 1907, 50% Nov. 1 1907. Scrip certificates will be issued, convertible into stock after Nov. 1 1907, and interest at 6% per annum to Oct. 1 1907 will be allowed on all amounts paid prior to that date. Stockholders may anticipate all payments if so desired. The new stock will commence to earn dividends from Oct. 15 1907 and will participate in the regular dividend April 15 1908.—V. 78, p. 1114.

People's Gas Light & Coke Co., Chicago.—6% Dividend Rate Restored.—The directors yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 1½%, restoring the annual dividend rate to a 6% basis, from which it was reduced to 5% in February 1906 in connection with a reduction in the price of gas. (V. 81, p. 1796; V. 82, p. 284).—V. 83, p. 1595.

Rock Island Improvement Co.—Bonds Pledged.—See Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry. under "Railroads" above and also in V. 83, p. 1227, 1228.

Springfield (O.) Light, Heat & Power Co.—Called Bonds.—Bonds of Jan. 1 1892 of the Springfield Light & Power Co., numbered 9, 43, 63 and 84, have been drawn for payment at 106 and interest at the Mercantile Trust Co. of Boston on Feb. 16.—V. 82, p. 222; V. 76, p. 1412; V. 80, p. 224.

Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Pittsburgh.—New Stock.—This New Jersey corporation has filed a certificate of increase of common stock from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000. The preferred stock (7% non-cumulative) remains $2,500,000. Par of shares, $100.—V. 82, p. 338.

Standard Underground Cable Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.—Stock Dividend, &c.—The shareholders on Jan. 22 authorized an increase in the capital stock from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000, of which $500,000 is to be issued as a stock dividend of 25% and "a portion" of the remainder for the establishment of a profit-sharing plan for "a limited number of leading employees."

The annual report for 1906 showed gross business for the year amounting to "upwards of $20,000,000." The company was incorporated in 1889. See V. 84, p. 54.

United Bank Note Corporation.—New Office Building.—This company's subsidiary, the American Bank Note Co., has let the general contract for the erection of the new office building, which is to be built at Nos. 70 to 72 Broad St., New York, at a cost of about $300,000.—V. 83, p. 1102.

United Electric Securities Co., Boston.—Called Bonds.—The American Loan & Trust Co. of Boston, trustee, has called for redemption at 103 and interest on Feb. 1 1907 all of the outstanding 14th series collateral trust 5% bonds.—V. 81, p. 513.

United States Carbonate Co.—See editorial "Liability of Trust Company," &c., on a preceding page.—V. 75, p. 736.

United States Rubber Co.—Advance in Prices Subject to Further Change.—The company's new price list, made public last week, advances prices 5% over last year, but instead of being fixed for the entire year they are made "subject to change without notice."—V. 84, p. 54.

Western Canada Land Co., Ltd.—Listed in London.—The London Stock Exchange has listed 150,000 vendors, shares of £1 each, fully paid. Compare V. 82, p. 457.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—Reduction of Stock by Subsidiary.—See British Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. above.—V. 83, p. 1361, 1234.

Yankee Fuel Co.—Mortgage.—The company, incorporated in Colorado in 1906 with $5,000,000 capital stock, all of one class, and all issued, full paid, has made a mortgage to the United States Mortgage & Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $2,500,000 first mortgage 5% sinking fund gold bonds (denominations $1,000 each c*&r), dated Oct. 1 1906, due Oct. 1 1926, but subject to call at 110 and interest by a sinking fund described below. The bonds are offered by E. D. Shepard & Co. of New York.

The bonds have an annual sinking fund beginning 1911 of 10 cents per ton of coal of 2,000 lbs. mined, and in addition one half of the net annual surplus, the proceeds to be invested in bonds at not over 110 and interest if not purchasable, the bonds may be drawn by lot at the same price, all bonds acquired, whether purchased or drawn, to be cancelled. The bonds, it is stated, are secured by an absolute first lien on 11,384.70 acres owned in fee at Yankee, New Mexico, on the Santa Fe Raton & Eastern RR., part of the Santa Fe Liberal & Englewood RR. system (see item under that caption under "Railroads" above), also by coal rights in 16,373.11 acres; 10 year lease on 1,670.90 acres, and all equipment of the mines, including town-site improvements, the latter being estimated to be worth $1,556,316.

—William C. Ashwell, senior member of the New York Stock Exchange house of Ashwell & Co., at 30 Broad Street, was killed last Monday while boarding a trolley car uptown. Herbert H. Knox, his business partner, has organized the new firm of Herbert H. Knox & Co. at the same address to continue the old concern's business. Samuel Daughty will be associated with him. Mr. Ashwell, who was a native of New York and about sixty-six years of age, had an interesting career in the South African diamond fields, where early in life he and his brother Thomas were engaged in the wool business at Cape Town. We are informed that Mr. Ashwell was on a hunting trip in the interior when the discovery of diamonds was made in 1868. Quitting the wool business, the Ashwells soon established themselves in the diamond fields. When the great Kimberly mine was found later, William C. and Thomas Ashwell were among the first arrivals to stake out claims, which they worked together until Thomas became critically ill and his brother found it necessary to take him out of the country to save his life. Previous to their departure, William Ashwell is understood to have secured an option on a large part of the lands included in the present Kimberly mine at a purchase price of $6,000,000. After returning to this country, he tried to interest ex-Governor E. D. Morgan to finance a company to buy the lands. Failing in his endeavors, Mr. Ashwell allowed his option to lapse and in later years the Kimberly mine was bought by Cecil Rhodes for about $27,000,000. Mr. Ashwell received several hundred thousand dollars for his own share in it.

—Corporations desiring fidelity bonds for their officers and employees are referred to the annual statements for 1905 of The Guarantee Company of North America and of the United States Guarantee Company, presented in our advertising columns to-day. Each company has added materially to its surplus during 1906, besides paying its usual dividends. The surplus of each company has been accumulated wholly from earnings—no part of it having been contributed by stockholders. Both companies are under practically the same management, being that which introduced fidelity insurance on this continent over forty years ago. Each company avoids the transaction of a "surety" business, which so often involves large and hazardous risks, upon court, contractors' and depository bonds.

—The January edition of the Hand-Book of Railroad Securities, compiled by the publishers of the "Financial Chronicle," is now ready. The book contains in a small compass very full information concerning the various railroads and the leading industrials whose securities are dealt in on New York, Boston and Philadelphia Stock Exchanges. It shows their earnings, dividends, &c., for a series of years, present fixed charges, and also the amounts of the different issues of bonds outstanding, their rates of interest, &c. There is also given the monthly range of stocks and bonds for 1905 and 1906, together with a yearly range for four years. Price $1, or to "Chronicle" subscribers, 75 cents.

—A. O. Slaughter, one of the pioneer stock-brokers of Chicago, died of heart failure at San Antonio, Texas, on Tuesday evening last at 6 o'clock. Mr. Slaughter came to Chicago just after the close of the Civil War, and established a small brokerage office on Clark Street. By reason of his upright and courteous methods, his business rapidly increased, and Mr. Slaughter soon became identified with the leading financial movements of the city. He was one of the founders of the Chicago Stock Exchange, its executive officer for a long time and a member of the Governing Committee from its inception.

—Mann, Bill & Co., dealers in collateral loans, notes and bonds, at 38 Wall Street, this city, are distributing a little cardboard folder, one of the pages of which contains a table showing Wall Street money rates for each week of the year 1906. The data are in part made up from the records given in the "Chronicle," and the statement in form is much like the annual money tables given in our "Financial Review," only more condensed. The folder should be convenient and useful to those interested in the money market.

—Messrs. Curtis & Sanger, 38 Wall Street, New York, and with offices in Boston and Chicago, are offering for investment $250,000 Southern Railway Co. 3-year 5% debenture notes, due Feb. 1 1910, to net 6%, and $250,000 Chicago & Alton RR. Co. 5-year 5% collateral trust notes, due Jan. 1 1912, to net 5¼%. A full description of these issues will be mailed upon request.

—Toby & Lamarche, investment bankers, at 25 Broad Street, this city, have prepared an interesting circular discussing the merits of "Gas, Electric Light and Street Railway Securities as an Investment." The firm will mail copies of this circular on application.

—The Casualty Co. of America, 52 William Street, shows gross assets on Dec. 31 of $1,879,874. This is an increase for the year of $233,676. The statement will be found in another column.

—The business of the old firm of Chas. S. Purinton & Co., Boston, which dissolved on Dec. 31 last, will be continued under the name of Collins, Spalding & Co. at 10 Post Office Square.

—Denning & Magoffin, 19 Wall St., are buying Richmond Passenger & Power Co. 5s and the other issues connected with this property.

The Commercial Times.

Friday Night, Jan. 25 1907.

With more seasonable weather general trade is, if anything, better than recently, though snow blockades have occurred in parts of the West. Manufacturing industries have been decidedly active and iron and steel sales extend for a year ahead. Money is easier and the feeling generally confident. Speculation continues dull.

LARD on the spot has declined, owing to increasing supplies and offerings, larger receipts of live hogs and a reaction in the market for futures at the West. Trade has been dull at the decline. City is quoted at 9.10c. and Western at 9.40@9.50c. Refined lard has been dull and easier in tone, though without marked change in quotations; refined Continent 9.90c., South America 10.75c. and Brazil in kegs 11.75c. The market for futures at the West has shown a reactionary tendency of late. Early in the week the tone was stronger, owing to support from packers, commission-house buying and covering of shorts. But the upward movement was soon checked by realizing and sales for a decline. Receipts of hogs have been increasing, the spot trade has been dull and bull speculation in futures has, for the time being, at any rate, been less popular.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF LARD FUTURES IN CHICAGO.

	Sat.	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.
January delivery	9.25	9.32½	9.27½	9.20	9.22½	9.40
May delivery	9.42½	9.50	9.45	9.40	9.42½	9.60
July delivery	9.45	9.55	9.47½	9.42½	9.47½	9.65

PORK on the spot has been dull and steady. Mess $17 50@$18, clear $18@$19 and family $18 50@$19. Cut meats have been irregular within a narrow range. Trade has been quiet and limited to jobbers. Pickled shoulders 8@8⅛c., pickled hams 11½@12c. and pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs., 10¼@10⅝c. Beef has been quiet and generally steady. Mess $8@$8 50, packet $11@$12, family $14 50@$15 50 and extra India mess $18 50@$19. Tallow has been dull but firm on light supplies; City 6½c. Stearines have been quiet and steady; oleo 11½c. and lard 10¼c. Butter has been firmer on small supplies; creamery, extras, 31½@32c. Cheese fairly active and steady; State, factory, 14½c. Eggs have declined on liberal offerings; Western firsts 25½c.

OIL.—Cottonseed has advanced on covering of shorts and manipulation; prime summer yellow 46½@47c. Linseed has been quiet and firm; City, raw, American seed, 42@43c.; boiled 43@44c.; raw, Calcutta seed, 70c. Lard has been fairly active and firm; prime 77@79c. Olive has been quiet and steady; yellow 65@70c. and green 60@62c. Cocoanut has been firm on continued scarcity of supplies, recent arrivals having been absorbed. Cochin 10c. and Ceylon 9¼@9½c. Peanut has been quiet and steady; yellow 50@60c. Cod has been moderately active and firm; domestic 36@37c. and Newfoundland 38@40c.

COFFEE on the spot has been more active and firmer; Rio No. 7, 6⅞@7c.; Santos No. 4, 7¾@7⅞c. West India growths have been in moderate demand and steady; fair to good Cucuta 8½@9c. The market for future contracts has ruled firmer in the main. The receipts at Rio and Santos have decreased, and a further reduction in the movement is expected by some. Speculation has been dull, many being disposed to hold aloof for further developments.

The closing prices were as follows:

January	5.40c.	May	5.65c.	September	5.80c.
February	5.40c.	June	5.70c.	October	5.95c.
March	5.55c.	July	5.75c.	November	6.00c.
April	5.60c.	August	5.80c.	December	6.05c.

SUGAR.—Raw has been dull and easy, but without important change in quotations. Centrifugal, 96-degrees test, 3 15-32@3½c.; muscovados, 89-degrees test, 2 31-32@3c.; and molasses, 89-degrees test, 2 23-32@2¾c. Refined has been dull as regards new business, but there have been liberal withdrawals on old contracts. Prices have been firm as a rule. Granulated 4.65@4.70c. Spices have been fairly active and steady. Teas have been more active and firm. Hops have been dull and firm.

PETROLEUM has advanced with an active demand for both domestic and export trade. Reports from the producing centres indicate that development work is backward. Refined, barrels, 7.75c., bulk 4.50c. and cases 10.25c. Naphtha has been fairly active and steady; 73@76 degrees, 13c. in 100-gallon drums. (Drums $8 extra.) Gasoline has been active and firm; 89 degrees, 21c. in 100-gallon drums. Spirits of turpentine has been fairly active and steady at 73c. Rosin has been firmer with a good demand; common to good strained, $4 35@$4 40.

TOBACCO.—The general situation shows no essential change. Quotations have been generally firm. Trade in domestic leaf, according to most reports, shows some further improvement, while offerings have continued rather light. Havana has ruled quiet and firm.

COPPER has been fairly active and firmer; lake 25½@25⅝c; electrolytic 25¼@25⅜c. Lead has been quiet and steady at 6.30@6.35c. Spelter has been quiet and firmer at 6¾@6.80c. Tin has been in fair demand and firm; Straits 42.10c. Iron has been quieter and easy; No. 1 Northern $23@$25; No. 2 Southern $22 25@$25.

COTTON.

Friday Night, January 25 1907.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night is given below. For the week ending this evening the total receipts have reached 294,162 bales, against 339,479 bales last week and 312,936 bales the previous week, making the total receipts since the 1st of September 1906, 7,016,565 bales, against 5,610,653 bales for the same period of 1905-06, showing an increase since Sept. 1 1906 of 1,405,912 bales.

The speculation in cotton for future delivery has been on a very restricted scale, and, like last week, the opposing influences represented by big receipts on the one hand and a big spot demand and consumption on the other have so nearly balanced each other that the net result of the fluctuations is that prices stand about where they were a week ago. Influences which have militated against improvement in prices have been a noticeable falling off in the spot business at Liverpool, some depression in the stock market, and, as already intimated, the large receipts, to which should be added the fact that the weekly statistics of late have not been of a kind to encourage higher prices. That is to say, world's supplies have on the whole increased quite noticeably as contrasted with a decrease at the same time last year. The Census Bureau's report of the ginning up to Jan. 16, which was issued on Jan. 23, was interpreted as bearish here and bullish in Liverpool. Here it was construed as meaning a crop of fully 13,000,000 bales, and some of the estimates are beginning to reach even higher figures. The report showed that the quantity ginned this season up to the 16th inst. was 12,167,873 bales, against 9,989,634 during the same time last season and 12,767,600 bales for the like period two years ago. Meantime the speculation continues as dull as ever. On the other hand, the spot markets have been universally strong, particularly on the high grades, which still command big premiums. Lower grades, too, are meeting with a much better sale. The striking off of eleven grades from the list of grades tenderable on contracts here, as voted by the Exchange on the 23d inst., is expected ultimately to have a good effect. There is a new agitation, however, in favor of dropping the grades known as Good Ordinary, Strict Low Middling, Stained and Low Middling Tinged. The vigorous and widespread discussion of these questions has for the time being probably caused some reduction in business in futures here. Speculation, however, is playing a distinctly subordinate part this season, the real activity being in the actual cotton to meet the demands of what, to many, looks like an unparalleled consumption. Mr. Ellison has raised his estimate of the world's consumption of American cotton to 12,371,000 bales, figures which, large as they are, seem to the bulls decidedly conservative. They also lay stress on the large weekly takings by spinners. Continental spinners have been buying the distant months in Liverpool and Egyptian operators are also said to have been buying there of late. Some of the English mills are said to be sold ahead till April and May of next year. To-day prices were irregular, finally closing slightly lower on selling by local traders and spot interests. Spot cotton has been quiet but firm, closing at 11c. for Middling, an advance for the week of 20 points.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 21 1906 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

Fair	c. 2.00 on	Strict low mid.	c. 0.14 off	Middling tinged	c. 0.12 off
Strict mid. fair	1.75 on	Fully low mid	0.32 off	Strict low mid. tinged	0.46 off

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Telegraphic reports to us this evening from the South are, as a rule, of a satisfactory tenor. Rain has fallen in most localities, but the precipitation has been light as a rule; temperature has been lower. The movement of the crop continues on a free scale. Farm work is progressing well in earlier sections.

Galveston, Texas.—We have had rain on two days during the week, the rainfall reaching seventy-six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 61, ranging from 48 to 74.

Abilene, Texas.—Rain has fallen on two days of the week, the rainfall being thirty-one hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 30 to 76, averaging 55.

Fort Worth, Texas.—Rainfall for the week three hundredths of an inch on two days. Average thermometer 56, highest 78, lowest 34.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—There has been rain on one day during the week, the precipitation reaching six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 60, the highest being 76 and the lowest 44.

Palestine, Texas.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the rainfall reaching thirty-eight hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 52, ranging from 34 to 78.

San Antonio, Texas.—There has been rain on one day of the past week, and the rainfall has been two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 36 to 80, averaging 58.

Taylor, Texas.—Rainfall for the week eight hundredths of an inch on one day. Average thermometer 66, highest 80, lowest 32.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—We have had rain on two days the past week, the rainfall being fifty hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 57.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the precipitation reaching six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 34 to 66, averaging 50.

Leland, Mississippi.—There has been rain during the week, the rainfall being thirty-five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 51.4, the highest being 70 and the lowest 32.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—It has rained on one day of the week. The precipitation reached forty hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 55, ranging from 38 to 76.

Helena, Arkansas.—Farm work has commenced. There is still a little cotton in the fields. The river is rising. Land outside the levee has been overflowed, but record high-water mark has not been reached. We have had rain on one day during the week, to the extent of thirty-two hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 50, highest 74, lowest 32.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—The weather has been favoralbe for farm work the past week. Cotton is still being marketed freely, there being no indications of holding back. We have had rain on one day, the precipitation reaching one hundredth of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 52, the highest being 74 and the lowest 30.

Memphis, Tennessee.—The river is thirty-four and two-tenths feet on the gauge, and rising. Rain has fallen on three days of the week, the precipitation being thirty-nine hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 50.7, ranging from 29 to 73.2.

Mobile, Alabama.—Farm work is making good progress in some sections. Rainy early part of the week in the interior, but fair and cold since. Rainfall for the week ninety-nine hundredths of an inch on one day. Average thermometer 57, highest 73, lowest 37.

Montgomery, Alabama.—There has been rain on two days during the week, the rainfall being sixty-five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 54, the highest being 76 and the lowest 31.

Madison, Florida.—Dry all the week. The thermometer has ranged from 30 to 82, averaging 51.

Savannah, Georgia.—There has been no rain during the past week. The thermometer has averaged 55, the highest being 77 and the lowest 34.

Charleston, South Carolina.—It has rained on one day of the week to an inappreciable extent. The thermometer has averaged 53, ranging from 33 to 74.

Greenwood, South Carolina.—We have had no rain during the week. The thermometer has ranged from 39 to 59, averaging 49.

Stateburg, South Carolina.—We have had light rain on one day during the week to the extent of nine hundredths of an inch, followed by a cold wave. Average thermometer 50, highest 74, lowest 24.

Charlotte, North Carolina.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the precipitation reaching four hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 45, the highest being 70 and the lowest 21.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of rivers at the points named at 8 a. m. of the dates given:

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE.—Quarter Grades Abolished and some Low Grades Cut Off.—The members of the New York Cotton Exchange on Wednesday balloted on some changes in its by-laws. Three propositions were acted upon, two being carried by very large majorities and the other, while receiving a majority of 40, failed to carry because a two-thirds majority was required. The amendment making strict low middling stained the lowest grade deliverable on contract, and in this way raising the character of the New York contract, received a vote of 265 to 24 against. The amendment cutting out all quarter grades was carried by a vote of 222 to 67. These changes go into effect January 1 1908.

The grades that are to be eliminated are: Barely middling fair, fully good middling, both of which command premiums, fully low middling, barely low middling, fully low ordinary, strict good ordinary tinged, fully middling stained, barely middling stained, fully low middling stained and low middling stained, which pay discounts.

The other matter submitted was a proposition to provide for a third revision of grades to be made in February. The vote on this amendment was 163 for and 123 against, but as a two-thirds majority was needed to carry it failed of passage.

WORLD'S SUPPLY AND TAKINGS OF COTTON.

The following brief but comprehensive statement indicates at a glance the world's supply of cotton for the week and since Sept. 1, for the last two seasons, from all sources from which statistics are obtainable; also the takings, or amount gone out of sight, for the like periods:

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market for jute bagging has been very dull during the week under review at unchanged prices, viz.: 8¾c. for 1¾ lbs. and 9⅛c. for 2 lbs., standard grades. Jute butts also very dull at 3@4c. for bagging quality.

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have been firm as a rule, owing to the advance in wheat. Millers have asked higher quotations, which buyers have refused to pay, with the result that an already exceedingly small volume of business has been still further reduced. Export trade has been stagnant, and the daily clearances of flour from the seaboard for Europe have been small. At the principal milling centres of the Northwest and the Southwest business continues dull. Here prices which buyers offer to pay for even small lots are as a rule 10 cents below market quotations. Rye flour and corn meal have been quiet and steady.

Wheat has advanced, favored by continued small receipts at the Northwest, higher European quotations, bullish world's statistics and a better export demand. Moreover, the weather at the West has been extremely cold, where much of the crop is unprotected by snow. Blizzards have occurred at the Northwest. Extraordinarily cold weather has prevailed over Eastern Europe, extending as far south as Greece. Black Sea ports have become icebound and heavy snows have impeded shipments from Odessa. Some reports, too, insist that the recent extraordinarily cold weather in Russia has done harm over large areas which at that time lacked snow covering. The world's stocks of wheat last week fell off no less than 6,427,000 bushels, a decrease nearly three times as large as that in the previous week, while it contrasts still more strikingly with an actual increase for the corresponding week last year of 430,000 bushels. There is still an excess in the world's stocks of American over those of last year of some 5,000,000 bushels, while the total world's supply of all kinds, reaching 158,686,000 bushels, is 5,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago. This shows, however, a gradually diminishing excess over last year. Speculation at Chicago has increased but more on account of the light movement of the crop, an advance in foreign markets and some increase in the export trade, than because of any important injury to the American crop thus far. To-day prices advanced on reports of extremely cold weather in Russia, a blizzard in the American Northwest, firmer Liverpool cables, continued small receipts, reports that alternate freezing and thawing weather over the winter-wheat belt is creating apprehension regarding its effects on the plant and covering of shorts.

Indian corn futures have shown an upward tendency, influenced mainly by continued small receipts and the advance in wheat. At times during the week there has been an absence of contract grade in the arrivals at Chicago. Shorts have covered and there has been some increase in commission house business at the West. Moreover, a larger business has been reported for export at strong prices. The weather has in the main been more favorable for drying the crop, provision interests have sold at times and there has been more or less realizing. But in view of the small receipts and the strength of wheat the bears have shown no aggressiveness. To-day prices were firm early on unfavorable crop reports from Argentina, where the crop is suffering from drought, small receipts, and covering, but later three was a decline on realizing.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have advanced, owing to the rise in wheat, small receipts, an increased cash demand at strong prices, light offerings and covering of shorts. The speculation had been far less active and at times, too, the market has felt the effects of realizing; but the general course of prices has been upward. To-day, however, the market was easier in the main despite continued small receipts and the rise in wheat. Some recent buyers took profits and there was a lack of support.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, January 25 1907.

The cotton goods market has displayed still further strength during the week and values in several instances have been raised to even higher levels. Instead of being disturbed by this, however, buyers seem to regard it as a natural course and are apparently convinced that prices are to rule higher for a considerable length of time. This belief has been strengthened to some extent by the firmness of the raw material market and by the common knowledge that the cost of production is greater than it has ever been, on account of the scarcity of labor, higher wages, &c. The situation is brought home very strongly to buyers who are seeking spot goods in the primary mark t, for agents are entirely unable to accommodate their largest customers with even small quantities, which is as annoying to the former as it is to the latter. Aggregate business during the week had been large but it has consisted for the most part of a number of small orders; there has, however, been some fairly active covering of future requirements by some of the larger houses, who are apprehensive of what may happen in the event of the apparently awakened interest of Chinese buyers in this market developing into an active export movement. Further sales have been made to China during the week and inquiries have been numerous, although generally below the market. Latest advices from that country are to the effect that stocks at Shanghai are moving more freely, and it is this fact which leads many to suppose that there may be some active purchasing here for Chinese account before very long. Woolen and worsted goods have been moving more freely, both in the men's wear and dress goods divisions.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Jan. 19 were 3,782 packages, valued at $249,084, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

New York to Jan. 19.	Week.	Since Jan. 1.	Week.	Since Jan. 1.

Other Countries	69	2,156	346	1,183

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $728,286 in 1907, against $1,346,445 in 1906.

There has been a much better demand for heavy brown drills and sheetings during the week, especially the latter, and there is a general feeling that current prices will seem cheap before very long. These goods are relatively lower than the finer classes of fabrics, and, as supplies are not large, anything in the way of active buying for China would doubtless have an immediate effect upon the market. It is for this reason that some astute buyers are protecting their requirements for some time ahead. Sales to China during the week have included 3-yard drills. Four-yard sheetings have been in good demand and in some instances are quoted a full ⅛c. higher. Bleached goods are as scarce as ever and fully maintain their strength. Wide sheetings are unobtainable for near-by shipment and sheets and pillow cases are very firmly held. There is no relief in the coarse, colored cotton goods situation, and mills are booked farther ahead than they have ever been. The advances noted on napped goods are fully maintained. Linings are active and higher. Ginghams have been advanced ½c. and the production is insufficient to supply the demand. In spite of the fact that the ½c. advance in prints has now gone into effect, there has been little if any decrease in activity. Buying of print cloths has been free and goods for nearby delivery are becoming very scarce.

WOOLEN GOODS.—A larger number of buyers has been present in the men's wear market during the week and business is beginning to assume a more satisfactory aspect. The colder weather has had an influence and the volume of purchasing during the week has been heavier than at any time since the season opened. Operations, however, have been for the most part confined to the medium grades, as the finer qualities have not been shown and are not expected to be opened before about the first of next month. Up to date there has been a decided improvement in the demand for woolens and the hopes of those who expected a better season for these bid fair to be fully realized. On the other hand there has been a falling off in the request for manipulated fabrics, and the difficulty of securing cotton yarns for reasonable delivery is likely to have a serious effect on those goods into the manufacture of which cotton enters. Cassimeres have been in the best demand among woolen goods. Overcoatings are dull except in a few isolated instances, the weather being very much against them. In some spots the dress goods market has been quite active and a very satisfactory season is looked forward to by the trade. Many buyers have been in town and the fall purchasing has been progressing freely, while duplicating has also been active. There is little change in the character of the buying, the same lines being the most popular as in the recent past.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted dress goods have been active and prices are very firm. Silks show continued improvement. Ribbons are firm at recent advances. Linens remain very strong with an active demand. Burlaps are steady and scarce.

State and City Department.

News Items.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Progress of City.—As stated in last week's issue, the city will offer for sale on Feb. 9 five issues of 4% and 4½% bonds aggregating $650,000, for water, for paving and for hospital purposes. The financial standing of the city is excellent and its bonds have always brought good prices. The gross bonded debt is comparatively small, being only about 5% of the taxable values, while the net debt (gross less water debt and sinking fund) is only 1½%. See V. 84, p. 172, for details of new offering.

Atlantic City is without doubt the most popular resort along the Atlantic Coast, not only during the summer, but in the winter months as well. Its permanent population and its taxable values have shown steady increase during the past thirty-six years, the population which in 1870 was only 1,043 now being nearly 40,000, while taxable values during that period have advanced from $613,706 to $50,438,430, as will be seen from the table given below:

It should be borne in mind that the population figures above given represents only the permanent population. The superb arrangements both for the comfort and pleasure of visitors, the beauties of the beach and boardwalk, and the proximity of both New York and Philadelphia, prove such an attraction that the summer population often reaches 250,000.

Bond Proposals and Negotiations this week have been as follows:

Amelia, Ohio.—Bond Sale.—On Dec. 1 1906 $1,605 5% Main Street sidewalk bonds were awarded to John Nichols of Cincinnati at par. Securities are dated Dec. 1 1906. Interest semi-annual. Maturity part yearly on Dec. 1 from 1908 to 1913 inclutive.

St. Joseph County (P. O. South Bend), Ind.—Bond Sale Not Consummated.—The sale of the $100,000 3½% bridge bonds awarded last October to J. F. Wild & Co. of Indianapolis and the $60,000 3½% asylum bonds awarded at the same time to Breed & Harrison of Cincinnati has never been consummated. The bonds were held void for the reason that action was taken on the issue by the County Council at their regular meetings held on Sept. 5 and 6 last, when they had neglected to fill a vacancy in the Council occasioned by the death of one of its members. The bonds were, therefore, destroyed. The $210,000 bridge and the $60,000 asylum bonds awarded on Jan. 17 (V. 84, p. 175) were issued under entirely new proceedings.

St. Mary's, Auglaize County, Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 12 m. Feb. 2 by F. F. Asehbaeher, City Auditor, for $50,000 4% sewage-disposal-plant bonds. Authority Sections 2835, 2836 and 2837 of the Revised Statutes. Denomination $1,000. Date Dec. 1 1906. Interest semi-annual. Maturity thirty years. Certified eheek for 10% of the bonds bid for, payable to the City Treasurer, is required. Purchaser to pay aecrued interest.

Salina, Kansas.—Bond Sale.—This city recently awarded at private sale to Hoehler & Cummings of Toledo $11,500 South Santa Fe Avenue assessment, $8,000 sewer and $7,800 sewer 5% coupon bonds. Securities are dated Jan. 1 1907. Interest semi-annually at the fiscal agency of the State of Kansas in New York City. Maturity one-tenth yearly.

Spring Lake, Mich.—Bond Sale.—We are advised that the $15,000 4½% coupon water-works bonds offered but not sold on May 2 1906 (V. 82, p. 118) were subsequently awarded to H. W. Noble & Co. of Detroit at par and accrued interest, less cost of preparing bonds. Denomination $500. Date March 8 1906. Interest semi-annual. Maturity $500 yearly on March 8 from 1908 to 1917 inclusive and $1,000 yearly on Mareh 8 from 1918 to 1927 inclusive.

Stockton, Hunterdon County, N. J.—Bond Sale.—An issue of $7,000 5% improvement bonds has been disposed of to the Lambertville National Bank.

Sugar Notch (Borough), Luzerne County, Pa.—Bond Sale.—On Jan. 7 the $8,500 5% 19½-year (average) coupon judgment-funding bonds described in V. 84, p. 63, were awarded to S. A. Kean of Chicago at 101.10—a basis of about 4.912%.

Sutton, Braxton County, W. Va.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 6 p. m. Feb. 1 by W. L. Armstrong, Town Recorder, for $18,000 5% coupon bonds. Securities are dated Jan. 1 1907. Interest annually at the Seaboard National Bank in New York City. Maturity thirty years, subject to eall after ten years. This offering was inadvertently reported under the head of Sutton, Va., in last week's "Chronicle."

Trenton, N. J.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 11 a. m., Jan. 29, by W. J. B. Stokes, City Treasurer, for the following bonds:

100,000 4% 30-year registered water bonds dated June 1 1906. Interest from June 1 1906 to Dec. 1 1906 canceled.

ONE PIECE OF PAPER GOOD THE WORLD OVER

Are You a Money Order Bank ?

The standard, uniform Money Order of the Bankers' Money Order Association is now a familiar feature of American banking. This is the only system at the service of banks absolutely Free of Charge. Orders can be issued payable at any point in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Europe, Asia, North Africa and Australia. The most flexible medium of exchange in use. All charges you make to the public are your own profit.

The full details for the week covered by the above will be given next Saturday. We cannot furnish them to-day, clearings being made up by the clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last day of the week has to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, January 26, and the results for the corresponding week in 1906, 1905 and 1904 are also given. Contrasted with the week of 1906 the total for the whole country shows a loss of 9.6%. Outside of New York the increase over 1906 is 6.4%.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

We have had another of those see-saw weeks. Instead, however, of the first half being down and the second half up, or vice-versa, the periodicity has forced itself into a kind of daily cycle, with a lower record and then another still lower as the distinguishing characteristic. Almost every one of those who usually write about such things, and give us the whys and wherefores, tell us they can see no reason for all this—no reason why the investor keeps out of Wall Street when such liquidation and declines in values as have been almost a daily occurrence are tempting him to come and buy. Can we say "no reason" while the iconoclasts at Washington are serving up their hourly telegrams filled with fresh threats of destruction to the representatives of the largest body of accumulated wealth the country has in possession? No one is allowed to know whether, after his life of toil—possibly of pinching economies—he possesses anything to ease his last days on earth, or, as he hoped, to leave to his wife and child so that they might not be dependent upon the almoners of charity to provide their daily bread. And all this because, as we are told, some few men have more than their share of wealth, or because some few may be getting their gains wrongfully. Must we destroy the whole body of moderate frugal money-savers in the land in order that we may punish those few? Then why do the work in such a bitter, hostile, threatening way, and so injure all credit and industrial progress? It seems at times as if the authorities were ready to change if not to destroy the whole structure of our government lest it stand in the way of this spirit of envy which is being so widely cultivated.

There is one noble kind of work which our Chief Magistrate at Washington always does so well that we could wish he might more largely confine his efforts to it. The class of events we refer to is emphasized by the gift of a group of friends in Europe, who are pledged to the peace movement, of a full-length portrait of President Roosevelt they are having painted which is to be put in the Peace Palace at The Hague. Mr. Roosevelt well deserves that honor. The most recent event along those lines is the device the President has evolved of a plan for the settlement of the very troublesome questions affecting Japanese, Californian and United States relations. It seemed almost impossible that this affair could be arranged without at least leaving a state of decided irritation between all parties concerned. A conference Wednesday night at the White House between the California delegation in Congress and the President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Navy has led to a statement by the parties thereto that a solution will be reached on the serious questions involved. The existing treaty with Japan expires March 12. A basis for a new treaty with Japan was arranged in a form acceptable to the Tokio Government, and this basis has now been found to be acceptable to the San Francisco authorities. As the President's efforts presumably led to the close of the Russo-Japanese War, and as this dispute promised to weaken the very friendly relations which have always existed with the Tokio Government, it is especially gratifying that Mr. Roosevelt is to be the instrument of this happy outcome, and that his ingenuity devised the plan for a settlement.

The return of the United States Steel Corporation for the December quarter, issued this week, is typical of the activity of the iron and steel industry, of which the Steel Corporation is one of the principal exponents and in which it is the largest factor. The quarter referred to completes the company's fiscal year, which corresponds with that of the calendar year. Both the results for the quarter and for the twelve months are noteworthy and remarkable. They show a degree of prosperity which even its most sanguine promoters could hardly have dared to hope for at the inception of the enterprise, which ranks as chief among the world's greatest industrial undertakings. But the success attained follows legitimately and inevitably as the result of the wise policy pursued by those responsible for the conduct of its affairs. This policy has had two main features: First, the maintenance, as far as possible, of a stable level of values for iron and steel and their products; and, secondly, the appropriation of large sums each year out of surplus earnings to be used in making extensive additions to property and plant and to bring mills, furnaces, &c., up to modern standards, so that the various branches of the Steel Company's business might hold their own against outside competition, and also to enable the company to turn out its various products at a minimum of cost.

In making these large appropriations for the purposes named, this great industrial undertaking adopted the policy so successfully pursued in the management of our leading railroads, with this difference, that the Steel Corporation by reason of its very magnitude has been making appropriations on a scale besides which those of even the largest of the railroad companies pale into insignificance. The extent to which earnings have been applied in this way will appear more clearly when we refer to the appropriations out of the income of the late calendar year further below. The policy pursued in the matter of prices has been equally characteristic. This policy consists simply in following a conservative course—not letting prices run too high in times of great prosperity and extraordinary demand, and not letting them drop too low when demand slackens and trade prostration succeeds trade elation. We think it can be affirmed that the course here indicated, and which was deliberately mapped out at the very beginning, has been faithfully adhered to. The managers have in periods of activity allowed prices to rise by slow degrees, but have checked every tendency towards undue advance, and in like manner they have refused to follow values down to unduly low levels when price movements were reversed.

The year 1906 was in every way a period of phenomenal activity in the iron and steel industry, and the Steel Corporation, under its conservative administration, fortified in the respects enumerated, reflects the fact in exceedingly prosperous results. The net earnings for the three months ending with December exceed those of every similar period in the company's history—not only for a December quarter but for any quarter of any year. In brief, these net earnings for the last three months of 1906 (after deducting in the usual way the expenditures for ordinary repairs, renewals and maintenance of plants, employees' bonus funds, and also interest on bonds and fixed charges of the subsidiary companies) amounted to no less than $41,744,964. This is better even than the showing for the September and the June quarters, when the amounts were respectively $38,114,624 and $40,125,033, and compares with $35,216,062 for the December quarter of 1905 and but $21,466,632 for the December quarter of 1904. We shall not attempt to analyze the results for the twelve months of the calendar year, reserving this until the receipt of the company's complete annual report some weeks hence, which will contain full details of the year's operations. We will say here, however, that by combining the four quarterly returns, it is found that the net earnings for the calendar year 1906 aggregated no less than $156,619,111, against only $119,787,658 in 1905 and but $73,176,522 in 1904.

What disposition has been made of these enormous net earnings of $156,619,111? Interest charges on the company's own bonds called for only $22,839,851. The company has not been at all prodigal in the matter of dividends to its shareholders. It has continued the 7% payments on the preferred shares requiring $25,219,676, but it has paid only 2% on the common shares, taking no more than $10,166,050. Together interest and dividends took $58,225,577, or hardly much more than one-third of the $156,619,111 net earnings, leaving a balance of $98,393,534. Out of this, $6,812,063 was contributed to the sinking funds, $21,344,527 to the depreciation and reserve funds and $7,500,000 to the so-called special improvement and replacement funds. Over and above all this a round $50,000,000 has been set aside "on account of expenditures made and to be made on authorized appropriations for additional property, construction and discharge of capital obligations."

Altogether it will be seen no less than $85,656,590 of the year's earnings are to be applied either in reduction of the company's capitalization through sinking funds or for the physical extension and development of the property. From an interview with Judge Gary, Chairman of the Steel Corporation, it appears that of the $50,000,000 special appropriation for new construction, approximately $27,000,000 is intended to be used in building the marvelous steel plant which is being erected at Gary, Ind. He also states that this $27,000,000 remains unspent, and he says that already sufficient money has been set aside to finance the company's construction work at Gary until 1908 at least. It only remains to add that the unfilled orders reported on hand for Dec. 31 establish a new high record in that regard in the company's history. The aggregate of the orders unfilled at that date is given as 8,489,718 tons. The next previous highest aggregate was that for Sept. 30 1906, when the amount was 7,936,884 tons. On Dec. 31 1905 the corresponding aggregate was 7,605,086 tons; for Dec. 31 1904 it was 4,696,203 tons and for Dec. 31 1903 3,215,123 tons. The unprecedented amount of orders on the company's books affords assurance of a large volume of business during 1907, even though the railroad industry, upon which the iron industry so greatly depends, should experience a reverse.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's return of earnings for the month of December was given out last evening, and perhaps the most conspicuous feature in it is the increase disclosed in the expenses. It was the 1st of December the 10% advance in wages went into effect. The gains in gross earnings, however, continue large and satisfactory. On the lines directly operated east of Pittsburgh and Erie a gain of $1,055,500 in gross for the month has been attended by an augmentation of $675,200 in expenses, leaving, accordingly, an improvement of $380,300 in the net. On the other hand, on the lines west of Pittsburgh an increase of $356,100 in gross is accompanied by an increase of $549,000 in expenses, giving a loss of $192,900 in the net. For the combined lines, therefore, the result is that, with $1,411,600 addition to the gross, there has come $1,224,200 increase in expenses, leaving the net better by only $187,400. It should not be overlooked, though, that the comparison is with very heavy earnings for that month in previous years. Thus in December 1905 the combined lines showed no less than $3,077,100 gain in gross and $1,891,500 gain in net, and this followed $1,630,700 increase in gross and $1,039,800 increase in net in December 1904.

For the twelve months of the company's fiscal year ending with December the improvement is of noteworthy extent on both the Eastern and the Western lines, and in gross and net alike. For the Eastern lines the figures show an increase of no less than $14,317,900 in gross and of $5,902,700 in net, while on the Western lines there is a further increase of $8,479,800 in gross and of $2,298,000 in net. Hence, for the combined lines the improvement for the calendar year reaches $22,797,700 in gross and $8,200,700 in net. While these gains are of large magnitude they do not reflect the full amount of the expansion in revenues, gross and net, on the Pennsylvania Railroad system as a whole, for they cover only the lines directly operated; and in addition there are a number of roads controlled but which make separate reports. In the following we furnish a six-year comparison of the earnings for December of the lines directly operated east of Pittsburgh—being the only portion of the system for which we have the data for such a comparison.

The feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was a decrease in the surplus reserve by $2,897,900, to $15,562,800. This resulted from an increase of $6,144,300 in reserve requirements less a gain of $3,246,400 in cash. Loans were expanded by $22,028,100 and deposits were augmented $24,577,200. On Monday of this week there was a payment by the Sub-Treasury of $2,250,000 on account of the new Post Office site in this city; this was, on Thursday, offset by the payment, through the banks to the Treasury, of $2,613,000 for a matured Central Pacific note. There was a shipment of $100,000 gold to Canada this week.

The market for money on call was easier while that on time was firmer this week. The former was influenced by the lighter demand and by increased offerings; the depression in the stock market, accompanied by continued liquidation of speculative accounts, contributed to the cancellation of loans against the liquidated collateral, and the money so released was offered in the call-loan branch of the market. The abstention from speculative ventures by clients of commission houses induced such houses freely to press their balances and as the inquiry was small, rates naturally declined. The time-loan branch of the market was influenced by the immediate and prospective demand for loans on corporation notes which seemed likely to absorb all domestic offerings by capitalists and lending institutions; as the rates for these loans were such as to be more attractive than those for ordinary fixed periods, offerings of the latter were in restricted volume and hence the firmer rates. Though commercial paper showed no change in quotations, the business was small, principally because of the diversion of the demand for paper to corporation notes. Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 4% and at 1¾%, averaging about 3%; banks and trust companies loaned at 2% as the minimum. On Monday loans were at 4% and at 2½% with the bulk of the business at 3¾%. On Tuesday transactions were at 3¾% and at 2½% with the majority at 3½%. On Wednesday loans were at 3¼% and at 2% with the bulk of the business at 2¾%. On Thursday transactions were at 3½% and at 1¾% with the majority at 2¾%. On Friday loans were at 4% and at 2¾% with the bulk of the business at 3%. Time contracts on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were at 5¼@5½% for thirty to sixty days, 5½% for ninety days to four months, 5½@5¾% for five to six months and 6% for twelve months. Rates for corporation notes range from 5½ to 6½%, according to the standing of the makers and the discounts and commissions offered for their negotiation. Commercial paper is quoted at 5¾@6¼% for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 5¾@6¼% for prime and 6½% for good four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 5%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 4⅝%. The open market rate at Paris is 3@3⅛% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4½%. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £647,971 bullion during the week and held £34,249,496 at the close of the week. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £647,971 bullion during the week and held £34,249,496 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to rather full receipts from the interior of Great Britain and purchases in the open market, the export movement being moderate, and exclusively to South America. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £455,000 (of which £10,000 from the Continent and £445,000 bought in open market); exports, £310,000 (wholly to South America), and receipts of £503,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was lower this week, influenced chiefly by liberal offerings against corporation notes which were placed in London by prominent bankers. There were also good supplies of commodity bills, principally against cotton, though those against grain were in increased volume, indicating augmented exports as the result of the raising of the freight blockade on the transportation lines. The absence of prompt mail facilities, as was the case last week, was an important factor in limiting the demand for exchange for remittance. Though the settlement on the London Stock Exchange occurred on Thursday, there was a light demand for cables, reflecting a small bull account in Americans. The inquiry for remittance was principally confined to that for the payment of securities which had been returned from London. Bankers reported good buying of long sterling for investment, and it was stated that at current rates for these bills calculations show a good profit as the result of the difference between the cost at the time of purchase and the value of the bill at maturity, even assuming that sight exchange will be no higher seventy days hence than it is now; it is expected, however, that exchange will gradually advance in this interval. There was some speculative selling of short sterling this week, which contributed to its decline, and there seemed to be little disposition to support the market because of the probability of the speedy placing abroad of additional amounts of corporation notes. On Friday it was announced that £100,000 gold had been engaged in London by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. for shipment hither. These bankers say that the import is an exchange operation and that possibly further engagements may be made either by them or by other bankers early next week. American bankers can, at current rates for exchange, outbid the Bank for gold.

Nominal quotations for sterling exchange are 4 82 @4 82½ for sixty day and 4 86@4 86½ for sight. The market was active and lower on Saturday of last week at a decline, compared with the previous day, of 15 points for long to 4 8140@4 8150, of 15 points for short to 4 8545@4 8550 and of 10 points for cables to 4 8615@4 8630. On Monday the market was weak and 25 points lower for long at 4 8120@4 8125, 10 points for short at 4 8535@4 8540 and 35 points for cables at 4 8590@4 8595. On Tuesday long fell 35 points to 4 8085@4 8090, short 20 points to 4 8515 @4 8520 and cables 10 points to 4 8580@4 8585. On Wednesday long declined 10 points to 4 8075@4 8085, short 25 points to 4 8490@4 85 and cables 30 points to 4 8550@4 8560. On Thursday long fell 25 points to 4 8050@4 8065, short 30 points to 4 8465@4 8470 and cables 15 points to 4 8535@4 8545. The market was heavy on Friday with long 15 points higher and short and cables 10 points lower.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

b The Austro-Hungarian Bank Statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of Gulden and Kreutzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 80 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

d The total of gold in the Bank of Russia includes the balance held abroad—that is, the amount held for Russian account in other Continental banks. The proportion so held and consequently duplicated in the above statement, is about one-quarter of the total.

THE GERMAN ELECTION AND SOCIALISM.

A general election in an important State with the parliamentary form of government is always a matter of considerable importance, as showing which way the current of political feeling moves. It is not always true that results of such a contest in one country prove a general movement in the same direction; but there are occasions when underlying political causes are common to all communities, and when, therefore, each successive general election—in America, in England or on the Continent—merely adds witness to a world-wide tendency. It is for this reason that comparison of results at elections in different countries during the same period become especially valuable as showing how far a given movement is local or universal.

There has been a rather general feeling, during the past year or so particularly, that the radical element was gaining, and was likely continuously to gain, more power in national legislatures. The recent Congressional elections in this country may not have confirmed the expectation, except in so far as the returning of an administration majority might be interpreted as an endorsement of the radical policies of the Administration. But in England the recent general election, with its sweeping reversal of Conservative majorities, brought into power a very considerable group of labor members who were distinctly a new element in British politics. In France the elections of last May went strongly for the Government; but the Government itself had to bid for radical votes, and of late the evidence of popular support to Clemenceau in his undertakings—the movement, for instance, for the income tax—shows that a more or less radical spirit prevails in France; though it is only fair to say that Clemenceau himself has become much less of a radical since assuming office than he was commonly believed to be before.

There was thus suggested a possible general drift in the direction of radicalism in European legislatures. The occurrence at the close of last week of the German general election gave another and a very valuable opportunity to test the question. Germany is the home of the so-called scientific socialism, there is a distinct and by no means negligible socialist party in the Reichstag, and Germany in the past few years, like the United States, has been largely absorbed in industrial activity converging on the great manufacturing centres—in which, accordingly, unusually large masses of workers have been gathered. It is true that elections to the Reichstag cannot be measured, as in England or America, by the majorities gained by Administration or Opposition. The Reichstag, like the French Deputies, is divided into a group of seven or more separate political factions, which divide, combine and re-arrange themselves, according to the nature of the question under debate, in such way as to baffle efforts at discovering the real complexion of the majority. Nevertheless, the weakening or strengthening of any one party's representation in the Reichstag, when that party stands for something definite, shows plainly enough how public opinion is moving.

The vote of last week Friday gave some highly interesting results—not less so because they were unexpected. When the Reichstag was dissolved by the Emperor, it was understood that the Government's appeal to the people was aimed primarily at the so-called Centre—the clerical element in the Legislature—which had not only stood in the way of certain financial requisitions by the Imperial Government, but in particular had opposed the additional estimates asked in the Government's budget for the German colonies of Southwest Africa. In Europe, it was generally assumed that the election would be a trial of strength as between the imperial authority and this Conservative opposition to it. Judged purely from that point of view, the result had been pretty much of a drawn battle. The clerical Centre thus far apparently retains the full representation gained by it in the election of 1903. That is to say, the Government's direct attack on that element in the Reichstag has failed.

The Government did not definitely throw down the gage to the Socialists, yet it is in this direction that a victory is now claimed. If it is true that the Socialist party had been generally antagonistic to the Imperial Government and its finance plans, this was no more true than it has been at every general election during the past twenty years. Now, during that period it is a matter of record that no general election has occurred in which the Socialists have not increased their previous representation in the Reichstag by from five to twenty votes. They achieved such a result in 1903, and if political developments in England and in France since then are assumed to indicate a world-wide swing toward social radicalism, it was surely to be expected that the German Socialists would gain still more largely in the present vote. Instead of this, the representation of the Socialists has been heavily impaired. It was at once admitted that the Socialist Party had encountered a defeat. Over that fact Chancellor von Buelow and the Emperor have exchanged felicitations, and a victory for the Imperial Party has been assumed.

The result, perhaps, may be so interpreted, though, as we have shown, the Government failed to achieve the precise result for which it dissolved the Reichstag. What is of more importance, however, is the evidence provided by this vote that the recent English general election and the recent developments in French politics by no means necessarily signify a general drift toward socialism. We should, in fact, be surprised if the German voters had shown any such tendency. Like our own people, they are in the midst of high prosperity; employment is general, wages good, and factors going to provoke discontent, whether social or political, are present in an unusually limited degree. The course of events in Germany will lend added interest to the final results of the Russian elections for the new Douma now in progress. We shall presently know whether the exercise of the Czar's autocratic power will provoke a still more vigorous endorsement of radicalism at the polls, or whether the excesses with which the Revolutionary Party and its adherents greeted that election will have turned back peaceably disposed voters into the ranks of conservatism.

THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION'S REPORT ON COAL DISCRIMINATIONS.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission has furnished to the press a synopsis of its preliminary report on its investigation into the conditions relating to coal transportation in the territory between the Ohio River and the seaboard. The subjects of investigation were mainly the ownership or interest held by the railroads or their employees and officials in coal lands and coal properties, and the alleged discrimination in favor of or against particular shippers in the supply of cars and in furnishing facilities for the transportation of the coal. While the investigation was in progress much of the testimony taken at the different sittings of the Commission was given in the daily papers. Interest now centers chiefly in the Commission's review of this testimony and its conclusions and recommendations based on the same.

The anthracite coal companies are not covered by the report, which relates entirely to soft-coal transportation. The roads embraced in the investigation were the Norfolk & Western, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pennsylvania, the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh, the Beech Creek Division of the New York Central, the Pittsburgh Shawmut & Northern, the Buffalo & Susquehanna and the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh. The Commission finds, what was known before, that all of the companies named own, directly or by stock ownership in other companies, large interests in coal lands. There has of course been nothing criminal or illegal in that, and it is obvious that in many instances such mutuality of interest was essential to secure to the carriers the shipments of coal from the mines located along their lines. Under the Hepburn Rate Bill of last year Congress is seeking to enforce a different course of procedure. By the terms of that measure it will be unlawful after May 1 1908 for any carrier to have an interest in any products to be transported over its line save what are intended for its own use. But in the past there has been no such prohibition, and no one conversant with the facts will deny that both railroad development and coal development would have been seriously retarded if such separation had been enforced heretofore.

Much the same remark may be made with reference to the ownership or interest held by employees and officials in coal-producing companies sending their product over the roads. When the railroads in their early days were anxious to build up their traffic and revenues, every means for increasing tonnage was encouraged, and the traffic official who could influence business directly or indirectly through his friends or through personal ownership was held in high esteem. The testimony before the Commission last summer showed that some abuses had grown up out of this system, and that it was now being employed in a totally different way from that originally contemplated; that indeed its character and purpose had entirely changed. It is noteworthy that, with the exception of the Pennsylvania Railroad, practically no instances could be found of ownership direct or indirect in coal properties by railroad officers or employees. In the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad such ownership or interest existed on a very extensive scale. It is not surprising, however, that this should have been so in that case, for the Pennsylvania has always been the largest coal-carrying system in the United States, and from the first great efforts were made to build up the coal traffic, owing to the fact that coal lands lie contiguous to the Pennsylvania lines nearly everywhere.

Another point should not be overlooked. The Pennsylvania Railroad officials acted promptly last summer when knowledge came through the investigations of the Commission of the objectionable practices that had grown up in recent years because employees and some officials held interest in coal properties that were forwarding coal over the Pennsylvania lines. Mr. Cassatt, it may be recalled, was in Europe at the time, but hurried home; and the board of directors of the company, after making an independent investigation in July last issued an executive order through Mr. Cassatt requiring all officers and employees to divest themselves of any interest direct or indirect that they might have in outside concerns, not only coal companies, but those engaged in any other business where the holding of such interest might in any way conflict with their duty to the company or the company's duty to the public. The Commission is fair in its statement of the matter and prints the order issued on that occasion. We refer to the incident because it furnishes evidence that, as far as this particular evil is concerned, a corrective has already been applied. In other words, only in the case of that company did the practice prevail to any extent, and when the managers of that company realized that as now applied it was no longer to the interest of the company, and that at the same time public sentiment had crystallized against it, it was promptly abolished.

Similar comment may be made with reference to the ownership by one railroad of stock in another, such as the ownership by the Pennsylvania Railroad of large holdings of shares in the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western. The Commission expresses the opinion that as a result of such community of interest between the different roads, substantial competition between the carriers of coal in the territory under consideration was practically extinguished. If by this is meant that agreed schedules of rates were maintained and cutting done away with, the truth of the statement may be admitted. If we are to imply anything more than that, the statement goes too far. In all essential respects these roads remained active competitors with one another except that they did not carry their competition to the extent of cutting rates for the purpose of securing business.

There was certainly competition of facilities and each road was just as anxious to make a record for itself in the matter of business as before. The policy of maintaining rates was in confirmation of the saying that self-preservation is the first law of nature. Under the old method of indiscriminate cutting of rates, freight charges had got down to figures that threatened bankruptcy—actually did bring bankruptcy in the case of such roads as the Erie, the Norfolk & Western and the Baltimore & Ohio, and would have involved even the Pennsylvania itself in ruin if it had not been changed through the union of interests brought about by Mr. Cassatt. This is one of the things of which we find no mention in the report of the Commission and perhaps it did not come within the precise scope of the joint resolution of Congress authorizing the investigation. And yet it is a feature having an important bearing upon the ethics and wisdom of the policy so widely entered upon among railroad interests in recent years of adhering to agreed schedules of rates rather than encouraging unbridled competition. However, even in that regard the Pennsylvania Railroad at least has been prompt to fall in line with public sentiment. When it was seen that the holding of an interest in neighboring or competing roads was no longer looked upon with popular favor, the management disposed of the greater part of its holdings in the other trunk line properties.

In the main we find ourselves in accord with the recommendations of the Commission. They urge, first, that every common carrier engaged in inter-State transportation of coal be required to make public the system of car distribution in effect upon its railway and the several divisions thereof. The Commission find that it has been mainly because of the lack of publicity that inequality and discrimination in the distribution of cars for the shipment of coal has been made possible. They say that if the carriers had in all cases conducted their business with shippers openly and had furnished information as to car distribution, much of the favoritism which is claimed to have existed would have been averted and wherever unjust suspicions were aroused the fact that they were unfounded would have readily appeared. They note, too, that whenever there has been a car distribution the details of which were open to the inspection of shippers, though the latter might complain of not receiving as many cars as required, still in such cases there was little or no complaint as to unfairness of the carriers as between different patrons. There is, it seems to us, both logic and force in what the Commission has to say on this point, and in our estimation there can never be too much publicity regarding the affairs of the railroads.

Nor can we conceive of any objection to the second recommendation of the Commission, provided the arrangement proposed by the Commission is feasible. They say that where the capacity of the mines is the basis for the distribution of equipment, a fair, just and equitable rating of the mines should be required. This declaration is so axiomatic that there is no need for arguing it. The only question is whether it would be practicable to carry out the Commission's suggestion that provision be made for the representation of owners of the mines at the rating thereof. Very possibly there would be no difficulty in the way, but we do not feel competent to express an opinion on the point.

To the Commission's third recommendation hearty approval may be given. They urge that after the lapse of a reasonable time, carriers engaged in inter-State commerce be prohibited from using "individual" or "private" cars for the handling of coal traffic; and, further, that when a carrier is unable to furnish all the cars required by all the shippers upon its line, all cars in service on the road (excepting individual or privately owned cars, until their use is prohibited) be treated as the equipment of the company and subject to distribution according to the system or plan in effect at that time. There can be no two opinions as to how the "private" car should be treated. The "private" car is one of those barnacles that has fastened itself upon the railroads with ever-increasing danger alike to the carriers and general shippers, and the sooner it can be got rid of the better.

The fourth recommendation is a two-fold one, the first part being that carriers engaged in inter-State commerce be forbidden after reasonable time to own or have any interest direct or indirect in any operated coal properties except such as are exclusively for their own fuel supply. It seems to us that this is precisely what the Hepburn Bill undertakes to require of the roads in the provision which becomes operative after May 1 1908. We are not at all sure that this provision in the Hepburn law, disturbing so seriously vested interests, is Constitutional or can be carried into effect. It will certainly work great hardship in many instances and where there are bond issues secured by joint mortgages on the coal properties and the railroads alike, it is difficult to see how separation can be enforced. The second part of the Commission's last recommendation is that ownership, either direct or indirect, by officers or employees of common carriers of any coal properties or any of the stock of coal companies, along the line of road by which they are employed, be forbidden. In view of recent experiences and developments it strikes us that such a requirement would be both wise and proper and certainly salutary.

CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RESULTS FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR.

The statement of the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. for the calendar year, as distinct from the company's report for the fiscal year ending June 30, always an interesting one, is more than ordinarily so on the present occasion. In the first place, the company has been making several additions to its stock in recent periods. Thus, in July 1905 shareholders subscribed for $10,609,200 new common stock at par; in May 1906 they subscribed for $16,267,400 more of the common stock at par; and the present month they have been given the privilege of taking $24,403,000 additional at par, payable March 16. The three issues together, it will be seen, aggregate over 51 million dollars, showing how provision is being made for developing the traffic and providing additional facilities for the same—in addition to the large appropriations from earnings for the same purpose which this important system has been making year by year in steadily increasing amounts for a long time past.

The figures attract attention for still another reason. A stage has been reached in the railroad history of the United States where gains in gross earnings no longer bring proportionate additions to the net. The tendency of transportation rates is downward, both as a result of the voluntary action of the roads themselves and as a consequence of action by the public authorities, while at the same time the cost of labor and of materials and supplies is steadily increasing. In the matter of labor, there have been important advances in wages of certain classes of employees quite recently and naturally returns of earnings merit particular notice on that account, as they enable one to see how any given road is faring under this state of things.

Perhaps the most noteworthy feature in the North Western's statement for the calendar year is that it tells of a continuance of those remarkable characteristics for which this well-managed property has been so long distinguished. Gross earnings disclose further strikingly large increase, and net earnings also (treating the twelve months as a whole) show a substantial addition, while in the matter of yearly surplus and the large appropriations made out of the same, all former records in that regard are surpassed. In brief, aggregate gross earnings, after having increased from $53,705,091 in 1904 to $59,066,556 in 1905, have now increased to $66,437,599 in 1906, while net earnings have risen from $16,667,889 in 1904 to $18,671,501 in 1905 and to $21,377,714 in 1906. These are the results for substantially the same mileage in the three years, the average length of road operated having been 7,410 miles in 1904 and in 1905, and 7,468 miles in 1906.

With earnings thus improving in such a notable fashion, the company's fixed charges are being at the same time reduced. In this we allude to the net amount of the fixed charges after counting as offsets the company's income from investments. But the remark is also true with reference to the gross amount of the charges. These have decreased considerably, having been $6,637,072 for the calendar year 1906 as against $6,769,929 for 1905 and $6,936,723 for 1904. In the net amount of the interest charges the reduction has been still more marked, owing to the fact that the company is getting better returns on some of its investments. The company holds $9,320,000 of the common and $5,380,000 of the preferred stock of the Chicago St. Paul Minneapolis & Omaha Railway and the common stock of that road now pays 7% where prior to 1905 only 6% was paid. There has also been an increase in the other items of investments. Altogether, the credit on account of other income was $734,996 in 1906 against $649,935 in 1905 and $456,935 in 1904. As a result the net charge for interest in 1906 was $5,902,076 against $6,119,994 in 1905 and $6,479,788 in 1904.

Allowing also for the $225,000 contribution to the sinking funds, a balance of net earnings remains over and above charges and sinking funds of no less than $15,250,638 in 1906 against only $12,326,007 in 1905 and $9,963,101 in 1904. This was more than double the amount of the call for the dividends at the rate of 7% on the common stock and 8% on the preferred stock. The dividends are calculated for the full twelve months on the whole amount of the stock after all the recent additions—barring only the new stock now being offered to the shareholders and which, of course, has not yet been issued and therefore is not outstanding. Owing to the additions to the stock, the call for the dividends in 1906 was very much larger than in the years preceding, having been $7,053,346, as against only $5,546,232 in 1905 and $5,174,924 in 1904. But even under this increase in the dividend requirement the $15,250,638 net earnings remaining above fixed charges were $8,197,292 in excess of the call for the dividends. The management followed its usual practice of making a large appropriation out of earnings for construction, improvements and permanent additions to the property; and the available net income having been so large, the amount of this appropriation has been even more liberal than in former years. In a word, no less than $6,000,000 was set aside in this way.

To put the matter in a different form, the company, while distributing $7,053,346 out of the year's earnings as dividends to the shareholders, applied $6,000,000 to improvements and betterments and even then had left a surplus of $2,197,292, which in effect was applied in the same way—that is, went either to improve the physical or financial condition of the property. During the last five years the specific appropriations from net earnings have aggregated almost 25 million dollars, and yet, as we see, the company finds itself obliged, in order to fulfil its duty to the public and protect the property, to raise enormous further amounts of money through new capital additions. The following furnishes a comparative summary of the income results for the last four calendar years.

	Twelve months ending Dec. 31

b This is amount after a deduction of $456,935 for income from investments.
c We have allowed in 1903 for a credit of $880,767 for income from investments.
d After allowing for a credit of $734,996 for income from investments.

As the company's fiscal year ends on June 30, it will be useful to have the results separately for the six months ending with Dec. 31, forming the first half of the current or new fiscal year. Accordingly, we have compiled the following, which shows the gross and net earnings for each of the months from July to December, inclusive, for the last three years.

MONTHLY GROSS AND NET EARNINGS.

Chicago & North Western.	Gross Earnings			Net Earnings

Total year	66,437,599	59,066,556	53,705,091	21,377,714	18,671,501	16,667,889

In this last table the force of the influences which at present are working adversely to the railroads is more plainly in evidence than when the results for the calendar year are considered as a whole. We mean that the part played by increasing expenses in the affairs of the roads is very manifest. Gross earnings keep expanding very fast and yet not very much faster than the augmentation in expenses. Thus, for the six months ending with December 1906 the gross increased from $32,916,615 to $35,887,658, but the net earnings gained only from $12,193,000 to $12,407,312. In other words, with $2,971,043 addition to the gross, the addition to the net was no more than $214,312. Three of the six months, namely September, October and November, actually record losses in net in face of considerable gains in gross earnings. Only exceptionally large gains in the gross seem to bring additions to the net now. It is this for which we must become prepared in the railroad world. The Chicago & North Western, by reason of the phenomenal strength of its income position, can view with indifference a change in prospects where to many other large companies a setback will be a matter of deep concern.

GOLD AND SILVER PRODUCTION AND MOVEMENTS IN 1906.

If our judgment respecting the gold supply was confined to the facts relating to the active struggle for gold which has been in progress the last six months of 1906 between the world's monetary centres, the conclusion would be that the output of the mines was not only decreasing but that it must have been on the decline for a series of years. That the struggle for possession has been phenomenally sharp, hardly needs to be said. Not only has the old supply been sought, but the weekly deliveries from the mines have met active, eager bidders.

Every one knows, however, that the active demand was in no degree due to a decrease in the production. The world's production of that metal has been growing since 1882 and without a setback, except the shortage in the South African supply which occurred in 1900 to 1902 inclusive, caused almost wholly by the Boer War and the lack of labor which followed its close. Previous to that occurrence the year 1882 was notable as being the twelve months of the smallest gold output of the world's mines since 1851. In 1882 the yield shrank to a value of only $99,757,848, or expressed in ounces, to 4,825,794 ounces. Prior to 1851 the annual compilations are more or less unreliable. With 1882, the year of minimum yield, the new era set in. At the start the increase was slow; for the first six years it averaged only about one million dollars annually, the year's total in 1888 being only $106,989,444. In 1887 South Africa began its marvelous career as a gold producer, with an output that year of 28,754 ounces, valued at $122,140. We give in our tables below the annual progress not only of Africa but of all the other important producers which at present furnish the world's annual new gold supply.

But how does the total output distribute itself? Where has it all gone? Why should there be such lack in supply in sight and coming into sight as to warrant so earnest a scramble to get possession of every little bit of the new output? The size of the additional totals the markets have received during recent years is a marvel. Including the year just closed, the eleven years since 1896 have added to the old stock $3,322,760,841. It should be kept in mind that we are not referring to any article of the character of food products but to a non-perishable article. The aggregate product of the same metal in the fifteen years from 1882 to 1896 reached but $1,870,434,882. That is to say, in the eleven years ending with 1906 the new supply was $1,452,325,959 larger than it was in the whole previous period of fifteen years. Moreover, as the article we are dealing with is, we repeat, not perishable, has a high value, and is kept with special diligence, the public holds to-day, excepting what has been used in the arts, $5,193,195,723 in addition to the stock on hand in 1881, which sufficed to facilitate trade at that time. These few facts would on their face appear to afford evidence of an abundant supply to meet every want of the world's business centres without friction. It should also be added that the world's consumption of gold in the arts, &c., is not large, though it has been gaining during recent years. Growth is particularly true of the United States, but it is also true, though in a less degree, of the rest of the world. Our Mint Bureau is generally accepted by the world as the authority on that point. Mr. Roberts's latest compilation is for 1905. His total given for that year was $85,122,000. If we assume $92,000,000 as the amount so used in 1906—it being a very active year in an industrial way—the estimate given for last year would seem to be not far from the actual figure.

The places of lodgment for this large gold output and stock are much more numerous than they were formerly. There is scarcely one among commercial nations now that has not in some way adopted the gold standard, not on a basis of full value but by some fixed relation to gold, and is consequently keeping and building up a stock for reserve. This has come about through the well-known circumstance that it is only a short time since silver was the actual currency of many countries that are no longer in that situation. One by one, through different methods, they have gotten into the current which has carried them away from silver to gold. With such a tendency existing, it is hard to follow the routes and stopping-places where the metal collects, or to measure its volume. As to the prospective output of gold, a little fear has been felt lest the Transvaal production might suffer a moderate setback. This feeling was due to the new phase of the labor prospects which the new Constitution imposes. It plainly deprives the colony of a free hand in dealing with Chinese labor, while allowing it to deal with Kaffir labor as it pleases. Altogether, it is hoped that the crisis in the Transvaal is now passed and the mines will continue to keep up an increasing product. If that expectation is realized, we see no reason why the world's output should not be further added to. A noteworthy fact is the remarkable vitality in the supply from the United States.

The Director of the Mint has published in his general report for quite a number of years an aggregate claimed to include in a single total the visible supply of gold in the world and also the supply in circulation. For the last two years (1904 and 1905) the statement is much fuller and decidedly more useful. His report for 1905 has been issued this month and in it he has brought down these data to December 31 1905.

They show a total visible stock of gold in the world at the date mentioned (Dec. 31 1905) of $3,469,300,000 and in circulation $3,014,200,000. The similar compilation given in the 1904 report—that is, for the year ending Dec. 31 1904—makes the stock in banks and public depositories $3,364,600,000 and in circulation $2,622,500,000. We bring these figures for the two years together, with the totals of consumption and the world's gold output. Of course circulation figures are very largely and necessarily estimates; but the visible stocks are a compilation made up of reports from forty-one different countries. We give below these returns with other data referred to above.

For Year ending—	In Banks and Depositories.	In Circulation.	Total Amount of Yield.	World's Consumption.
Dec. 31 1905	$3,469,300,000	$3,014,200,000	$378,098,942	$85,122,000
Dec. 31 1904	3,364,600,000	2,622,500,500	346,034,521	80,000,000

These figures, if we assume the estimated circulation to be substantially correct, show a requirement to meet the world's demands in excess of the world's product. Of course the addition to the world's visible stock ($104,700,000) is not in a sense an actual demand; and yet it may have been taken in pursuance of a statutory call for more reserve; and hence one of the year's needs. Leaving that item out, however, and assuming the increase in circulation in some measure an exaggeration, as is usually the case with new-gold-standard countries, and adding the amount used in the arts, it will be seen that the requirements were in excess of the production.

The following detailed compilation of the gold product will enable the reader to trace the growth in the contribution from the various sources of supply since 1881. Corresponding information from 1871 to 1881 will be found in Vol. 70 of the "Chronicle," page 256, and from 1851 to 1871 in Vol. 54, page 144.

The ounces in the foregoing table for any of the countries given may be turned into dollars by multiplying by 20.6718. The value in pounds sterling may also be ascertained by multiplying the ounces by 4 2478. Thus, according to the above, the product in Australia in 1906, stated in dollars is $81,956,078, and in sterling, £16,840,955.

a Estimated in part.

OFFICIAL DETAILS FROM GOLD-PRODUCING COUNTRIES.

From the reports we have obtained from the mines, mint bureaus and other official and semi-official sources respecting gold-mining in 1906, we are able to deduce the following:

United States.—The preliminary estimate of the output of the gold mines in the United States for 1906 which Mr. George E. Roberts, the Director of the Mint, has kindly furnished us, indicates that the country as a whole has increased its production approximately 10%, or in about the same ratio as in 1904 and 1905. This in itself is a satisfactory showing, but unless there has been large exaggeration in the reports coming to hand during the year from sections where it is claimed that development has progressed with decided rapidity, it is likely to prove an under-estimate. Reports from Colorado tend fully to confirm Mr. Roberts's figures of about $3,000,000 decrease in that State, and the moderate falling off in California is hardly to be questioned. Furthermore, an addition of nearly 50% to the previous year's yield in Alaska is probably close to what the official compilation will show. But the gain in Nevada, large as it is estimated—almost 90%—seems below what reports have warranted unless, as stated above, periodic advices from the various fields have been decidedly exaggerated. Even making allowance for ordinary exaggeration, the amount of gold secured in Nevada in 1906 would appear to have been much more than 474,840 fine ounces valued at $9,815,800. Goldfield and Tonopah have been the districts of greatest activity in 1906, and the important feature of the year was the rich strike in the Mohawk mine at the former place in April. Work has been pushed almost unceasingly since that time, and it is confidently stated that $10,000,000 or more had been taken out in 1906. Other new mines have also served to swell Nevada's aggregate output of gold. States other than those already referred to show no changes of importance. Mr. Roberts's estimate for 1906 makes the output of the mines 4,648,913 fine ounces, valued at $96,101,400. The ounces and values for each State in 1906 compare as follows with the final results for 1905 and 1904:

Africa.—The history of gold-mining in Africa reads like a tale from the "Arabian Nights." It is only a score of years ago that the first gold was found in the country, and yet—except when interrupted by the Boer War and its after results—production has increased steadily and rapidly, until in 1906 the aggregate output of all the fields reached 6,601,685 fine ounces. This outcome becomes more significant when it is stated that the annual yield of gold in Africa now exceeds by nearly 50% either of the producers (the United States and Australasia) nearest to it in aggregate production. Furthermore, its 1906 product is over one-third of that of the whole world, and is greater than was obtained from all countries in as late a year as 1891.

From the Witwatersrand district alone 5,559,534 fine ounces have been secured, which is an increase of over 18% over 1905. One of the difficulties under which mining has been prosecuted since the close of the war was largely eliminated in 1906. We refer to the insufficiency of laborers. The year opened with a quite adequate force in the mines, and we have heard no complaints of lack of men since. Moreover, a report received from Johannesburg states that the recent invention of a new drill driven by an air-hammer is thought to hold out a promise of relief in some measure from the labor difficulty by enabling the companies to employ more whites as well as Kaffirs and Chinese in the mines.

Not only the Rand but the reports from the other individual fields in Africa which we have received are distinctly encouraging. The Rand, as stated above, produced 5,559,534 fine ounces in 1906, the December result being 529,521 fine ounces, or 115,100 fine ounces more than for the corresponding period of 1905. The results by months for the Rand proper for the last six years were as follows. The figures are stated in fine ounces, the basis on which reports are now officially made:

Aside from the Rand, there is a group of mines in the Transvaal, comprising eleven workings, in Barberton, Lydenburg, Klerksdorp, Heidelberg and Leydsdorp. This group has also done better than in 1905, increasing its yield from 190,788 fine ounces to 227,083 fine ounces. Rhodesia likewise makes a very satisfactory report, advancing its output in 1906 to 553,985 gross ounces, as against 409,836 gross ounces in the preceding year, and the mines of West Africa and Egypt that produced 165,303 gross ounces in 1905 report 221,591 gross ounces in 1906. Furthermore, advices indicate that the French colonies, which include Algeria, Madagascar and the French Soudan, have likewise assisted in enlarging the world's new supply of gold. Bringing together the results for all the fields outside the Rand, we reach an estimated production of about 1,042,151 fine ounces, or 254,111 fine ounces more than in 1905. The following indicates the progress of gold mining in all portions of Africa since 1887:

Australasia.—The returns obtained from Australasia indicate a rather important decline in aggregate production of gold during 1906, the decrease for the whole country approximating 267,461 fine ounces. While this result is disappointing, it cannot be said to be entirely unexpected in view of the developments of 1905, and goes to confirm the explanation then given for the falling off in output in some important districts. The reason we gave a year ago for the discouraging returns was that the lower levels of a number of the leading mines were turning out a poorer grade of ore. In Westralia the yield has been steadily declining since 1903, moderately at first, but in the last year the loss reached 160,769 fine ounces. The same is true of Queensland, the mines of that colony contributing but 493,120 fine ounces of gold to the world's new supply in 1906, against 577,559 fine ounces in 1905 and 686,469 fine ounces in 1903. Victoria has done less well than in 1905 by some 24,000 fine ounces, but shows a gain over 1904 and 1903. On the other hand, New Zealand gives a moderately better result than in 1905. We append a table indicating the product of each colony in fine ounces, the figures in a few instances being in part estimated, but we believe will very closely approximate the actual output. It will be observed that the aggregate yield in 1906 was 3,964,630 fine ounces against 4,232,091 fine ounces in 1905.

a Estimated in part.

Canada.—For such information as we have obtained bearing upon gold production in Canada in 1906 we are under obligation to Mr. E. D. Ingalls, Mining Engineer to the Geological Survey of Canada. His estimate now at hand indicates a further decrease in yield of nearly 100,000 fine ounces, the total output of gold being placed at only 604,689 fine ounces against 700,800 fine ounces in 1905 and the large aggregate of 1,350,475 fine ounces in 1900. As the discovery of gold in the Yukon district was responsible for the great increase in Canadian production from 1896 to 1900, the steadily decreasing results from that field explain the rapid falling off in yield in recent years. That the Yukon is the really important contributor to the Canadian total remains true. The gold taken from its mines served mainly to run the yearly total up by rapid stages from 136,274 fine ounces in 1896 to 1,350,475 fine ounces in 1900, and after the constant decline of the past five years the output is nearly 4½ times what it was before the far North became a factor in production. The results for Canada for the last fourteen years, stated in fine ounces and values, are as follows:

Russia.—At the early date we close this review, it is impracticable to obtain any complete data of Russia's gold, product from either official or unofficial sources. It is, however, highly probable from the course of affairs reported that the working of the mines has been a little less vigorously prosecuted than in 1905. For the purposes of this compilation we have estimated the 1906 output as approximately 1,027,970 fine ounces. Results for fourteen years (including the 1906 estimate) are appended.

India.—For the first time in a number of years the returns from the mines of India have failed to add to their annual yield of gold. The early returns we receive are confined wholly to the workings in the Colar field, the important source of supply in India, and for 1906 their aggregate product reaches but 563,478 gross ounces, against 615,561 gross ounces in 1905. In fact, the current total is less than in any year since 1902. The statement of yield of the Colar field for seven years, presented in gross ounces, is as follows:

Other Countries.—There are a few other sources of gold supply to which passing reference should be made. Mexico, the most important of these, continues to progress at a moderate pace, and our information leads us to conclude that the output of the country reached about 775,000 fine ounces in 1906 against 738,261 fine ounces in 1905. Outside of Russia, Europe contributes only in a small way to the world's gold product—Germany, Sweden, Italy, Turkey and Great Britain reporting amounts running from a few ounces up to near 200, and Austria-Hungary annually furnishing a little above 100,000 fine ounces. South American countries are uncertain sources of supply individually, although between 300,000 and 400,000 fine ounces can be expected as their yearly contribution. Japan, China, Korea and Siam in the Far East, and Central America, complete the list of countries from which the world's annual new supply of gold is drawn. From the scattered data we have been able to secure from these miscellaneous producing districts, we are led to make only a very slight addition to the 1905 aggregate.

SILVER PRODUCTION OF THE WORLD.

Although silver has appreciated in value considerably the last few years, as a result of the increasing demand for that metal, apparently it has not stimulated enough the desire for statistics to enable us to secure much early data of production. We have, of course, obtained Mr. Roberts's estimate of production in the United States and a little information from Mexico and Australia, but from elsewhere nothing. Such information as we have, however, seems to point to a production differing but slightly from a year ago, and on that basis we have prepared the 1906 figures given below. With regard to the price of the metal, the 1906 advance has been important, reaching in the average 3 1-16d., the highest London price having been 33⅛d., the lowest 29d. and the average 30⅞d. In 1905 the average was 27 13-16d., in 1904 was 26⅜d., in 1903 was 24¾d. and in 1902 was 24 1-16d. It is worthy of note that 33⅛d., the highest point reached in 1906, is higher than at any time since December 1893.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 208 shares, of which 197 shares were sold at the Stock Exchange and 11 shares at auction. The transactions in trust company stocks were limited to one sale of twenty shares. With the exception of three shares sold at auction at 190½, the dealings in National Bank of Commerce stock amounting to 200 shares were all at the Stock Exchange at prices ranging from 182½ to 185. The table below, given in our usual form, shows the actual sales of New York City bank stocks made during the week at auction and at the Stock Exchange. Extensive tables showing the bid and asked quotations, deposits, surplus, &c., of banks and trust companies in all important cities of the United States are published monthly in the "Bank and Quotation" Section, the February issue of which accompanies to-day's "Chronicle." Bid and asked quotations for all New York City bank and trust company stocks are also published weekly in another department of the paper, and will be found to-day on pages 256 and 257.

—The currency bill now pending in Congress (No. 23,017) has been endorsed and recommended for passage in resolutions recently adopted by the Chicago Clearing House and the Norfolk Clearing House Association. The Washington, D. C., Board of Trade has also passed a resolution advocating the issuance of a credit currency by the national banks of the country under such rules and proper restrictions as may be provided for in a law which Congress may deem it wise to enact.

—The application of the Land Title & Trust Company of Philadelphia for clearing-house privileges has been approved by the Philadelphia Clearing House Association. This is the first institution to make application for the privilege since the association decided to permit the clearing of trust companies through members, beginning February 1.

—An amendment to the constitution of the Baltimore Clearing House Association, shortly to be put before the members for their approval, will, if adopted, either prevent the Third National Bank of that city from transacting an "all-night" business or bar it from membership in the association. The bank is the only Baltimore institution conducting a day-and-night business, having inaugurated the policy last September. The amendment referred to specifies that the business hours of members of the association shall be from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., except where otherwise fixed by law, and any member failing to comply with this rule shall cease to be a member. Under still another amendment which is to be passed upon, and which it is thought is aimed at the trust companies, it is provided that, except with the consent and approval of the executive committee, and upon such conditions as said committee shall impose, no member of the Baltimore Clearing House shall clear or make exchanges for any non-member bank, banker, banking firm or trust company, directly or indirectly, without incurring the penalty of expulsion from the Clearing House.

—Charles Hallam Keep, who was appointed New York State Superintendent of Banking by Gov. Hughes, took the oath of office on Tuesday and entered immediately upon his new duties.

—The annual banquet of the New York City bankers, members of Group VIII., held at the Waldorf-Astoria last Wednesday evening, was an enjoyable affair. The gathering, attended by five hundred guests, was notable for its simplicity, representative character and sociable nature. All the important financial interests in the banking world were present, seated in little groups of eight and sixteen around small tables. The balcony boxes were occupied during the evening by the ladies. Sitting with Stephen Baker, Chairman of Group VIII. and toastmaster, at the table of honor were: J. P. Morgan, Commander Robert E. Peary, U. S. N.; Hon. Charles H. Keep, new State Banking Superintendent; Brig.-Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, Richard Delafield, Wilfred T. Grenfell, C. M. G., Dumont Clarke, Hamilton Fish, Elliott C. McDougal, President New York State Bankers' Association; William Sherer, Comptroller Herman A. Metz, Gilson S. Whitson, President American Bankers' Association; Valentine P. Snyder, Sir Casper Purdon Clarke, George F. Baker, Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins, Alexander Gilbert and the Right Reverend David H. Greer. Each guest received a souvenir leather cigar case. Alexander Gilbert, President New York Clearing-House, commenced the after-dinner speaking with a reminiscent account of banking in this city since 1862, when he went into business, picturing interestingly conditions then and now, and also emphasizing the mission of the Clearing-House as this country's conservative banking force in times of prosperity and adversity. Commander Peary was heartily cheered when he rose to describe his Arctic experiences in his attempt to reach the north pole last year. His manly narrative was frequently applauded. Rev. Howard Chandler Robbins of Englewood, N. J., related his youthful experiments in banking, much to the merriment of the assembled bankers. Hon. Charles H. Keep and Wilfred T. Grenfell also spoke. Gov. Hughes sent a telegram regretting his inability to attend. All the features of this year's banquet were marked by an informality which tended to make the occasion more enjoyable. The Banquet Committee in charge included: Stephen Baker, Walter M. Bennett, Francis Halpin, Robert A. Parker, Charles H. Stout, Gilbert G. Thorne and H. H. Powell, Secretary and Treasurer of the Group.

—In a booklet entitled "The Responsibilities of Directors," with especial reference to the control and regulation of trust companies in New York State, the Lincoln Trust Company of this city has added another number to its series of instructive pamphlets. It begins with the statement that "with the multiplication of banks and trust companies throughout the country, as a result of prosperous trade conditions, it becomes not only desirable but almost necessary that the public, who are asked to confide their affairs, fiduciary and financial, to these institutions, should be better informed as to their organization, their functions and their stability." This, it continues, is a matter of special import and significance in relation to the trust company. An outline of the government of the trust companies in this State is submitted, and it is pointed out that there is perhaps no more interesting legislative requirement enacted of the companies than that which calls for semi-annual examination and detailed reports of the results by their own boards of directors. To further acquaint the reader with the requirements, fac-simile reproductions of portions of the forms issued by the Banking Department for this purpose are given. It is added: "In the State of New York legislation has gone as far as it reasonably can for the present; the rest must lie with the officers and directors, whose duties are so clearly defined. If they perform their sworn duties, it would seem well nigh impossible for any ill to befall the trust companies that cannot be easily remedied before it has become incurable. And since the only absolute safeguard against loss is, after all, personal integrity combined with ability, the clients must consider not only the character of a trust company directorate as a whole, but the individual standing and responsibility of its members."

—The total $3,000,000 capital of the Mechanics' National Bank of this city is now listed on the New York Stock Exchange, the application to list the $1,000,000 additional stock authorized in April 1904 by the stockholders having been approved this week.

—William H. Rogers was elected President of the Nassau Bank of this city at a meeting of the directors on Wednesday. He succeeds Frank H. Richardson, whose death occurred on January 16. The new executive has served the bank for fifty years, and at the last annual meeting was elected to the office of Second Vice-President, having previously (since 1869) been Cashier.

—Announcement was made this week of the proposed organization by copper interests of the National Copper Bank, to have a capital stock of $2,000,000 and $2,000,000 surplus, commencing business about May 1st in the new Trinity Building, 115 Broadway. The incorporators are: John D. Ryan, President of the Anaconda Copper Co., and Managing Director of the Amalgamated Copper Co.; Thomas F. Cole, President of the Oliver Mining Co., a subsidiary company of the United States Steel Corporation, and President of the Butte Coalition and Greene-Cananea; William A. Paine of Boston, President of the Copper Range Consolidated Co.; U. H. Broughton, President of Utah Consolidated and Managing Director of the United Metals Selling Co., and W. B. Dickson, Second Vice-President of the United States Steel Corporation. The new bank will pay particular attention to the business of the copper-mining concerns throughout the country.

—Joseph Adams has been elected Assistant Treasurer of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of this city to succeed William C. Ivison, resigned. The latter had been with the company for the past six years, and is a son of the late D. B. Ivison, formerly President of the American Book Company. It is understood he gives up his present position to go into a Wall Street firm.

—Dr. John P. Munn, President of the United States Life Insurance Co., has been elected a trustee of the Washington Trust Company, Broadway and Chambers Street. In the summer the Washington Trust will move to the Postal-Telegraph Building, 253 Broadway, corner of Murray Street. The institution will occupy the entire second floor, which it has leased for twenty-five years.

—The directors of the First National Bank of Morristown, New Jersey, have called a special meeting of the shareholders to ratify their recommendation to double the present capital stock of $100,000. The new stock will be issued to the stockholders at $150 per share. The bank's current surplus is $100,000, undivided profits $215,223 and deposits $2,847,456 72. If the proposal is approved, $200,000 will be transferred from undivided profits to surplus account, increasing that item to $300,000, which, with the capital of $200,000, will allow the institution to increase its 10% loaning capacity according to the new law to $50,000 on surplus and capital.

—Carroll E. Bowen, who on January 8 was advanced from the cashiership to the vice-presidency of the Traders' National Bank of Rochester, N. Y., died on the 25th ult. He was also interested in the formation of the Genessee Valley Trust Company of Rochester, of which he was a director. Mr. Bowen was forty-six years of age.

—Alexander R. Turkington, President of the First National Bank of Stamford, Conn., died on the 31st ult. He was sixty years of age.

—The announcement is made that a large interest in the Puritan Trust Company of Boston, capital $200,000, has been obtained by interests identified with the United States Trust Company of Boston. There is said to be no intention to consolidate the institutions, which will remain at their present locations and under the same management, except that the directorate of the Puritan will be increased by the election of six members from the board of the United States Trust Company. William R. Dresser, President of the Puritan Trust, died on January 8.

—F. W. Adams has replaced A. P. Baker as Cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of Bangor, Me.

—C. Jones Rixey has been elected to succeed George C. Henning, resigned, as President of the Traders' National Bank of Washington, D. C. Mr. Rixey was previously Vice-President.

—Several changes have been made in the personnel of the Riggs National Bank of Washington, D. C. Arthur T. Brice and William J. Flather, respectively Cashier and Assistant Cashier, have become Vice-Presidents; Henry H. Flather has succeeded to the cashiership and Joshua Evans Jr. has been given the office of Assistant Cashier.

—Allan McLane has tendered his resignation as Vice-President of the Maryland Trust Company of Baltimore, to take effect March 1. Mr. McLane retires from the company's service to follow the practice of law.

—Robert Wardrop, President of the People's National Bank of Pittsburgh, in which office he continues, was lately chosen President of the Safe Deposit & Trust Company of Pittsburgh. D. McK. Lloyd, the former President of the Safe Deposit & Trust Company, has been made a Vice-President and member of the executive committee of that institution.

—At the annual meeting of the Cleveland Trust Company on Jan. 23, several changes were made in the official staff. The management is now as follows: President, Calvary Morris; Vice-President and General Manager, E. G. Tillotson; Vice-Presidents, M. H. Wilson and C. O. Patch (formerly Secretary and Treasurer); Treasurer, A. G. Tame; Secretary, A. R. Horr; Assistant Treasurer, C. R. Green; Trust Officer, J. M. Henderson.

—The New National Bank and the Savings Bank Company of Warren, Ohio (both having $100,000 capital), are to be merged into the Western Reserve National Bank of Warren. The latter has a capital of $100,000. The merger is to go into effect Feb. 21.

—Louis G. Pochat, formerly Assistant Cashier of the Market National Bank of Cincinnati, has been elected Cashier succeeding E. A. Donnally, resigned. D. William Gayle has become First Assistant Cashier.

—The stockholders of the Central Savings Bank Company of Toledo voted last week to merge the business of their bank with the Lucas County Savings Bank Company of Toledo. It is reported that before this union takes place the American Savings Bank Company, capital $50,000, will be merged with the Central, a majority of the stockholders of the American having previously agreed to such a merger. In uniting the business of the Central and Lucas County Savings banks, a new institution has been incorporated under the name of the Continental Trust & Savings Bank Company, to which the two banks will turn over their deposits. The new bank will have a capital of $200,000, fully paid. The Lucas County Savings Bank has a capital of the same amount, one-half of which is paid in. Its shareholders will receive in exchange for their stock $100,000 of stock in the proposed bank, while the stockholders of the Central will be asked to subscribe for the remaining $100,000 at par. The Central will be liquidated. The following have been elected officers of the new institution: Chairman of the board, E. T. Affleck; President, L. S. Baumgardner; Vice-Presidents, W. W. Morrison and Irving Squire; Secretary and Treasurer, E. F. Rowley and Auditor, J. E. Alvord.

—Another union of Toledo financial institutions has been arranged, namely, between the Merchants' National and the Second National banks. The details of this consolidation have been worked out by a committee appointed for the purpose, and as soon as passed upon by the boards of directors will be submitted for ratification by the stockholders. The consolidated bank will operate as the Second National and will have a capital of $1,000,000, with a surplus of like amount. The present Second National has a capital of $350,000 and surplus and profits a little in excess of $1,000,000. To carry out the plan of consolidation it will first increase its capital to $700,000, declaring for the purpose a cash dividend of 100% to be used in purchasing the additional stock. The other $300,000 stock, making up the $1,000,000 capital of the new Second National, will go to the stockholders of the Merchants', which has a capital of $300,000 and surplus and profits of $303,549.

—The stockholders of the First National Bank and the Commercial National Bank of Detroit, Mich., will meet on Tuesday next, the 5th inst., to ratify the action of their respective boards, which recently decided to consolidate the institutions. The bank resulting from the union of these two representative institutions is to operate under the present charter of the First National, and will probably have a capital of $2,000,000, with a paid-up surplus of $1,000,000. Its President, it is understood, will be Morris L. Williams, now at the head of the Commercial. This last named bank has a capital of $1,000,000, and surplus and undivided profits of $670,366. The January 26 statement shows deposits of $7,752,652 and total resources of $10,375,267. The bank with which it is to consolidate, namely, the First National, has a capital of $750,000, surplus and profits of $471,042 and deposits (November 12) of $8,644,732. John T. Shaw and Emory W. Clark, Vice-Presidents of the First, will, according to report, hold similar offices with the consolidated bank.

—J. H. Johnson, for some years Cashier of the Peninsular Savings Bank of Detroit, Mich., has been elected President of the institution.

—The January statements of the Chicago banks show comparatively slight variations from the November reports. This applies to both National and State banks. The largest gain in deposits is that of the Continental National Bank, (to which we refer in the item below)—about 6½ millions. The next largest increase is shown by that prodigious infant, the "First Trust & Savings" appendage of the First National Bank, viz., $1,729,000 gain in less than three months, and total deposits of nearly $36,000,000 in less than two years. The combined deposits of the First National and First Trust & Savings banks are now 140 million dollars, bringing this financial institution up to nearly, if not quite, the first rank in the United States. The National Bank of the Republic shows a gain in deposits of nearly $1,200,000; the Hibernian Banking Association of nearly $1,000,000; the State Bank of Chicago about $800,000; the Central Trust Company of Illinois, $715,000, and the Drovers' Deposit National Bank a half million dollars.

—The Continental National Bank of Chicago increased its deposits six and a half million dollars from Nov. 12 1906 to the latest call of Jan. 26 1907, the amount having risen from $53,809,653 to $60,350,562. Over two hundred thousand dollars has been added in the eleven weeks to the undivided profits, which now, at $581,338, compare with $377,066 in November. During the same time total resources have grown from $63,181,119 to $69,922,300.

—In addition to the regular semi-annual dividend of 3% paid January 1 on the capital of the St. Anthony Falls Bank of Minneapolis, a 60% stock dividend was declared out of surplus, thereby increasing the capital from $125,000 to $200,000. After adding to its capital the bank still has a surplus of $20,000 and undivided profits of $5,885.

—At the late annual meeting, George S. Parker was elected President of the Live Stock National Bank of Sioux City, Iowa, to succeed George H. Rathman.

—John Scott Jr. has succeeded Abel Anderson as President of the Northwestern National Bank of Sioux City.

—Charles Hamilton has been elected Secretary of the Missouri-Lincoln Trust Company of St. Louis, Mo., succeeding Edward H. Gorse. Roberts Johnston has been elected to the directorate of the company to replace L. R. Blackmer, retired.

—The stockholders of the Bank of Wheeling and the National Bank of West Virginia, at Wheeling, on Jan. 21, ratified the proposition to consolidate, mention of which was made in our issue of Jan. 19. As therein stated, the Bank of Wheeling surrenders its charter, transferring its assets to the National Bank of West Virginia. The stockholders of the latter institution have also voted to increase its capital from $200,000 to $400,000, to provide for the stockholders of the absorbed bank. The enlarged bank is under the management of Earl W. Oglebay, President; A. J. Clarke, Chairman of the board; W. B. Irvine, Vice-President; G. A. Wagner, Vice-President and Cashier; E. W. Zinn and T. E. Bodley, Assistant Cashiers.

—The Bank of Commerce & Trust Company of Memphis, Tenn., has adopted the policy of having its statement certified to by a certified public accountant. The firm of Edward S. Elliott & Co., auditors, announce that they have officially examined the books and find that on December 31 1906 the total resources of the institution were $8,168,200, its deposits amounting to $5,959,515. The capital is $1,500,000, while the surplus and profits are $708,685. J. T. Fargason is President; John H. Watkins and J. A. Omberg, Vice-Presidents, James H. Fisher, Secretary, and S. J. Shepherd, Trust Officer.

—Charles W. Schulte, President of the First National Bank and the Union Savings Bank & Trust Company of Memphis, Tenn., died in a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., on the 28th ult. He was sixty-two years of age.

—W. H. Hubbard has been elected Vice-President of the Fourth National Bank of Montgomery, Ala., to succeed J. W. Black, retired. A. J. Jones has been advanced from the office of Assistant-Cashier to the post of Cashier, formerly held by Mr. Hubbard.

—At the annual meeting of La Banque Provinciale du Canada of Montreal on January 23 H. Laporte was elected President, succeeding G. N. Ducharme, who retired on account of pressure of personal affairs.

—The stockholders of the Bank of Toronto (head office, Toronto) at the annual meeting January 9 empowered the directors to increase the authorized capital from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000 and to issue the additional stock from time to time as required. Last spring the capital was raised from $3,500,000 to the authorized amount of $4,000,000, and the $500,000 of new stock was disposed of at a premium of 100%. Very nearly all of this has been paid in, the bank's statement for the year ending November 30 1906 showing the paid-up amount to be $3,943,530. The net profits of the bank for the same year were $544,296, which, with the premium of $483,945 on the stock and the balance of $109,046 at credit of profit and loss the previous year, gave a total of $1,137,287. This sum was distributed as follows: $370,294 in semi-annual dividends of 5% each; $10,000 transferred to officers' pension fund; $100,000 written off bank premises, and $583,945 transferred to "rest" account, leaving a balance of $73,048 to be carried forward. The "rest" account now stands at $4,443,530. The total deposits are $24,737,124 and the total assets $37,221,909. During the year twenty-one new branches were opened, making in all sixty-seven branches operated. The dividend distributions will hereafter be made quarterly instead of semi-annually. The bank has completed fifty years of business, having opened in July 1856. W. H. Beatty is President and D. Coulson General Manager.

—The semi-annual statement of the National Discount Co. of London, Ltd., shows deposits on December 31 1906 of $60,019,997 and bills re-discounted of $17,571,717. The gross profits for the half-year were $760,668; the six months dividend at the rate of 10% called for $211,666. The full statement is published in another column.

GOLD.—The Bank has again secured the bulk of arrivals and has purchased £469,000 in bars. It has also received £41,000 in U. S. coin. The withdrawals have been £230,000 for South America and £20,000 for Singapore. To-day the Bank rate has been reduced to 5%. Next week we expect £290,000 from South Africa. Arrivals—South Africa, £613,000; Bombay, £63,000; West Africa, £2,000; total, £678,000. Shipments—Bombay, £114,500; Calcutta, £25,000; Colombo, £2,500; total, £142,000.

SILVER.—The silver market has again fallen during the past week to 31½d. for spot, which price was quoted to-day. The Indian Bazaars have again been moderate buyers, but the ordinary supply of silver has been augmented by further sales of Mexican dollars and selling on Far Eastern account. We close quiet at the quotations. Forward silver is quoted ⅛d. over cash, after having been 3-16d over. The Indian price is Rs. 80¾ per 100 Tolahs. Arrivals—New York £260,000. Shipments—Bombay, £186,000; Colombo, £2,500; total, £188,500.

DIVIDENDS.

We have changed the method of making up our weekly list of dividends. Heretofore our record has included only the dividends announced each week, but for the convenience of our readers we now enlarge the scope of the compilation so as to show also dividends previously declared, but the date of payment of which has not yet arrived. In the new form the statement indicates all the dividends announced for the future by all large or important corporations.

Dividends announced this week are printed in italics.

Statement of New York City Clearing-House Banks.—The following statement shows the condition of the New York City Clearing-House banks for the week ending Jan. 26. It should be distinctly understood that as to all items except capital and surplus the figures are the averages of the daily results, not the totals at the end of the week. In other words, in reporting loans and deposits and holdings of specie and legal tenders, the practice is to take the aggregate of the amounts for the several days of the week and divide this aggregate by the number of days.

We omit two ciphers (00) in all cases.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Persistent liquidation in the stock market was the prominent characteristic of operations at the Exchange during the early part of the week and again to-day. So effective has this movement been that several of the best known railway issues have sold below the lowest quotations recorded for them during the year 1906. There was a temporary suspension of the decline on Thursday, and a substantial recovery in many cases on the execution of some quite large buying orders. On that day also call loan rates declined to 1¾%, the lowest figures reached since July last, both of which seemed to indicate that the liquidation referred to had run its course. This morning, however, it was resumed with renewed force, and in many cases prices have gone lower than before. Evidently traders on the short side of the market find the present a favorable time for bold and aggressive operations, but there has also undoubtedly been liberal sales of long stocks almost continuously throughout the week.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¾ to 4%. To-day's rates on call were 2¾@4%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 5¾@6¼% for endorsements and 5¾@6¼% for best single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £647,971, the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 48.31, against 48.91 last week.

The discount rate remains as fixed January 17 at 5%. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 5,850,000 francs in gold and 2,050,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of January 26 showed an increase of $3,246,400 in the reserve held and a surplus over the required reserve of $15,562,800, against $18,460,700 the previous week.

a $16,563,500 United States deposits included, against $16,537,300 last week and $8,495,200 the corresponding week in 1906. With these United States deposits eliminated, the surplus reserve would be $19,703,675 on Jan. 26 and $22,595,025 on Jan. 19.

Note.—Returns of separate banks appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The market was lower this week, influenced by a pressure of bills against corporation notes which were placed in London, by a comparatively light demand and by speculative selling. The tone was heavy at the close. Gold engagements in London for New York, $500,000.

To-day's (Friday's) nominal rates for sterling exchange were 4 82@4 82½ for sixty-day and 4 86@4 86½ for sight. To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 8065@4 8075 for long, 4 8450@4 8460 for short and 4 8525@4 8535 for cables. Commercial on banks 4 80@4 8010 and documents for payment 4 79½@4 80⅝. Cotton for payment 4 79½@4 79¾, cotton for acceptance 4 80@4 8010 and grain for payment 4 80½@4 80⅝.

To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for Paris bankers francs were 5 22½@5 21⅞ for long and 5 20*a*@5 20*d* for short. Germany bankers' marks were 93⅞@93 15-16 for long and 94½*d*@94 9-16*d* for short. Amsterdam bankers guilders were 39 96@39 98 for short.

Charleston selling, $1 per $1,000 premium. New Orleans bank 40c. per $1,000 premium; commercial 10c. per $1,000 premium. Chicago, par. St. Louis 5c. per $1,000 premium. San Francisco 50c. per $1,000 premium.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $3,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 95.

The market for railway and industrial bonds has been dull and weak. Only a few issues have been sufficiently active to establish quotations and these are generally at a lower level. Convertible issues have been notably weak, declining in sympathy with the market for shares, but the list, as a whole, is down an average of about a point. Atchison, Burlington & Quincy, Colorado Industrial, Pennsylvania, Interborough and United States Steel have been the active features, and Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and Reading relatively strong.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $30,000 4s reg., 1925, at 129, $3,000 3s coup., 1908-18, at 102½ to 103 and $1,000 3s reg., 1908-18, at 103. The following are the daily closing quotations: for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been more active throughout the week, the transactions averaging well above 1,000,000 shares per day. It continued generally weak until after the opening on Thursday, when buying orders were executed in sufficient volume to cause a substantial recovery in prices. These purchases were, perhaps, largely to cover short contracts. However that may be, the offerings to-day were again in excess and in many cases more than yesterday's recovery was lost.

There have been few exceptional features, among which are St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific. They have been relatively strong throughout and are the only active stocks that close as high or higher than last week. North West and Reading, on the other hand, declined over 8 points and close near the lowest. A long list of active stocks, both railway and industrial, are down from 2 to 5 points. Anaconda Mining lost 11 points and recovered 3½.

For daily volume of business see page 263.

Outside Market.—"Curb" trading this week followed the course of business on the Stock Exchange, the slump in the inside market causing general weakness in unlisted securities. Chicago Subway was a conspicuous feature, the stock opening the week at 40¼ and on successive violent breaks dropping to 24⅞, a new low record. It moved up to-day to 28½, closing at 27¾. Sharp declines in Standard Oil carried the price down from 535 to 510, with a subsequent recovery to 520. Waterbury Company, after fluctuating between 44 and 44½, ran up to-day to 46⅝. American Can preferred sold down from 52 to 48 and up again to 50½. Lord & Taylor common moved up from 128¾ to 131. Western Ice from 30⅛ dropped to 28¼. In the mining list Nipissing Mines was conspicuous, and after a break from 12¾ to 10¾ advanced to 12⅞, closing to-day at 12. United Copper common ran off from 74 to 69¼, recovered to 71, and ends the week at 70. Tennessee Copper dropped from 49 to 45, rallied to 48¼ and closed to-day at 47. Greene Consolidated Copper declined from 31½ to 29½, moved up again to 30⅝, the close to-day being at 30¼. Boston Consolidated Copper sank from 31 to 29½, advancing finally to 30½. British Columbia Copper lost a point to 9⅝, rose to 10⅞ and closed to-day at 10. Butte Coalition fell from 37 to 33½ with a recovery to 35. Trinity Copper declined from 41 to 37½, moved up to 39 and back finally to 38. Utah Copper was exceptionally weak and sank from 39½ to 35½. Douglas Copper from 11½ rose to 14½, but reacted to 13⅞.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Lackawanna Steel Company.

(Official Statement for Year ending Dec. 31 1906.)

President E. A. S. Clarke, under date of Jan. 26, says:

Plant Fully Operated Oct. 1. — During the year your plant at Buffalo as originally planned has been completed, together with certain additions to open-hearth steel-making capacity found necessary to a proper working balance. The period of organization and training incident to all new works has prevented a full output and normal earnings; but, notwithstanding the act that considerable construction work has been carried on during the year, most of the errors and weaknesses of plant and organization have been corrected, and it is only since Oct. 1 1906 that it may fairly be said that your works have been in full operation.

Production, Shipments, &c. — Your company received during 1906 from mines which it owns or in which it is interested, 1,893,562 gross tons of ore, and produced 927,176 gross tons of pig iron and spiegeleisen. It also produced 845,300 tons of Bessemer and 352,791 tons of open-hearth ingots, a total of 1,201,091 tons of steel ingots.

Shipments of products were as follows, all in gross tons:

	Fourth Quarter.	Year 1906.		Fourth Quarter.	Year 1906
Standard rails	154,384	556,755	Plates	21,356	95,241
Light rails	14,538	47,868	Merchant steel prod	16,108	52,401
Angle bars, fittings, &c	11,081	43,630	Slabs, billets and blooms	6,122	17,078
Total				266,478	969,047

In anticipation of earlier operations, contracts for the sale of a considerable tonnage of steel were made during the period of low prices obtaining in 1904; owing to delay in completing your plant, a substantial part of the above material has had to be shipped during the past year, which has prevented your realizing to a full extent the benefits of the active demand and favorable prices for steel prevailing during 1906. I am pleased to state, however, that there seems to be every indication of a continuance of prosperous times for the steel business during 1907.

Orders on our books at the close of 1906 amount to 707,191 tons, an increase of 55% over the corresponding date in 1905.

Expenditures for Construction.—There has been expended during the past two years in new construction and additions to property, chargeable to capital, $8,210,865, of which $2,754,888 was expended during 1906.

New Blast Furnaces.—Your directors have, during the past year, authorized the construction of an additional blast furnace at Buffalo, of a daily capacity of 500 tons, and the building of the same has progressed so far that it is expected to have it in operation by March 1st next. Another similar furnace should be built during 1907 to give the best results for your property.

Purchase of Ellsworth Coal Co. Your directors have also negotiated the purchase of the Ellsworth Coal Co., which owns some 15,000 acres of coking coal lands in Washington County, Pa., estimated to contain over 110,000,000 tons of coal, together with four working shafts, and a splendid equipment of machinery, miners' houses, &c., the property having a present annual capacity of upwards of 2,000,000 tons of coal a year. Through this purchase they feel that your company has been provided with an ample supply of coking and gas coal, which, by rendering it independent of the fluctuations of the coal and coke market, should considerably increase its earnings.

Need of Further Capital.—Although all the surplus of 1906 has been used for working capital or new construction, additions and improvements, your directors are satisfied that further new construction and additions are necessary and desirable for the proper development of your plants as well as for reduction in operating costs, and that more ample working capital should be provided; and they are considering ways and means of providing proper funds for these purposes. Under these circumstances it has not been deemed wise to declare any dividend on your stock.

The complete balance sheet will be submitted to the stockholders at the annual meeting in March next.

The following statement of earnings (which is subject to the annual audit now in progress) shows that during the last quarter of 1906 your property has been earning at the rate of 14.98% per year on your stock. The year 1907 should show an increase over this.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Nov. 30 1906.)

President C. H. Higgs says:

The earnings of the company are very much greater than ever before in its history. Aside from this, the condition of our business as a whole is better and stronger than ever before. Our sales have shown a very healthy increase. The physical condition of our plants and their capacity for turning out goods has been greatly improved, and the business in every department is in a highly prosperous condition.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Authorized.—The stockholders on Wednesday authorized an increase in the common stock from $152,000,000 to $250,000,000 and also $98,000,000 of bonds convertible into the new common stock, to be issued in the discretion of the directors. Of the stock or convertible bonds, about $25,000,000 is to be offered at present pro rata to stockholders, the details to be fixed by the directors at their monthly meeting next week. Compare V. 83, p. 1468; V. 84, p. 219.

Payment of Serial Debentures.—The principal of Series E 4% serial debenture bonds ($2,500,000) due to-day will be paid on presentation at the office of the company, No. 5 Nassau Street, New York. Coupon No. 10 should be detached and separately presented for payment.—V. 84, p. 219, 101.

Atlanta Birmingham & Atlantic RR.—Joint Collateral Notes Offered.—Clark, Dodge & Co. and the Trust Company of America, having sold $6,000,000 of the Atlantic & Birmingham Construction Co. and Atlantic Birmingham & Atlantic RR. first collateral 5% 4-year gold coupon notes dated May 1 1906, offer the balance of the $8,000,000, by advertisement on another page of to-day's "Chronicle," at 96½% and interest. See full description in V. 83, p. 35, 1290. A map of the railroad will be found in our "Railway and Industrial" section.

President H. M. Atkinson on Jan. 19 1907 wrote:

The gross earnings (partly estimated) for the year 1906 are upwards of $1,500,000, with about $450,000 net, being more than sufficient to pay the interest on the outstanding bonds. After the road is completed to Birmingham early in 1908, and in good running condition, we estimate the gross earnings will reach $12,000 per mile. We have recently made a traffic arrangement whereby we will soon be shipping through freight from Brunswick to Atlanta over our own tracks from Brunswick to La Grange and thence over Atlanta & West Point RR. to Atlanta. By the end of 1907 we will be able to ship to Atlanta entirely on our own rails.

The Brunswick Steamship Co. has two freight steamers running between New York and Brunswick, and passenger and freight steamer running between New York, Brunswick and Havana. Within two months the company will have two additional freight steamers on the line between New York and Brunswick. At New York the company has secured the best water-front terminals in Manhattan, consisting of New Piers 14 and 15 North River. The steamship company has already in sight as much traffic as it can handle.

The coal and iron companies, the stock of which is pledged as collateral for these notes, are earning $300,000 net this year. With the development of these properties now in progress, it is expected that the coal and iron companies will earn, based on the present prices of coal and iron, upwards of $600,000 net per annum, which of itself is more than sufficient to pay the interest on this entire note issue. In about eighteen months the coal lands are expected to be producing 1,000,000 tons of coal per annum, an amount sufficient to supply the iron company, the railroad company and the steamship company, and leaving a surplus to be sold, for which there is a ready demand.—V. 82, p. 1267; V. 83, p. 1290.

Boston Elevated Ry.—Proposed Consolidation with Subsidiary.—A bill was introduced in the Massachusetts House of Representatives on Jan. 22 authorizing consolidation with the West End Street Ry.

Under the terms of the bill, the Boston Elvated Ry. may issue its preferred stock in such manner as may be agreed upon with the West End Street Ry. to an amount equal at par to the par value of the West End stock, the latter now consisting of $9,689,250 common and $6,400,000 preferred stock, on which 7 and 8% respectively are guaranteed under lease. The bill provides that the sale shall not be made until it has been authorized by the holders of not less than two-thirds of the capital stock of the two companies at special meetings called for the purpose; nor until the terms of the issue of the preferred stock shall have been approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners.—V. 84, p. 155, 101.

Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh Ry.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the 3 and 6 months ending Dec. 31 were:

Buffalo & Susquehanna Ry.—Terminal Facilities in Buffalo —Passenger Train Service to Begin Feb. 4.—This company, having completed its line from Wellsville, N. Y., to a connection at Blasdell, 6 miles south of Buffalo, with both the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and the South Buffalo, has arranged with the Erie for trackage rights into the Erie passenger station, corner of Michigan and Exchange streets, Buffalo. The junction with the Erie is located between Blasdell and Hamburg, 1¼ miles north of the latter place, and will be known as Goodyear Junction. Regular passenger train service to and from Buffalo will begin on the 4th inst. The Erie will furnish the Buffalo & Susquehanna with local freight facilities pending the construction of a temporary warehouse on ground to be leased adjacent to the former's Smith Street tracks, from which tracks team deliveries will be made. Ultimately the Buffalo & Susquehanna will probably enter Buffalo over the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern from Blasdell, and will construct an extensive local freight terminal on its own account.—V. 83, p. 1227.

Chesapeake & Ohio Ry.—Equipment Trust Bonds Offered. —Blair & Co. are offering, at prices to net the investor 5%, the entire issue of $2,250,000 4% gold equipment bonds, "Series M," dated Feb. 1 1907, due $112,000 semi-annually Aug. 1 1907 to Feb. 1 1912 and $113,000 Aug. 1 1912 to Feb. 1 1917; interest Feb. and Aug. These bonds are the direct obligation of the company, and are secured by 2,000 twin hopper steel flat bottom gondola cars of 100,000 lbs. capacity each, the title to which is retained by the trustee, the New York Trust Co., until every bond has been paid.

The same firm has purchased "Series L" equipment trust 4% gold bonds, dated Jan. 1 1907, maturing $113,000 each six months from July 1 1907 to Jan. 1 1912 and $112,000 July 1 1912 to Jan. 1 1917. Of the last named series the greater part has been sold. Each series is secured by equipment costing $2,477,500, of which $227,500 was paid in cash, the equipment notes being issued for the balance of the purchase price.—V. 83, p. 1523.

Chicago & North Western Ry.—Called Bonds.—Five and six per cent sinking fund bonds of 1879 to the amount of $135,000 have been drawn for redemption and will be paid at the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. at 105 and accrued interest to Feb. 1 1907, after which date interest ceases. The numbers of the bonds will be found in our advertising columns.

Chicago South Bend & Northern Indiana Ry.—Mortgage.—The company, incorporated last week with $7,500,000 authorized capital stock and which has acquired the Northern Indiana Ry., has made a mortgage to the Central Trust Co. of New York to secure an issue of $5,000,000 of 30-year 5% gold bonds. Compare Northern Indiana Ry. item, V. 84, p. 159.

It is understood that the price paid to Arthur Kennedy and associates was about $4,000,000. The new company acquires the city lines at Goshen, Elkhart, Mishawaka and South Bend, besides the connecting links, and is now building from South Bend to Laporte and Michigan City, and, it is reported, will extend the line from the latter place to Hammond and Chicago within the next year and also build, from Michigan City to Indianapolis. Work on the extensions, it is stated, will be started immediately. Incorporators:

Randall Morgan, Philadelphia, and Hugh J. McGowan, Indianapolis, of the Morgan-McGowan syndicate; J. Levering Jones of the Ft. Wayne and Wabash Valley Co., and the Lexington (Ky.) Traction Co.; Thomas E. Kratz of the Evansville (Ind.) Traction Co.; Joseph Mayer of the Buffalo & Erie Traction Co., and a number of Indiana associates.

Officers—President, Charles T. Dieterich, New York; Vice-President, Charles M. Murdock, Lafayette, Ind.; Treasurer, Alfred E. Dieterich, New York, and Secretary and General Manager, Samuel T. Murdock, Lafayette Ind.

Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $10,000,000 additional common stock, making the total amount listed to date $50,000,000. Compare V. 83, p. 687. 1290.—V. 84, p. 155.

Colorado & Southern Ry.—Statement to Stock Exchange.—On pages 276 and 277 will be found the official statement made to the New York Stock Exchange in connection with the listing by the Exchange of the first issue of $10,000,000 refunding and extension mortgage 4½% bonds. The statement describes the bonds and gives in detail the purposes for which the bonds listed have been issued. It also includes an income account for the 4 months ending Oct. 31 1906 and balance sheets of the company and controlled properties as of the last named date and much additional information.

The financial status of the company has been much changed, and its strategic importance greatly increased, by the recent extension of the system (through trackage rights and the completion of the Trinity & Brazos Valley Ry. (V. 83, p. 1170) to the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston. The mortgage securing the aforesaid bonds was made in 1905 to provide for the building of the new line, for refunding outstanding bonds, the retirement of car trusts and for acquisitions and additions, as clearly shown in the aforesaid statement, in connection with the earnings of the company and the balance sheets, both of the railway itself and its leading subsidiaries. See also map on page 50 of our Railway and Industrial section for Jan. 1907.—V. 84, p. 220.

Cornwall & Lebanon RR.—Dividend Increased.—The directors have declared a semi-annual dividend of 4% on the $800,000 capital stock, payable Jan. 31. This rate, if maintained, will increase the annual distribution to 8%, as against 6% from July 1901 to 1905, both inclusive, and previously various amounts ranging from 2% in 1894 to 5% in 1900-01. —V. 82, p. 1322.

Detroit United Ry.—Proposed Note Issue.—Kean, Van Cortlandt & Co. have agreed to purchase an issue of $2,000,000 of 3-year 5% notes, to be dated Feb. 15, which will be offered to the public at 95½. The proceeds will be used for improvements, to be later financed by an issue of bonds. The notes will be secured by bonds and other collateral now held in the treasury. The directors will meet in Detroit on Tuesday next to complete details of the issue. —V. 84, p. 51.

Erie RR.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $11,015,000 4% convertible 50-year, series "B," coupon bonds, due 1953, and has authorized to be listed from time to time, but prior to Aug. 1 1907, $985,000 additional bonds on official notice that they have been sold, making the total amount authorized to be listed $12,000,000. The bonds have been or will be issued under Section 3 of Article 1 of the general mortgage, as follows:

Issued in Calendar Year 1905 (total $2,000,000).
To pay for 25 10-wheel passenger locomotives, Nos. 950 to 974, inclusive	$433,786
To pay for 45 consolidation freight locomotives, Nos. 1,570 to 1,614, inclusive	834,335
Part payment for 50 consolidation freight locomotives, Nos. 1,616 to 1,665, inclusive	731,879
Disposition of Bonds Issued in 1906 as below stated (total $10,000,000).
Net proceeds ($8,715,000) of bonds sold	$9,015,000
Balance held in the treasury to be sold from time to time, as required	985,000
Disposition of Cash Received from Bonds Sold in 1906 as above stated.
Expended for construction to Nov. 30 1906	$5,278,205
Expended for equipment to Nov. 30 1906	1,672,812
Cash held in the treasury to be expended for one or more of purposes specified in sub-division (a), paragraph (a), Section 3 of Article 1 of the general mortgage	1,763,983

—V. 84, p. 158, 102.

Fitchburg RR.—Bonds Offered.—Moffat & White, having disposed of the larger portion of the issue, this week offered at par and interest the unsold balance of about $350,000 of the $2,000,000 20-year 4% bonds dated April 1 1907, due

April 1 1927. Interest payable April 1 and Oct. 1, guaranteed under lease by the Boston & Maine. Coupon bonds in $1,000 denomination which may be registered as to principal or exchanged for registered certificates in amounts of $5,000, $10,000 or $50,000. The bankers offer to take in exchange, par for par, the 4% bonds maturing April 1. The bonds are a legal investment for savings banks in Massachusetts and Connecticut. Compare V. 84, p. 158.

Bonds Authorized.—The stockholders on Jan. 30 authorized $800,000 bonds to pay for double-tracking the road between Troy and Johnsonville, N. Y., and for elimination of grade crossings, the details of the issue, including the rate of interest, being left to the discretion of the directors.—V. 84, p. 158.

Hocking Valley Ry.—New Equipment Bonds Offered.—J. F. Feder, Traction Building, Cincinnati, is offering at prices to yield the investor 5%, $458,000 4% equipment bonds, dated Feb. 1 1907, and due in semi-annual installments from Aug. 1 1907 to Feb. 1 1917, both inclusive, $21,000 being due in 1907 and $23,000 each six months thereafter.—V. 83, p. 1411.

Interborough-Metropolitan Co.—Payment of Franchise Taxes by Subsidiary.—See Manhattan Ry. below.—V. 84, p. 220.

Kansas City Viaduct & Terminal Ry.—Opened.—Fisk & Robinson, in their monthly bulletin, announce the formal opening on Jan. 29 of the company's viaduct, 1.6 miles in length, connecting Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan. See map on page 84 of our "Railway and Industrial" Section of January 1907. The bankers say:

These two rapidly growing and interdependent towns are situated on high bluffs and between them lies the broad, deep valley of the Kaw River, largely occupied by the network of tracks of 16 trunk lines. All other available space is utilized by large manufacturing and business plants. All local freight was handled by teams, which are subject to the dangers of grade crossings and the handicap of steep grades. This will now be largely overcome. The viaduct provides a practically level highway from 40 to 60 feet wide between the two bluffs. The roadway to be used for teams and trolley lines is paved with concrete and overlaid with asphalt. In the construction the best modern standards were adopted. The superstructure, of heavy steel, stands on massive concrete pedestals which rest on creosoted and concrete piles as an extra precaution against settling in the alluvial bottom lands. The river is spanned by a bridge consisting of 2 sections weighing 1,800 tons, supported by 3 piers containing 6,415 cubic yards of concrete.

Inclines and large vehicle elevators connecting the main structure with the valley below will furnish the teams rapid and safe transportation to the viaduct. It is estimated that a team making a round trip between the cities will save practically an hour in time, while the time of the street car passengers from one city to the other will be reduced at least 15 minutes. The utility and importance of this great structure is fully recognized by the residents and there is every reason to believe that the estimates of large earnings will be realized. Compare item in V. 82, p. 160.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry.—Notes Sold.—See New York Central & Hudson River RR. below.—V. 83, p. 1524.

Lancaster County Railway & Light Co.—Offer for Common Stock.—Bertron, Storrs & Griscom of this city have made an offer to purchase the common stock ($1,000,000) at $100 per $50 share, or, at the option of the holder, to pay $100 in the preferred stock of a new holding company to be formed presently. At a meeting on Jan. 25 at which all the stockholders were present, the offer was unanimously accepted. Details will be worked out shortly and stockholders notified. No offer is made for the preferred stock, of which $1,000,000 is outstanding.

It is proposed at an early day to build a through connection with Philadelphia on the east and Harrisburg on the west. Negotiations have been opened with the Pennsylvania RR. to run cars over the railroad bridge at Columbia, Pa., and connect with York, Pa. It is proposed to use about 45,000 horse-power to be generated by the McCalls Ferry Power Co. (V. 81, p. 729), which is expected to be in operation within a year and to develop a minimum of 75,000 horse-power, for a traction system to be formed, with Lancaster as a centre, extending to Philadelphia, Reading, Harrisburg and York.

Little Miami RR.—Modifications Ratified.—The stockholders voted Jan. 29 to modify the lease to the Pittsburgh Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry. and to increase the stock. Compare V. 84, p. 51.

Manhattan (Elevated) Railway, New York City.—Stock Offered.—Redmond & Co., New York and Philadelphia, and J. & W. Seligman & Co., New York, who recently purchased the remaining $4,800,000 of the company's authorized issue of $60,000,000 capital stock, guaranteed dividends of 7% per annum by the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., have for sale a limited amount thereof at the market price, at which it yields the investor about 4¾% per annum. A circular says:

The company's franchises are perpetual, and are in the form of a contract with the city, permitting the company to charge a fixed fare of five cents, a clause in its charter reading as follows: "And shall constitute an agreement in the nature of a contract between said city and the constructing company, entitling the latter, or its successors, to the privileges and rates of fare heretofore or herein legalized, which shall not be changed without the mutual consent of the parties thereto as aforesaid."

The earnings of the Manhattan Railway Co. are now as large as at any time in its history, the normal growth of the city having made up the temporary loss due to the competition of the Subway when first opened. A default of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. in making any payments due under this lease constitutes a default on the Interborough-Metropolitan 4½% bonds. The Manhattan Railway Co., independent of any guarantee, earns a large surplus over the 7% dividends guaranteed, the surplus for the calendar year 1905 being about $325,000; for the year ending June 30 1906, $689,760; for the year ending Sept. 30 1906, $995,972.

Payment of Several Years' Franchise Taxes.—The Interborough Rapid Transit Co. on Monday paid to Comptroller Metz $3,170,142 in settlement of the special franchise taxes for the years 1900 to 1905, inclusive.

The certiorari proceedings to correct the assessed valuations of the special franchise for these years were terminated a short time ago by orders reducing the assessments to amounts calculated upon the percentages for the years respectively that it was found the Tax Commissioners of the city had generally accepted as the percentages of assessed valuation to real value for real estate in the boroughs of Manhattan and Bronx. The company has, however, filed with the city authorities a formal protest to protect its rights in the event that the court in the suit to collect a 5% tax on the net income from passengers of the Greenwich Avenue line, now on appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, shall sustain certain claims made by the company but heretofore denied.

The rumor that the Interborough-Metropolitan Co. or one of its subsidiaries had arranged to sell an issue of short-term notes has been denied, the rumor, it is stated, having been based on the payment of the franchise taxes above noted, for which provision was made under the lease to the Interborough-Rapid Transit Co.—V. 83, p. 1347.

Mexican Central Ry.—Payment of Maturing Notes.—The $10,000,000 of collateral trust 4½% notes maturing to-day will be paid on presentation at the office of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co. Compare V. 84, p. 51; V. 82, p. 1497; V. 83, p. 156.

Newtown Langhorn & Bristol Street Ry.—Reported Acquisition.—See Newtown Electric Street Ry. above.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Notes Offered.—J. P. Morgan & Co. on Jan. 25 purchased $50,000,000 3-year 5% notes, without collateral, issued by various companies of the system, viz.:

New York Central & Hudson River RR.	$25,000,000
Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry.	15,000,000
Michigan Central RR.	10,000,000

The notes are all dated Feb. 1 1907, due Feb. 1 1910, without option of prior redemption, interest being payable semi-annually Aug. 1 and Feb. 1, both principal and interest being payable in gold at the office of the respective railroad companies at the Grand Central Station, New York City. The notes will be in coupon form, of $1,000 and $10,000 each and in registered form of $5,000, $10,000, $50,000 and $100,000 each. Registered notes can be converted into coupon and coupon into registered, and the larger denominations can be exchanged for smaller ones at any time at the pleasure of the holder.

Of the notes, about $44,000,000 were re-sold in this country on Saturday last and the remainder abroad on Monday of this week.

The notes are being offered at par and interest by William Salomon & Co., Harvey Fisk & Sons, Curtis & Sanger and other firms, the customary deductions of ¼ of 1% for blocks of $500,000 and ½ of 1% for blocks of $1,000,000 or more, it is understood, being allowed. J. P. Morgan also offer small lots at the same price. Salomon & Co. in their circular state that subscriptions for the notes offered by them may be made in amounts of 20% each on the first days of March, April, May, June and July, or at any previous time at the option of the purchaser.

Electric Operation.—The company this week began to operate 30 trains on the Harlem division between the Lexington Ave. temporary terminal at the Grand Central Station and Wakefield, with multiple-unit-controlled electric cars.

Settlement of Litigation.—See New York & Putnam RR. below.—V. 84, p. 159, 52.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—Purchase Confirmed.—The "New Haven Register" has the following from the company's office: "A company in which the New Haven RR. is interested has secured the Maine Steamship Co." The total capital stock is $1,000,000 and there are $1,000,000 first mortgage bonds outstanding. Compare V. 83, p. 275.

Official Statement.—President C. S. Mellen, in a statement made on Jan. 31 before the Joint Committee on Railroads of the Connecticut General Assembly announced that it is proposed to offer additional stock to the shareholders next July at $150 a share. As to the needs of the system, Mr. Mellen is quoted as saying in substance:

The road is deficient in equipment, and the company has therefore contracted for $21,500,000 worth of new rolling stock, including 17,000 cars, to be delivered within 15 months. The Consolidated Railway Co. has acquired 1,400 miles of trolley lines, and for improvements, equipment, etc., will require the outlay of $12,000,000 in the next 15 months. The steamboat lines need $4,000,000 of expenditure within less than two years.

The company has grown rapidly and now ranks as fifth in the country. The gross earnings of all the lines, steam, trolley and steamboat, is approaching $90,000,000 a year. The business is growing, the trolleys are greater in mileage, earn more and employ more men than the steam roads did when my predecessor took charge.

The company has consolidated all the larger lines in the State except the Northampton, and expects to merge that as soon as possible and, had the General Assembly of 1905 permitted it, it would have been done by this time.

On July 1 1906 the rate per day for cars from other roads went from 20 to 25 cents. That raise cost the road about $400,000 for the use of foreign cars. Next July the rate will go from 25 to 50 cents, which might cost the road $1,000,000 a year. This is due to the State law. With its repeal the Western roads will cease to term New England the sink-hole in which their cars are lost for an indefinite period.

The bill, favorable action on which is sought, would give to the holders of the $30,000,000 convertible debentures issued Jan. 1 1906 the right to subscribe to the new stock, as stated in V. 84, p. 103, 159, and also provides:

The company having acquired by purchase all the property, rights and franchises (except the franchise of being a corporation) of the Danbury & Norwalk RR. Co., the Middletown Meriden & Waterbury RR. Co., the New Haven & Derby RR. Co., the Rockville RR. Co., the Co-Lester Ry. Co. and the Naugatuck RR. Co., said corporations are hereby declared to be merged in the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. Co., which shall hereafter hold, enjoy and exercise all the rights, privileges, immunities and franchises of said several corporations; and the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. Co. may at any time hereafter, with the approval of at least two-thirds of all the stock of each of the merging corporations, merge, consolidate and make common stock with any or all of the corporations whose property shall be held by it under lease or a majority of whose capital stock it may own.—V. 84, p. 221, 159.

New York & Northern RR.—Settlement with Minority Stockholders.—See New York & Putnam RR. below.—V. 81, p. 1610.

New York & Putnam RR.—Settlement with Minority Stockholders of Old Company.—Robert L. Niles, Chairman of the New York & Northern stockholders' protective committee, has notified the minority stockholders who have been contesting the reorganization that the New York Central & Hudson River RR. has made a settlement by which the litigation is terminated. The payment, it is said, covers the expenses of the committee and its counsel, and leaves a sum sufficient to return to the holders of the preferred stock $6 a share and of the common stock $2 a share.—V. 81, p. 1610; V. 77, p. 2339.

Northwestern Pacific RR., California.—Alternating Control.—At a hearing before the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Jan. 29 Vice-President A. H. Payson of the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe testified that an agreement had been made between his company and the Southern Pacific by which each is to have a majority in the board of directors every alternate year, thus dividing the control.—V. 84, p. 221, 103.

Pacific Gas & Electric Co.—Bonds Redeemed.—The company on Jan. 23 purchased from the proceeds of its sinking fund $250,000 of the 5% collateral trust bonds (total authorized amount $10,350,000) issued Jan. 1906 at an average price of 87½, the highest price paid being 89.—V. 83, p. 1229.

Philadelphia Co. of Pittsburgh.—Earnings.—The earnings for the year ending Dec. 31, including controlled companies, were:

Cal. Year—	Gross Earnings.	Net Earnings.	Other Income.	All Charges.	Pref. Div'd.	Bal. for Com. Stock.
1906	$18,223,538	$7,115,570	$277,672	$4,381,992	$299,998	$2,711,252

Dividends on common stock at 6% call for about $1,800,000 yearly.—V. 84, p. 106.

Reading Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $1,500,000 additional general mortgage 4% coupon bonds of 1997, making the total amount listed to date $71,830,000. The bonds are a portion of the $20,000,000 reserved for new acquisitions and betterments, mentioned in Section 4, Article 1, of the mortgage.—V. 84, p. 221.

Rochester Syracuse & Eastern RR.—Additional Bonds Authorized.—The State Board of Railroad Commissioners on Jan. 24 authorized the issue of $3,000,000 additional bonds under the first mortgage of 1905, making a total of $5,000,000. Compare V. 82, p. 453; V. 80, p. 2459.

St. Louis Rocky Mountain & Pacific Ry.—Status of Construction—Line to Be Completed by April 1.—The following is authoritative:

Grading from Des Moines, N. M., on the Colorado & Southern, westward to Ute Park, 96 miles, has been completed. Regular train service has been established on 41 miles of the main line, between Clifton House and Cimarron, and also on the Raton and Koehler branches, aggregating 11 miles. Track has been laid, all told, on 82 miles of main line and branches, leaving only 24 miles to be laid to complete the 106 miles under contract. The remainder of the track will be laid and the road will be completed in every respect ready for operation by April 1. Rails of 80-lb. section have been used on the main line and of 70-lb. section on the branches. A large yard is in course of construction near Koehler Junction, in connection with the erection of 240 coke ovens at that point, construction of which has begun. —V. 83, p. 324.

Seaboard Air Line Ry.—Option to Subscribe to New Bonds —Exchange of Indebtedness for Bonds.—The stockholders having authorized the issue of $18,000,000 of "general mortgage and collateral trust" 5% thirty-year gold bonds of $1,000 each, to be dated Feb. 1 1907, the company is offering to the stockholders and the holders of voting trust certificates for the stock of record Jan. 3 1907 an opportunity of subscribing to the extent of 12% of their respective holdngs for approximately $7,300,000, par value, of said proposed bonds at 90% and accrued interest. Subscriptions must be made upon the blank form furnished by the company and be received at the office of the railway, 24 Broad St., New York City, on or before Feb. 1 1907, accompanied by a certified check on a New York bank or trust company or by a bank draft on New York, for the amount of the subscription, or by an offer to accept bonds at said price in payment of indebtedness of the company equal to the amount of the subscription.

Extension of Bonds.—The syndicate has been completed for the extension of the $4,665,000 3-year collateral trust and general lien 5% bonds maturing March 1 1907, until May 1 1911. Holders consenting to the extension will receive $20 cash. The syndicate, headed by the Continental Trust Co. of Baltimore, will take up all the old bonds which the holders wish to surrender for cash at maturity.—V. 84, p. 221, 104.

South Side Elevated RR., Chicago.—New President.—Marcellus Hopkins has been elected President in place of Leslie Carter, resigned.

Report.—The results for the year ending Dec. 31 were:

Year—	Gross.	Net.	Bond Int.	Div.(4%).	Bal.,sur.

Toledo & Western (Electric) RR.—New Securities.—This company, recently organized by a syndicate headed by J. R. Nutt of Cleveland, as successor of the Toledo & Western Ry., bid in at judicial sale, has authorized an increase in its capital stock from $10,000 to $2,000,000. No new bond issue has been authorized, but the entire floating debt has been paid through the sale of the $500,000 "consol. and refunding" 5% bonds of the T. & W. Ry. Co. for which they were pledged. The company has outstanding $2,000,000 bonds of the predecessor company, viz.:

$1,250,000 first mortgage 5s of the Toledo & Weste n Ry.; $250,000 first mortgage 5s of the Toledo Fayette & Western Ry. and $500,000 "consol. and refunding" 5s on the combined properties. The last issue was authorized in 1905 for $2,500,000, of which $1,500,000 was held in escrow to retire the underlying bonds, $500,000 were issued (originally pledged) to provide for improvements and floating debt and $500,000 were reserved for future improvements. This last mentioned $500,000 has been canceled and no more bonds can be issued under the mortgage except for refunding. The transfer agent is now the Citizens' Savings & Trust Co. of Cleveland. The officers are: President and General Manager, C. F. Franklin, Sylvania, O.; Vice-President and Treasurer, W. F. Nutt, Toledo. Directors: C. F. Ranklin and J. R. Nutt, Cleveland; George Cook Ford, George H. Kelley and W. F. Nutt, Toledo.—V. 83, p. 1472, 1525.

United Power & Transportation Co.—Report.—The results for the calendar year were:

Year—	Gross.	Net (over ch'gs.)	Dividends.	Bal., sur.
1906	$824,021	$460,001	(12.80%) $460,000	$1

Total surplus Dec. 31 1906, $267,089. —V. 82, p. 220.

Wabash RR.—New Securities.—The United States Mortgage & Trust Co. gives notice to holders of deposit receipts of the Trust Company issued for debenture mortgage bonds, Series A and Series B, that the new preferred and common stock of the RR. Co. issued in exchange for debenture mortgage bonds has been listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and that holders of deposit receipts may receive certificates for the stock to which they are entitled upon presentation of their receipts at the office of the Trust Company for the purpose of having the delivery of said stock noted and stamped thereon; also that they are informed that the engraved bonds will probably be ready for delivery prior to April 1.—V. 84, p. 222, 160.

West End Street Ry., Boston.—Proposed Merger.—See Boston Elevated Ry. above.—V. 80, p. 1857.

INDUSTRIAL GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

American Agricultural Chemical Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $229,000 additional preferred stock, making the total listed to date $18,382,000.

The company has purchased $200,000 bonds and $200,000 capital stock of the Pierce Phosphate Co., a corporation organized under the laws of New York, with a capital of $300,000 and a bonded debt of $200,000. Of this capital stock $100,000 was purchased at the date of organization of the Pierce Phosphate Co. The Pierce Phosphate Co. owns 2,000 acres of land in Polk County, Fla., with buildings, machinery, railroad tracks, &c. The land contains large deposits of phosphate rock used in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers. Of the stocks of the American Agricultural Chemical Co. listed under date of March 10 1903, there remained unissued preferred stock to the amount of $21,000, this, with the $229,000 preferred stock now listed, making up the amount of preferred stock ($250,000) applied to the payment of $200,000 capital stock of the Pierce Phosphate Co. The $200,000 of bonds of the Pierce Phosphate Co. have been paid for in cash, and with the $300,000 total capital stock of said company, acquired, are an invested asset of the American Agricultural Chemical Co.—V. 84, p. 160.

American Brass Co.—Stock Dividend.—It is currently reported that at the annual meeting on Feb. 26 the directors will recommend a stock dividend of 20%, $2,500,000, to distribute a portion of the accumulated surplus, thus increasing the outstanding stock to $15,000,000. Recent cash dividends, it is said, unofficially, have been at the rate of 7% per annum, the semi-annual distribution in January having been 2½% and 1% extra. Compare V. 82, p. 511, 282, 102.

American Soda Fountain Co.—Current Assets and Liabilities.—This company some time since discontinued the issuing of annual reports, but at the annual meeting on Nov. 30 the following statement was given out:

Assets—		Liabilities—
Cash	$242,559	Accounts payable	$115,986
Accounts receivable	599,346	Notes payable	1,365,235
Notes receivable	1,502,978	Accrued taxes	5,019
Inventory	944,703	Accrued wages	5,954
Unexpired insurance	34,954
Total	$3,324,540	Excess assets over liabil's	$1,832,345

An exchange says:

For its fiscal year ended Aug. 31 1906 the company showed a small profit on its business—too small for even the consideration of dividends—as compared with a loss in the previous year and another small profit in 1904. The capital stock is $3,750,000 as follows: Common, $1,250,000 first preferred, $1,250,000; second preferred, $1,250,000.

One of the leading minority stockholders says: "We are expecting to hear that some plans for reorganization are being prepared by the management, and if such announcement is not forthcoming shortly, it is not unlikely that the minority stockholders may endeavor to bring about a reorganization through court procedure. I think that a capital stock of $1,500,000 would be sufficient, and I believe that an issue of mortgage bonds would aid matters materially."

John Matthews of New York, representing the minority shareholders, was present at the meeting, but, as no one of the officers or directors was there, aside from the new Jersey representative, no attempt was made to obtain the information desired by the minority interest. Mr. Matthews, Jan. 28, said:

The management still pursue their policy of absolute secrecy and have not seen fit to make known any of their plans for the future conduct of the business, any statement as to their solvency, or any suggestion of reorganization. The minority stockholders are exceedingly unhappy and restless in their desire to know what their holdings represent in values and income. The proper course to pursue in the matter is yet in doubt.

Sale of Plant.—Retrenchment.—F. H. and A. H. Lippincott of Philadelphia, it is announced, have resigned from the board of directors, and while retaining their stock interest have purchased and will operate independently their Philadelphia plant for manufacturing soda-water apparatus, which was sold to the American Soda Fountain Co. in 1891. The company has further retrenched by closing a number of unprofitable selling agencies and also its New York factory, its manufacturing business being now concentrated in Boston. A saving of $25,000 annually, it is stated, has also been made by eliminating the salaries of a number of high paid officials.—V. 83, p. 1349.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Bonds Offered.—J. P. Morgan & Co., New York; Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York, and Kidder, Peabody & Co., Boston, are offering at 92½ and interest, by advertisement on another page, $40,000,000 convertible 4% gold bonds due March 1 1936, part of an issue limited to $150,000,000. All or any of the bonds are redeemable at option of company at 105% and interest on and after March 1 1914, upon twelve weeks' notice, but convertible at par, at option of holder, into common stock at $140 per share after March 1 1909 and before March 1 1918, and in the meantime up to 30 days prior to the date of redemption named in any redemption call. If additional stock is issued or sold at a price averaging less than $140 per share, bondholders will have the benefit of a reduced conversion price. Interest payable March 1 and Sept. 1 in New York or Boston. Principal and interest payable without deduction for any tax or taxes.

Under date of Jan. 26 1907 F. P. Fish, Esq., President of the company, writes in substance as follows:

The company, as the successor of the American Bell Telephone Co., owns directly long distance telephone lines and is the owner of shares of the capital stock in about 40 companies operating throughout the United States and Canada, holding, except in a few instances, a controlling interest.

In addition to the issue of convertible bonds, the funded debt of the company consists of $78,000,000 collateral trust 4% bonds due July 1 1929, of which $53,000,000 are outstanding in the hands of the public, $25,000,000 being deposited as security for the issue of $20,000,000 5% notes which mature on May 1 1907, and which $25,000,000 of bonds—upon the retirement of the notes—will be released and will become a free asset of the company. There are also outstanding $25,000,000 5% notes due Jan. 1 1910 and $10,000,000 4% debentures of the American Bell Telephone Co. which mature on July 1 1908. The company's present authorized capital stock is $250,000,000; of this amount, $131,551,400 is at present in the hands of the public, the number of shareholders on Jan. 1 1907 being 18,194, against 17,533 Jan. 1 1906 and 10,802 in 1903. On Dec. 31 1906 the net surplus and reserves of the company amounted to approximately $14,000,000.

The number of telephone subscribers' stations operated in the United States by this company and by the companies to which its telephones are leased has been as follows:

The number of miles of wire owned by this company and its associated companies is approximately: Exchange, 6,100,000; toll, 1,400,000; making a total of 7,500,000, of which 3,300,000 miles of exchange wire are in underground conduits.

The company paid dividends each year from April 1900 to July 1906 at the rate of 7½% per year, and its predecessor, the American Bell Telephone Co., paid dividends at an equivalent or greater rate each year from 1884 to 1900. Since July 1906 the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has paid dividends at the rate of 8% per annum.

Earnings for the year 1906.

The gross revenue of this company and its associated telephone companies for the year 1906, excluding duplications, was approximately $117,000,000.

Gross earnings of this company (including dividends from associated companies) were	$24,428,435
Operating expenses, interest and taxes	11,644,969
Leaving balance of	$12,783,466

Out of which dividends amounting to $10,195,233 have been paid.

The bookkeeping and accounting are on conservative lines, and in my opinion the position and the prospects of the company have improved from year to year and will continue to do so.

Preference on allotment under subscription will be accorded to shareholders of the company to the extent of 20% of the par value of their holdings of stock in the company. A simultaneous public issue of the above bonds is being made by Baring Bros. & Co., Ltd., and J. S. Morgan & Co., in London, and by Messrs. Hope & Co. in Amsterdam. Compare annual report for 1905 in V. 82, p. 689, 697, 700. —V. 84, p. 160, 105.

Amoskeag Manufacturing Co.—Increase of Stock.—A bill was introduced in the New Hampshire Legislature early this month providing for an increase in the capital stock from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000, in accordance with the plan for the acquisition of the Amory Manufacturing Co. and Manchester Mills. Compare V. 83, p. 591; V. 82, p. 453; V. 81, p. 1725, 1611.

Increase in Dividends.—A semi-annual dividend of 6% has been declared, payable Feb. 1 to stockholders of record Jan. 29, being an increase of 1% over previous semi-annual distributions or of 2% in annual dividend rate.—V. 83, p. 891.

Arlington Mills, Lawrence, Mass.—Stock Offered.—The stockholders voted Jan. 29 to increase the stock from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000, the $1,000,000 new stock being offered to stockholders for subscription at par ($100 per share), payable March 15.—V. 80, p. 2316.

Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware.—Rogers Settlement.—Judge Putnam yesterday in the United States Circuit Court at Philadelphia approved the settlement of the suit against H. H. Rogers whereby the United Gas Improvement Co. of Philadelphia, acting under an agreement with Mr. Rogers, will pay $1,500,000 to Receiver Pepper for his claims against Mr. Rogers and also his holdings of $1,444,000 preferred stock and $1,630,650 common stock of the Buffalo Gas Co. The settlement must also be approved by the Delaware Court. Mr. Pepper is quoted as saying:

There is now outstanding $184,587,500 stock; also income bonds of the par value of $507,000 due in 1939. The other claims against the company apparently amount to about $10,000. The settlement of the Rogers suit practically winds up the affairs of the company. After the present settlement there will remain no securities among our assets, as a short time ago we sold for $35,000 the $200,000 shares of the Trenton Water Power stock under order of court.

We now have in our treasury a little over $200,000 in cash, which will be augmented to $1,700,000 by the Rogers payments. We feel confident that we shall win the case against J. Edward Addicks for $1,000,000, as we did the suits against Lawson and Rogers, but the amount to be realized from Mr. Addicks is purely problematical.

As respects the value of Bay State Gas shares as a result of the settlement of the Rogers suit, I cannot figure how they are worth as much as 50 cents a share.—V. 83, p. 971, 157.

Beaumont Irrigation Co. First Dividend.—A dividend of 6%, it is stated, has been declared on the $100,000 stock payable to stockholders of record Jan. 1.—V. 78, p. 2444.

Bidwell Electric Co., Chicago. New Stock.—This company, incorporated in Oklahoma in February 1906 to manufacture, it was claimed, some sort of water motor, on Jan. 16 filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000. The $1 shares were offered at one time last year at 50 cents each. Benson Bidwell of Chicago is President.

Bliss Electric Car Lighting Co., Milwaukee, Wis.—New Stock.—This company, it is stated, recently increased its capital stock from $100,000 to $1,500,000. William L. Bliss is President.

Buffalo Gas Co. Sale of Stock.—See Bay State Gas Co. above.—V. 83, p. 1467, 1413.

Butler Bros., Chicago.—Extra Dividend.—The regular annual dividend of 10% and an extra dividend of 2½%, it is stated, have been declared, payable Feb. 1.—V. 82, p. 336.

Chace Mills of Fall River.—Stock Dividend.—The stockholders will vote Feb. 6 on increasing the stock from $900,000 to $1,200,000, the new stock, it is understood, to be distributed as a 33 1-3% stock dividend.—V. 82, p. 454.

Collins Co., Hartford, Conn.—New President.—William Hill, for 25 years connected with the company, has been elected a director and its President, to succeed the late E. H. Sears.—V. 81, p. 213.

Commonwealth Steel Co.—New Stock.—This New Jersey corporation has increased its authorized capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000; par of shares $100.—V. 83, p. 1231.

Consolidated Paper & Milling Co., Philadelphia.—Amalgamation.—This company, incorporated last December under the laws of Maine with $10,000,000 authorized capital stock, in shares of $5 each, to exploit, it is said, a process for turning wheat, rice and rye straw into pulp and paper, has offered to give 300 shares of its stock, total par value $1,500, for each 100 shares, total par value $10,000, of the $35,000,000 capital stock of the Marsden Co. of Philadelphia. (V. 83, p. 1293.) The time for deposits has been extended until Feb. 9. A circular says in substance:

The officers of the Consolidated Paper & Milling Co. are: Richard Lawrence, Acting President, and R. H. Rough, Secretary and Treasurer (office, 718 Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia), with H. H. Haines of Baltimore, R. R. Miller of Camden, Richard G. Oellers and C. M. Moody of Philadelphia, John H. Wanner, C. S. Beardsley, Joseph T. Nevins and Alexander H. King of Pittsburgh as directors.

Assets of the Consolidated Paper & Milling Co.—So much of the Marsden stock as may be deposited; 50,000 shares ($250,000) of 7% preferred stock and about 450,000 shares ($2,250,000) of common stock of the United Pulp & Paper Co. of the State of Washington, with its demonstrating plant at 661 Hudson Street, New York City, and the foreign and South American rights, representing a cash outlay of over $1,680,000 (the authorized capital stock of the United Pulp & Paper Co. is $250,000 preferred and $2,750,000 common, par, $5); 425,000 shares ($2,125,000) approximately of treasury stock ($5 par value) of the Consolidated Paper & Milling Co. as well as the "national products processes." The Consolidated Paper & Milling Co., The National Products Processes and the United Pulp & Paper Co. have no bonds or floating debts, and, exclusive of the Marsden Co., represent a total outlay, including the foreign rights of over $1,680,000 in actual cash. Upon the plan being declared operative, steps will be taken looking to the construction of mills and the sale of foreign rights and royalties. Wheatgrowers can also establish their own mills, converting the straw into pulp for the manufacture of high grades of writing, book and cap paper, paying a royalty of $5 per ton on all pulp made under our processes. The company controls the basic patents.

[The stock of the said United Pulp & Paper Co., apparently the original promoter of the process, is said to have sold on the New York curb during 1906 at prices ranging from 1 to 3¼, par $5.—Ed.]

President Winters of the Marsden Company urges the shareholders of his company not to accept the offer.

Consolidated Rubber Tire Co., New York.—Increased Dividend for Incomes.—The directors have declared an annual dividend of 3% on the $2,850,500 income bonds, payable April 1, contrasting with 2% in 1906 and 1½% in 1904 and 1903.—V. 83, p. 378.

Draper Company, Hopedale, Mass.—Dividends.—The "Boston News Bureau" of Jan. 22 says: "The company paid full 8% dividends during 1906 on the $2,000,000 preferred and 12% regular and 5% extra, or 17%, on the $6,000,000 common stock, which would indicate net earnings for the year of at least $1,200,000, which compares with $1,173,276 for 1905." Compare V. 83, p. 495.

East Liverpool (O.) Potteries Co.—Dissolution.—The stockholders on Jan. 16 took steps looking to the dissolution of the company. Compare V. 78, p. 1785.

Edison Portland Cement Co.—Status.—In connection with the statements about the North American Portland Cement Co. in V. 84, p. 163 and V. 83, p. 1116, the following, from the "Philadelphia News Bureau," of Oct. 18 is interesting:

The Edison Portland Cement Co. is now earning $50,000 net per month. The company has been in successful operation only a short period and these are the first official figures given out. The present price for future delivery is about $1 10 a barrel, exclusive of package. This is 50 cents more than last year's price, and for some of the companies is almost all net profit, as their cost of production is about 65 or 70 cents. The present output of the company's plants is about 120,000 barrels per month. When the additions now building are completed next spring, its output will be about 250,000 barrels a month. All its machinery was designed by Thomas A. Edison and the successful operation of over a year has, it is claimed, proved fully equal to the expectations of the inventor and promoters. The company introduced kilns of 150 feet in length in place of the ordinary 60-foot kilns, and these have run so successfully that in all new plants kilns of from 110 to 140 feet in length are installed. (The foregoing, we learn under date of Dec. 31, was correct as of date published. Prices are now lower than in October, but it is expected will go as high in 1907 as they did in 1906. Shipments are also smaller on account of winter weather.—Ed. "Chronicle.")—V. 81, p. 616.

Empire City Subway Co., New York.—New Stock.—This company, controlled by the New York Telephone Co., has filed a certificate of an increase of capital stock from $3,500,000 to $5,000,000. Compare V. 76, p. 268.—V. 78, p. 231.

Equitable Illuminating Gas Light Co. of Philadelphia.—Output.—The statement of gas sold in the city of Philadelphia for the quarter and twelve months ending Dec. 31, as filed with the city authorities, compares as follows:

Cubic feet of gas—	1906.	1905.	1904.
12 mos. gross revenue	$7,061,291	$6,812,299	$6,564,892

Fostoria Glass Co., Moundsville, W. Va.—Stock Dividend.—A Pittsburgh paper says:

A 20% stock dividend was declared Jan. 22, together with the regular 2% cash; $116 was bid for the stock prior to the declaration and none to be had at the price. Compare V. 76, p. 657.

Friedman-Shelby Shoe Co., St. Louis.—New Name—Stock Increased.—Jacob Friedman having died Aug. 28 1906, the stockholders of the Friedman Bros. Shoe Co. on Jan. 7 voted to change the name of the company to the Friedman-Shelby Shoe Co. and to increase the capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000.

A. Friedman is President; I. Friedman, Vice-President; W. H. Shelby, Vice-President; Lester Friedman, Secretary; Albert I. Stix, Treasurer; L. Longley, director.

Guanajuato (Mex.) Power & Electric Co.—Earnings.—E. H. Rollins & Sons report:

Earnings for Years ending Oct. 31.

Year—	H.P.Oct.31.	Gross.	Net.	Bond Int.	Bal.,Sur.

Independent Telephone Co., Omaha.—Incorporated.—This company was organized on Jan. 16 under the laws of Nebraska with $5,000,000 of authorized capital stock, of which $3,500,000 is preferred stock.

The company has the power to issue bonds to a total of $3,330,000, but its liabilities shall at no time exceed two-thirds of the amount of its capital stock. Incorporators: R. H. Stow, W. W. Ely and B. S. Baker. Compare V. 83, p. 1474.

International Time Recording Co., Binghamton, N. Y.—Re-incorporated.—This company, previously a New Jersey corporation, has been re-incorporated under the laws of New York with $2,000,000 capital stock, of which $1,075,000 is common and $925,000 7% cumulative preferred, all outstanding; par $100.

Officers—President, Geo. W. Fairchild of the Guardian Trust Co., New York; Vice-President, George E. Green; Treasurer, Harlow E. Bundy; Secretary, A. Ward Ford. Kerr, Page & Cooper are the company's counsel. Compare V. 83, p. 439.

Called Bonds.—All of the outstanding first mortgage 6% 10-year sinking fund gold bonds of 1901, aggregating $22,500, have been called, and will be paid by the Industrial Trust Co. of Providence, trustee, on April 1 1907 at 110 and interest.—V. 83, p. 439.

Kansas City Breweries Co.—First Dividend.—An initial quarterly dividend of 1½% has been declared on the preferred stock, of which $1,466,000 was outstanding at last accounts, payable April 15 to stockholders of record March 30.—V. 83, p. 1474.

Kinloch Telephone Co. of St. Louis.—See Suburban Telephone Co. below.—V. 81, p. 511.

Lord & Taylor—Common Stock Dividend Increased.—The directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 2% on the common stock, payable May 1. This is an advance in the rate from 7% to 8% per annum. Compare V. 82, p. 990.

Louisiana Central Lumber Co., Kansas City.—New Stock.—The certificate of increase of capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,515,000, filed in Missouri on Dec. 5, shows, it is stated. Assets, $1,698,723; liabilities, $218,399. New stock full paid. In December 1902, when the stock was increased from $300,000 to $500,000, the assets were given as $355,254; liabilities, $48,212. Par of shares $100.

Marsden Co. of Philadelphia.—Offer for Stock.—See Consolidated Paper Milling Co. above.—V. 83, p. 1293.

Earnings.—For year ending Dec. 31, including dividends on Dupont stock and other receipts:

Year—	Income.	Oper. exp.	Net.	Deprec'n.&c.	Bal.,sur.
1906	$63,006	$28,612	$34,394	$12,000	$22,394

Marseilles (Ill.) Land & Water Power Co.—Bonds Offered.—Devitt, Tremble & Co., Chicago, offer at 101 and interest $300,000 first mortgage 5% serial gold bonds dated Jan. 1 1907 and due $7,500 semi-annually from July 1 1907 to Jan. 1 1927, both inclusive, but redeemable on any interest date after sixty days' notice at 103 and interest. Denominations $1,000 and $500.c*. Interest payable July 1 and Jan. 1 at the State Bank of Chicago, trustee. The company operates a hydraulic plant located at Marseilles, Ill., about 77 miles southwest of Chicago, where the flowage of the Illinois River as supplemented by the water from the great Chicago drainage canal is sufficient to produce "something over 10,000 continuous effective horse-power at the company's property." The present development is entirely hydraulic, water being delivered through headraces to the company's tenants, but "it is the intention to enter into no more long-time contracts for hydraulic power, but to place the balance not now under contract (4,000 h.p.) in such a manner as to leave it free to develop this electrically whenever it should decide to do so." A circular says:

Capital stock, $500,000. First mortgage bonds, total issue limited to $500,000; held in escrow, $200,000; total bonds outstanding, $300,000. Earnings for calendar year 1906, as officially reported: Gross earnings, $51,830; operating expenses (including taxes and maintenance, $2,655; net earnings, $19,175; interest on $300,000 first mortgage bonds, $15,000; surplus over interest requirements, $34,175. It will be seen that the net earnings are now nearly three and one-half times the annual interest on this issue of bonds, and nearly twice the amount required for both interest and principal payments. These earnings are derived from the sale of 6,216 hydraulic horse-power under contracts or leases with established manufacturing concerns running for 25 years or longer. In addition, the company has over 4,000 horse-power which it will develop electrically and from which it should receive additional net earnings of at least $75,000. The $200,000 bonds reserved may be issued under conservative restrictions for additions, extensions, &c., in the way of electrical development. The bonds offered are issued to refund an issue of $200,000, dated March 1 1905, and to provide a part of the funds to pay for the cost of widening, deepening and cementing the company's race-ways, thereby making the power available more efficient.

The power leases are all with responsible concerns, which have invested in their various properties something in excess of $1,500,000. Prominent among these may be mentioned: Howe & Davidson Paper Mill & Box Co. (owned by the National Biscuit Co.), Crescent Paper Mill Co., Marseilles Mfg. Co., Marseilles Wrapping Paper Co., Consolidated Water & Light Co., John F. Clark Mfg. Co., W. D. Boyce Paper & Pulp Mill, &c.

Estimated value of property of Marseilles Land & Water Power Co., $1,000,000; value of property pledged as security for power leases, $1,500,000; total security, $2,500,000.

Called Bonds.—The $200,000 bonds of 1905 have been called for payment at 103 and interest at the State Bank of Chicago on March 1 1907.—V. 80, p. 1733.

Missouri & Kansas Telephone Co.—Dividend Passed.—The usual quarterly dividend payable Feb. 1, it was understood, would be passed. The company has paid dividends at the rate of 6% yearly, although the same was not earned in 1905 or 1904 (see report V. 82, p. 1376), and the surplus has been drawn upon to such an extent as to make further distributions at present inadvisable.—V. 83, p. 1233.

New York Steam Co.—See New York Ice Co. above.—V. 50, p. 244.

New York Susquehanna & Western Coal Co.—Called Bonds.—The County Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Scranton, Pa., will redeem at 110 on March 1 $8,000 first mortgage bonds drawn for the sinking fund.—V. 76, p. 438.

Oregon Securities Co.—Sale of Bonds.—A block of $99,000 first mortgage 6% sinking fund gold bonds, with October 1906 coupons on, was sold at auction on Jan. 23 by Adrian H. Muller & Son for $700 for the lot.—V. 84, p. 106.

Pittsburgh Oil & Gas Co.—Earnings.—Earnings for 9 months ending Dec. 31:

Nine Months—	1906.	1905.
Gross earnings	$1,264,682	$1,032,878	Inc. $231,804
Expenses and Interest	829,430	861,711	Dec. 32,281
Net	$435,252	$171,167	Inc. $264,085

The increase in investments for the nine months was $345,517, against $460,775 in 1905, and the decrease in indebtedness for the same period was $89,734, against an increase in 1905 of $529,608. The value of the oil production for the 9 months in 1906 was $772,791, against $592,148.—V. 83, p. 92.

Pullman Company.—Texas RR. Commission Restrained.—Judge Edward R. Meek of the United States Circuit Court at Dallas, Tex., on Jan. 26 granted the company a temporary injunction restraining the Texas Railroad Commission from enforcing its order, which was to be effective Feb. 1, reducing the prices for sleeping car berths from $2 to $1 for upper and $1 50 for lower berths. The hearing was set for Feb. 20.—V. 83, p. 1467.

Revere Rubber Co. of Boston.—Stock Increased.—The stockholders on Jan. 16 approved the proposition to increase the capital stock from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. Stockholders may take one share of new stock at par until Feb. 20 for every three shares held. The offical notice of the meeting stated that the increase would be by "a capitalization of $500,000 of the surplus." Compare V. 84, p. 106.

Rex Carbon Coal Co.—Bonds Offered.—Lawrence Barnum & Co. of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, offer at 103½ and interest, by advertisement on another page, $400,000 first mortgage 6% gold bonds of $1,000 each, tax-exempt in Pennsylvania, dated Dec. 1 1906, due Dec. 1 1926, but subject to call at 105 and interest under the terms of a sinking fund. Interest payable June and Dec. at the New York office of the bankers named. Principal payable at the Guarantee Title & Trust Co., Pittsburgh, trustee.

Bonds authorized, $500,000; common stock, $350,000, of which $300,000 outstanding; preferred stock, $100,000, of which $80,000 outstanding. A circular says in part:

A sinking fund of 10 cents per ton mined, but not less than $25,000 per annum, is provided for the full retirement of the bonds, and under the terms of the sinking fund the trustee must purchase the company's bonds or call by lot at 106 and accrued interest.

Property.—The company owns 3,200 acres of coal in Brooke County, West Virginia, 35 miles from Pittsburgh, on the "Pittsburgh seam." The property is located on the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal RR. and is 3 miles from the Pittsburgh Cinc. Chic. & St. Louis RR., to which a siding will be laid when needed. This gives excellent shipping facilities.

Earnings.—From Jan. 1 to Sept. 1 1906 (the first 8 months of opening) there was mined and marketed 69,893 tons run-of-mine coal at a profit of $21,914. It is conceded by experts that the company will produce between 18 million and 22 million tons of coal, and that the present work as extended will develop its output to 1,200 tons per day by January 1907 and to 3,000 tons per day by January 1908. On this basis, allowing 250 working days to the year and 98 cents per ton as the average price of the coal, but making no allowance for the increase in net profits per ton due to saving in operating expenses on an increased output.

Estimate of Earnings.

Based on capacity Jan. 1 1907.		Based on capacity Jan. 1 1908.
Gross (1,200 tons per day)	$294,000	Gross (3,000 tons per day)	$735,000
Expenses	201,000	Expenses	502,500
Net	$93,000	Net	$232,500
Interest	24,000	Interest	24,000

Directors—W. C. Temple (President), Edward J. Kent (Vice Pres.) George E. Turner, William L. Dixon (Gen'l Mgr.) and William W. Darley all of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rotary Ring Spinning Co., Boston.—New Stock.—The shareholders on Jan. 22 voted to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $5,700,000. Of the new stock a part (it is said $200,000) will be used to reimburse the directors for the purchase of certain patents, and the remainder will be issued from time to time when required for working capital, &c. The directors feel confident that it is only a question of a short time when the ring will take the place of the rings now in use.

St. Louis Portland Cement Co.—Offer to Purchase Stock.—G. H. Walker & Co. of St. Louis issued a letter under date of Jan. 25 offering to purchase the stock at $131 50 per share for the preferred and $50 per share for the common on condition that within two weeks thereafter 67% or more (or less if the firm elect) of the total capital stock be deposited with the St. Louis Trust Co.

Capital stock outstanding $1,850,000, of which $850,000 is preferred. Par $100. Bonds outstanding $450,000. G. H. Walker is quoted as saying that a merger is contemplated with the Union Sand & Material Co., having $1,500,000 stock, and at present selling agent for the St. Louis company, to be followed by a consolidation and a reorganization of the Union Co. and an increase in capital stock to represent the acquisition. Compare V. 78, p. 1278.

San Antonio Water Supply Co.—Successor Company.—This company was recently incorporated under the laws of Texas, with $2,500,000 capital stock, to take over and operate the plant of the San Antonio Water Works Co. (V. 82, p. 574). George J. Kobusch is President; C. H. Surcamp, Vice-President, both of St. Louis, Mo.

San Francisco Coke & Gas Co.—Increase of Stock and Bonds.—The stockholders will vote on March 25 on a proposition to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 and the bonded debt from $2,500,000 to $7,500,000. The proceeds of the new securities, it is reported, will be used for extensions to the company's gas works and also to install an electric plant. Rumors have been current of a proposed consolidation with other interests, but these cannot be confirmed.—V. 83, p. 327; V. 81, p. 731.

San Antonio, Tex., Waterworks Co.—Successor.—See San Antonio Water Supply Co. above.—V. 82, p. 574.

Southern New England (Bell) Telephone Co.—Report.—Results for the calendar year compare as follows:

Year—	Gross.	Net.	Divs. (6%)	Bal., sur
1906	$1,799,144	$351,515	$307,500	$44,015

New Secretary.—A. H. Embler, Treasurer, has been also chosen Secretary in place of Victor M. Tyler, resigned.—V. 83, p. 1233.

Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.—Stock Dividend.—As stated last week, the capital stock has been increased from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000, the increase of $2,500,000 being in the common stock, the amount being charged to surplus account. At the board meeting held on Jan. 24 the new stock was authorized to be issued and a dividend of 100% in stock was declared on the outstanding common shares. Of the outstanding stock $2,500,000 is 7% non-cumulative preferred. Compare V. 81, p. 1379; V. 82, p. 338; V. 84, p. 225.

Submarine Signal Co.—New Treasurer, &c.—Harry W. Anderson, formerly Assistant Cashier of the National Exchange Bank, has been elected Treasurer. It was announced in August last that the United States Government had adopted the apparatus for its lightships.—V. 82, p. 1160.

Tennessee Coal, Iron & RR. Co.—Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has authorized $3,417,200 additional common stock to be added to the list prior to Aug. 1 1907 on official notice that it has been issued and paid for in full, making the total amount to be listed $26,417,200. The new stock is to be applied to the following purposes:

To reimburse the treasury for amount expended for the purchase of the Birmingham Southern RR., consisting of 105.4 miles of main line, terminal and spur tracks, fully equipped, connecting the several plants of the company in and about Birmingham, Ala.; and for the construction of a new open hearth steel plant at Ensley, Ala.; to cost not less than $2,500,000; the purpose of which is to double the company's output of steel rails.

Earnings.—For the 8 months ending Aug. 31:

Net earnings from operations over charges for current repairs, maintenance and construction	$1,370,543
Other income	5,327
Total income	$1,375,870
Interest on bonds, &c., and dividends on guaranteed securities	553,607
Depreciation	211,264
Divs. paid May and August (4% on com. and 8% on pref. stock)	456,042
Net income	$151,951

United Box Board & Paper Co.—Request by Protective Committee.—The protective committee (Sidney Mitchell, Chairman) has issued a number of circulars explaining its position in opposition to the plans of the management to dispose of the stock of the American Strawboard Co. to pay the floating debt, stated to amount to $843,012. In that under date of Jan. 18, stockholders are requested to subscribe at 80 for $957,500 general mortgage 6% bonds of the Box Board Co. held in the treasury, the proceeds of which, amounting to $766,000, would, together with the 2% dividend recently paid by the American Strawboard Co. ($90,000), it is figured, suffice to pay the floating debt. The committee says:

"At this price you will not only have a good investment, but will assist in paying off the present indebtedness and prevent the sacrifice of the American Strawboard Co. stock, thereby retaining this valuable asset as the property of your company."—V. 84, p. 164, 107.

United Gas & Electric Co., Bloomsburg, Pa.—Consolidation.—This company, incorporated Sept. 29 1906, as a consolidation of the American Gas Light Co. and the American Electric Light Co. of Bloomsburg, has increased its stock from $130,000 to $300,000, and made a mortgage to the Miners' Savings Bank of Wilkes-Barre, as trustee, to secure an issue of $50,000 5% gold bonds.

Of the stock authorized, $200,000 is common and $100,000 is 6% preferred; issued, $53,900 common and $95,900 pref.; par $100. The bonds are dated Sept. 29 1906 and are due in 1932, but subject to call after ten years. Interest payable March and September; denomination, $500; amount outstanding, $7,500. President, E. B. Tustin; Sec. and Treas., A. W. Ducy.

United Pulp & Paper Co.—Amalgamation.—See Consolidated Paper & Milling Co. above.

United States Independent Telephone Co., Rochester, N. Y.—Offer for Stock and Bonds.—A circular signed by Geo. Eastman, Hiram W. Sibley, James S. Watson, Walter B. Duffy, Thos. W. Finucane and Edward Bausch, states that an agreement has been entered into between the holders of $6,000,000 of the company's bonds and a trust company (not named) to take over the entire bond issue of $13,316,000 at 35, $4,782,200 in stock at 5 and the deferred stock (used to buy the New York Independent Telephone Company's franchise) at $1 per share. It is supposed that the trust company is acting in the interest of the American Telegraph & Telephone Co.—indeed it has been currently reported that the deal was made conditional upon the underwriting in Rochester of $4,000,000 of 4% bonds of the Bell system, presumably of the issue offered in this number of the "Chronicle."

The assenting securities may be deposited at any time on or before Feb. 28 and payment is to be made, if the deal goes through, on March 11. Compare V. 81, p. 1191, 1497, 1798, 1855; V. 83, p. 153, 277, 704, 767, 1175.

United States Reduction & Refining Co.—New President.—J. D. Hawkins, heretofore General Manager and Chairman of the Executive Committee, has been elected President.—V. 83, p. 1096.

United States Steel Corporation.—Quarterly Report.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.

Appropriations for Gary Plant, &c.—Judge Gary is quoted as saying:

Of the $50,000,000 appropriated in the year 1906 for new construction, approximately $27,000,000, which remains unspent, was set aside in connection with the construction of Indiana steel plant at Gary, Ind. About $4,750,000 has already been spent in the construction of the Indiana plant. Of the $15,500,000 appropriated for new construction in the last quarter of 1906, about $9,000,000 will be applied to building the Indiana plant.

We have already set aside sufficient money to finance the construction work proposed at Gary, Ind., until 1908, at least. We hope to spend $50,000,000 in new construction this year, but this is problematical.

There has been no falling off in the steel business, and there is nothing in sight to indicate a reaction. As to steel prices, we will pursue our policy of keeping prices at a reasonable level.—V. 83, p. 1596.

Waterbury Company (Incorp. in West Va.).—Status.—An authoritative statement says:

The Waterbury Co., the stock of which is being dealt in on the Curb, is a West Virginia holding corporation with a capitalization of $2,500,000 common stock, all of which has been issued. This company controls absolutely the Waterbury Co. of New Jersey (V. 80, p. 1738, 1062), which is capitalized at $1,000,000 common stock, all held by the holding company, $500,000 8% preferred stock and $500,000 6% bonds, of which only $212,000 are outstanding. The New Jersey corporation manufactures rubber insulated wire, lead encased paper insulated copper cables, high grade steel wire, wire rope and fibre rope. The net profits of the operating company for the past eight years have averaged over $150,000 per year, out of which payments of $12,720 for interest on the bonds and $40,000 per annum on the preferred stock have been made, leaving approximately $100,000 for the common stock of the operating company, which is nearly 10%, and which is equal to 4% on the stock of the holding company, the amount now being paid upon the stock.

These profits up to 1906 were made entirely out of the wire, wire rope and fibre mill. Within the last year the profits have been increased largely by the insulated wire branches of the business. In 1906 the company manufactured and sold approximately $2,300,000 worth of its product, an increase of 60% over the preceding year's business. Preliminary figures indicate that the operating company in 1906 earned approximately 20% upon its common stock, which is equal to about 8% upon the stock of the holding company. The present earnings are even larger, as the new branches are being worked to their full capacity, with large orders for several months ahead.

A press dispatch from Trenton, stating that the New Jersey company intends to increase its capital stock from $1,500,000 to $3,500,000, is stated to be incorrect. The company contemplates increasing its capital by $500,000 preferred stock, which, it is understood, will be issued in due time to secure additional working capital.—V. 80, p. 1738, 1062.

THE COLORADO & SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE IN CONNECTION WITH THE LISTING OF THE REFUNDING AND EXTENSION MORTGAGE FOUR AND ONE-HALF PER CENT BONDS.

New York, January 14 1907.

Referring to its applications dated May 11 1899, February 23 1901, June 12 1902, January 12 1903, November 4 1903, November 1 1904 and March 3 1905, The Colorado & Southern Railway Company hereby makes application for the listing of $10,000,000 of Refunding and Extension Mortgage Gold Bonds, bearing interest at the rate of Four and One-half per cent per annum, now issued and outstanding, as follows:

$9,100,000 Coupon Bonds for $1,000 each, numbered from 1 to 9,100 inclusive.

$900,000 Coupon Bonds for $100 each, numbered 16,001 to 16,900 inclusive, ten of such $100 Coupon Bonds bearing the same serial number, followed by one of the ten letters A to J inclusive (against said $100 Coupon Bonds have been reserved $1,000 Coupon Bonds numbered from 16,001 to 16,900 inclusive);

also the bonds which under the provisions of the Refunding and Extension Mortgage, hereinafter set out in full, governing the interchange of $1,000 Coupon Bonds and $100 Coupon Bonds, may be issued in the course of the interchange of listed bonds, viz.:

The $1,000 Coupon Bonds numbered X1 to X9,100 inclusive, and the $1,000 Coupon Bonds numbered 16,001 to 16,900 inclusive, whether or not preceded by the letter X.

The $100 Coupon Bonds bearing the serial numbers 1 to 9,100 inclusive; and bearing any of the letters A to J inclusive, affixed to such serial number.

Also—

The Registered Bonds into which any of the listed $1,000 Coupon Bonds may be converted.

The Refunding and Extension Bonds are issued under a Mortgage executed by the Railway Company to Central Trust Company of New York, as Trustee. The total authorized issue is $100,000,000. The Coupon Bonds are dated May 1 1905, and both Coupon and Registered Bonds are due May 1 1935. Principal and interest are payable at the office or agency of the Railway Company in the City of New York in gold coin of the United States of America, of or equal to the present standard of weight and fineness, without deduction for any tax or taxes which the Railway Company may be required to pay thereon or retain therefrom under any present or future law of the United States, or of any State, County or Municipality therein. Interest on said bonds is payable semi-annually on the first days of November and May in each year at the office or agency of the Railway Company in the City of New York. The Mortgage provides that the Refunding and Extension Bonds shall bear interest at such rates, not exceeding Four and One-half per Cent per annum, as from time to time shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Directors of the Railway Company. Pursuant to resolution of the Board, all bonds to list, which application is now made bear interest at Four and One-half per Cent. The entire issue of bonds, but not a part thereof, is subject to redemption at the option of the Railway Company at a premium of One per Cent and accrued interest on May 1 1908, or any interest day thereafter, on three months' notice.

Central Trust Company of New York, 54 Wall Street, N.Y., is agent for the transfer and conversion of the bonds.

All Coupon Bonds are registrable as to principal. The Mortgage also provides for the issue of Registered Bonds. Registered Bonds are in denominations of $1,000, numbered M1 upwards; $5,000 numbered V1 upwards, and $10,000 numbered X1 upwards.

The $1,000 Coupon Bonds may be converted into Registered Bonds and Registered Bonds re-converted into $1,000 Coupon Bonds. The $1,000 Coupon Bonds are convertible into ten $100 Coupon Bonds, which, when assembled in lots of $1,000 (irrespective of numbers), are re-convertible into $1,000 Coupon Bonds.

The following provision, contained in Section 3 of Article One of the Refunding and Extension Mortgage, more fully describes the details for the interchange of $1,000 and $100 Coupon Bonds:

The Coupon Bonds shall be of the denomination of $1,000 each and shall be numbered consecutively from 1 to 100,000 inclusive. The Railway Company, however, in its discretion, may, from time to time, issue Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $100 each, which shall be identical in all respects, except as to the stated face amount thereof and of the coupons thereto attached, with the form of Coupon Bond hereinbefore set out. In the event of the issue of any Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $100 each, the same serial number shall be borne by ten of such bonds, the serial number to be immediately followed in the case of one of such bonds by the letter A, and in the case of the others of such bonds by the letter B, and consecutively onwards. Every Coupon Bond for $100 shall bear thereon an endorsement substantially to the following effect: "This bond, together with nine other bonds bearing the same serial number, but lettered A to J consecutively, has been issued in lieu of, or in exchange for, a Coupon Bond for $1,000 bearing the same serial number, and, upon its surrender, together with nine other bonds of the same face amount and bearing the same rate of interest, there will be delivered therefor a Coupon Bond for $1,000 bearing the same rate of interest and having a serial number borne by a bond for $100 previously issued." Whenever any Coupon Bonds shall be issued originally for $100, there shall be reserved by the Railway Company, unissued, an aggregate face amount of Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $1,000, equal to the aggregate face amount of the Coupon Bonds for $100 so issued and bearing the same serial numbers.

Whenever ten Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $100, each bearing the like rate of interest and having all unmatured coupons attached thereto, shall be surrendered for exchange for a Coupon Bond of $1,000, the Railway Company shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver a Coupon Bond of $1,000 denomination, bearing the same rate of interest, with all unmatured coupons thereto attached and numbered as follows: If said ten surrendered bonds shall bear the same serial number, then the $1,000 bond issued in exchange therefor shall bear the same serial number as the surrendered bonds: If, however, said ten surrendered bonds do not all bear the same serial number, then the $1,000 bond issued in exchange shall bear, preceded by the letter X, a serial number borne by one of the surrendered bonds, and not borne by any $1,000 bond at the time outstanding; and said bond shall also bear the following endorsement, viz.: "This bond is issued in lieu of, and in exchange for, ten bonds of the denomination of $100 each, bearing the serial numbers and letters_____ none of which is at present outstanding." Whenever any Coupon Bond of the denomination of $1,000, with all unmatured coupons, shall be surrendered for exchange for Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $100, the Railway Company shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, in exchange for such Coupon Bond for $1,000, ten Coupon Bonds for $100 each with all unmatured coupons, bearing the same rate of interest, and, if said Coupon Bond for $1,000 shall not have been previously issued in exchange for Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $100, each having a serial number borne by the Coupon Bond for $1,000 so surrendered, or if said Coupon Bond for $1,000 surrendered shall have been previously issued in exchange for Coupon Bonds of the denomination of $100, then having numbers and letters corresponding with the numbers and letters specified in the endorsement on the surrendered bond. In every case of exchange of Coupon Bonds the Trustee shall forthwith cancel the surrendered bond or bonds and coupons, and, upon demand, shall deliver the same to the Railway Company.

The Refunding and Extension Mortgage provides (Article Two) that bonds may be issued as follows:

Sec. 1.	$32,850,000	bonds to retire at par underlying obligations.
Sec. 2.	4,000,000	bonds for use in retiring underlying obligations (any surplus to be available for betterments and improvements).
Sec. 3.	2,500,000	bonds for reimbursement of the treasury of the Railway Company, and for its general corporate purposes.
Sec. 4.	15,000,000	bonds for improvements, betterments, new equipment, etc., at the cumulative yearly rate, beginning January 1 1905, of $500 per mile of operated or controlled lines.
Sec. 5.	1,150,000	bonds in respect of the pledge of 6,763 shares of Preferred Stock and 10,019 shares Common Stock of Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District Railway Company, 10,706 shares of the stock of Gilpin Tramway Co. and 993 shares of the stock of Fort Collins Development Railway Company.
Sec. 6.	44,500,000	bonds for the construction or acquisition of additional lines of railway, terminals and terminal facilities, etc. (including the cost, not exceeding $2,400,000 bonds in the aggregate, nor at a rate exceeding $12,000 per mile, of double-tracking parts of the existing main lines of the system), and for the acquisition of the stocks, securities and indebtedness of other companies owning lines of railroad, terminals and terminal facilities, etc.

The $10,000,000 Refunding and Extension Bonds, for the listing of which application is made and all of which have been sold, have been issued, as provided in Article Two of the Mortgage, as follows, all securities acquired by the Company by the use of any of said bonds having been pledged with the Trustee under the Refunding and Extension Mortgage:

Under Sections 1 and 2. To refund or take up underlying obligations, viz.: Sec. 1, Subd. (b) $1,324,000 Collateral Trust Equipment Notes of the Company, which have been paid and the underlying equipment obligations deposited and pledged with the Trustee under the Refunding and Extension Mortgage; Sec. 1, Subd. (c), $165,124 85 equipment obligations of the Railway Company, and Sec. 1, Subd. (e), $185,261 50 equipment obligations of Fort Worth & Denver City Railway Company_____ (The equipment obligations taken up under Subdivisions (c) and (e) have been deposited and pledged with the Trustee under the Refunding and Extension Mortgage.)	$1,827,913 57
Under Sec. 3. For reimbursement of the Company's treasury (to meet capital expenditures previously made out of income)	1,350,000 00
Under Sec. 4. For betterments and improvements for 1905 (new equipment)	757,000 00
Under Sec. 5. For 6,763 shares Preferred Stock and 10,019 shares Common Stock of Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District Railway Co., 10,706 shares of the stock of Gilpin Tramway Company and 993 shares of the stock of Fort Collins Development Railway Company	1,150,000 00
Under Sec. 6. For stocks, securities and indebtedness of other companies (aggregate par amount approximately $5,092,702), viz., stock and bonds Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway Company (mileage approximately 121 2-3 miles); 1,237 additional shares Preferred Stock and 1,972 additional shares Common Stock Col. Springs & Cripple Creek District Railway Company; 149 additional shares stock Gilpin Tramway Company; stock Fort Worth & Denver City Railway Company	4,915,086 43

The Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District Railway Company operates a single track standard-gauge line in Colorado, from Colorado Springs to the mining district of Cripple Creek, in all 75 miles. Capital stock, authorized and issued: $2,000,000 ($1,200,000 Common; $800,000 Preferred); par value per share, $100. Outstanding Mortgage Debt, October 31 1906: $1,795,000 First Mortgage Five per Cent Bonds, maturing 1930 (authorized issue $2,000,000); $219,000 Second Mortgage Five per Cent Bonds, maturing 1921 (authorized issue $1,000,000); $1,379,000 First Consolidated Five per Cent Bonds, maturing 1942 (authorized issue $3,600,000).

The Gilpin Railroad Company* operates a single-track narrow-gauge line (gauge 2 feet) from Black Hawk to various mines in the neighborhood of Central City, Col., in all 20 miles. Capital Stock, authorized and issued: $200,000; par value per share, $10. Outstanding Mortgage Debt, October 31 1906: $71,000 First Mortgage Six per Cent Bonds, maturing 1919 (authorized issue $75,000).

*The charter of The Gilpin Tramway Company having expired on July 29 1906, all its franchises, property and assets have been conveyed to The Gilpin Railroad Company, a Colorado corporation, all the authorized stock of which has been issued, dollar for dollar, in exchange for the stock of The Gilpin Tramway Company.

The Fort Collins Development Railway Company operates a line from Fort Collins to Wellington, Col., in all 11 miles. Capital Stock, authorized and issued: $100,000, par value per share, $100; no outstanding Mortgage Debt.

Fort Worth & Denver City Railway Company operates in Texas a line from Texline to Fort Worth, in all about 454 miles. Capital Stock issued: $9,375,000 (authorized issue $10,000,000); par value $100 per share. Outstanding Mortgage Debt, October 31 1906 (exclusive of coupons held under reorganization agreement of October 12 1895), $8,176,000. First Mortgage Six per Cent Bonds (authorized issue $25,000 per mile of completed road).

The Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway Company operates in Texas a line from Cleburne to Mexia, in all about 79 miles, and has under construction additional lines in Texas from Mexia to Eureka, and from Teague to Waxahachie, in all about 225 miles. Capital Stock: Authorized, $300,000; issued, $221,000; par value, $100 per share. Outstanding Mortgage Debt October 31 1906: $4,829,000 First Mortgage Six per Cent Bonds, maturing 1935 (authorized issue, $30,000 per mile of completed standard-gauge railroad owned).

The Refunding and Extension Mortgage, to which, as provided in the by-laws of the Company, the holders of a majority of the whole amount of the First Preferred Stock of the Company have consented, covers the lines of railroad, franchises and property owned by the Company at the time of the execution of the Mortgage, subject to the First Mortgage, and all property that may thereafter be acquired by the Company by the use of the Refunding and Extension Bonds or the proceeds thereof.

The Mortgage contains, among others, the following provisions:

Article Two, Sec. 1.— . . . Unless canceled in accordance with the provisions of this Indenture and until so canceled, all underlying securities delivered to the Trustee shall be held by the Trustee without impairment of the lien of such underlying securities, and as additional security under this Indenture and upon the trusts herein declared.

Article Four, Sec. 10.— . . . Except as herein otherwise expressly provided, the Railway Company will not, unless with the consent of the Trustee, sanction or permit any Company of whose Capital Stock the greater part shall be pledged or assigned hereunder to sell or otherwise to dispose of its railroad or property, or any part thereof, except to the Railway Company, or to some other Company of whose Capital Stock the greater part shall then be owned by the Railway Company and be pledged hereunder. . . .

THE NORTH AMERICAN COMPANY.

To the Stockholders of The North American Company:

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I submit the following report of the affairs of the Company for the fiscal year ending December 31 1906, together with the financial statements of the Treasurer.

TREASURER'S STATEMENTS.

The books, vouchers, securities and cash of the Company have been examined and verified by its auditors, Messrs. Jones, Caesar, Dickinson, Wilmot & Company, Certified Public Accountants, and their certificate is appended.

BALANCE SHEET.

Assets.

Valuations.—In accordance with established precedent, the securities and assets of the Company have been revalued as of December 31 1906.

Stocks.—These are mainly the stocks of street railway, electric light and gas companies whose management and general policy are under the supervision of The North American Company. A few shares of stock of the Union Electric Light & Power Company and of the Common Stock of The Laclede Gas Light Company of St. Louis have been purchased during the year and paid for by the issue of additional shares of the stock of The North American Company, in further execution of the authority granted at the Special Meeting of the Stockholders of the Company held on March 16 1905. It has also acquired the entire Capital Stock, namely, $300,000, of the St. Louis County Gas Company.

With these exceptions, there has been no change in the Company's holdings of stocks since December 31 1905.

Bonds.—These are First Mortgage Bonds of the Union Light, Heat & Power Company of Covington and Newport, Kentucky, the residue of an investment made in 1901.

Loans.—These are largely loans to constituent companies for construction purposes.

Accounts Receivable.—These are current open accounts with constituent companies.

Liabilities.

Accounts Payable.—These are unpaid and overdue coupons and unclaimed dividends of constituent companies, which are paid by The North American Company as fiscal agent for such companies.

INCOME ACCOUNT.

Dividends Received.—The Company owns stocks of the par value of $43,818,897 28. The dividends received during the fiscal year were derived from stocks of the par value of $16,743,872 28. No distribution has yet been made of the surplus earnings pertaining to the remaining stocks ($27,075,025 00 par value). The amount of dividends received during the last fiscal year is less than the amount received during the fiscal year ending December 31 1905 by $233,132 78. In that year, in addition to the regular established dividends, paid quarterly or semi-annually, an extra dividend of $360,000 00 was received.

While the surplus net income of the electric railway, light and gas companies in which The North American Company is interested, for the year 1906, after the payment of all dividends, was $1,195,066 19 (of which upon distribution The North American Company would be entitled to 82.2 per cent), it was deemed best not to distribute any part thereof, for the reason that the companies are all engaged in construction and development work, and the financial conditions prevailing, especially during the last six months of the year, have not been favorable for the sale of their interest-bearing obligations, which, as described in the last annual report, have been created to provide for their capital requirements.

It will also be recalled that in the report made to the Stockholders' meeting, held on June 21 1905, it was said that the purchase of the Common Stock of the United Railways Company of St. Louis "was made with full recognition of the fact that large expenditures would be required for the improvement and development of the property in order fully to serve the public comfort and convenience and to provide for the rapidly increasing traffic, and that the surplus earnings over its fixed interest charges and dividends on its Preferred Stock ought for several years to be applied to these purposes. Immediate returns are not, therefore, to be expected."

Increase in the Value of Assets as Readjusted December 31 1906.—In re-valuing the securities and assets of the Company as of December 31 1906, the Board of Directors have been governed by the conservative precedents established during the past four years.

Losses.—These are amounts charged off on various small accounts of long standing, or paid in settlement thereof.

PURCHASES OF PROPERTY.

St. Louis County Gas Company.—This Company was organized for the purpose of supplying gas to the suburban territory surrounding the City of St. Louis, and with power to extend throughout the entire county. This suburban district contains a number of towns and villages of considerable size, which are likely to have a rapid growth with the improvement in transportation facilities now in progress and planned. The demand for gas had become urgent. To meet the present demand and to lay the foundation for supplying the probable future growth, a system of high-pressure mains has been laid from points of connection with the mains of The Laclede Gas Light Company at the city limits of St. Louis, to Welston, Clayton, Richmond Heights, Maplewood, Webster Groves, Luxemburg and University Heights.

Gas is purchased from the Laclede Company, and is pumped from the stations of that Company at high pressure, which is reduced by regulating devices attached to the service pipes of the consumers. By this method service of the most satisfactory character is supplied, and the system admits of extension to long distances at a comparatively moderate outlay. The North American Company subscribed, at par, for the entire capital stock of the Company, namely, $300,000, and during the past year has paid therefor in cash. It is believed that this investment will be of growing value.

St. Louis & Suburban Railway.—The United Railways Company of St. Louis has purchased all the assets, property and franchises of the St. Louis & Suburban Railway Company, and has paid therefor $4,000,000, par value, of its (the United Railways Company) Preferred Stock out of the amount held for the benefit of its treasury, which stock, however, is not to be entitled to dividends until declared after January 15 1908. It has also assumed the indebtedness of the Suburban Company.

The purchase was authorized in August 1906, and was consummated on December 31 1906. The United Railways Company entered into possession of the property on January 1 1907, and the Suburban system is now and will hereafter be operated as a part of the system of the United Railways Company. By this purchase, the trackage of the United Railways Company has been increased 105.82 miles (41.21 in the City of St. Louis and 64.61 in the County of St. Louis), which makes its total trackage 456.64 miles (350.59 miles in the City of St. Louis and 106.05 miles in the County of St. Louis); it has obtained an additional east-and-west trunk line running through the best part of the City and to the business centre; a line built on private right of way from the city limits half way to the business centre, two additional crosstown lines and suburban lines, which extend to the western section of St. Louis County, and connect all of the important suburban towns and villages.

By the introduction of transfers between the former system of the United Railways Company and the lines acquired, a passenger may travel throughout the City for a single fare, and all sections of the City are made more accessible to the residents of the suburban districts.

The two properties can be operated with greater efficiency and economy together than separately, and the increase of transfer privileges and the readjustment of fares and operating schedules will greatly serve the public convenience. The growth of the suburban territory tributary to the purchased lines will be stimulated. No doubt is entertained as to the wisdom of this purchase.

CONSTRUCTION.

During the year the offices and administration of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company and of its affiliated Companies have been established and concentrated in the great office and central car station building erected by the Company in the heart of the City, named the "Public Service Building," which was briefly described in the last annual report. It is now admirably serving the many official and public uses for which it was designed.

Extensions of the suburban railway system from Pewaukee Lake to Oconomowoc, a distance of 13 miles, and from Muskego Center to East Troy, a distance of 15 miles, are nearing completion, and will be opened for service in the coming spring. Important additions have been made to rolling stock and other equipment, and in general the physical development of these properties has proceeded systematically upon long established lines.

The new water-side plant of the Union Electric Light & Power Company at St. Louis, in the construction of which many difficult engineering problems and vexatious delays have been encountered, has been completed, the use of the old stations (three in number) for generating current has been discontinued, the distribution system enlarged and perfected, and the Company is now in position not only to supply the present demand for electric current, but also the probable growth for several years, without further additions to its generating capacity.

The Laclede Gas Light Company has made important extensions of its mains and services, and, as already stated in this report, the St. Louis County Gas Light Company has established a system of distribution to meet the needs of the suburbs of St. Louis.

The United Railways Company of St. Louis has constructed extensive shops, adapted to the construction as well as the repair of cars and their equipment, and has reconstructed, according to the highest standard, about twenty-five miles of track, and has otherwise improved its facilities.

The Detroit Edison Company has completed its water-side generating plant at Delray to its full capacity of 20,000 horse power, and its affiliated operating Companies have made large extensions of their sub-stations and distribution systems, and have also made further important acquisitions and extensions in the territory surrounding Detroit.

Without particularizing further, it may be said in general that the development of all these properties has proceeded during the past year on comprehensive lines and in harmony with the established policy referred to in the last annual report, and again later in this report.

GROWTH OF BUSINESS.

The following tabulation of the consolidated or aggregate gross earnings, operating expenses, taxes, depreciation, reserves, interest charges and net income, dividends and surplus of the principal gas, electric and street railway properties, in which The North American Company is interested, for the year 1906, as compared with the year 1905, illustrates the growth of their business:

* Decrease.

In respect to the gas and electric companies referred to, the following tabulation of their total customers and installations as of December 31 1906, as compared with December 31 1905, may be of interest:

	December 31 1906.	December 31 1905.	Increase.	Percentage of Incr'se.

Other Gas Appliances	45,118	37,561	11,557	30.77

Note.—In addition to sales to the customers, whose requirements are shown in the foregoing table, the Companies sell, mainly for the operation of electric street railways, the entire output of a rated generating capacity of 13,500 Kilowatts.)

The statistics given in these tables constitute perhaps the most important element of the basis upon which estimates of the future value of these properties must rest. Such estimates will be more or less sanguine, dependent upon the views that each observer may entertain as to the probability of continued growth in population and wealth of the municipalities and territory served, and as to the effect of the governmental policies that are now developing.

The population directly tributary to the properties under consideration, and to the extensions now making and in contemplation, by the Census of 1900 was approximately 2,175,000. It is impossible to say authoritatively what the present population is, but judging by the usual estimates made by local authorities of urban growth in the principal cities within the territory under consideration, St. Louis, Milwaukee and Detroit, it is probable that it now amounts to as much as 2,650,000, an increase of approximately 475,000 in about six years. This would mean an annual increase in tributary population of 75,000 more or less. With the increase of population, per capita expenditures for transportation, gas and electricity naturally tend to increase more than proportionately. When, in addition to this, it is considered that the sale of gas and electricity is now actively promoted by progressive commercial methods, that new uses are constantly arising, and that with the cheapening of electric current the steam engine is being displaced as the motive power of industries, it becomes apparent that there is reason to expect a continued great growth for the properties in question, provided the available opportunities for legitimate expansion are embraced, and the present methods of administration continue.

DEVELOPMENT POLICY.

In the last annual report, under this head, it was said:

"The management of your Company believes that the policy which should govern the administration of public utilities, if they are to be stable and uniformly profitable investments, is to develop their facilities so that they may be adequate not only to meet the present demands of the communities in which they operate with service of the highest standard, but also to respond immediately to the growth of such communities and their business, however rapid it may be.

"Obvious as the wisdom of such a policy may be, it involves a marked departure from the methods of management formerly prevalent.

"In pursuance of this policy from time to time as the management of the public service corporations in which the investments of the Company are so largely concentrated has been taken over, plans for their comprehensive and scientific development have been laid at the earliest practicable moment."

The criticism, which especially of late has become so generally prevalent in this country upon the management of railroads and other public service corporations, freshly emphasizes the wisdom and importance of the policy thus outlined. In view of the evidences of growing demand that have been presented, we feel that there should be no hesitation in continuing this policy of development.

By order of the Board of Directors.

C. W. WETMORE,
President.

1905	976,063	206,136	46,850	55,613	51,018	146,355

The total coal mined during the six months in 1906 was 839,518 tons, an increase of 133,116 tons. Total coke produced, 41,638 tons, a decrease of 7,165 tons. Compare bond offering in V. 82, p. 1216.—V. 83, p. 163.

Wheeling Mold & Foundry Co.—Stock Dividend.—A stock dividend of 33 1-3% was declared on Jan. 24, raising the outstanding stock from $300,000 to $400,000. As recently stated, the regular quarterly cash dividend and an extra 1% were also paid.—V. 84, p. 108.

Zehner Bros.' Packing Co., Toledo.—New Stock—Dividend.—The "Toledo Blade" of Jan. 8 said:

On account of the large increase of the business, due to the erection of a packing plant in Toledo, it was decided at the stockholders' meeting to increase the capital stock from $200,000 to $400,000. Subscriptions may be made at the Dollar Savings Bank & Trust Co. or at the office of the company in West Toledo. A dividend of 6% was paid Jan. 15 out of the earnings of the past year.—V. 83, p. 102.

—The Liverpool & London & Globe Insurance Co. issued yesterday the 59th Annual Statement of its United States Branch for the calendar year 1906. It shows total assets of $12,335,961, which include real estate amounting to $1,851,697, U. S. Government 4% bonds $900,752, State and City bonds and railroad stocks and bonds $3,578,720, bonds and mortgages $2,962,950, bank balances and all other assets $3,041,841. The company reports unearned premiums and all other liabilities $7,712,310, leaving a surplus of $4,623,651. The surplus is somewhat smaller than last year, but the decrease is not as large as might be expected in view of the fact that the company has paid out fire losses on account of the San Francisco disaster aggregating $4,522,905. The New York directors are Charles H. Marshall, Chairman; John Crosby Brown, Walter C. Hubbard, John A. Stewart, Edmund D. Randolph. Henry W. Eaton, Resident Manager

—The joint New York accounting firms of Jones, Caesar, Dickinson, Wilmot & Co. and Price, Waterhouse & Co., 54 William Street, announce that they have established a branch office at 307 Epler Block, Seattle, Washington. This new office will be under the general supervision of their resident partner in San Francisco with John Medlock, C.P.A., (who has been associated with them in the East for many years) as local manager. The concern's new office in the city of Mexico is fully established now with a staff of accountants familiar with both American and Mexican accounting methods and conditions. The firm's other offices are located at Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Seattle, London, England, and Melbourne, Australia.

—The New York University's "School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance" will hold its fourth annual dinner in the grand ball-room at the new Hotel Astor this evening. The attendance in this department of the University has increased rapidly in the past two years and the indications are that the prosperity of the school will be reflected in the largest and most successful dinner in its history. Among the speakers will be Chancellor Henry M. MacCracken, Col. George Harvey, Elijah W. Sells, of Haskins & Sells, Hon. Chozo Koike, Japanese Consul-General, Comptroller Herman A. Metz, Arthur Brisbane, Dean Joseph French Johnson, Dr. E. S. Meade and George W. Young.

—The Dominion Securities Corporation, Limited, dealers in investment bonds at Toronto and Montreal, have prepared an exceedingly interesting and comprehensive review of the Canadian bond business in 1906. This review covers both the general statistics affecting values, and lists of the principal issues of bonds, railroad, municipal, public service and industrial, put out during the twelve months, also the outlook for new issues in 1907.

—Hornblower & Weeks opened a branch office February 1st in Chicago in the Central Trust Company's building, Edward Clifford being Manager. Mr. Clifford has been a corporation lawyer in Chicago for several years, having been identified mainly with the Dawes Gas Company syndicate. The firm will deal exclusively in high-grade investment securities.

—J. Bradley Cummings of New York retired from the firm of Estabrook & Co. of New York and Boston on the 1st inst. On the same date F. Foster Sherburne of Boston and E. Hunt Allen of New York were admitted as partners in the firm.

—The private banking firm of Greenebaum Sons, of Chicago, will soon remove from its old location on Dearborn Street to the much larger banking room in the Ashland Block, corner of Clark and Randolph streets.

—H. C. Spiller & Co. of Boston have issued an office calendar. It is adorned with a picture of a young woman of beautiful mien, typifying grace, which makes it more than ordinarily attractive —Hornblower & Weeks are offering the new notes of the New York Central, the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central. See advertisement.

Friday Night, Feb. 1 1907.

No noteworthy change has occurred in the business situation, the record being one of enormous transactions at generally firm prices, with the country's facilities in the shape of transportation, labor and money subjected to the most exacting tests which have been applied to them for many years. The activity, moreover, is still along strictly legitimate lines, speculation being in abeyance.

LARD on the spot has advanced, owing to a rise in the future market, moderate receipts of hogs at rising prices and light offerings. Trade has been dull at the advance. City is quoted at 9¼@9⅜c. and Western 9.85@9.95c. Refined lard has advanced on the Continent, while other grades have been steady. New business has been quiet, but there have been liberal deliveries on old sales. Refined Continent 10.25c., South America 10.75c. and Brazil in kegs 11.75c. The market for lard futures at the West has advanced sharply despite heavy realizing sales at times. The bullish factors have been moderate receipts of live hogs, rising hog prices, manipulation by packers, commission house buying and covering of shorts.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF LARD FUTURES IN CHICAGO.

January delivery	9.47½	9.60	9.52½	9.65	9.75	.....
May delivery	9.65	9.75	9.70	9.77½	9.90	9.80
July delivery	9.70	9.77½	....	9.82½	9.95	9.85

PORK on the spot has been firm, especially for mess, owing to the strength of the rest of the provision list. Trade has been dull and this has militated against any marked change in quotations. Mess $17 75@$18 50, clear $18@$19 and family $18 50@$19. Cut meats have been firm with offerings light and demand fairly active. Pickled shoulders 8@8⅛c., pickled hams 11½@12c. and pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs., 10¼@10¾c. Tallow has been stronger on light offerings; City 6⅝c. Stearines have been quiet and steady; oleo 11¼c. and lard 10½c. Butter has advanced on a shortage of supplies; Creamery extras 32½@33c. Cheese has been fairly active and steady; State factory 14½c. Eggs have been quiet and firm; Western firsts 26c.

OIL.—Cottonseed has been nominally firm; prime summer yellow 46@47c. Linseed has been firm, owing to a rise in seed, but prices have not been quotably changed; trade has continued dull. City, raw, American seed, 42@43c.; boiled 43@44c.; Calcutta, raw, 70c. Lard has been quiet but firmer on the rise in the raw material; prime, 78@80c. Olive has been quiet but firm; yellow 67@70c. and green 60@62c. Cocoanut has been fairly active and firm; Ceylon 10c. and Cochin 9⅜@9½c. Peanut has been quiet and steady; yellow 50@60c. Cod has been moderately active and firm; domestic 36@37c.; Newfoundland 38@40c.

COFFEE on the spot has been more active and firm; Rio No. 7, 7c.; Santos No. 4, 7¾@7⅞c. West India growths have been fairly active and steady; fair to good Cucuta 8½@9c. The market for future contracts has been irregular within moderate limits. In the main the undertone has been firm, influenced by continued moderate receipts at Rio and Santos, reports of a better spot demand from interior dealers, an absence of aggressive selling, covering of shorts and investment buying. Factors militating against any marked advance have been liquidation by local and Wall Street interests and the narrowness of the speculation. There has been considerable switching from March to September and December. Closing prices were as follows:

February	5.45c.	June	5.70c.	October	5.95c.
March	5.50c.	July	5.75c.	November	6.00c.
April	5.55c.	August	5.80c.	December	6.05c.
May	5.60c.	September	5.85c.	January	6.10c.

SUGAR.—Raw has been firm with increased buying by refiners. Centrifugal, 96 degrees test, 3 15-32@3½c., muscovado, 89 degrees test, 2 31-32@3c., and molasses, 89 degrees test, 2 23-32@2¾c. Refined has been steady; granulated 4.70c. New business has been quiet but there have been liberal deliveries on old orders. Spices have been dull but firm on light supplies. Teas have been quiet and firm. Hops have been easy, owing to the dulness of trade.

PETROLEUM has been active and firm. A further advance in quotations is expected in the near future. Refined, barrels 7.75c., bulk 4.40c. and cases 10.25c. Naphtha has been active and firm; 73@76 degrees 13c. in 100-gallon drums. Gasoline has been active and firm; 89 degrees 21c. in 100-gallon drums. Spirits of turpentine has been fairly active and firmer at 74c. Rosin has been moderately active and firmer; common to good strained $4 45.

TOBACCO.—Trade in domestic leaf has been rather less active during the week, but prices in the main have remained firm. A transaction involving 3,000 cases of Wisconsin binders was reported, but the sales as a rule have been limited to small lots. Havana has been firm and fairly active. Prospects for the new crop are more favorable, and the indications now poin to a larger crop than seemed probable recently.

COPPER has been quiet and easy; lake 25⅜@25½c.; electrolytic 25@25¼c. Lead has been dull and easier at 6.20@6.30c. Spelter has been quiet and steady at 6¾@6.80c. Tin has been dull and steady; Straits 42c. Iron has been quiet and steady; No. 1 Northern $23@$25; No. 2 Southern $22 25@$24 50.

COTTON.

Friday Night, February 1 1907.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night is given below. For the week ending this evening the total receipts have reached 305,290 bales, against 294,162 bales last week and 339,479 bales the previous week, making the total receipts since the 1st of September 1906, 7,274,551 bales, against 5,732,446 bales for the same period of 1905-06, showing an increase since Sept. 1 1906 of 1,542,105 bales.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has latterly increased, but at the expense of prices for the options of the present crop, liquidation of March contracts having a particularly noticeable effect on that month. On the other hand, however, the next crop months, especially October, have shown noteworthy firmness, advancing rather sharply at times in the face of a decline in the options for the present crop. This was due to an increased demand from spinners, apparently for the most part from those of Continental Europe. Domestic mills have also, it appears, bought October to some extent. Such buying has been attributed both to the fact that the quality of cotton early in the season is apt to be better than it is later on, and also to the fact that mills are sold ahead for many months to come and are supposed to deem it advisable to provide for future supplies. Apart from this, most of the influences have been of a depressing character. They include, first and foremost, the enormous receipts both at the ports and the interior towns; second, the persistent dulness of the speculation; and, third, a certain sympathy with depression in the stock market. Moreover, in the estimation of not a few, the hostile criticism in various parts of the South of the present system of trading in futures, which may possibly take the form of adverse legislation in some of the States, has also had a greater or less tendency to force prices to a lower basis. So has the increase in the world's visible supply. Prices have latterly reached the lowest level witnessed during the present season. Opposed to any declining tendency and acting as a sort of break upon it have been such factors as the continued firmness of the spot markets, which are still far above the level or quotations for futures, the brisk and persistent demand fof the actual cotton, especially for the higher grades, though of late even the lower qualities have been more readily salable, and favorable reports in regard to the cotton goods business. In a word, the evidences of a large consumption have still seemed clear. The exceptional firmness of the next crop months is regarded as one indication of this. Those options, it is worthy of note, have shown an advancing tendency, despite the very general belief that the next acreage will be considerably increased. Spot interests have been buying March but selling May and July. A good deal of arbitrage business has been liquidated by buying here against sales in New Orleans and Liverpool, the liquidation of such straddles at greatly widened differences having proved very profitable To-day prices were irregular, closing at a decline for the week of 21 to 28 points on this crop and practically unchanged on the next crop. Spinners at home and abroad continued to buy the next crop months, and at one time they were slightly higher. Liquidation caused a subsequent reaction. Spot cotton has been rather more active. Middling uplands closed at 11c., showing no change for the week.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 21 1906 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

LIVERPOOL COTTON EXCHANGE.—At an extraordinary general meeting of the Liverpool Cotton Association held on Monday the 28th inst., the following resolutions were to have been acted upon:

1) That, commencing January 1908, the arrival contract shall be on the basis of the single month, instead of the double month as at present.
2) That the official quotation of the arrival contract from January 1908 shall be for the single month, instead of the double month as at present.
3) That from October 1907 to January 1908 the nominal or actual value of each single month shall be officially quoted, in addition to that of the double months during that period.

What action was taken we are as yet unable to state.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market for jute bagging has continued dull during the week under review at unchanged prices, viz.: 8 3/16c. for 1¾ lbs., and 9 1/16c. for 2 lbs., standard grades. Jute butts also dull at 3 60c. for bagging quality.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, Feb. 1 1907.

Prices for wheat flour have been firm in the main, though the trading has been quiet and confined as a rule to small lots. Mills in some instances have asked higher prices, but buyers have refused to meet their views. Export trade has continued stagnant and the clearances from the seaboard have been small. Some, however, are predicting a revival of business in the near future, as stocks are believed to have become greatly depleted. Some of the winter-wheat mills of the Southwest, it is stated, have made rather liberal sales of late, partly for export. At the spring-wheat centres, however, trade has continued lifeless. Rye flour and corn meal have been quiet and steady.

Wheat early in the week declined somewhat, owing in part to the settlement of the Argentine labor troubles, better weather in that country and the indifferent tone of the European markets. Also, there was at that time a good deal of realizing, and, if anything, even more selling for short account than liquidation. Moreover, snow-storms supposed to be of more or less benefit to winter wheat were reported in various parts of the West. But later in the week came a rally, owing to higher foreign markets, small receipts at the Northwest, extremely cold weather at the West and reports that the snowfall had been insufficient, so much so that most of the winter-wheat belt was unprotected by snow. Moreover, reports continue to be received that purchases of grain are being made by the Russian Government to relieve the famine-stricken districts of the Empire. The American visible supply decreased for the week 728,000 bushels, as against an increase for the same time last year of 225,000 bushels. The world's stock decreased 3,600,000 bushels, as against an increase for the same week last year of 126,000 bushels. The excess of world's stocks of American wheat over last year has now been cut down in round figures to 3,400,000 bushels. The world's stock of all kinds of wheat is 155,086,000 bushels, or only 1,367,000 bushels more than at the corresponding date last year. It will be recalled that recently the excess was some 10,000,000 bushels. Strenuous efforts have been made to relieve the snow blockade at the Northwest, with some measure of success, but the crop movement nevertheless continues on a very restricted scale. This has been one of the main arguments, too, in favor of higher prices. Congestion, due not only to the snows, but also to scarcity of cars, seems to be increasing rather than decreasing. Latterly, too, the market has been braced by a sharp advance in Liverpool, strong prices at the Northwest and the noteworthy firmness of corn and oats. Speculation has increased somewhat, but it has attained no very great proportions, as very many believe there is plenty of wheat in the world, and that it is only a question of time when the Northwestern crop movement will increase. Finally the export trade has been anything but satisfactory, dulness being the rule. To-day prices declined on larger Argentine shipments than expected, increasing receipts at the Northwest, liquidation and bear hammering.

Indian corn futures have advanced, owing to continued small receipts at Chicago, relatively small stocks there, buying by commission houses and influential operators, an absence of selling pressure and covering of shorts. Liverpool, too, has sent encouraging advices. The crop in Argentina, it has been reported, has suffered not a little damage from drought and locusts, and this news has had a bracing effect upon the markets here and at Chicago. The cash trade, moreover, has been more active at rising quotations. Export bids have been advanced, and it is expected by some that a large export business will be reported in the near future. To-day the market weakened under realizing and selling for the decline, a reaction in wheat and a lack of support.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have advanced under the stimulus of the rise in corn, buying by prominent Chicago operators, light offerings, covering of shorts and buying by commission houses. The receipts have continued small. The cash demand at the West has been active at advancing prices. Northwestern houses have been buying of late. To-day prices declined on realizing and depression in wheat and corn.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, Feb. 1 1907.

Further strength has characterized the cotton goods market during the week, several cases of higher levels being recorded. The great problem is still how to get new stocks, and buyers are trying to eke out supplies with spot goods. Purchases for 1908 delivery are proceeding in good volume, especially in the finer grades. A firmer tendency to the raw material has had a stimulating effect on new orders, suggesting as it does still higher prices for goods later on. New business in fact surpasses expectations, and advances in various lines are willingly met, provided early delivery can be promised. Jobbers' stocks are reported at the lowest ebb ever known at this season, and heavy duplicate orders will be necessary to supply the spring trade requirements. Much interest centres about the reported depletion of stocks in China, which, it is said, continues at a rate that would indicate future buying here on a fairly heavy scale, although the export business at the present time is quiet. Orders from Shanghai may be expected to increase in the natural course of events, but in the prevailing over-sold condition of the market the effect would not be particularly beneficial, except to those home buyers who have contracted far ahead at lower prices. There has been considerable improvement in the demand for woolen and worsted goods both in the men's wear and dress goods divisions.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Jan. 26 were 7,312 packages, valued at $403,023, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $1,131,309 in 1907, against $1,528,830 in 1906.

There has been a continued active demand for heavy brown drills and sheetings, and supplies of the latter are reported as being so scarce that higher prices in the near future would not be surprising to the trade. The effect of any active movement for Chinese account would doubtless be at once apparent, as stocks of export goods are by no means heavy, and machinery at present working on lines suitable for the home trade would doubtless be turned to the manufacture of the former. There has been no improvement in the bleached goods situation, and buyers are still willing to pay premiums where these are in any way available for nearby shipment. Prominent lines are still held at value. The demand for wide sheetings, sheets and pillow cases is still strong for early delivery, but supplies are scarce. Coarse, colored cotton goods are still sold far ahead, and there is little sign of an early increase in stock. Linings are firm and active. Ginghams have again been placed on a higher level, and the situation in these shows acute symptoms, the demand still being in excess of the supply. Still further advances would not come as a surprise. The business in napped goods for fall is active and prices hold strong at recent advances. There has been a continued big demand for prints since the increase in value went into effect. Print cloths are no exception to the general rule, good buying being reported in practically all departments, with mills sold well ahead. The demand for wide print cloths has been particularly active of late.

WOOLEN GOODS.—Buyers in large numbers continued in evidence in the men's wear market during the week, but purchases as a rule were confined to sample pieces. Operations are on a conservative scale, and large orders were placed only in exceptional cases. There have been new lines of fabrics opened, but the finer grades are yet to be shown. The trend toward woolens is still apparent, and the percentage of increased business in these probably averages 50%. Manipulated fabrics suffer in consequence, scarcity of cotton yarn for early delivery, moreover, retarding the manufacture of mercerized worsteds. Overcoatings are still neglected, and the hoped-for improvement has yet to make its appearance. The colder weather has not acted as a stimulus to buying. The dress goods market is quite active, and a good business is being transacted in both woolens and worsteds. The tendency is toward the fancy styles. Fall purchasing is progressing, but duplicating for spring wear is not eminently satisfactory. Broadcloths are fully holding their premier position for the fall, but buying generally is fairly well distributed. In duplicate business goods of a sheer character are still favorites.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been no change in the imported woolen and worsted goods situation. Silks maintain their improvement and ribbons are firm at recent advances. Linens continue strong and burlaps are steady and in small supply.

Controller's Office, Jan. 29, 1907.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 11 o'clock a. m., Central standard time, Monday, Feb. 11, 1907, at which time they will be opened, for the purchase of $170,000 Public School Bonds and $92,000 Public Sewer Bonds.

Said bonds are of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, bear interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, will be dated March 1st, 1907, and the $170,000 Public School bonds will mature $9,000 on the first day of March, 1918, and the same amount annually thereafter, to and including the first day of March, 1927, and the sum of $8,000 annually thereafter on said first day of March until 1937. The $92,000 Public Sewer bonds will mature in thirty years. Principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the current official bank of the City of Detroit in the City of New York, or at the office of the City Treasurer, at the option of the holder.

These bonds are authorized by the charter of, and laws relating to, the City of Detroit, and by resolutions of the Common Council of the City of Detroit adopted March 28, 1906, and by resolutions of the Board of Estimates of said city adopted April 30 1906.

By authority of an Act of the Legislature, approved June 6th, 1901, they are EXEMPT FROM CITY TAXATION.

Said bonds will be issued in coupon form, but will be exchanged for registered bonds at any time upon application of the owner.

Bonds can only be delivered at the office of the City Treasurer in Detroit, and accrued interest, if any, will be charged on delivery.

Separate proposals must be made for each issue, and be accompanied with a deposit in money or certified check on any national bank in the United States, or a State bank in the City of Detroit, for two per cent of the amount of the bonds bid for, as an evidence of good faith.

A set of papers evidencing the legality of the proposed issues; also the form of bonds and coupon, and a statement of the financial condition of the City of Detroit, may be had upon application at this office. The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved.

TRUST COMPANY REPORTS—NEW YORK, BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA AND ST. LOUIS.

We give up to-day thirteen pages of our space to the comparative returns of the trust companies of New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis. They will be found on pages 307 to 319.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

According to the daily newspapers, something of a hitch has occurred in carrying out and perfecting the settlement of the difficulty between the Japanese and California announced to have been agreed upon at the meeting held last week Wednesday of the Congressional Representatives from California and the President with two of his Secretaries. Indeed, so far, according to rumor, have the parties drifted from the proposed arrangement, that a war between Japan and the United States has the current week been declared imminent, though both of the named belligerents have announced again and again that the rumor was baseless and silly, and that a full accord along the lines we announced last week was in sight. A long-distance view of this whole affair taken by an observer situated at this centre brings the subject of dispute down to trivial proportions; and if no one else and no other interests except California and Californians were involved, we should say that the best treatment the case could receive would be to let them stew in their own grease. We are far from wishing any harm to the good people on the Pacific shore; we only seek to enforce the fact that their interests are so wrapped up in the development of kindly relations with the East and its people that no teaching in the present dilemma could be so effective as to force the State and its inhabitants to endure without mitigation or relief the ills they are bringing upon themselves and are sure to be the chief sufferers from.

This agitation against the Japanese has led Mr. Thomas L. James, President of the Lincoln National Bank and formerly Postmaster-General of the United States, to recall, in an article published in the February "North American Review," some interesting incidents connected with a previous crusade, fifty years ago, against a sudden special enlargement of our immigration from Europe. The initiation of this movement was the famine in Ireland and the sending of shiploads of food from America to its starving peasantry, followed by a great inflow of the Irish to our shores. Once here they spread all over the land and supplanted native labor in excavating work in country and city, building railroads, opening ditches and trenches in streets, &c. These people were distinctly foreign, and largely spoke a language or dialect as unintelligible to Americans as the Italians speak to-day. They were of influence in politics as well as in the field of labor, and for both these reasons their coming was looked upon unfavorably and as a source of danger to the future of the United States. "This hostility became so wide-spread that in Massachusetts even convents were searched to discover the hiding place of some unhappy Irishmen. . . . In Pennsylvania opponents of the foreigners displayed their enmity to such an extent that riots and bloodshed occurred. In New York City this opposition resulted in the now traditional Astor Place riots, even threatening the life of the renowned English actor, Macready." At length the same spirit developed into a distinct political organization, the "Know Nothing" party, the agitation reaching its culmination in 1856 in the nomination of Millard Fillmore for President and Andrew J. Donaldson for Vice-President, dropping the "Know Nothing" name and re-baptizing the party by calling itself the American party, with a platform summed up in the expression "Put none but Americans on guard."

There are many features of this "Know Nothing" episode which are on all fours with the California and Japanese involvment. We need not, though, dwell upon those matters to-day. It is a highly gratifying fact to be assured that not all California is imbued with the same disgruntled spirit San Francisco has shown. The brightest, sunniest and most charming section of the whole State sends a far more cheerful word. A Washington dispatch of Wednesday states, Feb. 6, that the President received that day a telegraphic copy of a resolution adopted yesterday by the Los Angeles, Cal., Chamber of Commerce on the Japanese school question which expresses the belief that the public sentiment of California, especially of the Southern part, upon the question of the exclusion of the Japanese from the general public-school system of the State has been to some extent misrepresented and is largely misunderstood. The sentiment is expressed that upon the main question, whatever may be the diversity of opinions upon the Constitutional and legal phases, the board is assured that "the general trend of public opinion in Southern California is decidedly adverse to any discrimination against the Japanese as a people in matters of public-school privileges, and they believe that this opinion is based upon considerations of equity and justice, and is held altogether independently of any attitude which the Japanese Government has assumed, or may assume, in regard to the question.

The gift of 32 millions to the General Educational Board by John D. Rockefeller, added to 11 millions already given by him to the same body and work, is not only the largest money contribution ever made by one individual for any social or philanthropic purpose, but is especially interesting and suggestive in the present situation of affairs. The good effects of the educational and uplifting work which this makes possible will be widespread and long enduring, reaching into generations to come, and no man can measure its fruits. But there is a lesson which ought to be gathered from it now in modifying—or, at least, in suggesting caution and reflection to—the popular habit of regarding accumulation as a probable, and large accumulation as certain, evidence that the people have been robbed. Are we quite sure of the soundness of the common notion that wealth means seizure from the many by the use of strength of hand, energy of purpose and hardness of heart? Is it not true that large fortunes come rather by producing an enormous volume of transactions at a small profit margin; by cutting out waste from processes, reducing the cost of necessaries to consumers, and thus increasing consumption; so that the scale of common living really rises and the poorer classes are benefitted by the very vastness of scale and combination of effort which superficially bear the appearance of oppression? Hasty and popular notions are quite the contrary of this; but are we sure that they are well founded? Is it certain that the current movement to assault and break up aggregations of capital is not really directed against an instrument of general popular well being?

Such a donation as Mr. Rockefeller now makes is hastily called "princely." This is an inaccurate term. It is democratic rather than prince-like, reflecting the natural disposition of the common man to recognize and obey the touch of nature which makes us all kin. It adds more evidence that the very rich man will re-distribute for the common good if he is left free; that he needs no pressure of any kind; that the "menace of vast fortunes" is imaginary; and that no scheme of inheritance taxes is necessary to protect the people. Evidence of this is added nearly every day, and it is timely to suggest, once more, that we Americans should counsel more with reason and less with unthinking impulse in our proposed dealing with the wealth which seems bad, not when we ourselves desire it, but when others have it.

The close of the present short session of Congress is now so near that, as one Washington dispatch phrases it, "mortuary lists" of pending measures are being made up and are already long. Some subjects upon which action is needed will surely go over, but there seems to be an agreeable prospect that currency reform will not be among those which wholly fail. The increased and more serious attention given to it in the bankers' conventions of last year was an encouraging sign, and the Senate Finance Committee, we now read, will report several propositions based upon the bill which passed the House in May last. This bill authorizes the issue of gold certificates down to a minimum of $5, instead of $20 as now, and removes the present proportionate restriction from the issue of $5 bank-notes, which cannot now exceed one-third of the total in case of any bank. Discussion in the Senate Committee has been towards raising to 15 millions a month the present limit of 3 millions of circulation withdrawable by banks, and to make withdrawal in times of dulness more free obviously tends towards more elasticity of movement, because to hinder withdrawal necessarily hinders issue. Removal of present restrictions against depositing customs receipts in depository banks is also discussed. These measures, which seem to have a prospect of going through at this session, would not go deep enough to dispose of the subject of currency reform; but they would make desirable progress towards it.

The absence of any derangement in the London discount market this week attendant upon the renewal of exports of gold thence to New York, and the prospects at the moment of exports in greater volume, is a noteworthy circumstance. The decline in rates for exchange last week to points which permitted or made profitable imports of gold resulted from drawings of bills against the negotiation of railroad notes that had been placed in London. This fall in exchange made it so profitable for bankers to import gold that advantage was taken of the fact, as was then noted, to bring out the metal. Furthermore, as the movement excited no apprehensions at the British capital—as was shown by the unchanged discounts and the maintenance of the normal price of 77 shillings 9½ pence per ounce for gold bars—a further sum of $1,000,000 of the metal was bought this week. The apparent indisposition either of the Bank or the bullion dealers to interpose obstacles to the additional withdrawal—the consignment from South Africa being about equally divided between the Bank, the India Council and the representatives of American bankers, without competition, seemed to make it probable that the latter would again next week endeavor to procure part of the metal that will arrive Monday from the Cape; the rise in exchange, however, on Wednesday will most likely delay such engagement another week. Credits have already been established in London and at Paris by American bankers, through the negotiation of railroad or industrial corporation notes, which credits, until they shall be drawn upon for the account of these corporations, will probably be employed in the markets where the obligations have been placed. If rates for money here shall be relatively lower than are discounts abroad, the loans of American credits may possibly not be disturbed; if, on the contrary, the monetary conditions shall be reversed, and if exchange rates shall be favorable, it seems likely that gold imports will continue at intervals. When the fact is considered, however, that Americans will seek to borrow foreign capital in large volume, through negotiations of rates of this character, it appears probable that drawing against credits created will be so adjusted that exchange rates will not be permitted to decline.

With the exception of a reduction by the Imperial Bank of Russia of its rate of discount from 7% to 6½%, there was no change in official rates by any of the European banks this week; unofficial or open market rates were, compared with last week, 1-16 of 1% higher at London and ⅛ of 1% at Berlin and at Frankfort and ⅛ of 1% lower at Paris.

The feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was a reduction in the surplus reserve by $2,928,700, to $12,634,100. This was the result of a decrease of $501,600 in cash and of an increase of $2,487,100 in reserve requirements, the latter due to an augmentation of $9,708,400 in deposits. Loans were increased $11,852,100. There was a transfer this week of $200,000 to New Orleans through the Sub-Treasury.

The market for money was easier this week, partly because of a lighter demand, due to inactive speculation and continued liquidation in the stock market, and in part by more liberal offerings of time funds which had been withheld in expectation of the maintenance of firm rates. The dull speculation in stocks contributed to a small inquiry for call money from commission houses whose clients were observers of, rather than participants in, market movements. The engagements of gold in London had a sentimental influence, for they seemed to promise some direct relief to the market if they were to continue as the result of further negotiations abroad of collateral notes; moreover, borrowing through such notes would, it was thought likely, tend to relieve the tension in the time-loan branch of the market by providing foreign capital to meet extraordinary requirements.

6% and at 2%, averaging about 2¾%; banks and trust companies loaned at 2¼% as the minimum. On Monday loans were at 3¼% and at 2½%, with the bulk of the business at 3%. On Tuesday transactions were at 3% and at 2% with the majority at 2½%. On Wednesday loans were at 3% and at 2½% with the bulk of the business at 2¾%. On Thursday transactions were at 3% and at 2¼% with the majority at 2½%; the higher rate was recorded in the last hour and it was probably due to belated borrowing and also to expectations of an unfavorable bank statement. On Friday loans were at 6% and at 2¾% with the bulk of the business at 3%. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were 4¾% for sixty and 5% for ninety days and 5¼@5½% for four to six months. One feature was the liberal supply of money on industrial collateral at 5½% for all periods from three to six months. Commercial paper is still quoted at 5¾@6¼% for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable; 5¾@6¼ for prime and 6½ for good four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 5%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 4⅝%. The open market rate at Paris is 3% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4½@4⅝%. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £1,224,645 bullion during the week and held £35,474,141 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to large imports from Egypt and heavy purchases in the open market, the export movement being very moderate, and receipts from the interior of Great Britain unimportant. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £1,338,000 (of which £603,000 from Egypt and £735,000 bought in open market); exports, £140,000 (wholly to South America), and receipts of £27,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was irregular though generally strong this week. There was an easy tone on Saturday of last week as the result of speculative selling, and this movement was observable at the opening on Monday. Then a demand for exchange to remit by Tuesday's steamer caused a sharp recovery, and as there were only moderate offerings of bills and no evidence of those against new negotiations of corporation notes, the tone grew stronger and it so continued thereafter, with re-buying of over-sold exchange contributing to the advance. There was a small supply of commodity bills with those against cotton largest in amount. The easier market for money was an important factor, as also was an inquiry for long sterling for investment.

Expectations last week of purchases of gold in London on Monday for shipment hither were realized and a consignment of the metal from South Africa which was offered in the bullion market on that day was apportioned in about equal amounts between the Bank, the India Council and representatives of American bankers, the latter securing $1,000,000. There did not appear to be any competition for the gold, for there was no advance in the price, and it would seem that the engagement was not regarded with any concern, for the open market discount rate was not affected. The recovery in exchange at New York on London this week seems to preclude the possibility of further importations. Moreover, bankers express the opinion that there is too much risk in the operation, in view of the possibility of an advance in the market price of the metal and of the interposition of other obstacles to the movement. Furthermore, attempts to procure gold in London for shipment hither, when efforts are being made to encourage foreign investments in corporation notes and in American securities, would seem to be impolitic.

Nominal quotations for sterling exchange are 4 81½@4 82 for sixty day and 4 85½@4 86 for sight. On Saturday of last week the market was easy and, compared with the previous day, long advanced 5 points to 4 8070@4 8080, short fell 5 points to 4 8445@4 8455 and cables 15 points to 4 8510@4 8525. On Monday the tone was strong; long declined 15 points to 4 8060@4 8065, short advanced 25 points to 4 8475@4 8480 and cables 35 points to 4 8545@4 8550. On Tuesday the market was heavy until the afternoon, when there was a partial recovery and rates at the close were 20 points lower for long at 4 8040@4 8045, 20 points for short at 4 8455@4 8460 and 15 points for cables at 4 8530@4 8535. On Wednesday there was a rally, with long 10 points higher at 4 8050@4 8055 and cables 5 points lower at 4 8525@4 8530; short was unchanged. On Thursday the tone was strong and long advanced 20 points to 4 8070@4 8080, short 10 points to 4 8465@4 8475 and cables 15 points to 4 8535@4 8545. The market was steady on Friday with long 5 points lower and short and cables unchanged.

THE COUNTRY'S PIG IRON PRODUCTION IN 1906.

The official statistics of iron production in the United States for the calendar year 1906, as furnished by Mr. Jas. M. Swank, bear out the general estimates of the magnitude of the year's output. The year was one of marvelous activity and buoyancy in the iron and steel trades and the figures reflect that fact. Perhaps the best way to indicate the extent of the output and the great advance made is to say that in the twelve months of 1906 the country produced 25,307,191 tons of pig metal, that this compares with 22,992,380 tons in 1905 and but 16,497,033 tons in 1904. Thus the make in 1906 was over 50% larger than it had been only two years before, in 1904. It is true that 1904 had shown some falling off from the maximum of previous years, but it was by no means a period of very small production.

A very noteworthy feature connected with the iron and steel business in 1906 is that it was a year of sustained activity from beginning to end. At no time was there any setback or indication of any. Production was maintained at high figures throughout. We do not mean that there were no variations in the output from month to month. Local conditions always play more or less part in affecting the output and each furnace has special circumstances of its own to contend against, serving temporarily to reduce its make of the metal. Weather and temperature are also important factors at certain seasons, besides which furnaces are often obliged to blow out for repairs. Such fluctuations in the monthly output as occurred during 1906 seem to have been due to one or more of these causes. The demand for iron—and for that matter for all the products of iron and steel—was never interrupted and every furnace and mill devoted all its energies to meeting such demand, and never quite succeeded in the effort.

In the spring it did seem as if prospective suspension of coal mining over large areas of the United States might interfere with the obtaining of the necessary supplies of fuel by the makers of iron and perhaps throw the whole trade into disorder. But fortunately this possibility was averted through the compromise agreement reached between the mine operators and miners, under which mining was continued at a very large percentage of the coal collieries on the basis of a return to the wage scale of 1903. In several of the coal-producing States mining was actually suspended in considerable part for several weeks, but the fact that the remaining mines continued at work prevented any fuel scarcity. It is quite remarkable that the tone of the iron and steel trade never showed any unfavorable turn. In 1905, which was also an extremely prosperous year, there was at least a lull in the spring, namely in April and May. In that year the tone in those months was distinctly weak, and orders for the time being were almost completely withheld, buyers fearing a relapse, which never really came. No such lull occurred in 1906, and the tone remained firm, even buoyant, from beginning to end.

The nearest approach to anything savoring of a let-up in the unrestrained buoyancy which prevailed occurred in June, when the dissolution of the Southern Furnace Association was announced and a block of No. 2 Birmingham pig iron was offered at a cut of $1 per ton in price. But this affair had relation only to the foundry grades of iron—iron used in steel-making being unaffected—and an upward rebound quickly ensued, so the incident proved little more than a passing event. Dividing the last two years into six months periods, each six months shows an increase in the make of iron over the six months preceding. The last half of 1904, when things were rather quiet in the trade, the product had been 8,323,595 tons. From this there was an increase to 11,163,175 tons in the first half of 1905; in the second half a further increase to 11,829,205 tons; in the first half of 1906 an increase to 12,582,250 tons; and in the last half still another increase to 12,724,941 tons.

The further additions latterly, it will be seen, have been small, but that is simply because previously the output of the existing furnaces had been brought nearly to its maximum, while the building of additional furnaces is a slow matter. Mr. Swank reports the whole number of furnaces in blast on Dec. 31 1906 at 340, against 323 on June 30 1906 and 313 on Dec. 31 1905. Actually, there were 374 furnaces in blast in the second half of 1906, compared with 361 in the first half. In 1905 the number in blast during the last half was 349 and in the first half 334. Mr. Swank states that the aggregate of active furnaces at the end of 1906 was larger than at the close of any year since 1889, when 344 furnaces were in blast. He reports 89 idle furnaces at the close of 1906, but these were presumably mostly plants of obsolete types, unfitted to cope with iron-making under modern conditions. A more important fact bearing on future growth in production is that Mr. Swank states that on Dec. 31 1906 there were 27 furnaces in course of erection and 5 furnaces were being rebuilt. In addition, there were 23 furnaces projected and 1 furnace partly erected on Dec. 31. The demand for iron all through 1906 was so urgent that the production would have materially exceeded even the extraordinary output recorded had it been at all possible for the furnace plants to turn out more of the metal.

With home production and home supplies inadequate to meet home needs, consumers the latter part of the year turned to the foreign markets for a part of their needs. The Government trade statistics show that 379,828 tons of pig iron were imported in the twelve months of 1906, against only 212,465 tons in 1905 and but 79,500 tons in 1904. But the movement was limited to the crude material. Importations of iron and steel in other forms did not increase materially. Taking all classes of iron and steel where quantities are reported by weight, the imports in 1906 (including the pig metal) were 584,410 tons, against 416,454 tons in 1905 and 266,398 tons in 1904. On the other hand, our exports of iron and steel, after a slight contraction in 1905, decidedly increased again in 1906, notwithstanding the exigencies of the demand in the home market. Moreover, in this case the movement is made up mostly of iron and steel in their higher forms. We exported only 95,059 tons of pig and scrap iron in 1906, as against 57,187 tons in 1905, but of iron and steel in all their different forms (including the pig and scrap iron just mentioned) we exported no less than 1,183,468 tons, against 1,010,384 tons in 1905. Of this, 328,036 tons consisted of steel rails, 192,616 tons of billets, 174,014 tons of wire, 112,555 tons of structural steel, 56,024 tons of bar iron, 46,237 tons of wire nails, &c.—from which an idea can be formed of the excellent character of our export trade in iron and steel. The figures given deal only with the articles and commodities where weights are reported. Including tools, machinery, typewriters, &c., where weights are omitted, the value of the exports of iron and steel in 1906 reached $172,555,588, against $142,930,513 in 1905 and $128,553,613 in 1904. On the other hand, the value of our imports of iron and steel, reckoned in the same way, were only $34,827,132, against $26,401,283 in 1905 and $21,621,970 in 1904. In the following we compare the imports and exports by weights for each of the last six years, showing how from an excess of imports in 1902 and 1903 there has been a change to an excess of exports in 1904, 1905 and 1906.

There is no longer any information regarding the stocks of iron on hand, the American Iron and Steel Association having in 1905 abandoned the collecting of statistics regarding unsold stocks. This makes it impossible to arrive at reliable figures of the actual consumption of iron. Presumably stocks of iron are now down to very small amounts. However, there is nothing tangible available in the shape of facts. In the following table, which, as originally conceived, was intended to furnish a clue to the consumption, we now disregard the stocks, but limit ourselves to the imports and exports.

a No data as to stocks were furnished at this time; we have taken the amount the same as at the end of previous year.

In a study of the year's results, it is always interesting to see the distribution of the make of iron among the different States and geographical divisions. Chief attention in recent years has centred in the progress which the South records. Not so very long ago predictions were very confident that the South would soon surpass the other sections of the country. Nothing of the kind has actually occurred. The South is increasing its product from year to year in common with the rest of the country, but at no unusual rate. In 1906 every State from which figures are furnished made an increase over 1905 with a single exception, and that exception was a Southern State, namely Virginia. The output of the whole South in 1906 was 3,467,216 tons, against 3,219,673 tons in 1905, 2,743,313 tons in 1904 and 3,237,079 in 1903. In the three years, therefore, the South added only 230,137 tons to its output, though the production of the whole country in the same three years rose from 18,009,252 tons to 25,307,191 tons. In 1900 the South's contribution was 2,604,671 tons. The increase to 3,467,216 tons in 1906 reflects substantial growth. In the same six years, however, Pennsylvania increased its product from 6,365,935 tons to 11,247,869 tons; Ohio from 2,470,911 tons to 5,327,133 tons; Illinois from 1,363,383 tons to 2,156,866 tons, and even New York has run up its production from 292,827 tons to 1,552,659 tons. The South contributed 18.89% of the country's production in 1900 but only 13.70% in 1906. In the following we show the production by States for each of the last six years.

The course of prices during 1906 was upward, not merely in the case of iron but in all classes of iron and steel products. Supplies were inadequate to meet the demand and there was a genuine basis for higher prices in the enhanced cost of labor and the other factors entering into production. The price of steel rails at the mills in Pennsylvania was kept unchanged throughout at $28 per ton, which was the more noteworthy as the price of steel billets, out of which the rails are made, advanced from $26 25 in January to $29 50 in December. A slight shading of prices occurred in April or May, but the tone even then remained good, as already indicated. No. 1 foundry pig iron at Philadelphia was $26 50 in December, against $19 in January, and basic pig iron at the same point was $23 25, against $17 91. In the following we show the yearly averages of prices of certain staple articles from 1899 to 1906, inclusive. It will be noted that the averages for 1906, even after the advance established, remain in most cases below the level attained in 1902.

THE TRUST COMPANIES IN NEW YORK AND ELSEWHERE.

In continuation of a practice begun by us five years ago, we devote thirteen pages to-day (see pages 307 to 319) to a presentation of comparative returns of the trust companies of this city (Manhattan and Brooklyn boroughs) and also those in Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis. We give the figures for all the separate companies in the cities referred to. These institutions have assumed such importance in the financial world and their operations are of such magnitude that an exhibit of this kind must necessarily possess wide interest.

In the case of the companies of Manhattan and Brooklyn, the returns selected for comparison are those for the last three annual dates. Semi-annual returns are no longer required. Under the law passed by the New York Legislature in 1905 the companies in this State now make returns at the call of the State Superintendent of Banking just like the State banks, the dates being left entirely at the option of the Superintendent. The latter has, however, wisely kept up the practice of calling for statements on Jan. 1 in the same form as previously, so that comparisons on a uniform basis may be maintained with the earlier years. For Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis, the figures are entirely our own, having been obtained by us in each case directly from the trust companies themselves. The dates in these last instances are for Dec. 31 and June 30, except in those cases where the managements have found it inconvenient or were unwilling to make up statements for those dates and have furnished instead figures compiled a few weeks earlier.

It is not our purpose here to deal with the returns of the separate companies, but with the grand totals. We shall begin with the trust companies of New York and we shall take the aggregates for the entire State, rather than for New York alone, because in that way we get still more comprehensive figures, though the New York City companies contribute the bulk of the whole amount.

The feature of most interest in connection with the aggregates for this State is that they show that the business of these companies has again resumed its onward march. By that we mean that after the decided shrinkage in deposits which occurred in 1905 a good part of the loss has been recovered in 1906. As has been many times pointed out in these columns, the trust companies in recent years have been making tremendous strides, their growth and development having been almost phenomenal. If occasionally a semi-annual return should show a temporary shrinkage, the next return would be sure to record improvement again at an accelerating pace. But the loss in 1905 was of a different character and was really of large extent, proportioned, as it were, to the magnitude of the previous expansion. That this loss also is being recovered—has, in fact, in large part already been recovered—is therefore an important circumstance. It demonstrates that these institutions have by no means reached the limit of their growth even in the immediate present. Stated in brief, aggregate deposits Jan. 1 1905 were $1,127,627,100, from which there was a drop during 1905 of over $72,000,000 to $1,055,128,422 on Jan. 1 1906. Now for Jan. 1 1907 the total has got back to $1,084,376,517. The recovery of $29,000,000 in 1906 has occurred in face of the fact that the conditions which in the main brought about the shrinkage in 1905 continued in full operation in 1906. These conditions were two in number, namely that the life insurance companies, which had been keeping enormous amounts of cash with the trust companies or at least with certain of them, had heavily reduced their deposits; and, secondly, that, owing to the high interest rates which money has been commanding, many individual depositors withdrew their money from the trust companies, where they had been getting a low rate of interest, and invested the same elsewhere at more remunerative figures. During 1906 these influences lost none of their potency. The life insurance companies did not raise their deposits to the old figures, and as far as the money market is concerned, rates advanced still higher, increasing the inducement for taking money out of the trust companies and employing it in other directions. The following, furnishing comparisons of the deposits back to 1898, will show how extraordinary has been the development of these institutions in this State.

AGGREGATE DEPOSITS OF THE NEW YORK STATE TRUST COMPANIES.

Jan. 1 1907	$1 084,376,517	July 1 1902	$887,001,689
Jan. 1 1906	1,055,128,422	Jan. 1 1902	792,931,724
Jan. 1 1905	1,127,627,100	Jan. 1 1901	638,121,771
July 1 1904	978,405,817	Jan. 1 1900	523,541,570
Jan. 1 1904	807,162,571	Jan. 1 1899	467,184,258
July 1 1903	914,769,871	Jan. 1 1898	383,328,725
Jan. 1 1903	823,797,857

If we measure the position of the companies by the aggregate of their resources instead of by their deposits, it is correct to say that the whole of the 1905 loss was recovered in 1906, giving for Jan. 1 a higher aggregate even than the previously unexcelled total of Jan. 1 1905. The reason why the comparison is more favorable on that basis is that the institutions are all the time adding to their surplus and profits, leaving them additional money at command in that way as an offset to the loss in deposits. During the last year, for instance, surplus and profits were increased from $159,487,990 to $174,318,268. Aggregate resources, therefore, for Jan. 1 1907 are $1,365,245,430 against $1,312,799,130 Jan. 1 1906 and $1,364,018,157 for Jan. 1 1905, as will be seen from the following.

AGGREGATE RESOURCES OF THE TRUST COMPANIES OF NEW YORK STATE.

Jan. 1 1907	$1,365,245,430	July 1 1902	$1,078,212,685
Jan. 1 1906	1,312,799,130	Jan. 1 1902	969,393,644
Jan. 1 1905	1,364,018,157	Jan. 1 1901	797,983,513
July 1 1904	1,208,450,930	Jan. 1 1900	672,190,672
Jan. 1 1904	1,042,413,409	Jan. 1 1899	579,205,442
July 1 1903	1,146,370,755	Jan. 1 1898	483,739,926
Jan. 1 1903	1,039,956,625

Another feature of interest in the New York returns is of course the increase in the holdings of cash by the companies in their own vaults. Under the law passed last year the holding of a certain cash reserve is made obligatory and the maximum figures of the requirement, that is 5% by the institutions in this city and 3% by those outside, became operative Jan. 1 1907. Accordingly, we find that now their specie holdings amount to $43,861,609 against only $20,733,816 on Jan. 1 1906 and they also have $11,675,393 of legal tenders and bank notes against only $4,083,239. Altogether, therefore, they held of cash $55,537,002 Jan. 1 1907 against only $24,817,055 Jan. 1 1906. Notwithstanding this large addition to the money on hand the trust companies on Jan. 1 1907 did not hold such a large amount of available cash as they did on either Jan. 1 1905 or July 1 1904. By available cash we refer to the deposits of money with the banks combined with the cash in their own vaults. The aggregate of the two for Jan. 1 1907 was $199,832,255 as against $149,787,595 Jan. 1 1906 but as against $213,367,788 Jan. 1 1905 and $262,247,178 July 1 1904, as will be seen by the following.

CASH ON HAND AND ON DEPOSIT BY NEW YORK STATE COMPANIES.

Jan. 1 1907	$199,832,255	July 1 1902	$128,978,387
Jan. 1 1906	149,787,595	Jan. 1 1902	121,045,797
Jan. 1 1905	213,367,788	Jan. 1 1901	105,702,416
July 1 1904	262,247,178	Jan. 1 1900	81,366,288

It is perhaps natural that the trust companies should keep very much less money subject to call in the banks than they formerly did, as on such deposits they get a low rate of return, while, as we have already seen, money has been commanding high figures in the market.

With reference to the various classes of investments held by the trust companies, there are no new features of importance. The so-called stock investments, the loans on collateral and the other items are all maintained at or near the maximum, so we simply annex the usual comparative summaries as follows.

TRUST COMPANIES AT OTHER POINTS.

As noted in previous reviews, no such comprehensive comparisons as those just made are possible in the case of the trust companies outside of this State. Our summaries for the other centres covered by our tables (namely, Philadelphia, Boston and St. Louis) are such as we have been able to prepare ourselves and necessarily are limited to a few leading items. Nor are the returns in these instances cast on uniform lines, nearly every company having its own distinct method of classification, making general footings out of the question except as regards those few common things treated alike by all and which have a definite established meaning, such as capital, surplus and profits, and deposits.

At Boston the number of companies has again been reduced and yet there has been further growth in the aggregate of their business. Three companies have disappeared from the list, reducing the number in existence to 16. The City Trust Co. absorbed the Mercantile Trust, the Old Colony absorbed the Adams Trust and the Beacon Trust took over the Washington Trust Co. Owing to these mergers, outstanding capital has been reduced, but it is noteworthy that the item of surplus and profits is larger than ever, being $22,551,499 at Dec. 31 1906, against $20,841,502 Dec. 31 1905. Deposits are $158,213,825, against $148,033,197 the year before and aggregate resources $191,885,062, against $181,397,833. In the following we show the Boston summaries back to Dec. 31 1900.

At Philadelphia 8 new companies have been organized during the year, increasing the number to 52, and this has brought with it an increase in aggregate capital. But deposits and aggregate resources have nevertheless been reduced. The falling off occurred entirely in the last six months, and may have been due in a measure to distrust created by the unfortunate developments connected with the Real Estate Trust Co. of that city and the suicide of its President, Frank K. Hipple. Deposits now at $193,283,134.. compare with $215,524,948 June 30 and $209,213,067 Dec. 31 1905. Surplus and profits, however, during the twelve months increased about 4 million dollars, showing continued prosperity and increasing strength.

In St. Louis there are three new companies, namely, the Jefferson-Gravois, the Vandeventer and the West St. Louis. None of these, however, are large companies, the whole three combined having only $250,000 capital. Deposits of the St. Louis institutions the previous year had fallen from $78,706,702 to $71,681,442. In 1906 the movement was again upward, the total rising to $74,512,082.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1906.

The year 1906 adds another to the long series of years recording large and continuous gains in railroad earnings. And, as it happens, the latest year in the magnitude of its further increase surpasses all its predecessors, furnishing a fitting climax to the series. The amount of the improvement in gross revenues would itself be sure to attract attention; but, added to the noteworthy gains of previous years, it furnishes further testimony to the marvelous industrial expansion experienced in this country during the last decade, to which the railroads themselves have so largely contributed and in which they have been the most important single agency.

Our tables just as they stand show an increase for the twelve months of $224,062,452. The totals are of huge proportions, the aggregate for 1906 being $2,131,306,699 and for 1905 $1,907,244,247. And yet this does not cover absolutely the whole railroad system of the country. The mileage represented, embracing all the roads in the country from which we have been able to procure returns, is 186,687 miles. As there were probably about 210,000 to 215,000 miles of road in operation during the twelve months, this leaves 25,000 to 30,000 miles unrepresented in our tables. The earnings for much of this mileage it will not be possible to get at all for the calendar year, and the returns for the rest will not be available for some time to come. We should judge that if we could get results to cover the whole railroad system of the country the increase for the twelve months would be in the neighborhood of $240,000,000, of which $135,000,000 was made in the first six months and $105,000,000 in the last six months.

Let the reader ponder well what such an addition—almost a quarter of a thousand million dollars—means. Let him recall further that in 1905 we put the increase for the full mileage at $180,000,000 and that in the same way we estimated the increase for 1904 at $10,000,000. Furthermore, that previously we computed the gain for 1903 at $210,000,000, for 1902 at $105,000,000, for 1901 at $155,000,000, for 1900 at $120,000,000, for 1899 at $140,000,000, for 1898 at $90,000,000 and for 1897 at $75,000,000. It will be seen that we have here an aggregate improvement for the ten years from 1896 to 1906 in the prodigious sum of $1,325,000,000. In other words, aggregate gross earnings of United States railroads for 1906 were $1,325,000,000 larger than they had been in 1896, the year of trade prostration and of the silver campaign. In the following we furnish a summary of the yearly gain just as registered in our tables, and comprising, not the entire railroad mileage of the country, but only the roads from which we found it possible to get returns. The increases even in this way are of enormous extent, being, as already stated, $224,062,452 for 1906 and following $152,039,634 gain in 1905, $11,137,487 gain in 1904, $182,099,849 in 1903, &c., &c.

Note.—Neither the earnings of the Mexican roads nor the mining operations of the anthracite coal roads are included in this table.

It is within the knowledge of everyone that as far as business and trade conditions are concerned everything was favorable to large earnings during 1906. Through the whole range of industries the situation was one of great activity and of almost unalloyed prosperity. In the iron and steel industries, upon which so much depends, the tone was positively buoyant. There were other favoring circumstances. The harvests proved abundant and they succeeded bounteous harvests the previous year. Then there was an almost complete absence of the rigors of winter, January and February having been noted for the mildest weather experienced in those months for a very long while. This was undoubtedly a circumstance of great benefit to the roads, first, in avoiding the expense incident to the removal of snow, and, secondly, in permitting a free and unrestricted movement of freight at a time when the facilities of the railroads were taxed to the utmost.

A few illustrations may be given here to show in how many different ways, as a result of the prosperous conditions ruling, the traffic of the railroads was added to. The shipments of coal and coke originating on the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburgh and Erie were 49,426,018 tons in 1906, against 46,329,562 tons in 1905 and only 40,245,935 tons in 1904. The shipments of iron ore by water from the Lake Superior region were 37,513,589 tons for 1906, as against 33,476,904 tons in 1905 and only 21,226,664 tons for 1904. All this tonnage had first to be moved from the mines to the upper lake regions and afterwards, on its arrival at the lower lake ports, had to be transported to the iron-making plants. Many other indications might be furnished of how the railroads were prospered through the sustained activity of the country's industries.

And yet conditions were not all favorable. The suspension of coal-mining during the spring months was an adverse feature, though the suspension was only partial. In the anthracite regions the mines were idle during the whole of April and for the first ten or twelve days of May. The anthracite carriers as a consequence suffered severely. The loss sustained at that time was never subsequently recovered, as will be evident when we say that the shipments of anthracite to market aggregated only 55,698,595 tons in 1906, against 61,410,201 tons in 1905. In the bituminous regions suspension of mining was not general. Nevertheless, in Pennsylvania and in most of the Middle Western and Southwestern States there was much idleness, and though eventually all the miners returned to work on the same terms as those who remained at work from the beginning, namely the acceptance of the wage scale of 1903, yet in several of the States it took quite a long time to bring the men to their senses.

It deserves also to be mentioned that, though the yield of the crops in both 1905 and 1906 was large, this brought comparatively little benefit to most of the Western roads. The grain movement was decidedly irregular both as between the different cereals and the different primary markets. A good idea of the general situation in that regard, however, will be gained when we say that at the Western primary markets as a whole the grain deliveries for the 52 weeks of 1906 were only 686,319,773 bushels, as against 690,180,164 bushels in 1905. As the grain deliveries at the Western points the first six months had been 283,933,868 bushels, as against only 245,120,288 bushels in 1905, the figures given make it plain that during the last half of the year there must have been a decided shrinkage in the Western grain receipts. That these receipts did fall off is beyond dispute. The reason for the falling off in face of the good crops raised is alleged to have been the inability of the railroads to furnish an adequate supply of cars to move the grain offering. The latter part of the year a fuel scarcity developed along the lines of the Great Northern Ry. and some other roads in that section, and this tended still further to handicap the railroads in supplying the necessary cars. Coal was rushed through on passenger-train schedules, tying up equipment in that way and intensifying the freight congestion. The following table furnishes the details of the grain receipts at the Western markets in our usual form.

The trunk lines to the seaboard seem to have fared much better in the matter of the grain traffic. At all events the receipts at the seaboard for the 52 weeks aggregated 289,148,931 bushels, as against 252,936,169 bushels in 1905, as will be seen by the following table. It remains true, however, even in this case, that in the latter half there was a falling off, for during the period from Jan. 1 to June 30 there had been an increase of 55,000,000 bushels in these seaboard receipts, the total for the first six months of 1906 having been 153,043,583 bushels, against 98,670,328 bushels.

The Western live-stock movement was also decidedly irregular. At the six leading markets, namely Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph and Sioux City, 8,817,524 head of cattle were brought in in 1906 against 8,690,802 head in 1905, and 10,056,550 head of sheep against 9,708,107, but the arrivals of hogs were only 18,354,696 against 19,042,841.

Southern roads sustained a decided falling off in their cotton traffic. This was because of the shortage of the yield in 1905, which affected the cotton movement for the first nine months of 1906. The new season's yield, however, was prolific, and the last three months part of the previous loss was made good. For the full twelve months the receipts at the Southern ports were 8,597,130 bales against 9,024,470 bales in 1905, while the shipments overland were 1,406,558 bales against 1,437,094 bales.

The gains in earnings continued through all the months of the year, speaking of the roads collectively. But during the later months they were of much smaller magnitude, and some of the separate roads at that time, for reasons peculiar to themselves, recorded losses. A summary of the monthly increases is furnished in the table we now present. It will be noticed that the gains in January and February, on account mainly of the favorable meteorological conditions, were of unusual magnitude.

In the case of the separate roads, the improvement for the twelve months is as striking and noteworthy as in the case of the roads as a whole. In fact, the array of increases disclosed is of imposing extent and character. In the following we have brought together all the changes for the twelve months for amounts in excess of $250,000, whether increases or decreases. There is really but one decrease, that of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh, and in that instance the falling off follows directly as a result of the strike of the bituminous coal miners.

a Includes income from investments for all the years, and also the operations of New York & Long Branch RR. for all the years.

b Basis for 1902 changed, making figures for 1902 in the case of Central RR. of New Jersey $15,999,349, instead of $15,107,661 as first reported, and in the case of Lehigh Valley RR. $22,487,538, instead of $23,174,514.

c For the year 1901 figures are inclusive of results for the water lines during the first six months and inclusive also of income from investments for the whole twelve months. In 1902 and subsequent years figures are for calendar year and include only operations of the railroad.

d These are the earnings of the railroad company only; the results of coal-mining operations are not included in any of the years.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO.'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregated 235 shares, of which 257 shares were sold at auction and 28 shares at the Stock Exchange. The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 80 shares. A lot of 120 shares of stock of the Mechanics' Bank of Brooklyn was sold at 325—an advance of 45 points over the price paid at the last previous public sale, which was made in December 1905.

—The Committee on Finance and Currency, at its own request, has been discharged by the New York Chamber of Commerce from further consideration of the question of devising means for the better regulation of interest rates on call loans. The following is the report of the committee presented through its chairman, A. Barton Hepburn, at Thursday's meeting of the Chamber:

Your Committee on Finance and Currency, to whom was referred at the meeting of the Chamber in December last the following resolution:

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee on Finance and Currency to examine into and report upon the practicability of devising means through which the interest rate beyond 6% upon call loans made at the New York Stock Exchange can be better regulated than is the case at present.

Beg to report that the committee has had several meetings, and fully discussed the scope and purport of the resolution, but finding the views of its members to be widely divergent as to possible remedies, has been unable to agree upon a report, and asks to be discharged from further consideration of the resolution.

The other members on the committee with Mr. Hepburn are Jacob H. Schiff, Edward King, James T. Woodward, H. C. Fahnestock, August Belmont and John I. Waterbury.

—In view of the recent important changes in the executive personnel of the Liberty National Bank of this city, some reference to the institution's rapid growth and its rise in prominence and importance will be timely. The bank was organized Oct. 13 1891, and was first located at No. 143 Liberty Street, where it conducted its business with success up to 1902. In January 1903 the directors, desiring to broaden the scope of the bank's services, decided to move to No. 139 Broadway, near Liberty Street, where the bank erected a building of marked architectural beauty and fitted it up for its own exclusive use. A glance at the following comparative statement of published reports will give evidence of the growth of the institution:

	Capital.	Surplus.	Undivided Profits.	Loans and Discounts.	Deposits.
1892	$500,000	----------	$1,805	$929,654	$718,400
1897	500,000	----------	248,648	2,478,221	2,934,900

Thus there has been a steady increase of business. The bank has also been very successful with respect to its earning powers. Much credit for its initial success was due to Henry C. Tinker, who was its first President, and Henry P. Davison, who, after the first Cashier, James Christie, died, became Cashier of the institution and later President. E. C. Converse, who succeeded Mr. Davison as President in 1902, possessed a unique personality and attracted to the bank very desirable customers. Shortly thereafter Charles H. Stout, widely known to the bankers throughout the country on account of his former connection with the National Bank of the Republic and the First National Bank of this city, was elected Active Vice-President, which position he still retains. Through the combined ability and energy of these men the bank has won hosts of business friends. In 1901 its surplus had grown to over $1,000,000. At that time the capital was increased from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Recently, in order to allow the bank to conform to the new law respecting loans (which must not exceed 10% of capital and surplus), the directors transferred from undivided profits to surplus account the sum of $500,000. At the present time the capital of the bank is $1,000,000, surplus $1,500,000 and undivided profits $766,500. The business of the bank is allied to no one particular line, and it handles both mercantile and bank accounts

It will be interesting to the reader to learn that the recent election of Frederick B. Schenck, formerly President of the Mercantile National Bank of New York, was thought of only on the day preceding January 8 1907, on which date the national banks have their annual election of directors. At that time it became known that he might not continue with the Mercantile National Bank, and he was immediately invited to become President of the Liberty National Bank. Mr. Schenck is a man of high character and excellent executive ability. His career in the Mercantile National Bank for the past twenty-six years, through different positions up to the cashiership and presidency, should make his services very valuable to the Liberty National. Mr. James V. Lott, who was last month appointed Cashier of the Liberty National Bank, was employed by the Mercantile National Bank for many years and has a large number of friends. While these two men have been with the Liberty National Bank for about only four weeks, the business of that institution, we understand, already shows a marked increase in point of deposits. The other officers of the bank are Daniel G. Reid, Vice-President, who, on account of his power in the Rock Island System and his influential connections throughout the West, must be a valuable member of the bank. Charles W. Riecks, the Second Vice-President, has been connected with the bank since its organization, as has Frederick P. McGlynn, the Assistant Cashier, and both are well known. The directors, in addition to President Schenck and Vice-President Stout, are: George F. Baker, E. F. C. Young, Arthur F. Luke, J. Rogers Maxwell, Francis L. Hine, T. A. Gillespie, Charles A. Moore, Henry P. Davison, Charles H. Warren, Daniel G. Reid, Ambrose Monell, E. C. Converse, Frederick G. Bourne and Henry C. Tinker.

—The Lincoln National Bank of New York, Gen. Thomas L. James, President, has declared a quarterly dividend of 4%, which since the increase in the institution's capital stock from $300,000 to $500,000 is equivalent to a 33 1-3% increase over the former yearly rate of 20%. The increase in stock was effected in January by the declaration to shareholders of a 66 2-3% dividend on the $300,000 capital out of surplus and profits. On the first of this month the bank's earned surplus was $1,000,000, undivided profits $509,000, deposits $16,415,000 and total resources $19,374,200.

—We understand that the pamphlet on "The Responsibilities of Directors" issued by the Lincoln Trust Company of this city, to which we referred in our issue of Saturday last, was prepared by Frederick Phillips, Secretary of the company.

—The initial statement of the Irving National Exchange Bank, on the southwest corner of Chambers and West Broadway, this city, shows the united strength of the New York National Exchange Bank and the Irving National Bank resulting from their recent consolidation. Its deposits on Jan. 26 were $19,862,831, capital $2,000,000, surplus $1,000,000, undivided profits, $25,571, and aggregate resources $24,038,700, when the Comptroller of the Currency called for a report from all national banks. The officers of the consolidated institution are: Lewis E. Pierson, President; James E. Nichols, Charles L. Farrell and Rollin P. Grant, Vice-Presidents; and Benjamin F. Werner, Cashier.

—Emil Seyd Jr. was elected active Vice-President of the Northern National Bank of this city at a meeting of the directors on Tuesday.

—At a meeting of the trustees of the New York Life Insurance & Trust Company of this city on Tuesday Thomas Denny Jr. was chosen to fill a vacancy in the board.

—Edw. H. Peaslee, who was elected to the board of the Second National Bank of this city at the annual meeting in January, has been elected a Vice-President of the institution. Mr. Peaslee is President of the Fidelity Bank of this city.

—The following new directors have been chosen to the board of the Hamilton Bank of this city: E. R. Thomas, O. F. Thomas, Stanley Gifford, David A. Sullivan and LeRoy W. Baldwin. The new members replace Cyrus Clark, F. B. Schenck, W. S. Gray, John J. Lapham and Frederick G. Kinsman. No action has as yet been taken towards electing a successor to former President Frank W. Kinsman Jr., who is now President of the New Amsterdam National Bank. Mr. Kinsman's interest in the Hamilton Bank was purchased by E. R. and O. F. Thomas

—The officers for the proposed Montauk Bank of Brooklyn Borough were elected at a meeting on the 1st inst. Henry M. Randall has been chosen President; Adolph Heinemann and William Lockitt are the Vice-Presidents and H. B. Conlin the Cashier. The directors are Henry M. Randall, William Lockitt, Adolph Heinemann, Stephen M. Griswold, Henry J. Straukamp, Guy Loomis, Dr. Charles D. Larkins, Dr. H. B. Bayles, J. S. Scully, John Sorensen, Gottfried Wildermuth, William H. Gieseler, Michael Furst, William M. Calder and William L. Newton. It is expected to open the bank for business at Fifth Avenue and Union Street on March 1. President Randall is also at the head of the Bank of Port Jefferson at Port Jefferson, L. I.

—The question of increasing the capital of the First National Bank of Albany, N. Y., from $300,000 to $600,000, and the several other propositions incident to the consolidation of the First National and National Exchange banks, will be submitted to the stockholders for ratification on March 1. The consolidation plan was mentioned in the "Chronicle" of January 26.

—On the 6th inst. Winton C. Garrison was elected a Vice-President of the Federal Trust Company of Newark, N. J., to succeed Benjamin Atha, resigned. Frank L. Luff having retired as Treasurer of the institution, the office has been combined with that of Secretary, and the present Secretary, John W. Crooks, continues in the office. James Smith Jr. has been re-elected President of the company and Joseph M. Byrne has also been re-elected a Vice-President. Edward T. McGuire has been chosen Trust Officer and Robertson S. Ward succeeds the late Daniel O'Day as a director.

—The Mechanics' Trust Company of Bayonne, N. J., was the scene of a run last week, the trouble, it is believed, arising through the circulation of false rumors. The institution met all obligations. It paid out about $300,000 during the progress of the run on Friday and Saturday, keeping its doors open beyond the usual time in order to reassure the anxious depositors, many of whom were foreigners. With the resumption of business on Monday, there appeared little indication of the "scare" of the previous week, but few depositors withdrawing their accounts. The institution was organized in 1886 and has a capital of $50,000 and a surplus of $200,000.

—Chester W. Bliss was this week elected President of the Chapin National Bank of Springfield, Mass., to succeed W. F. Callendar, who declined re-election. The new President has been Chairman of the executive committee for the past two years. He is the grandson of Chester W. Chapin, organizer of the State bank which preceded the Chapin National, and who was its first President. Another new officer in the Chapin National, elected this week, is James Rumrill Miller, who has been chosen Vice-President. George R. Yerrall has been re-elected Cashier. Referring to these elections, the "Springfield Republican" says "it is understood that the organization of the bank is permanent and that the question of absorption by the Union Trust Company is thereby disposed of."

—A special meeting of the stockholders of the Union Trust Company of Maryland at Baltimore will be held on Feb. 25, when the proposition to reduce the capital from $1,000,000 to $500,000 will be submitted for ratification. It is the purpose to retire one-half the stock so that the capital will consist of 10,000 shares of the par value of $50 each.

—Clarence F. Norment, President of the Central National Bank of Washington, D. C., was elected to succeed C. A. James as President of the National Bank of Washington at the late annual meeting. With regard to the reports of consolidation of these two institutions, we are advised that nothing has as yet been perfected in the matter. Clement W. Howard becomes successor to J. L. Norris as Vice-President of the National Bank of Washington and J. Frank White is the Assistant Cashier. Charles E. White has resigned as Cashier.

—Chicago had two rather notable bank openings the past week. On Monday the Harris Trust & Savings Bank opened its doors in the Marquette Building as the successor of the well-known Chicago bond and banking house of N. W. Harris & Co. Its initial deposits on the opening day were in excess of $3,000,000. The new institution has as officers N. W. Harris, President; Albert G. Farr, Albert W. Harris and George P. Hoover, Vice-Presidents; Howard W. Fenton, Treasurer; Edward P. Smith, Secretary; Frank R. Elliott, Cashier; and Joseph H. Vaill, Assistant Cashier. The list of stockholders includes such names of financial influence as J. Ogden Armour, President of Armour & Co.; John G. Shedd, President Marshall Field & Co.; William Deering, of International Harvester Co.; President, James T. Harahan of Illinois Central RR. Co.; J. M. and Geo. M. Studebaker, President and Vice-President of Studebaker Bros. Mfg. Co., Cyrus H., Harold F. and Stanley McCormick, of International Harvester Co.; J. V. Farwell Jr., Treasurer John V. Farwell Co.; and the following bank officials: Edward S. Lacey, President Bankers National Bank; John A. Lynch, President National Bank of the Republic; George M. Reynolds, President Continental National Bank; L. A. Goddard, President Fort Dearborn National Bank; W. T. Fenton, Vice-President National Bank of the Republic; J. C. Craft, Vice-President Bankers National; Oliver C. Fuller, President Wisconsin Trust Co., Milwaukee; and Gustav Reuss, President Marshall & Ilsley Bank, Milwaukee.

—On Tuesday the new National City Bank of Chicago commenced business, and at the hour of closing had received $2,192,311 in deposits. The institution has a capital of $1,500,000 and surplus of $300,000.

—The Monroe National Bank of Chicago has called a special stockholders' meeting for March 5th to increase the capital stock from $200,000 to $300,000. The new stock is to be put out at $125, which will add $25,000 to surplus and undivided profits. After the increase the bank will have $300,000 capital and approximately $50,000 in surplus and undivided profits. The bank has shown a steady growth since its conversion from a State to a National bank less than a year ago, its deposits having increased from about $500,000 to $1,387,000 at the time of the last call of the Comptroller.

—Interests in the Fort Dearborn National Bank of Chicago have secured a permit from the State Auditor to organize the Fort Dearborn Trust & Savings Bank. It is stated that it is not the purpose to proceed with the company's organization just at present, the charter having been obtained in order to prevent the use of the title by others.

—A permit has been issued to George H. Eckels, of the Commercial National Bank of Chicago, and others, to organize the Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, capital $200,000. As in the case of the Fort Dearborn National Bank, which has taken out a charter for the organization of the Fort Dearborn Trust & Savings Bank, there is said to be no intention on the part of the Commercial National to start a new State institution just now; the object in securing the charter was to prevent the adoption of the title by interests outside the Commercial.

—John A. Creighton, President of the First National Bank of Omaha, Neb., died on the 7th inst. at the age of seventy-five years. Mr. Creighton was born in Ohio, but since 1868 had permanently resided in Omaha. He was a prominent factor in the financial and commercial interests of that city. Prior to his election as President of the First National last November (succeeding Herman Kountze) Mr. Creighton was Vice-President of the institution.

—John W. Harrison, a Vice-President of the Missouri-Lincoln Trust Company of St. Louis, Mo., was elected President on the 2nd inst., to succeed August Schlafly, resigned.

—At a meeting on the 2nd inst. the stockholders of the Virginia Bank & Trust Company, Incorporated, of Norfolk, Va., ratified a proposition to increase the capital from $200,000 to $600,000.

—H. P. Headley has been chosen Vice-President of the Third National Bank of Lexington, Ky., succeeding Y. Alexander, who has become Cashier of the bank in place of G. H. Barr.

—The stockholders of the Equitable Trust Company of Augusta, Ga., have agreed to accept an offer for the merger of their institution with the Merchants' Bank of that city. The Equitable Trust has a capital of $285,000. Its shareholders are to receive for their holdings stock in the Merchants' Bank for 80% of the amount (the Merchants' stock being valued at $200 per share) and 20% in cash. The bank's present capital of $75,000 was increased from $50,000 in June. It is understood that it will again be increased—this time in the sum of $125,000.

—On Jan. 22 W. V. Davis, previously Secretary and Treasurer of the Savannah Trust Company of Savannah, Ga., was elected Vice-President. John H. Strouss succeeds to the office of Secretary and Treasurer, John H. Calais becoming Assistant Secretary and Treasurer.

—The business of the Merchants' & Planters' Bank of Natchez, Miss. (capital $25,000) was transferred on the 19th ult. to the First National Bank of Natchez. The latter has a capital of $250,000.

—F. Thornwell Fay and John M. Dorrance were elected additional Vice-Presidents of the Commercial National Bank of Houston, Texas, on the 8th ult.

—The directors of the Gaston National Bank of Dallas have elected to vice-presidencies R. C. Ayres and R. K. Gaston. J. Howard Ardrey has been chosen Cashier—the office formerly held by Mr. Ayres.

—The First National Bank of Fort Worth, Texas, increased its capital on January 8 from $325,000 to $500,000. The increase of $175,000 was taken out of the accumulated profits without making any change in the surplus of $200,000. Besides its new capital of $500,000 and its surplus of $200,000, the bank still has profits of about $50,000. It reports 185 bid for the stock with none for sale.

—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the City National Bank of Dallas, Texas, on January 8, the capital was increased from $200,000 to $500,000, through the issuance of 3,000 new shares, par $100. Of the additional stock, 2,000 shares were paid for out of the earned surplus and profits, leaving a balance in the surplus fund of $300,000. The remaining 1,000 shares were issued and taken by the stockholders at $300 per share, of which $100,000 was placed to capital and $200,000 to surplus, making the capital $500,000 and the surplus $500,000. The January 26 statement also shows undivided profits of $18,026. The deposits are $5,755,081 and the total resources $6,973,107. E. O. Tenison is President of the institution and B. D. Harris is Cashier.

Clearings by Telegraph—Sales of Stocks, Bonds, &c.—The subjoined table, covering clearings for the current week, usually appears on the first page of each issue, but on account of the length of the other tables is crowded out once a month. The figures are received by telegraph from the leading cities. It will be observed that, as compared with the corresponding week of 1906, there is an increase in the aggregate of 0.4%. So far as the individual cities are concerned, New York exhibits a gain of 3.4%, Boston 5.2%, Baltimore 1.0%, Chicago 10.5% and St. Louis 1.2%. Philadelphia records a loss of 1.8% and New Orleans 7.6%.

Trust Company Returns.

BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA, NEW YORK, BROOKLYN AND ST. LOUIS.

We furnish below complete comparative statements of the condition of all the trust companies in Boston, Philadelphia, New York and St. Louis. This is in continuation of a practice begun some five years ago. The statements occupy altogether thirteen pages.

No one needs to be told that the trust companies have become an exceedingly important body of financial institutions; nor yet that their operations have risen to great magnitude, and are assuming steadily increasing prominence in the financial world. As a matter of fact, the growth and expansion of these institutions have been one of the most noteworthy features of recent times. For these reasons the compilations we present ought to be interesting for present study as well as useful for reference.

The dates selected for comparison are December 31 1906, June 30 1906 and December 31 1905, or where, as in the case of the New York companies, the June 30 figures are no longer compiled, the dates of comparison are December 31 from each of the last three years. In the case of the Boston, the Philadelphia and the St. Louis companies, we have also sought to get figures for December 31 and June 30 and have quite largely succeeded. As, however, the fiscal period of these companies do not all correspond with those dates, and no returns for those dates are required by the State authorities, several of the Boston companies and a number of the Philadelphia and St. Louis companies have not found it convenient to compile statistics to December 31, but have furnished instead the latest complete figures available—usually either the close of November or the close of October.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, January 26 1907.

Business on the Stock Exchange has been dull throughout the week. Up to the present everybody has been disappointed because the reduction in the Bank rate has given so little impetus to trade. Partly, no doubt, this is due to uncertainty respecting New York. The best opinion here all along has been that there was no real unsoundness in New York; that prices in many directions no doubt had been carried too high; and that there would be some setback. But there was a confident feeling that after a certain time liquidation would be found to have been carried far enough. The general public, however, being less well informed, has been more or less apprehensive, and consequently there has been little doing.

Another influence that checked business undoubtedly was the raising by the Bank of France of the rate it charges for advances on stocks from 3½ to 4%. The Bank of France so rarely makes a change in its rates, and the general public in London, not following very closely movements on the Paris Bourse, quite failed to see that during the past couple of months speculation on the Bourse had increased very materially. Consequently London was quite taken by surprise and some uneasiness was caused. There is little doubt, however, that the feeling will pass away. In the stock markets the tone is really hopeful, while markets are firm. Trade is wonderfully good. From every great centre of industry the reports are to the same effect, that never has the trade of the country been so large or so prosperous. There is, therefore, a very hopeful feeling and a general expectation that 1907 will be an even more active and more prosperous year than its immediate predecessor. The railway traffic returns and the Clearing-House returns all go to show that since the beginning of the new year trade has steadily increased. The railway dividends bear testimony, of course, more to the course of events in the second half of last year than to the immediate present. But it is hardly likely that the directors of the railway companies would have increased their dividends if they did not feel that they would be able at least to maintain those dividends. And the announcements made up to the present show general advances in dividends ranging from ¼ to ½%.

Over and above this, the chairmen, at the half-yearly meetings of shareholders of the banks, are for the most part giving assurances that each one recognizes the necessity for increasing the bank reserves, and that each one, therefore, is willing to do what is reasonable. All, however, are opposed to legislation. All declare that the banks in agreement with the Bank of England will make all the necessary arrangements and before very long introduce a plan which will insure the keeping of much larger reserves in the future. All this tends to reassure the public, especially as the gold production is increasing so enormously, and as the prospect now is that everybody in South Africa realizes the necessity for retaining the Chinese labor, that consequently the production of gold will continue to increase, and that there will be a steady recovery in South African values. Furthermore, there is an earnest belief that the Chancellor of the Exchequer will be able to give relief to the tax-payers in the coming Budget.

The hope is growing that the directors of the Bank of England will soon be able to put down their rate of discount to 4%. Below that nobody ventures to anticipate that the rate will be reduced; at all events until April. Whether it will be put down to 4% depends mainly upon the course of events in New York. As already said, the best opinion in the city is that the liquidation in New York is nearly ended; that therefore there will be comparatively little gold shipped to New York, and that consequently the Bank of England will have to consider in shaping its course only the demands for South America. The Indian Government, it is true, is selling drafts upon India in enormous amounts—at the rate of over a crore a week. Therefore the Indian Council has the means of buying silver, and is in consequence "ear-marking" gold. But gold is now coming back from Egypt. True, the return flow is small, for, owing to the wild speculation in Egypt, the country cannot spare very much of the metal; yet the return from Egypt, in addition to the large production in South Africa and Australia, is increasing so largely the supplies coming here that nobody doubts that the Bank of England will be able to meet the demand for South America and yet to put down its rate to 4% before very long. This week only a small amount of gold has been sent to South America, none of it being on Government account. Up to the present, during the month of January, only £1,200,000 was sent at the beginning of the month and £260,000 this week, making altogether a little less than a million and a half sterling.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 100 lacs of drafts, and the applications exceeded 449 lacs at prices ranging from 1s. 4 1-16d. to 1s. 4 5-32d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 4 3-32d. and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 4 5-32d. per rupee were allotted about 31% of the amounts applied for.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of January 24:

GOLD.—Arrivals have not been large this week, but the Bank has secured the greater portion, about £200,000, after satisfying the Indian and the trade demand. The movements are as follows: £562,000 has been received in bars while £385,000 has been withdrawn for South America, the net gain being £177,000. Next week we expect £996,000 from South Africa. Arrivals—Cape, £307,000; New Zealand, £18,000; Australia, £143,000; total, £468,000. Shipments—Bombay, £122,000 Singapore, £20,000; Calcutta, £2,500; Madras, £3,500; total, £148,000.

SILVER.—The tendency for silver has been better and we have risen ⅜d. during the week. The Bazaars have been large buyers and there has also been some Continental buying, while holders are less inclined to sell. The price in India is Rs. 80½ per 100 Tolahs. Arrivals—Australia, £14,500; New York, £152,000; New Zealand, £2,000; total, £168,500. Shipments—Bombay, £28,400; Port Said, £600; Chittagong, £1,000; Calcutta, £42,500; total, £72,500.

MEXICAN DOLLARS.—There have been some further transactions in these coins at their melting value.

DIVIDENDS.

We have changed the method of making up our weekly list of dividends. Heretofore our record has included only the dividends announced each week, but for the convenience of our readers we now enlarge the scope of the compilation so as to show also dividends previously declared, but the date of payment of which has not yet arrived. In the new form the statement indicates all the dividends announced for the future by all large or important corporations.

Dividends announced this week are printed in italics.

a Last week's stock.

Statement of New York City Clearing-House Banks.—The following statement shows the condition of the New York City Clearing-House banks for the week ending Feb. 2. It should be distinctly understood that as to all items except capital and surplus, the figures are the averages of the daily results, not the totals at the end of the week. In other words, in reporting loans and deposits and holdings of specie and legal tenders, the practice is to take the aggregate of the amounts for the several days of the week and divide this aggregate by the number of days.

We omit two ciphers (00) in all cases.

Wall Street, Friday Night, Feb. 8 1907.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—A considerable portion of the limited amount of business reported at the Stock Exchange this week has evidently been the result of professional operations by board-room traders. No doubt the storm and subsequent condition of the streets had a tendency to restrict the volume of business during the early part of the week.

Prices moved irregularly and generally within narrow limits until Thursday, when a firmer tone prevailed; but the character of the operations remains practically unchanged and the absence of outside interest in the market continues to be a conspicuous feature.

The Bank of England reports a larger percentage of reserve, the latter being now within a small fraction of 50. The local money market continues easy, although call loan rates were temporarily run up to 6% before the close of business to-day. The close, however, was at 4½%. A hope that favorable currency legislation will be enacted before Congress adjourns is entertained in some quarters. As to the need of such, there is no difference of opinion in financial circles.

Although, as is well known, foreign exchange is selling at a point at which gold may be imported, only about $1,000,000 has been reported engaged this week for shipment from London to this port.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 2 to 6%. To-day's rates on call were 2¾@6%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 5¾@6¼% for endorsements and 5¾@6¼% for best single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £1,224,645; the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 49.66, against 48.31 last week.

The discount rate remains as fixed Jan. 17 at 5%. The Bank of France shows an increase of 700,000 francs in gold and 150,000 francs in silver.

San Francisco, 50c. per $1,000 premium.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $10,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 20 and $3,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 95½.

The transactions in railway and industrial bonds steadily increased from about $1,500,000 par value on Monday to over $2,000,000 later in the week, and in a few cases there has been some slight advance in values.

The various Japanese issues dealt in here have been more active than usual, and a few industrials have been more or less conspicuous in the week's transactions. Atchison convertibles, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Rock Island, Interboro-Metropolitan and Distillers' Securities' Corporation issues have been the relatively strong features.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $5,000 4s, coup., 1925, at 129¼ to 129½, $6,000 4s, reg., 1925, at 129⅛, $2,000 3s, coup., 1908-18, at 102⅜, and $20,000 2s, reg., 1930, at 105⅜. Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—Transactions in the stock market have been on a much smaller scale and the trend of prices has been, for the most part, in the opposite direction from that reported last week. The market was steady during the early part of the week, however, but on Thursday the tone became decidedly strong, and the upward movement carried practically the entire active list from 2 to 4 points higher than last week's close. To-day's market showed a tendency to react and in many cases closing quotations are fractionally lower than last night.

There have been very few exceptional features. Great Northern declined over 5 points early in the week and has only partially recovered. Missouri Pacific is the only other active railway stock that shows a net loss. Atchison, Anaconda Mining and Granby have been notably strong. The latter advanced over 20 points and Anaconda 15½ points within the week. Both close near the highest. Otherwise the active list falls within the limits first mentioned.

The following sales have occurred this week of shares not represented in our detailed list on the pages which follow:

Outside Market.—The market for unlisted securities has shown a tendency toward improvement and in some instances prices have made noteworthy advances. The general tone has been good, and while mining stocks, as usual, have received the most attention, trading in industrials has been well diversified. Butte Coalition was a prominent feature, the stock going down in the early part of the week from 35⅞ to 34¼; but later it ran up to 39. The close to-day was at 38¼. United Copper common was also conspicuous, first moving up from 70 to 72½, then back to 71, and to-day advancing to 74⅜. The close was at 73¾. Davis-Daly Estates from 17⅞ rose to 19, fell back to 17½ and to-day moved up again to 18¾, the close being at 18. Utah Copper sank from 35 to 33½ but subsequently displayed decided strength, rising sharply to 39¼. The close showed a reaction to 38½. Greene Consolidated Copper advanced from 30¼ to 32 and ends the week at 31⅝. Nevada Consolidated Copper lost a point to 17, but recovered finally to 17⅝. Tennessee Copper moved up from 17 to 18, dropped to 16¾ and to-day sold back to 18. Douglas Copper, after declining from 13⅝ to 12⅞, advanced to-day to 15. Trinity Copper dropped from 39 to 36, subsequently recovering to 37½. Newhouse moved up from 16¾ to 19¼ and then eased off to 18¼. In the specialties, American Can stocks ruled strong, the common advancing from 4 to 6½ and the preferred from 50 to 55¼. Standard Oil moved up from 515 to 538. Consolidated Rubber Tire common rose from 4½ to 7 and the preferred from 15 to 20½. International Salt dropped from 19 to 15. Waterbury Company went up from 46¾ to 47¾, reacting to 47⅝. Chicago Subway advanced from 28¼ to 31¾ and ends the week at 30¼.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1906.)

President Carter at the annual meeting on Jan. 31 said:

Earnings.—The gross earnings from passenger traffic increased during 1906 4.44% and the net earnings decreased 11.9%, or $78,679. The decrease in net earnings was due to four principal causes: increase in taxes, in wages and in the price of materials and supplies, increased competition of the surface lines on the short distances, cost of operation during construction, cost of operating short portions of new lines. The increased competition is thought to be felt as much as it will be, and the new construction will soon be completed. The policy of maintaining the road and equipment in the best order from earnings has been strictly adhered to.

Construction.—The iron-workers' strike, which lasted 228 days, embarrassed the company in its new construction very much. The amount lost in interest alone was $158,900. Since May 23 1906 a large amount of work has been accomplished, resulting in the completion of the third track, only excepting the straightening of the objectionable curve which we have so long desired to remove at Twelfth Street; this will be completed in about six weeks; the completion of the new steel constructed yard at 61st street, the completion of the Englewood main, or westerly line, and such substantial progress on the south branch, Englewood, that our Chief Engineer believes we will have that work finished by July 1. The Chicago Junction RR. is progressing rapidly with its elevation, and its Chief Engineer hopes to turn over ready for operation the east line to Lake Michigan in the early summer and the stock yards line in the autumn of this year. We feel sure that the whole construction, including many necessary and valuable additions, will be finished within the amount of the bond issue. This, of course, could not be done at present prices, but the principal contracts were made at the comparatively low prices of 1904.

The progress made with the Englewood main line is encouraging. In addition to the three stations opened last year, the station at Harvard Ave. and 63d Street was opened in November; Parnell Ave. and Halstead St. stations were opened in December and are doing well. Centre Ave. station and Loomis St. station will soon follow. The south branch, Englewood, is now being erected, and we hope to open 65th, 67th and 69th street stations successively in the spring, and to have them all in service by July. The express service and the through local trains to Englewood are well patronized.

Outlook for business on New Lines.—The new lines, when completed, will have eight stations on the main line, Englewood; three stations on the south branch, Englewood; five stations (two of these double) on the east line of the Junction RR., and seven stations on the stock yards line. A very modest patronage of these stations will amply take care of interest and present dividends. One thousand passengers per day each way per station will suffice. As the six stations now open average 1,100 passengers per day each way per station, and three of these have been open less than two months, we look confidently forward to the outcome. Similarly situated stations on the old lines are patronized by 2,000 to 5,000 passengers per day each way. The population is more dense on the new lines than on the old ones.

Northern Ohio Traction & Light Company.

President H. A. Everett says in substance:

Earnings.—The gross revenue of the combined properties of the company from all sources shows an increase for the year 1906 of $150,370, or 9.68%, and the net surplus over operating expenses and fixed charges was $213,323 82, as against $182,636 79 for 1905, showing an increase of $30,687, or 16.8%. The total gross revenue from the railway increased $146,033, or 10.2%, and the average earnings per mile of track from all divisions was $7,885, as against $7,209 for the year 1905. Gross revenue from lighting increased $4,337, or 3.55%

Bonds, &c.—The bonded debt Dec. 31 1906 is $10,385,000, as follows:

	Outstanding.		Outstanding.
A. B. C. RR. Co. 5%	$300,000	Lakev. Land & Imp. 5%	$65,000
Nor. Ohio Traction Co. 5%	2,700,000	Canton-New Phil. Ry. 5%	565,000

Canton-Akron Ry. 2d 5%	300,000	6%	430,000

In addition, the company has $170,000 of 6% 3-year notes and $200,000 4% bonds which have been certified by the trustee. It has also the right to issue $143,000 additional bonds for money expended for additions, improvements and betterments during 1906. The company also has the following bonds which have been delivered to the trustee as collateral to the $600,000 issue of 3-year notes:

N. O. T. & L. Co. 4% bonds	$400,000
Canton-Akron Cons. Ry. 5% bonds	335,000
Akron Wadsworth & Western Tr. 1st mort. 5% bonds	200,000

This leaves $962,000 in N. O. T. & L. Co. 4% bonds and $635,000 in Canton-Akron Consolidated 5% bonds to be hereafter certified and issued for property that may be hereafter acquired or for improvements and betterments on existing lines.

The company has no floating debt excepting only accruing payrolls and vouchers.

Dividend.—In consideration of accumulated earnings for stock to the amount of $619,636 re-invested in additions and betterments, a dividend of 2% was declared from the surplus earnings of 1905, at the rate of ½ of 1%, payable June 15, Sept. 15 and Dec. 15 1906 and March 15 1907.

Purchase of Canton Properties.—During the early part of the year negotiations were commenced by Mr. J. R. Nutt, Treasurer of this company, for the purchase of the Canton-Akron Ry. Co., Canton-New Philadelphia Ry. Co. and Tuscarawas Traction Co. from the Tucker-Anthony syndicate of Boston. After several months of negotiations, the deal was finally consummated whereby this company came into actual possession of the above properties on Oct. 1 1906. The companies referred to had a total mileage of 97.44 miles, consisting of interurban and city lines. The interurban lines operate from Akron to Uhrichsville and the city lines operate in Canton and Massillon.

Track Mileage.—With the above consolidation, this company owned and operated at the close of the year 1906 (exclusive of Wadsworth extension, not yet completed) 204.12 miles of track (main line 200.12 miles and car barns and storage yards 4 miles).

In addition the company is constructing, and expects to have in operation by March 1, an extension of its present Barberton line to the village of Wadsworth, a distance of 6 miles, built on private right of way.

Improvements.—In Akron an improvement has just been completed known as the Mill Street viaduct, which obviates the crossing of nine steam roads at grade. On the Kent, Ravenna and Barberton divisions extensive improvements have been completed in the way of paving and the renewal of ties and rails. On the A. B. C. division the company has double-tracked its lines through the village of Bedford, 1¼ miles, including paving, and in return the village granted us a renewal of franchise for 25 years. On this division improvements have also been made by the elimination of grades and curves, and by the renewal of several bridges and culverts and the replacing of about 5,000 ties with 6x8-8 ft. white oak standard railroad ties.

At the power-house in Akron the following additional units have been installed and placed in operation: One 1,500 k. w. A. C. turbine generator, one 1,000 k. w. motor generator, one 300 k. w. motor generator, one storage battery plant for Kent-Ravenna division, and one storage battery plant for the A. B. C. division. Additional electrical machinery consisting of 2,350 k. w. rotaries has been installed in the sub-station at Barberton also a high-tension line from our power plant in Akron to the sub-station at Barberton, about 7 miles.

Contracts have also been made for three additional rotaries and one storage battery for the purpose of having reserve power and also with a view of discontinuing the operation of the expensive power plants at Midvale, Ohio. With the addition of the above machinery in our various power plants, we expect to be able to show great economy in operation.

Rolling Stock.—The rolling stock and electrical equipment have been maintained in first-class condition. Contracts have been made for the addition of 25 cars, including equipment, these cars to be delivered during the current year.

Parks.—During the year the company secured a new lease for what is known as Lakeside Park in Akron for a term of 10½ years from July 1 1906, and closed the contract for the replacement of the old theatre with a new building of double capacity. The company acquired an additional park at Canton, known as Meyers' Lake Park, containing about 272 acres, which is also supplied with a good, first-class, up-to-date theatre, including all such necessary buildings, &c., as add to the attractiveness of the place.

Limited Service.—The company has been operating for the year 1906 a limited service between Akron and Cleveland, and upon the acquisition of the Canton-Akron system placed an additional limited service between Canton and Cleveland.

Light Department.—We have contracted for the purchase of new arc lamps for street lighting in Akron. These lamps are known as the Magnatite arc lamp, and are guaranteed to give 30% more light than the lamps now in operation. We expect considerable saving in our operating expense by reason of this installation. At the close of the year we were furnishing Akron and Barberton with 462 city arc lamps for street lighting, and had installed in those cities 15,000 incandescent lamps.

Notwithstanding the strong competition in Akron and Barberton with natural and artificial gas, which is being furnished at 30c. per 1,000 feet, you will notice by the statement that this branch of the business increased for the year 1906.

Commencing Jan. 1 1907, the company adopted what is known as the two-rate system of charging for electricity under which 12c. per unit is charged until a use has been made equivalent to burning all the lamps connected to the meter 30 hours in each month; after this consumption the rate will be 5c. per unit for all additional electricity used in any one month. While this two rate system will reduce the price of electricity, we feel satisfied that this will be overcome by the additional business we will be able to secure, and, further, will eliminate to a considerable extent any desire for competition with our company.

Right of Way.—The policy adopted several years ago, to abandon tracks on highways and place them upon private right of way, has been carefully followed during the past year and plans are now being prepared for a greater change in the future.

Stockholders.—The company has 459 stockholders of record, an increase of 56 over the year 1905.

Outlook.—We feel that the business for 1907 will continue to show large increa over the past year

Description of Property.—The company has a total of 204.12 miles of track; 73.71 miles are double and 130.41 miles are single. Of the total mileage, 51 miles are on private right of way, 16 miles are on perpetual rights and 137.12 miles are on franchises that have an average of about 17 years to run

The company has traffic arrangement with the Cleveland Electric Ry. Co. for the operation of its cars from the city limits to the Public Square, Cleveland. The Stark Electric RR. Co. has a traffic arrangement with this company whereby it operates its cars to the Public Square in the centre of Canton.

The company has a total of 250 cars, 66 of which are double-truck interurban cars, 38 double-truck city cars, 136 single-truck cars used on the city lines, besides several baggage and work cars and 7 snow plows and sweepers.

In addition to its railway franchises, the company has perpetual rights in both Akron and Barberton for furnishing arc and incandescent lights and has contracts with both cities for all the arc lights used, necessary for lighting the streets

The power-houses are located in Bedford, Cuyahoga Falls, Akron, Barberton, Canton and Midvale, with sub-stations located near Uniontown, New Berlin, Massillon, Beach City and Canal Dover.

At Midvale the company owns and operates a coal mine, furnishing coal for the power-house located at this point. Also owns about 60 acres of coal land and a quantity of mining accessories. The company in addition owns all the coal underlying in 1,011 acres situated in Buffalo Township, Noble County, Ohio

The population served by the company's lines is about 701,500, as follows:

American Can Company.

President W. T. Graham says in substance:

The year 1906 was an eventful one with your company and brought in both favorable and unfavorable conditions, the favorable predominating, because the developments in that direction are lasting, while the unfavorable were passing incidents, unforeseen and unavoidable, and only temporarily interfering with your earnings.

The San Francisco disaster put the two largest and one smaller Pacific Coast factory out of operation, and of the three two were totally destroyed by the fire that followed, not only occasioning a large direct loss, which has been charged off, but a heavy loss through interruption to the natural course of business that cannot be estimated. Shipments were made against contracts for Pacific deliveries through the active season of the year from Eastern factories, to supply customers with goods, thus saving their business from interruption and loss, but entailing large extra expense and a material loss on this part of the business of your company that would otherwise have netted a profit. No other company had or has the facilities to meet such conditions and the prestige gained may compensate us in the future for the immediate loss.

Good progress in systematizing and organizing the several departments of the business has been made since your last annual meeting. Cost accounting has been improved and has become an efficient and correct guide.

Expenditures for new factories and improving old ones are shown to have been justified by results, so far as they have been completed and put into operation, both in respect to meeting the requirements of an increasing trade and reducing the cost of manufacture. The factories replacing the two at San Francisco and one at St. Paul, which were destroyed by fire, and new ones at New Orleans and Savannah, are nearing completion and will be in operation this spring. Another factory has been authorized at New Castle, Pa., and is partly under contract. All of these are necessary to properly and economically care for the increasing business.

In addition to $184,327 written off for depreciation, there has been expended during the year and charged to operating cost as expended, $420,582 in maintaining and $99,757 in bettering the physical condition of your factories.

The volume of business for 1906 was greater and expenses were less than in any previous year, and these conditions promise to hold good through 1907.

The results from operations for the year ending Dec. 31 1906 and the 9 months ending Dec. 31 1905 and the years ending March 31 1905 and 1904 compare as follows:

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—Issue of New Securities Awaits More Favorable Conditions.—No action was taken at the meeting of directors this week regarding the issue of new stock or bonds under the recent authorization, and it is thought probable that such issue will be deferred for three or four months unless there is a decided change in money conditions.—V. 84, p. 269, 219.

Bangor (Me.) Railway & Electric Co.—New Stock.—This company has filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000.—V. 82, p. 1155, 333.

Canadian Pacific Ry.—Sale of Preferred Stock.—An official telegram from Montreal, replying to our inquiry as to the accuracy of the reported sale in London of a block of 4% non-cumulative preferred stock amounting to $7,500,000 (another account had it $6,250,000) says: "The company had a bid, which was accepted, of 101 and interest, London, but for a lesser amount than that mentioned ($7,500,000). For other information, see last annual report." (V. 83, p. 500. The New York equivalent of this London price is about 98¼.—Ed.)—V. 83, p. 1098.

Chicago & Alton RR.—Called Bonds.—Nineteen ($19,000) Mississippi River Bridge Co. bonds will be paid April 1 1907 at the office, No. 120 Broadway.—V. 84, p. 157.

Chicago City RR.—New Company.—The company was incorporated at Springfield, Ill., on Jan. 7 with a nominal capital stock ($100,000) as a holding company for the North and West Chicago Street Railway lines in the event of the Union Traction Co. failing to accept or proceed under the terms of the traction settlement ordinances.

The new company was formed to meet the objectionable part of the charter of the Chicago City Railway, which does not permit it to extend its operations across the river. The incorporators are all employees of the Chicago City Railway Co. The capital stock is divided equally among T. E. Mitten, President of the Chicago City Railway Co.; Edward Morris the packer, and John P. Wilson, counsel for the Chicago City Ry. T. E. Mitten, President of the Chicago City Ry., is President, and R. B. Hamilton, Mr. Mitten's private secretary, is Secretary and Treasurer.

Chicago City Ry.—Settlement Ordinance Passed.—See Chicago Union Traction Co. below and Chicago City RR. above.—V. 83, p. 491.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry.—Sale of Equipment Notes.—Speyer & Co., New York, have purchased, and largely resold, $6,500,000 equipment 4½% notes secured by equipment costing (about) $7,400,000, towards which the railway company pays in cash (about) $900,000, and will issue its equipment notes for the balance, $6,500,000. These notes are a direct obligation of the railway company (old company), are dated Feb. 1 1907, coupon in form, in denominations of $1,000 each, interest payable semi-annually. The issue matures in 20 semi-annual installments of $325,000 each, from Aug. 1 1907 to Feb. 1 1917. Until all the notes have been paid, the title to the equipment remains in the vendors, with ample powers in the Bankers' Trust Co. (New York), trustee, for the protection of the note-holders. The equipment follows:

30 consolidation locomotives; 20 switching locomotives; 65 cars for passenger service; 2,550 steel underframe freight cars; 1,900 steel-frame hopper cars and dump gondolas; 550 ballast cars, caboose and furniture cars.

A Philadelphia firm is offering a block of the notes on a 5½% basis.—V. 84, p. 219, 157.
